In 1876 THE LIVING AGE enters upon its thirty-third year. It has never failed to receive the warmest support of the best men and journals of the country, and has met with constantly increasing success. Having recently absorbed its younger competitor, "EVERY SATURDAY," it is now without a rival in its special field.

During the year it will furnish to its readers the productions of the ablest authors, above-named and many others; embracing the Serial and Short Stories of the and an amount unapproached by any other periodical in the world of the most valuable literary and scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the FOREMOST ESSAYISTS, SCIENTISTS, CRITICS, DISCOVERERS AND EDITORS, representing every department of Knowledge and Progress.

A weekly Magazine, of sixty-four pages, THE LIVING AGE gives more than double column octavo pages of reading matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

It is, therefore, invaluable to every American reader, as the only thorough as well as fresh compilation of a generally inaccessible but indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of the in all branches of Literature, Science, Art, and Politics.

"It reproduces the best thoughts of the best minds of the civilized world, upon all topics of living interest."—Philadelphia "Inquirer."

"The best periodical in America."—Rev. Dr. Cuyler.

"It has no equal in any country."—Philadelphia "Press."

"Its publication in weekly numbers gives it a great advantage over its monthly contemporaries in the spirit and freshness of its contents."—"The Pacific," San Francisco.

"Ought to find a place in every American Home."—New York "Times."

"Simply indispensable to any one who desires to keep abreast of the thought of the age in any department of science or literature."—Boston "Journal."

PUBLISHED WEEKLY at $8 00 a year, free of postage; or for $10 50 (covering prepayment of postage on both periodicals,) THE LIVING AGE and either one of the American four dollar monthly Magazines (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar, or Appleton's Journal, weekly) will be sent for a year; or, for $9 50, THE LIVING AGE and Scribner's St. Nicholas.

THE CONTINENTAL

WAS THE

FIRST COMPANY TO SUBMIT TO THE RESTRICTIONS OF THE SURPLUS LAW OF 1874.

By the provisions of this Law the Company is compelled to limit its dividends to stockholders to 7 per cent. per annum, and to deposit one-half of the remainder of its earnings in the Insurance Department of this State, as a SPECIAL RESERVE SAFETY FUND, for the PROTECTION and SAFETY of such policy holders as may not be burned out at the time of a conflagration so great as to destroy the ability of all Companies, to pay their losses in full, thereby avoiding the necessity of placing the Company in the hands of a Receiver in Bankruptcy.

Some of the benefits of submission to this law are as follows:

First—To the assured, who are claimants for losses at the time of the great fire.

It will give them more money than can be obtained under the requirements of any other law on this subject, because it exempts the Company from receiver's fees, legal costs, or other expenses of bankruptcy.

It requires the Company to maintain at all times a "GUARANTEE SAFETY FUND" equal in amount to the "Special Reserve Fund," for the greater protection of policy holders generally.

It will prevent any encroachment upon it by later losses under uncancelled policies.

It compels just and prompt adjustments and payments, no matter how great the fire or loss.

Second—To the policy-holders whose property is not involved in such fire—a hitherto neglected class:

It will give a deserved protection and provide for the payment of their later sustained losses, as if no great fire had occurred.

It will save them from vexatious and serious loss of time and money in seeking and paying for new insurance, while waiting indefinitely for the return of what is due from the Bankrupt companies whose policies have become worthless, and whose assets may be in the clutches of a slow-paced Receiver.

A Pamphlet with full information will be sent on application to the Company's Office,

43 Milk Street, Boston.

These Bonds are commended to the attention of the MOST CONSERVATIVE INVESTORS, as they are believed to be as perfect a security as can be obtained. The issue of Bonds is limited to one-half the amount of the same class of Bonds ever issued under a like Guarantee.

The security of each Bond is not confined a to single Mortgage, but extends over all the Mortgages owned by the Company. This Company receives no deposits, guarantees no other securities, and has no other debts than its bonds. Its Mortgages are of like character to those which have been bought in the last twenty years by Individuals, Life Insurance Companies and other Corporations, to the amount of more than Fifty Millions of Dollars, proving a most secure and satisfactory investment. The Loans are all upon improved Farms in some of the most fertile Western states, near the Railroads, with short and perfect titles, and average less than $650 each, upon property worth nearly four times their amount. Experience has proved that well-selected Mortgages upon this class of property are safer than those upon city property, either in the East or West. They are not affected by Fires, or by Business revulsions; Principal and Interest are more promptly paid; and upon the success of Agriculture depends that of almost every industrial investment.

GOLD AND ITS MOVEMENTS.

It is a notable feature of our financial system that gold is one of the most sensitive of the values dealt in at the Stock Exchange. The causes of this sensitiveness have often been misunderstood. Some ignorant persons have mistaken the movements of the gold premium for a change in the actual value of gold as a commodity. They declare that gold is unfit to be a standard of value because its price changes so often in Wall street. This sophistical argument was actually used in a public address by a conspicuous paper-money orator a few days ago. To our readers it is wholly needless to waste time in explaining or refuting this error. When they familiarly quote and talk of the price of gold, they are aware that it is greenbacks and not gold that oscillate in value. They know very well that the daily premium, as quoted in the market, shows the agio of our paper money, the discount of greenbacks. If we regard, then, the price of gold as it really is, we need look no further for the explanation of which we are in search. We see at once a multitude of possible causes of the extreme sensitiveness of the premium in Wall street. Gold is the barometer of greenback values. Under our paper money system the greenbacks are so unstable that, as every merchant knows to his cost, their value is changing from day to day. Every one of these changes of value is projected upon the register of the gold market, producing a movement upwards or downwards in the gold premium, and showing at every point that it is more or less difficult and costly to get gold for greenbacks.

These causes of upward or downward movement are, as we said, very numerous. But there are two or three which are the most important at the present moment. The first concerns the public credit. In their essential nature the greenbacks are Government bonds. Every greenback is just as truly a Government security as is a five-twenty, a ten-forty, or any interest-bearing bond of the Treasury. The essential distinction between the greenback and the five-twenty bond is that the latter bears interest while the former does not bear interest. Both are bonds, both are payable in gold, and if we confine our attention to the five-twenties, both they and the greenbacks are payable in gold at the option of the Government. Hence it follows that the greenbacks suffer in value when the public credit suffers. It is easy to see how much light this fact throws on the movements of the gold premium, both during the war and since. But the question is, does it help us to account for or to foresee a coming rise or fall in the gold room at the present time? This question will be answered in the affirmative by those of our readers who hold that the advance in gold this week has been helped by the troubles in the Cabinet, and still more by the efforts of the paper money men in Congress. All the forces which disturb the public credit are working harm to the delicate mechanism of general prices as founded upon the greenbacks. For the greenbacks are liable to suffer in credit in common with the other obligations of the Government, and even more than they in certain cases of trouble. A suggestive illustration of this important principle may be obtained by an examination of the prices of gold during the first four years of our paper-money era. Without taking this principle with us it is as impossible to explain many of the recent movements of gold as to account for those violent oscillations which resulted from the more excited agitation of the public credit during the war.

Secondly, there is a still more obvious principle by which the recent sensitiveness and the active movements of gold may be accounted for, namely, the fear of currency inflation and the agitation for augmented issues of paper money. We have discussed of late on several occasions the reasons which lead us to believe that Congress is not likely, during the present session, to authorize new issues of currency or fresh inflation of the volume of paper money in any degree. But, although the general belief is that no such expansion of the currency is approaching, still, there is a large body of public opinion which is influenced by the contrary belief. And as "it is public opinion which makes prices," we cannot wonder that the agitation of the inflationists is cited among the causes which tend to produce the rise in gold.

Thirdly, we must mention a still more conspicuous cause of trouble. This is the belief, which widely prevails, that the Treasury is short of gold. Mr. Bristow, we are told, could not to-day meet the gold creditors of the Treasury and pay them off from the gold balance at present in his hands. Let us see whether this opinion, of which we have heard so much of late, has its foundation in truth. By the debt statement which appears in another column, it will be seen that the Treasury holds 55 millions of gold. In addition to this, he has to receive 12 millions from the Syndicate, so that the whole gold balance of the Treasury amounts to $67,035,772.

Out of this sum the coin certificates call for $32,915,000; the called bonds for $17,636,116; and the accrued interest for $11,517,355. The total is $62,068,471. These are all the gold obligations reported as payable on demand. If paid in full to-day they would reduce the gold balance to the sum of $4,967,301.

But this is not all. Mr. Bristow has, of course, omitted the interest on the ten-forties, which fell due on the 1st of March. His statement could not include these items, because it was made out to the end of February. Deducting this sum, which amounts to $4,864,157, the coin balance of the Treasury would be reduced to a nominal sum. Still, it is plain from the whole argument that the Treasury would be able to meet all demands upon it for coin. This has been denied, and the evidence now seems to lead to the conviction that when the next interest on the public debt falls due next May, there will be from the receipts of customs an adequate sum of coin in the Treasury to pay all the creditors of the Government in the improbable event of their demanding instant payment. We say "improbable," because the experience of years shows that the overdue interest, the coin certificates and the other gold obligations of the Treasury are of such a nature that a large sum may always be confidently reckoned upon as a constant average unlikely to be promptly claimed and certain to remain outstanding. Still, although as we have shown the Treasury is not as badly off as it has been represented, there is reason for regret that Mr. Bristow has not availed himself of the undoubted powers confided to him to enlarge his gold balance. If he had done this, instead of accumulating silver, the Treasury would be regarded by the public as in a much stronger and more satisfactory condition.

Finally, we must not omit to notice the opinion that the recent sensitiveness of gold is due to the exhaustion of our stock of gold in this country, and to the unfavorable balance of trade. This view derives little confirmation from the official reports of our foreign commerce. From the report just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, which appears elsewhere, for the first seven months of the current fiscal year, it will be seen that we exported merchandise to the amount of 350 millions, against 337 millions last year. Moreover, we imported 270 millions, against 292 millions last year. In other words, our merchandise exports are 13 millions more than last year, and our imports are 22 millions less, so that the effect of this movement of imports and exports on the balance of trade is 35 millions more favorable than that which had developed itself at this period of last year. The same favorable movement may also be inferred from the exports and imports of gold. To show this we have compiled the subjoined table, which shows that since January 1, 1873, we have produced and imported 33 millions more of gold than we have exported, so that the available supply of gold ought to be at least as large now as it was at the close of 1872 and 1874. Though the figures appear to demonstrate this conclusion, it is certainly in direct opposition to the opinions which prevail very extensively in Wall street at present. The table is as follows:

PRODUCTION, EXPORT AND IMPORT OF GOLD JAN. 1, 1873, TO MAR. 1, 1876.

| | Exports. | Imports. | Excess of Exp. | Production. | Accumulation. |

* Seven months.

We might add to the foregoing arguments others drawn from the recent movement of the foreign exchanges, due to the active importation of Government bonds from abroad. These influences are of a temporary character, and it is thought that, so far as they tend to put up gold, they have almost spent their force. They are, moreover, neutralized by other counteracting movements, both obvious and well known. Still, on the whole, the gold market, in some of its aspects, appears to be in a more uncertain condition than for some time past.

ARE NATIONAL BANKS LIABLE FOR DEPOSITED BONDS?

Last Tuesday an important decision was rendered by the Court of Appeals of Maryland. The case has been in litigation for several years. The plaintiffs, William A. Boyd & Co. of Baltimore, sued the Third National Bank of that city for the value of bonds deposited by them with the officers of the bank in February, 1866. These bonds, valued at $26,500, remained in the bank vaults till August, 1872, when they were stolen by burglars, with about $75,000 of other securities. After the robbery the plaintiffs promptly demanded from the bank the delivery of the bonds, or their value. The bank refused to pay. Suit was brought. The case was tried in May, 1873, in the Superior Court of Baltimore, where the jury failed to agree. The record was then sent to Howard County, where another trial in September, 1874, resulted in a verdict against the bank for $29,117 83, the full amount claimed. The bank appealed, and the case has once more been decided against it. As this is the first conspicuous instance in which of late years a suit against a National bank, brought by the owner of deposited bonds, has resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff, it has attracted the public of attention, and the official report of the decision will be looked for with interest by a large class of bankers and their customers.

The facts as brought out on the previous trials are quite simple. The plaintiffs, Boyd & Co., had for many years been customers of the bank, and they seem to have done an active business with the institution. When in February, 1866, the firm deposited the United States bonds in dispute, they received in return a memorandum of the deposit signed by the discount clerk of the bank. In this document it was stated that the bonds were delivered and held "as collateral security for the payment of all obligations of William A. Boyd & Co. to the Third National Bank of Baltimore, at present existing, or that may be incurred hereafter, with the understanding that the right to sell above collaterals in satisfaction of such obligations is hereby vested in the officers of the Third National Bank." For six years the securities remained on these conditions in the custody of the bank, and during that time the firm of William A. Boyd & Co. kept an active account with the bank, obtaining discounts, borrowing money, and sometimes drawing checks in excess of their balance, so that their account with the bank was often overdrawn. In the summer of 1872 the vaults of the bank were entered by burglars by means of a contrivance very similar to that adopted some time before for plundering the Ocean National Bank of this city. In the latter case the burglars hired the basement under the vaults of the bank, and from this room they worked their way to the bank safe as from a secure tunnel already constructed for their purpose. In the Baltimore bank case the work was not quite so easy. Instead of hiring from the bank itself a basement room beneath its vaults and undermining the safe from thence, the burglars had to excavate from the adjoining house. Professing to be engaged in the produce commission business, they hired an office convenient for their purpose, and through its wall they worked their way. For six weeks they remained there, and excited no suspicion, though all the while busily engaged in drilling a passage into the vault. The chilled-iron casing appeared to be the only impediment which gave them any very great difficulty. Finally they perforated it by boring one hundred and twenty holes. Removing a section of plate about thirty inches square, they found inside the vault further work to do. A Lilly's safe and a Miller's safe contained the valuables of the bank. The latter either was not seriously assailed, or it resisted the assault. But the door of the Lilly's safe was forced open with a "jack," and the contents, including the plaintiff's bonds, were stolen. The theft was achieved between the closing of the bank on Saturday and the opening on Monday. Now it was found on inspection of Boyd's account that his firm was not indebted to the bank at the time of the burglary or for some three weeks previous.

Upon these facts it was argued, on the part of the plaintiff, that the bank was liable, first, because it had received and held the deposited bonds in the regular course of its business with the plaintiff; and, secondly, because the bank had not exercised proper care in the custody of the bonds. In illustrating the first point it was contended that the taking of collateral security for loans and advances were necessary incidents of the banking business, and were therefore within the contemplation of the statute creating institutions to conduct that business; that the clause of the receipt, above cited, was clearly not intended to provide for a gratuitous keeping, for which no bank would give any such receipt; but that it must be construed to mean that the bonds and certificates were to remain in the bank to secure the solvency of the firm of Boyd & Co. in its dealings with the defendant; hence, that it was a contract of pledge, terminable only when both parties completed their obligations—that is to say, when the pledger had repaid all borrowed moneys and the pledgee had returned the securities. Until such termination, the bank was a bailee for consideration, and was to be held to exercise in regard to deposited bonds all ordinary and reasonable care in the keeping of them. This care was defined to be "that degree of care which other prudent banks, under like circumstances, are accustomed to bestow upon property of their own of like character and value."

The defendants relied much upon the circumstance that the firm of Boyd & Co. at the time of the robbery were not actually indebted to the bank in such a manner as to render the bonds in dispute a collateral security, such as the bank was authorized to hold under the National Currency law of 1864. They argued that, as no such indebtedness existed during some weeks prior to the robbery, the deposit was gratuitous. But, if the deposit was a gratuitous one, the plaintiff could not recover, for the Courts have uniformly held that no National bank, under the act of Congress, which is its organic law, has any right to receive such deposits or to make its shareholders responsible for them. Finally, it was argued on the part of the defendant that the bank had exercised all proper care in the custody of the bonds. To elucidate this point, some curious testimony was given as to the relative safety of various descriptions of safes, vaults, safety locks, and other precautions. When the meagre reports which have as yet reached us are supplemented by the official report, we shall have more precise information as to the questions on which the final decision turned against the bank. Meanwhile the decision should operate as a caution to all banks, both National and State, against the custom of filling up their safes with securities and other valuable property which is only partially, if at all, available as a guarantee of the solvency of their customers. If the Third National Bank of Baltimore had done its business with Messrs. Boyd & Co. in a less loose and careless manner, the cancelling of Boyd's debt three weeks before the robbery would have been followed by a prompt return of the collaterals and an exemption of the bank from further risk in the matters involved in this litigation.

Another obvious lesson from this suit concerning which the litigation is perhaps not yet ended, arises out of the fact that the suits of depositors of bonds against National banks have usually been decided against the depositors. The disputes which have arisen on this subject during the last ten years have been very numerous, and although the law on the subject of deposits of bonds may be doubtful on a few points, still the prudent course is for the owner of bonds not to deposit them with any bank as gratuitous bailee.

HOW TO PROTECT SECURITIES.

The Northampton Bank robbery a few weeks ago was like most affairs of the kind, in the fact that the chief sufferers were individuals who had forced upon the bank the custody of their valuables. Generally, the accomplished burglar selects the country rather than the city bank, because it is not only possessed of a slighter power of resistance, but also for the reason that he has learned of the habit of country bondholders to use "the bank" as an actually convenient and an imagined safe place of deposit. They are slow to understand that it is not specially secure; and, further, that all the risk is their own; since the decisions which exempt the bank from liability are ample. In 1865—to name one or two of the number—the Vermont Supreme Court (case of Wiley vs. First National Bank of Brattleboro) held that "the cashier of a National bank has no power to receive special deposits on behalf of the bank for the accommodation of depositors, or to bind the bank to any liability;" in the Court of Appeals of this State, in March last (case of First National Bank of Lyons vs. Ocean National Bank), Judge Allen ruled that the power of bank officers to bind the bank extends only to their ordinary duties; that a single transaction in receiving special deposits is beyond the delegated power of an officer, and that the business of receiving such deposits cannot be undertaken without express authority from the directors. This subject we fully discussed in the CHRONICLE of April 17, 1875, page 368. The Baltimore decision, which we to-day notice in a previous article, in no way affects the question here raised; for no rule of law is older than that an agent or an officer binds the principal only to the extent of his ordinary and delegated powers; and if a bank officer, receiving a gratuitous special deposit, gives the owner any guaranty at all, it must be made good by himself individually. The number of "safe deposit" companies, and the conveniences of dealing which they offer to customers at a distance, as well as to others, leave very slender excuse for forcing bank officers to receive their small trunks and packages. Comptroller Hulburd, in 1868, held the receiving of valuables for safe keeping to be a positive violation of the Banking act; it is certainly outside of that act, and not warranted by any of its provisions; there is no doubt that the banks would be relieved of a dangerous annoyance, and the public good might also be advanced, by adding to the law an express prohibition of the practice.

But the frequent successful robberies, notwithstanding all the precautions taken, show how much we need further safeguards. Besides, attempts to recover stolen securities, except by negotiation with the thief, have rarely been successful. Numbers are readily altered, and as coupon bonds possess all the characteristics of negotiable instruments, the claimant who wishes to impeach a title must prove actual bad faith in the holder. Nor can this be cured by legislation. Four years ago the Legislature of Kentucky enacted that railroad and municipal bonds may be registered with the County Clerk, the bonds to be afterwards transferable only on the owner's endorsing in the records of the same office a transfer to some other person. In this State, a law of 1870 (page 988, chapter 438,) provided for endorsement of ownership on municipal bonds; the following year this was extended to corporation bonds issued within the State, and in 1873 a general act was passed applying to all bonds payable within the State, permitting the owner or holder to endorse his ownership on a bond. To what extent the permission granted by these acts has been used, and whether any cases of law have arisen under them, we do not know; but evidently such legislation is useless as a remedy for the complaint. It attempts to add the quality of registration; but the essence of a coupon bond payable to bearer is its negotiability, nd to alter that fact is to alter the bond. If registered in the name of the owner, the bond is not a coupon but a registered one; if issued with coupons to order and not to bearer—which might be—it would be transferable by endorsement like similar documents, with the like inconveniences, which would so far impede as to impair the single advantage of the coupon form.

To meet this difficulty, however, and free the owner from all anxiety, a very ingenious form of bond, "for safety and good morals," has been prepared by Mr. Edward Atkinson, of Boston, which is intended to unite the security of registration with the convenience of the coupon. His bond has its text at the left, the text beginning, "This instrument in two parts witnesseth." The coupons adjoin the text on the right, and are in two parts, one being the coupon proper and the other an "attestation" of the officers' signatures by that of another officer. There is also an "attestation" for the principal obligation, which must be produced when payment of that is demanded. The intention is that th person who first receives the bond from the issuer sha cut it in two, on a line running from top to botto through the coupons, each coupon thus requiring to b presented for payment in two pieces. The two halve of the document being kept in separate places, in case c loss, destruction, or theft of either half, the owner is t prove ownership of the remaining half, and give a bon of indemnity; after which the issuer will furnish him duplicate. The idea is that the bond, being a coupo bond in two pieces, will be as readily negotiable as an other, and that the practical impossibility that both halves will be destroyed or will be stolen, will secure equal safety to that of the registered bond. It is obvious that one part alone would be non-negotiable and value less, and that the only way for the thief to make hi half valuable would be the same that the lawful owne must follow with the remaining half, namely, to go t the issuing office with proofs of ownership and apply for a new bond. The two halves, when laid side by side must exactly match at theline of division, andfor this sev eral ingenious devices are employed. For instance, th line passes through all the coupons, and along the line i an engraved sentence; on the other side of the bond is a engraved device, which need not be the same on an two bonds; each bond may have its combination of let ters, such as "B. G.", "D. K.", etc., repeated also o each coupon; each bond may have some word altered or interlined by hand; and through the paper, thread may be passed, the ends of which must exactly match i the two halves. Yellow paper is also proposed, as a hindrance to photography.

It is easy to see that the chance that ny two parts o a bond except the two, originally one bond, would match when laid together, is so small that it is like the chance of hitting the desired combination by trying a bank-lock. The "matching" idea in Mr. Atkinson's bond might be put to a further very important use in more easily detecting, and hence preventing the forgery and the "raising" of securities. The difficulty in the forger's way is now chiefly the mechanical execution of the bond, to which may be added such safety as is offered by punching out of the paper, on a spot covered by some intricate engraved ornament, the figures which state the denomination. But suppose that every bond or share certificate had a "stub" remaining in the issuing office, this stub having its broken lines and threads, which must match those of the document itself, and that these lines and the other devices above named were so arranged that no two documents should be alike as respects them, thus giving each one individual characteristics; in that case, the "raiser" who wished to raise a share certificate or to forge a certificate or a bond, would be obliged to imitate some individual certificate or bond, and unless he did this and so successfully as to accomplish the painfully exact task of matching, a comparison of a suspected document with its genuine stub in the issuing office would discover the fraud. Of course, crime in this branch cannot be thus prevented, but it can certainly be rendered more difficult and less attractive, and hence less frequent. It is obviously unnecessary and a reproach upon the inventive faculty that there is no better way of passing upon the genuineness of negotiable securities than by examining written signatures, for there ought to be in every office of issue, if not also in every fiscal-agency office, some means of instantaneous verification. It seems to us that Mr. Atkinson's device suggests a long step in the direction of making securities safe, and we suggest it for the consideration of corporations.

There is another species of theft, very common in our day, against which safeguards of a different kind are needed. We refer to the misappropriation of bonds held in the sinking funds of companies, cities and States. We are informed that the directors of the Columbus & Hocking Valley Railroad have undertaken to secure the bonds held by them in their sinking fund against possible theft or malfeasance in office, by investing the fund for each class of bonds in the bonds of its own class, and then cutting out of the paper the words which specify the place of payment. In this way every intending purchaser is put upon inquiry, and yet the use of the bond for all the purposes necessary is not interfered with. Officers of States, municipalities, and corporations holding their own securities in sinking funds, might properly inquire into the merits of this device. For it is not only for safety but in the interest of good morals that every precaution should be taken against possible roguery.

PAPER MONEY NOW OUTSTANDING.

The following statement, exhibiting the amount of paper currency issued and outstanding on January 1, 1876; the amount held in the Treasury on January 25, 1876; the amount held by National banks on December 17, 1875 (the date of their last report), and by the State, savings banks and trust companies, as nearly as can be ascertained from official sources, has been prepared to-day by the Comptroller of the Currency. The statement shows the amount of paper currency now in the hands of the people to be $532,061,165.

HOW TO RESUME SPECIE PAYMENTS.

We have received the following letter for publication. The wide interest felt in the points discussed and the clearness with which Mr. Nourse presents his views will secure for it a careful reading.

BOSTON, January 27, 1876.

Hon. FREDERICK FRALEY, Philadelphia:

Dear Sir—It is assumed that the law of January, 1875, requiring the gold redemption of United States legal tender notes on and after January 1, 1879, will not be repealed, but will stand to be enforced as to that requirement, not more because it has become a pledge of public faith by its bearing upon all contracts and obligations of debts, public and private, since made, than because of the extreme necessity for it to save our people from further bankruptcy, the workers now employed from becoming idlers, and the idlers from starving.

The question to consider is how best to make the redemption practicable at the date named.

The act as it stands contemplates the accumulation of gold in the Treasury sufficient for redemption, yet forbids the contraction of the legal tender issue below three hundred million dollars before the day of redemption, and only permits even that contraction in certain contingencies not likely to work that full result.

Let it be supposed that by January 1, 1879, only three hundred million dollars of legal tenders shall be outstanding. To reduce their amount so low, under the law, large issues of new national bank notes must be made. National bank notes are redeemable in legal tender notes by the United States Treasury. Existing laws do not require the banks to make provision for any other redemption. Therefore, whatever provision shall be made for redeeming legal tender notes will apply to the national bank notes, and must be sufficient in the outset to bring the whole volume of paper currency up to par of gold whenever redemption shall be declared, and to hold it, or so much of it as shall remain in issue, exchangeable for gold. That is, the Treasury must have gold enough, beyond the amount required for ordinary disbursements, to redeem or protect about six hundred and fifty million dollars of paper currency.

No one can determine in advance what amount of gold would suffice for it. It is useless to seek to know, for the experiment will never be tried. Prior to the resumption in England in 1821, after the long suspension of twenty-four years by the Bank of England, even before the passing in 1819 of Peel's act for resumption, the paper currency of that country had suffered a violent and extreme contraction to such degree that the remainder was insufficient for the wants of business, and was at par of gold long before resumption was declared—was at a discount of only two or three per cent for gold when the act for resumption was passed. No further contraction was necessary, but three years was the time allowed by the act for other preparatory measures and adjustments, which, being accomplished in two years, the entire resumption was declared by the Governor and Company of the Bank of England a year in advance of the time named in the Act of Parliament.

The Bank of France has been under suspension since 1870, but has always held the greater part of her gold, as the French people held theirs, even when the Bank made its great war issue of notes Because they held the gold and did not export it to other countries as we did, their bank notes, when in greatest amount, and when a conqueror held their country, depreciated but inconsiderably below gold. Since October, 1873, their bank notes have been contracted by $148,000,000, notwithstanding the great indemnity paid to Germany in gold funds. So much coin is held among the people in France that it bears no premium above bank notes. The Bank has about $340,000,000 of gold in her vaults, and her outstanding note issue amounts to only about $475,000,000; yet with all these conditions of safety the Bank of France dares not formally resume redemption without further contraction, which is continually in progress, even while gold is accumulating in the bank vaults.

It is perhaps unsafe to say that the United States cannot make such an accumulation in three years as would redeem, or hold redeemable, six hundred and fifty millions of paper currency. It would far surpass what any other nation has ever done. It is safe to say that it cannot be done without very serious consequences to our own and other countries. At this time, when France is almost at the point of resumption but wants more gold (or less paper out), when Germany is in the process of substituting gold for silver money, when Russia, Austria and Italy are trying to get a better gold basis for their respective paper currencies and when the Bank of England finds it difficult to hold her gold in safe amount without making the minimum rate of interest too high for the business prosperity of England—at this time, or at any time in the next three years, an attempt on the part of our government to get for itself and store up in its Treasury these hundreds of millions in gold would be resisted to the utmost. The disturbance made by it would defeat all new negotiations of our securities in Europe, except at great sacrifice, and the proposal for it would arouse general remonstrance at home and abroad. If it were proposed to begin now or soon a process of gradual redemption—that is, to obtain gold for our bonds, by instalments of fifty or one hundred millions each, on the best terms practicable, and with that gold to redeem and cancel an equal or larger amount of legal tender notes, and so by a series of steps accomplish the redemption of all the Treasury notes—that would be a different thing to do. It would be costly and difficult, but quite practicable. The proposed first instalment of gold could easily be had for bonds at good rates, when it was to be at once returned to the channels of exchange, and, when paid out, it would make the getting of the next instalment easy, and so on until all be accomplished. By this process, too, the banks would be forced to put gold into their reserves to protect their own issues, and their deposits, then subject to call in gold. By it, too, only a part of the legal tender notes would need to be retired before the remainder would be at par of gold, in use, not presented for redemption. For, when resumption shall be practical, and redemption tendered on all paper currency, this will be the inevitable result, that the aggregate of currency which will remain in issue, consisting of redeemable notes and the coin or bullion which mingles with the paper, will be, for the time, just so much currency as the business of the people shall require, without either excess or deficiency.

All schemes for accumulating gold in the Treasury, to meet gold redemption of the whole volume of paper currency, with no previous or co-incident contraction of that volume, are radically defective. The slower the rate of accumulation, and the longer the process is to go on, the worse it will be in effect upon the people's business, and the more costly to both government and people.

In the United States Treasury the legal tender notes represent no capital, no cost, save of paper and printing. In the hands of the people or in banks they represent capital forcibly borrowed, without interest, from the people. What the people lose in interest upon them the government saves (except that the government ought to borrow at four per cent, while the use of the capital is worth seven per cent or more to the common people who most largely hold the Treasury currency), so that when both are considered as one, there is neither loss nor gain of interest, however great the consequential loss to both from the use of legal tender notes.

The existing paper currency being too large in amount to be maintained at gold value, it must be reduced, either before redemption begins or in the process of redemption. Contraction by redemption is practicable, if gradual, or by successive instalments, as before stated; would be possible, by the plan of accumulating gold enough to announce entire redemption at once, if only the gold can be stored up, and consequences may be disregarded. The process of contraction by redemption would be that the gold paid out, that is, substituted in the currency for notes, would be exported so long as the operation itself should make money so abundant that gold would be the cheapest article offering for export, and the rate of foreign exchange would send it abroad. This would go on until an equilibrium, or true proportion between the paper portion of the currency and the coin associated with it in circulation, including reserves, should be established. Then the work of resumption of specie payment would be accomplished. The period of superabundant money, under the process of wholesale redemption with coin, would be so highly dangerous as to consequences which might follow, that well-grounded apprehension might cause a paralysis, during the transition, hardly less hurtful to business enterprise than excessive scarcity of money.

But there is no necessity for a very large and costly accumulation of gold. It is safer, easier, and cheaper to reduce the size of the thing to be redeemed, than to enlarge the power to redeem with. Before redemption can be attempted, even of a reduced volume of currency, a store of gold must be accumulated; but it should be remembered that, although none know in advance what per cent of gold will hold redeemable a given amount of notes—so much depends upon attending circumstances, as the condition of business, dull or active, the public confidence, good harvests, prosperity or adversity in prospect, etc.—yet it is morally sure that if the banks were required to fill up their reserves with gold by the close of 1878, and the volume of legal tender notes were reduced by 100 millions, the United States Treasury could hold its remaining obligations redeemable upon a small sum of gold, probably not exceeding 150 millions in any contingency other than that of war, and that gold rarely to be called for except to redeem notes of failed National banks.

Contraction preceding redemption, if gradual and moderate in extent, would avoid the great evils and cost of contraction by redemption. The National banks should be required to perform their part toward the work of preparation by the gradual substitution of gold for greenbacks in their reserves; say 25 per cent. of the latter yearly. The additional cost to each bank would be inconsiderable, only the gold premium and the small amount of interest on that premium; but the aggregate would make a vast difference to the United States Treasury in the work and cost of redemption in 1879. This duty being required of the banks, only partial contraction of the legal tender notes would be incumbent upon the United States Treasury preparatory to its easy redemption of the remainder in 1879. If redemption is then to be attained without an enormous and difficult accumulation of gold, the legal tender notes should be reduced by 100 millions during the two years from July 1 1876, by funding them. This course requires no gold, yet its effect would be to draw gold hither and to restrain its export; it would disturb neither the fiscal arrangements of this or any other government, nor the ordinary course of commercial and industrial business at home or abroad, except in its moral effect to inspire confidence and new activities; its only effect upon money markets here or in Europe would be to enhance the value of our securities and quicken the demand for them, thus sending us new supplies of cheap capital, and to give employment to funds now almost idle; and this funding process may be almost self limiting in its extent of operation.

To this end, the kind of bond to be issued for funding greenbacks should bear the lowest rate of interest at which it would be taken at par in greenbacks. It should compensate by its distant time of redemption for its low rate of interest, in the estimation of capitalists. It should be as other bonds of the United States are, payable principal and interest in gold; registered when desired; non-taxable; and receivable on deposit in the Treasury as security for bank circulation and government deposits.

It is believed that a fifty-year 4 per cent. gold bond will supply all these requisites.

There is always, even in the most active times, a large amount of capital, belonging to individuals, estates, trusts, etc., temporarily unemployed or taken on deposit by Trust Companies at very low rates of interest. At the present time the amount of such funds is very large. It would seek investment in these bonds at par of greenbacks with great avidity. The probability is, that of 100 million dollars of such bonds, should the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to issue that amount, the greater part would be taken by such funds and by greenbacks now privately hoarded; and that only a very small amount of capital now employed in the ordinary channels of business would be invested in the bonds. The National banks would take some portion for deposit against circulation, releasing bonds bearing 5 or 6 per cent., and the latter would be likely to go abroad or be taken for investment outside of active business whenever their proceeds could be profitably loaned by the banks, and thus the free capital applicable to business loans and discounts be increased rather than diminished by the funding of the first 100 million dollars of greenbacks. Free capital and not its instrument, currency, is what we most need in the times of highest activity of industry and trade. The creation of free capital is what we need now to restore prosperity. It is probable, almost certain, that no more than the idle or almost idle portion of capital, would go into 4 per cent. bonds were the authority for funding unlimited. It would be stopped at a safe point by the better rate of interest for the use of capital elsewhere to be obtained. The operation would be self-limiting, automatic. But the retiring and cancellation of greenbacks would have an effect upon the condition of the banks with regard to their reserves and eventually their circulation. The deposits in banks are a part of the aggregate circulation of the country, and, however dormant usually, liable to sudden and sometimes violent motion. To move them currency is not always necessary, or but little of it will usually suffice. If the funding of greenbacks were to be too rapid or go too far for the time, it would force the banks to a reduction of their loans and discounts with some effect upon general business; though the inspiration of hope and confidence by the wholesome process would go far to counteract any depressing effect even then. It may be prudent, therefore, to limit the amount of legal-tender notes to be funded in the first year.

The effects of the operation in that year would give to Congress and the people a guide for subsequent action. It is inexpedient to prescribe a monthly amount to be funded. There are periods in the year when no part of the currency should be withdrawn; in other months holders of currency would gladly avail of such means of using it. The Secretary of the Treasury should be authorized to retire the yearly sum in such amounts and at such periods in the year as he should find most favorable to public and private interests.

Contraction of the currency is a necessity of resumption of specie redemption, either preceding or attending it.

Contraction through redemption would work so much injury that it should be adopted only as a last resort, and then by instalments gradually, with the least possible hoarding of gold in the Treasury.

Contraction by partial funding before beginning gold redemption would be harmless in operation; it would improve public and private credit wherever credit is deserved, and impart new life and hope to all who are not too far gone towards insolvency by its bright promise of a sound, safe basis for business hereafter.

While the bonds to be issued for funding should bear the lowest rate of interest that will permit their negotiation at par or a small premium in Treasury notes, under proposals for the best bids for them, the funding should be done and the bonds should issue for that important purpose, even if it were necessary that they should carry 4½ or 5 per cent. interest or even 6 per cent. (on short bonds) as was provided in the original legal-tender laws.

This one measure would make the currency act of January, 1875, practicable and beneficent. If with this, Congress should provide for a gradually increasing gold reserve to be held by the banks, the act would be complete and effective for its object.

These proposed amendments are simple and easily understood by all men of business. In operation they would be preparatory, gradual and harmless. If Congress cannot agree upon these or some better or more effective amendments, the act should stand as it is, with its pledge of redemption in 1879; so that if unfulfilled for lack of powers which Congress can so easily give, it may stand as a bitter reproach upon those, whoever they may be, upon whom shall rest the responsibility of defeating the most wholesome and important measure of political economy presented for the action of Congress in the last half century, in which the last three Congresses have been unfaithful, except in enacting the imperfect law of January last.

Great depression and distress followed the financial crisis of 1837. For five years there was no perceptible recovery or improvement outside of New England and New York. Specie payment in those States was resumed in 1838 and 1839, and thenceforward they recovered, but slowly, because all the rest of the country was under the curse of suspension, and stay laws and depreciation of values—verging towards bankruptcy—until 1842. Then the resumption became general, and from that date all the country continuously prospered (except a few months in 1857-1858) down to the acts of secession. Thanks to the firmness of President Jackson and his Cabinet, the Treasury of the United States did not suspend specie payment, and the rule of the United States Bank was ended. Van Buren, elected in 1836, "followed in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor," in the same line of policy from 1837 to 1841. Yet the people, so prosperous under Jackson, suffered fearfully under Van Buren from the effects of the financial convulsion. As some of them had attributed their prosperity, even the bountiful harvests, to the wisdom of Jackson's administration, so even more of them blindly attributed to Van Buren's administration the evils which had originated years before, and a great majority thereupon rejected the Democratic rule and elected the Whigs, headed by Harrison and Tyler, to power. The Democratic policy had demanded hard money, an independent treasury and "pay as you go." The Whig policy was for a national bank and plenty of bank currency (always to be redeemable, however) and bank credit. When in power, the Whig Congress at once re-chartered the United States Bank, or rather chartered a new one, for the old one had failed as a Pennsylvania bank. Harrison had died after a few weeks of service, and Tyler vetoed the new charter, the one great and good act of his political life. Happily, that Whig Congress also passed the bankrupt law of 1841, which swept away the great body of debt that had come down constantly swelling from 1837, and that prepared the way for the few surviving banks to resume specie payment in 1843. The Democratic party remained faithful to its hard money policy through that and succeeding administrations, and in 1844 the people replaced them in power. Before the next election—that of Taylor and Fillmore in 1848—the Whig party had abandoned its National bank and kindred theories, and accepted the hard money policy of the Democrats, the people's policy in those days. The people are suffering now, but in small degree compared with what they must suffer if the present wretched paper money policy be continued. The interests now at risk include the good name and honor of our government, but are chiefly those of the people. The merchant, manufacturer and householder, the value of whose property is sinking month by month, are suffering; but the wages-earning people, who are idle or getting only starvation wages, are suffering in far higher degree. To many thousands the necessities of life are in peril, and Congress holds in its hand the power to save or to destroy.

The people of the rich prairies of the West, sure of a good living, if they will take it from the ground, under God's promise of seedtime and harvest, may ask for more currency, that by it they may get a higher price for their wheat, corn and pork, or may cultivate a few more acres each—forgetting that if they get more for what they sell they must pay far more for what they buy; but they should think of the artisans and laborers in the older States and in the seaboard cities and towns, who pitifully ask to be allowed to earn the food needed to keep them and their families from the poor choice between starvation and beggary—a privilege which their late employers can no longer grant because themselves are bankrupt and their works closed, or fast drifting towards it.

The Western man wants capital and he calls for currency. He wants the substance and he asks for the shadow, not seeing that if he has not the capital he cannot get the currency, however much there may be. For his poor illusion he would force a policy of ruin and desolation upon the great commercial and manufacturing interests and industries of the country, to work eventually his own serious injury. His highest prosperity depends upon the prosperity of the other sections and other classes of people, who are his consuming customers, and he must share their misfortunes. The people have become impatient of fruitless discussions of principles and theories in the abstract. They demand something concrete in the form of acts definite and effective, or a clear and distinct refusal of relief.

Respectfully yours,

BOSTON, Jan. 27, 1876. B. F. NOURSE.

FINANCIAL REVIEW OF FEBRUARY.

During the month of February there was little to disturb the even course of financial affairs, and both here and abroad the tone of feeling was generally healthy, although the improvement in mercantile business was not satisfactory.

Money continued quite easy, and, except for the withdrawal of some specie from the banks toward the close of the month, there would have been a considerable increase in the surplus reserves of the banks. Call loans were quoted down to 3 per cent. on the best collaterals, and prime commercial paper sold as low as 4½ per cent.

There was a large demand for government bonds, particularly in the early part of the month, and the advance in prices seemed to have little effect in checking purchases, which were made chiefly by financial corporations, both in and out of this city, for the purpose of strengthening their position. The introduction into Congress and passage by the United States Senate of the bill to issue $500,000,000 4½ per cent. 30-year bonds had some influence in the latter part of the month in throwing the main demand for bonds on to other issues than the five-twenties.

Railroad bonds were strong on a good demand, and prices of many issues made a further advance beyond the best point reached in January. Railroad and miscellaneous stocks were buoyant in the early part of the month, and the advance in express stocks and those Western railroads affected by the repeal of the Wisconsin "Potter" law was quite marked. In the latter part of the month a sharp attack was made on Pacific Mail and Western Union Telegraph, which carried the prices of those stocks down to lower prices than had previously been touched for many months. This "bear" movement was attributed to the operations of Mr. Jay Gould, who holds a large interest in Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph and Union Pacific Railroad.

The following table will show the opening, highest, lowest and closing prices of railway and miscellaneous stocks at the New York Stock Exchange during the months of Jan. and Feb.:

THE PROVIDENT SAVINGS LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.—The readers of the CHRONICLE are probably somewhat familiar with the name of this enterprising company, whose motto is "Pay as you go—get what you buy—stop when you choose." In other words, this company purposes making life insurance a simple, common-sense business transaction, in which a party may see at the outset what return he can obtain in any future year, should he then desire, or be compelled by circumstances, to discontinue the payment of further annual premiums. The company bases its operations upon principles devised and recommended by its vice-president and actuary, Mr. Sheppard Homans, whose reputation is well known in life insurance circles, in this country and abroad. One of the features which is most satisfactory to business men, in the company's transactions, is the endorsement on each policy of an agreement to pay in cash a specified amount, therein stated, at the end of any year (after the first), on surrender of the policy. For example, an ordinary life policy of $5,000, age 35, annual premium $131 90, would bear an endorsement indicating the cash surrender value at different periods, as follows: At the end of the—

| | | | | | |
| 2d year | $48 60 | 5th year | $206 08 | 8th year | $382 03 |

As a practical illustration of the relative amount of cash paid by this and other companies, a correspondent furnishes us the following facts: In 1864, being twenty-eight years of age, he took out an endowment policy in one of the leading companies for $5,000, payable to himself at fifty, the premiums of $322 being payable annually for ten years. After eight payments the company gave a paid-up policy for $4,000, for which they would allow in cash only $1,741. Took out another policy at same time in another company, premiums payable in ten years, but the policy payable at death. After eight payments of $233 each, received a paid-up policy for $4,000, for which the company offers in cash only $989. In the first instance named, the Provident Savings Life would pay $2,257, instead of $1,741, and in the second instance $1,144, instead of $989. The cash surrender value has nothing to do with annual dividends on policies, which are paid in this as in other mutual companies.

Another feature with this company is the yearly renewable policy, by which a party can pay for insuring his life for a single year at a very moderate premium, without any regard to future reserves or accumulations—these policies being issued either participating in dividends of the year or non-participating. The Provident Savings Company has large and handsome offices on Broadway, in the Western Union Telegraph building, and we understand that its entire capital is invested in government bonds.

—The late firm of Parker & Cobb, bankers, 78 Devonshire street, Boston, has been dissolved by the decease of Mr. Cobb, on the 16th day of January last. The business is continued by the new firm of Parker & Stackpole, who will continue to give especial attention, as heretofore, to the purchase and sale of investment securities, concerning which a long experience enables them to give customers trustworthy information and valuable advice.

—Messrs. Laidlaw & Co., the well-known bankers, offer to those desirous of investing in California mining stocks increased facilities for promptly executing orders at the San Francisco Stock Exchange, through the Bank of California, and will furnish full particulars to any parties upon application.

—The New Jersey and New York Railway Company give notice that the interest due March 1, 1876, on their first mortgage gold bonds, will be paid upon presentation of the proper coupons at the National Trust Company's office, in New York, after March 1.

—The Bank of Commerce, of St. Louis, Mo., in its statement of December 31st, 1875, shows assets of $2,177,460, of which $1,481,384 are discounts. The capital is $300,000; reserve fund, $671,493; amount due depositors, $872,720.

—The steamers of the popular Boston line—the Providence and Stonington Steamship Company—will leave, on and after Monday, 28th inst., from foot of Jay street, at 5 P. M. instead of 4:30, as heretofore.

FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1876—6 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The principal characteristics of the week have been the continued activity and depression in several of the prominent speculative stocks, strength in governments and other investment bonds, an easy money market and firmness in gold and exchange.

The accounts of mercantile business are not particularly favorable, and the improvement in trade which has long been hoped for seems not yet to have arrived. The Centennial Exhibition is looked forward to in a vague way as a possible agent to stimulate business; but even in this some parties seem to have little faith, and the N. Y. Tribune, recently speaking of the views taken by those who are most hopeful in regard to it, says: "They make a great point upon the revival of trade which is to result from the Centennial show, though they do not clearly demonstrate how the spending of more or less borrowed money at a big or little circus is to revive the productive industries of the country." The allusion here, though not plainly pointed, is apparently to the disastrous financial effects attending the advent of a circus to a Southern town shortly after the war, the result being to break the freedman's savings bank in the place by the withdrawal of deposits.

Our local money market has been very easy, with abundance of funds offering on call at 3 per cent. on government collateral and 3@4 per cent. on miscellaneous securities. Prime commercial paper is in demand at 5@6 per cent., the quotation of 4½ per cent. being so exceptional as hardly to indicate any considerable amount of business. There is also a good deal of discrimination among buyers as to names.

On Thursday the Bank of England reported a gain for the week of £216,000 in specie, the discount rate remaining unchanged at 4 per cent. The Bank of France gained 26,269,000 francs in specie. The Imperial Bank of Germany gained 8,131,000 marks.

The weekly statement of the New York City Clearing-House Banks, issued February 26, showed a decrease of $1,187,200 in the excess above their 25 per cent legal reserve, the whole of such excess being $13,634,950, against $14,882,150, the previous week.

| | 1876. | | | 1875. | 1874. |
| | Feb. 19. | Feb. 26. | Differences. | Feb. 27. | Feb. 28. |
| Loans and dis. | $268,011,400 | $268,480,006 | Inc.. $468,600 | $292,017,000 | $282,555,700 |
| Specie | 22,044,900 | 20,706,200 | Dec. 1,338,700 | 15,921,600 | 26,468,300 |

| Legal tenders | 48,967,600 | 49,013,100 | Inc.. 45,300 | 51,900,600 | 61,915,000 |

United States Bonds.—There has been a fair business in government bonds, and prices remain firm. The discrimination in favor of the five per cents has gone so far that they are now selling in some instances above the five-twenties, which carry 1 per cent. per annum more gold interest. In view of the uncertainty regarding the passage of the pending law for the issue of 4½ per cent. bonds, and the long time which would, at best, be required to reach the five-twenties of 1867 in the funding negotiations, the present difference in prices would seem to be unreasonably wide. The importation of bonds by foreign bankers has not recently been of large volume.

State and Railroad Bonds.—In State bonds Tennessees are weak, and there is more talk about funding at a low rate of interest. As these bonds, however, are among the securities freely dealt in at the Stock Exchange and subject to speculative manipulation, it is not possible to determine how far such talk is for effect, or how far it really foreshadows the probable action of the State authorities. Virginia bonds are hardly as firm, and the question of increasing taxation is now before the State Legislature. Louisiana consols, after selling down from 1½ to 2 per cent, are again stronger at or near their former figures.

Railroad bonds have been fairly active, and prices are generally well kept up. The Union Pacific sinking funds sold yesterday, ex-interest, at 91 and again, at 90, but the latter had not the appearance of a bona fide transaction, and to-day the sales were at 91½@92. A decree of foreclosure in Illinois has been obtained in the suit of the consolidated mortgage bondholders of the Toledo Wabash & Western Railroad, and in Ohio a similar decree had already been made. We understand that a decision in Indiana has not yet been rendered. There are now few first mortgage bonds on the Stock Exchange list selling below 95.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been quite irregular and fluctuations unusually wide. The "bear" attack commenced some two weeks since on Pacific Mail, and subsequently pushed also against Western Union Telegraph and Lake Shore, has culminated this week in the lowest prices reached—Pacific Mail touching 25½ on Thursday, Western Union 69, and Lake Shore 59⅞ on Tuesday. Other stocks, including the Western specialties, were not similarly depressed, but necessarily sympathized to some extent, and were prevented from advancing as they might have been expected to do on the final repeal of the Potter law, which was this week signed by the Governor of Wisconsin. The principal causes influencing particular stocks were the opposition line put on against Pacific Mail, and the reduction of rates forced on the Western Union Telegraph which may possibly compel it to pass or reduce their 2 per cent. April dividend. At a meeting of directors this week, the question of a dividend was passed over till next week, when President Orton said that the statement of earnings, etc., would be ready. To-day there was a marked change in the tone of the market and a decided recovery in prices on some leading stocks. Lake Shore was most conspicuous, selling up to 64⅝.

The Gold Market.—Gold has been strong on a moderate business, and sold to-day at 114¼, closing at 114⅛. As the prospect of scarcer gold from specie shipments increases, there is probably a larger speculative interest in the market, and a part of the fluctuations from day to day may be attributed to this. On Thursday, the shipment was $600,000 gold coin, and for to-morrow's steamers only $250,000 are reported. On gold loans the rates to-day were 4, 3½, 4½ and 3 per cent for carrying. Custom receipts of the week were $2,421,000.

The following table will show the course of gold and operations of the Gold Exchange Bank each day of the past week:

Foreign Exchange.—Exchange has been tolerably strong until to-day, when there was a decided weakening in rates. On Thursday, the leading drawers advanced their rates ½ point on sterling, to 4.86½ and 4.90½ on long and short bills respectively, but to-day the advance was lost, and prices returned to previous figures. On actual business there was even a larger difference, and in the afternoon bills could be purchased nearly 1 point better than in the morning.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Chicago Burlington & Quincy.

(For the year ending December 31, 1875).

The annual election of directors was held in Chicago, on the 23d ult. The result was as follows: John M. Forbes, Boston, Mass.; Sidney Bartlett, Boston, Mass.; John W. Brooks, Boston, Mass.; Charles J. Paine, Boston, Mass.; T. Jefferson Coolidge, Boston, Mass.; John N. A. Griswold, Newport, R. I.; Wm. J. Rotch, New Bedford, Mass.; Peter Geddes, Chicago, Ill.; J. M. Walker, Chicago, Ill.; Robert Harris, Chicago, Ill.; Charles E. Perkins, Burlington, Iowa.

The annual report of the President, Mr. J. M. Walker, has the following:

The gross earnings and expenditures for the year ending on the 31st ult., have been as follows:

| | | |
| From freight | | $8,502,617 |
| From passengers | | 2,677,942 |
| From miscellaneous | | 537,888 |
| From interest and exchange | | 52,912 |
| Total | | $11,791,361 |
| From which deduct operating expenses, including taxes and transfer office expenses | | 6,430,122 |
| Leaving net earnings for the year | | $5,361,238 |
| Interest accrued or paid on bonds during the year | | 2,014,709 |
| Leaving a balance of | | $3,346,529 |
| Out of which have been paid dividends Nos. 29 and 30 | $2,683,595 | |
| Rent of tracks and depots | 88,521 | |
| Amount transferred to sinking fund in 1875 | 156,897 | |
| | | 2,930,931 |
| Leaving net surplus earnings for the year | | $415,594 |
| To which add surplus at commencement | | 3,945,992 |
| And there stands to the credit of income account | | $4,361,587 |
| Amount credited to sinking fund taken from earnings | | 1,363,744 |
| And this, added to income credits, makes the amount of surplus earnings | | $5,725,332 |

In addition to this surplus derived from earnings and embracing the items above stated, there were, as will appear by reference to the Treasurer's report, $816,625 83 in the Burlington & Missouri River land grant sinking fund, derived from sale of lands, which goes to pay the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad land grant mortgage bonds, now a part of the obligations of this company, and $346,605 69 standing to credit of profit and loss and local aid account, the larger part of which has been applied to construction in Iowa—making total of surplus $6,888,543 83.

Operating expenses for 1874 were 55 93-100 per cent, including taxes. For 1875 they were 54 53-100 per cent.

CAPITAL STOCK.

The capital stock of the Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company proper, at the date of the last report, was $19,898,910. It has been increased during the year by one share issued for fractional rights consolidated, and by 52,011 shares issued in exchange for Burlington & Missouri River Railroad stock, transferred to J. N. A. Griswold and J. M. Walker, trustees, for the purposes subsequently stated.

| | | |
| Making the total of C. B. & Q. stock | | $25,100,110 00 |
| Total amount of B. & M. R. stock | $7,613,882 51 | |
| Amount of stock transferred to trustees | 5,201,150 00 | |
| Total B. & M. stock outstanding | | 2,412,732 51 |
| Making aggregate amount of stock outstanding on the 31st ult. | | $27,512,842 51 |

In explanation of changes in the capital stock above stated, attention is called to the provisions of the lease of the Burlington & Missouri River Road to this company of the date of Dec. 31, 1872, in which it was provided that such legislation should be obtained as might be deemed necessary to authorize a complete union of the stock and property of the two companies. This has been had. That for Illinois took effect on the first day of July last. On the 1st of August, in closing up the purchase, a conveyance in due form was made by the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad Company to this company of all its property, of whatsoever kind, and thereupon, as the most practicable mode of completing such purchase of the stock of the B. & M. R. R. Co., the board authorized an exchange of C. B. & Q. stock for outstanding B. & M. R. stock. In pursuance of this order, and for the purposes stated, $5,201,100 had been exchanged up to Dec. 31 last.

In consequence of matters connected with the land grant, and for other reasons, it was deemed advisable for the present to continue the organization of the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad Company, and for that reason the certificates of Burlington & Missouri River Railroad stock exchanged for Chicago Burlington & Quincy stock were not extinguished, but have been transferred to Messrs. J. N. A. Griswold and J. M. Walker, to be held by them in trust.

FUNDED DEBT.

The funded debt of this company at the date of the last report, including the contingent indebtedness of its branch bonds and the bonds of the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad Company was $27,381,075

| | | |
| This has been increased during the year by sale of C. B. & Q. 7 per cent of 1903 | $525,000 | |
| By sale of C. B. & Q. plain 5 per cent of 1895 | 462,000 | |
| By conversion of fractional rights | 2,800 | |
| | | 989,800 |
| | | $28,370,875 |
| Less B. & M. R. bonds converted into stock | $722,000 | |
| Less bonds purchased for C. B. & Q. sinking fund | 18,000 | |
| Less northern cross scrip paid | 43,500 | |
| Less purchased B. & M. land grant sinking fund | 34,800 | |
| Less purchased branch bonds on traffic contracts | 13,000 | |
| | | 831,300 |
| Giving amount of bonds outstanding on 31st ult. | | $27,539,575 |

It will be observed that in the exchange of 7 per cent bonds of 1903 for the 8 per cent branch bonds, there is a saving of 1 per cent on interest account.

The bonded indebtedness of the Burlington & Missouri River Road at the end of the year, included in the above statement, was $6,017,350, of which $1,337,150 are convertible. The balance constitutes the so-called land grant mortgage. The former are being rapidly converted into stock, and it is expected all will be in at an early day. This done, the only remaining indebtedness of the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad Company will be the latter, amounting to $4,660,250. The sinking fund created by the proceeds of the land grant, now estimated at $4,469,897 20, with its accumulations, will nearly retire the whole remaining issue of these bonds, thus leaving that company practically free of debt. Your company is without floating indebtedness.

BRANCHES AND NEW CONSTRUCTION.

* * * It was deemed advisable to render such assistance to the Albia Knoxville & Des Moines Railroad Company—the construction of whose road, undertaken some years since, was then well under way—as would enable that company to build its road from Albia to Knoxville, the county seat of Marion County. This road was completed and leased perpetually to the C. B. & Q., in which lease the rent reserved is equal to the annual interest on the bonds of $462,000, issued by the A. K. & D. M. Company, which bonds were taken by the C. B. & Q. Company at 85 and deposited with the New England Trust Company as security for the $462,000 of 5 per cent. plain bonds, issued by the latter.

On the 6th of December last a preliminary contract was made with the Quincy Alton & St. Louis Railway Company and others for the perpetual lease of the road of that company. The road is about forty-six miles in length, and extends from Quincy to Louisiana, with a branch to Hannibal, along the rich bottom lands on the east bank of the Mississippi. Should this contract be carried to execution in the ensuing year, and the lease made, the rent to be paid will be based upon the gross earnings, appropriating such percentage thereof to the payment of rent as will insure this company against loss, but with the right at any time within five years to turn the same into the form of fixed rental not exceeding $42,000 per annum—being at the rate of about $913 per mile.

It was with great reluctance that your directors consented to take in hand these two roads. It was not in accord with their general purpose. The true policy of the company undoubtedly should be against extensions or additional branches, and this will be adhered to so long as may be without serious detriment to the property. But in these cases the circumstances seemed imperative; not to have taken them up would seemed to have been a failure properly to execute the trust reposed in them.

TRANSPORTATION.

The amount of freight moved during the year, exclusive of Illinois Central, done under special contract with that company, Chicago Dubuque & Minnesota and company freight, was 2,396,933 tons, as against 2,420,628 tons in 1874, a decrease of 23,695 tons. Of the above amount, 716,791 tons were received from and delivered to Western connections; 382,134 tons were eastward and 334,657 tons westward bound, making local freight eastward and westward 1,680,142 tons.

The average earnings per ton per mile upon freight have been at the rate of 1 915-1000 cents as against 1 900-1000 cents in the previous year. The total number of passengers carried, exclusive of mileage and season tickets, has been 2,019,484 as against 1,830,453 in 1874, with an average mileage of 46 43-100 to each passenger. The average rate per mile, exclusive of mileage and season tickets, was 2 79-100 cents as against 3 0-1,000 cents in the previous year.

LAND DEPARTMENT.

At the date of the last report there remained of unsold land, as near as could then be estimated, 103,621.26 acres. In view of this comparatively small quantity, sales for the year have been large, amounting to 57,081.05 acres, for the gross sum of $667,291 37, an average of $11 70 per acre.

Atlantic Mississippi & Ohio.

(For the year ending September 30, 1875).

The earnings of the road for the year were as follows:

| | 1874-75. | 1873-74. |
| From passenger trains | $500,831 58 | $482,816 07 |
| From tonnage trains | 1,256,248 67 | 1,324,296 74 |
| From other sources | 25,371 19 | 18,170 50 |
| Total earnings | $1,782,453 43 | $1,825,343 31 |
| Working expenses | 1,109,947 66 | 1,097,723 48 |
| Net earnings | $673,505 77 | $727,619 83 |

The report says:

"The increase in the revenue from passenger trains is entirely attributable to the increase in express traffic which, for the past year, was greater by the sum of $26,885 68 than for the previous year, while the receipts from passenger traffic were less by the sum of $10,151 30. The decrease in passenger receipts is confined quite entirely to the through traffic, and the same result is noticeable in the decrease of revenue which will be found in the tonnage traffic. Indeed, the revenue from local or way tonnage for the past year is greater by the sum of $15,617 52 than for the previous year, while the receipts for through tonnage are $85,349 34 less."

The expenses of the transportation department were $544,869 23, against $543,281 33; the train mileage, however, was greater, so that the transportation expenses were 50·85 cents per mile, against 51·22 cents, a decrease of 0·7 per cent.

The debt of the company was as follows at the close of the last two fiscal years, Sept. 30, 1874 and 1875:

| | 1875. | 1874. |
| Funded debt, except State debt | $10,573,481 18 | $10,599,234 99 |
| Unpaid interest, including Oct. coupons | 474,097 22 | 359,937 34 |
| Floating debt | 1,076,355 54 | 928,519 29 |
| Total debt | $12,123,933 92 | $11,887,691 62 |
| Cost of property | 19,374,408 02 | 19,178,715 57 |
| Other assets | 830,970 49 | 934,191 90 |
| Debt per mile of road | $28,327 | $27,775 |
| Cost of property per mile | 45,2 0 | 44,810 |

The report says:

"During the year, the funded debt, assumed on account of the divisions, has been reduced by the retirement of $20,000 of first mortgage bonds and $12,381 83 of registered certificates of the Virginia & Tennessee Division, making a total of $32,381 83 of past-due obligations taken in, and for which we are entitled to receive from the trustees an equal amount of Atlantic Mississippi & Ohio bonds.

"In other respects the funded debt remains as at the date of our last report, except that the amount of funded-interest notes has been increased by the sum of $6,028. The floating debt of $1,076,-355 54, is in excess of the amount outstanding at that date by the sum of $147,836 25."

The arrangements made with the bondholders in England are to be submitted to the stockholders after they have been considered by the board.

President Mahone's report says: "While your temporary obligations have been duly met, and the divisional bondholders have been paid full interest, your employees have faithfully stood to their post, accepting cheerfully such measure of their hard-earned wages as the reduced and insufficient earnings of the road would allow to be paid them. The results of the year are contrary to the predictions expressed in our last report, which were then fully justified by the operation of the first three months of the past year, though they are in harmony with the corresponding results which have attended the operations of nearly every railroad in the country, except that our loss has been slight in comparison with the large majority of such corporations.

"It may be well to remember that when the panic set in, from which every industry and every interest has so severely suffered, the revenue of the company had attained a sufficiency to meet its every demand. Its shortcomings, during the period which has followed, aggregate $610,000, while the loss in revenue has been $780,000, round figures. When the country fails to furnish the business which is needed to produce the revenue necessary to cover its current obligations, a case of necessary forbearance is plainly made, and reasonably so when it is remembered that the property at stake cannot be replaced or duplicated for double the amount of all its indebtedness, and when it has given in the past such abundant evidence of real ability to meet all the demands these impose."

Housatonic Railroad.

West Jersey Railroad.

(For the year ending December 31, 1875.)

Receipts and disbursements of the West Jersey Railroad and leased roads were as follows:

| Name of Road. | Earnings. | Expenses. | Profit. |
| West Jersey and Cape May and Millville Railroads | $613,586 40 | $330,498 10 | $283,088 30 |

| Net profit over all charges | | | $95,689 95 |

There was a loss operating Swedesboro Railroad of $12,953 29, and an actual loss operating Salem Railroad of $10,081 13.

Compared with the previous year, the following result is shown:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Gross earnings, 1875 | $659,797 | Expenses, 1875 | $366,509 |
| Gross earnings, 1874 | 623,391 | Expenses, 1874 | 437,691 |
| Increase in gross earn'gs | $36,406 | Decrease in expenses | $71,181 |
| Net earnings, 1875 | | | $293,287 |
| Net earnings, 1874 | | | 185,700 |
| Increase in net earnings | | | $107,587 |

The report says: After providing for and paying all interest, rentals, and other expenses properly chargeable against income, there remains a balance of $95,689 95 as the net income for the year 1875, which is equal to a dividend of seven per cent upon the capital stock of your company; and though the cash is now on hand in the treasury to more than represent this amount, yet the directors have thought it prudent not to make any distribution of the same among the shareholders, but to retain and apply so much of it as may be required for some contemplated improvements.

During the past year there have been no expenditures charged to capital account, all expenses having been charged to the general expenses of operating and maintaining your properties. Your Board takes pleasure in stating that the floating debt of $72,000, as shown in the report of 1874, has been paid off, and the securities held therefor returned to the treasurer. Your company is therefore free from all unfunded indebtedness, and has now $125,000 temporarily invested upon proper security, until, and as, required for use by the company.

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

Anthracite Coal Combination.—The Engineering & Mining Journal gives a schedule of prices which will rule in the coming months of this year, as established by the late combination of all the prominent coal mining corporations and companies the same with 1875. The Journal says: "From this it appears that 'consumers,' who contract before the 1st of April for their supply of coal, can purchase it at a reduction of from 25 to 45 cents per ton from contractor's prices last year, and a reduction of 40 to 95 cents per ton as compared with the prices of 1874.

"The following is a comparison of the net prices of coal to consumers during the years 1874 and 1875, and those proposed for 1876. For 1875 we deduct an assumed commission of 15 cents per ton, the prices for 1874 having been net, as are also those for this year.

"Though we welcome this concession to the urgent needs of our manufacturing industries, it is not so great as we had expected it to be, nor, as we believe, the condition of manufacturing and the best interests of the anthracite trade itself demanded."

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe.—The land sales of this company have been: For Jan., 1876, 9,739·61 acres for $41,886 16—average per acre $4 30; sales previous to Jan., 1876, 526,512·91 acres for $2,761,001 82—average per acre $5 24 1–3; Total sales to Feb. 1, 1876, 536,252·52 acres for $2,802,887 98 —average per acre $5 22½. The land bonds outstanding are $3,374,000.

Buffalo City Loan.—Proposals will be received at the Controller's Office, until the second day of March, for the purchase of $100,000 6 per cent park bonds, authorized by an act of the Legislature of the State of New York, chap. 375, passed May 17, 1875.

Cincinnati & Martinsville.—Joseph T. Greenough has been appointed receiver of the Cincinnati & Martinsville Railroad Company, extending from Martinsville to Fairland, at which point it connects with the Indianapolis Cincinnati & Lafayette Road. The liabilities of the company are estimated at $400,000, of which $300,000 is represented by the receiver.

Delaware Lackawanna & Western.—As to the change of gauge lately determined on, President Samuel Sloan said to a Tribune reporter that for a considerable time past the directors had been considering a change of the gauge, and all the company's recently acquired rolling stock had been constructed with a view to adapting it to the proposed new gauge. The first step will be to change the axles of the locomotive, passenger, baggage and freight cars. There are about 120 locomotives and 1,200 cars which will need to be altered. The locomotives will cause more trouble and expense than the cars, as the difficulty of altering will be greater. The shops will begin work on Monday, and after they have completed the alterations of the stock, the track will be narrowed in 24 to 48 hours. The total cost will be about $1,250,-000, and the work will be done in time to enable the company to compete for the Centennial traffic, as it will have excellent connections and facilities. Early in July the trains will probably run through the new tunnel.

Erie.—The Erie directors have appointed a committee, consisting of ex-Gov. E. D. Morgan, Hugh J. Jewett, and Samuel Sloan, to confer with the English committee, and a conference was held lately at Mr. Jewett's residence. Messrs. Miller and Fleming presented the Watkin scheme of reorganization for consideration. There was some discussion, but the conference adjourned until another day, no permanent results having been attained. The directors expressed the views of the stockholders as decidedly opposed to the Watkin scheme, inasmuch as it would destroy all their interest in the property unless they made further sacrifices, which they were unable to do. The plan which they submitted to the English Committee is reported to be substantially as follows: First 12 millions consolidated gold bondholders to be asked to fund four coupons; the 5 millions gold convertible bondholders to fund six coupons, and the second 14 millions consolidated gold bonds to fund eight coupons. The stockholders claim that this is all that is needed to put the road in a prosperous condition, providing for steel rails and the narrowing of the gauge, and it is said that the negotiations pending, if carried to a successful termination, will furnish the Erie Company with the money necessary to lay a third rail to Jersey City.

The Tribune says the committee from England and the Erie Directors have adjourned their conference until next week, in order that the materials for a better understanding may be obtained. The Bondholders' Committee express a willingness to fund or defer one half their coupons, provided they can get cash for the other half. The Delaware Lackawanna & Western and the Delaware & Hudson Canal Companies were willing to guarantee the laying of a third rail on the Erie Road, if a harmonious adjustment of all differences could be had with the bondholders. The Bondholders' Committee declared themselves ready to meet the stockholders in a fair and equitable spirit. It was resolved, however, to defer the further consideration of the reorganization of the company until after the settlement of the third rail negotiations. On Monday the Bondholders' and Directors' Committees and President Jewett will go to Scranton, Pa., to confer with the officers of the Scranton Steel Company, who will furnish the rails. The proposal is that the Erie Company shall transport the coal of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company and the Delaware Lackawanna & Western Company. The charges for transporting the coal are to go towards the payment for the third rail, the payments to extend over three years.

Florida State Finances.—Hon. C. A. Cowgill, State Comptroller, has issued a very complete report for the year 1875, which is published in the Talahassee Sentinel. Mr. Cowgill goes very fully into the subject of former irregularities in the management of the State finances, and says in conclusion: "The actual known loss to the State, arising from duplicate and illegal payment of warrants (blue scrip and burned scrip, etc.) and the disappearance of $37,266 of greenback scrip, amounts to $53,898 81, and whether $17,479 91 should be added to this loss, or whether it arises from errors in the accounts of the Treasurer in 1867 and 1868, cannot now be ascertained.

As to late changes in the State debt he says: "During the past year bonds of 1873 have been exchanged for old bonds, held by private parties, to the amount of $33,600, and, in fulfilment of the requirements of Chap. 2,057, Laws of Florida, approved Febrnary 24, 1875, $262,100 were exchanged with the treasurer of the Board of Education for various bonds belonging to the School and Seminary Funds, making $295,700 of 1873 bonds exchanged for other bonds. There have been exchanged for Comptroller's warrants and Treasury certificates, under the provisions of section three, Chap. 1,979, Laws of Florida, $79,600 of these bonds.

"The receipts into the Treasury during the year 1876, applicable to ordinary expenses, arising from taxes already assessed and from licenses, is estimated at $200,000. This will absorb all the scrip now outstanding, and leave over $60,000 for current expenses of the present year, and, owing to the rapid appreciation of the State bonds, it is expected that the funding of the greenback scrip will still continue. Thus there is a reasonable prospect that the taxes assessed for 1876 will be chiefly collected in United States currency; and that a return to a cash, and, therefore, an economical basis, may be accomplished."

Forged Bonds.—The Tribune says: Telegraphic advices received from Brussels, Belgium, yesterday, (Thursday) by "Rollins Bros. & Co., bankers," at Wall and Broad streets, announced that the senior member of that firm had been arrested in that city, charged with having forged railroad bonds in his possession. These bonds were a part of those forged by Spence Pettis, Andrew L. Roberts, Gleason, and Williamson, most of whom are now in prison. The Rollins Brothers say that the senior member of the firm sailed for Europe with a quantity of these forged bonds, which he had received from Chas. T. Willlamson, who had been taken as a special partner into their firm. After the departure of Rollins it was discovered that the bonds were forgeries, and Willlamson was arrested. A telegram received by Phillip Speyer & Co., bankers, of No. 20 Exchange place, a few days ago, stated that the Brussels police had discovered forged bonds of the New York Central, and California & Oregon Railroads. It is now inferred in Wall street, that some of the $100,000 in bonds taken over by Rollins must have been placed on the market.

Kansas City St. Joseph & Council Bluffs.—Notice is given to by the trustees, that on March 25 the time expires when the arrangement for adjusting this company's affairs, under the plan of March, 1874, must be completed. The notice contains further matter of importance, as may be seen on reference to our advertising columns.

Lake Superior & Mississippi.—The holders of a majority of the first and second mortgage bonds of the Lake Superior & Mississippi Railroad of Minnesota, have agreed to the plan of reorganization of the company, as proposed by a committee of bondholders in January, an abstract of which was then given in the CHRONICLE.

Mariposa Land & Mining Co.—The annual stockholders' meeting of the Mariposa Land and Mining Company was held in San Francisco, Feb. 15th, at which Solomon Heydenfelt, E. W. Burr, John J. McEwen, E. W. Patterson and J. W. Raymond were elected trustees for 1876. About sixty thousand shares were represented.

—The Mariposa assessment, levied by the California Board of Directors, February 24, will become delinquent March 24. The assessment is $1 per share and may be paid at the New York office, 9 and 11 Nassau street.

Milwaukee & Northern.—Under an execution, recently issued, this road will be sold by the Sheriff, in Milwaukee, Wis., March 4. The sale will include all the property of the company, and will be made subject to the first mortgage for $2,155,000.

New Orleans Mobile & Texas.—At an adjourned meeting of the bondholders, held at the office of Messrs. Morton, Bliss & Co., it was unanimously agreed to organize the New Orleans and Texas Railroad Company, with a share capital of $2,000,000. This Company is to take over the road from the trustee who purchased it for account of the bondholders. Every bondholder has the right to join the new company and to receive $250 in stock for each bond. The following persons constitute the first Board of Directors: John B. Lafitte, L. P. Morton, Charles Moran, George Jones, Henry Morgan, Oliver Ames second, Thomas N. Hunt, J. F. Terry, William Mertens, Joseph Seligman. Bondholders desiring to join the new organization can do so by subscribing to the articles of association. The committee consists of Messrs. L. P. Morton, Henry Morgan, and William Mertens.

Paducah & Memphis.—It is stated, on apparently good authority, that an agreement has been made and signed by over $1,250,000 of the bondholders, and by the Southern Railroad Association, and by G. W., W. F. and Ex. Norton, in amount over $700,000. The plan contemplates the completion of the road, and it is anticipated that the preferred first mortgage bonds, set aside for this purpose by this arrangement, with the co-operation of the people along the line, will be ample to accomplish this end.

Panama.—The steamship North Carolina, lately on the dry dock in East river, as soon as her bottom was scraped was to go to the North river to be overhauled previous to her departure around Cape Horn for Panama. She will be the pioneer vessel of the Panama railroad fleet, which is to run in opposition to the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. She will be followed by the Georgia. The Clyde, which was formerly in the Galveston trade, is another vessel of the fleet, and is being lengthened seventy feet in Philadelphia. This alteration will not be completed for a couple of months, probably. It is reported that the Crescent City and Columbus, now running to Havana, will probably ply between this port and Aspinwall.

Quicksilver Mining Co.—This company retired $300,000 bonds last year and $116,000 since the first of January. The company has $260,000 cash on hand, and have added $100,000 in material since January 1, 1875. The amount of bonds now outstanding is $584,000 which the company hope to be able to retire this year. The company has no floating debt.

| | 1875. | 1874. |
| Burlington & Southwestern | $139,575 | $126,324 |
| Central of Iowa | 738,760 | 642,700 |
| Davenport & St. Paul | 173,556 | 185,313 |
| Des Moines & Fort Dadge | 163,434 | 108,831 |
| Des Moines & Minnesota | 58,388 | 20,613 |
| Dubuque Southwestern | 107,069 | 117,103 |
| Iowa Eastern | 32,510 | 80,749 |
| Sioux City & Pacific | 186,537 | 203,479 |

Rochester & State Line.—Mr. J. Condit Smith, of Buffalo, has made a proposition which is as follows:

1. The capital stock to be increased to $2,500,000; the bonds now held by the city of Rochester and the towns which have bonded in aid of the road to be exchanged for stock at par; the balance of the stock, except that already issued, to be issued to Mr. Smith.

2. All the outstanding bonds to be retired, and a new first mortgage for $12,000 per mile and a second mortgage for $8,000 per mile to be made, the bonds to be issued to Mr. Smith.

3. In consideration of the stock and bonds, Mr. Smith will complete the road from Rochester to Salamanca, within six months from the execution of the contract, will build the necessary round-house, repair shop, station buildings, three turn-tables, seven water-tanks, two track scales and the necessary sidings. The buildings to be located as the board may direct, and to cost not less than $90,000 in all. He will also equip the road with 12 engines, 8 passenger and 4 mail and baggage cars; 150 box, 350 flat and gondola cars and 20 hand cars.

4. Mr. Smith will also settle the present floating debt on such terms as he may be able to make. He will enter into bonds with approved sureties for the fulfilment of the contract.

The City Council of Rochester voted to accept the proposition, and the commissioners of the bonded towns also approved it. The contract will be executed as soon as the necessary authority for the exchange of bonds for stock can be obtained from the Legislature. The road is all graded and bridged from Rochester to Salamanca and 25 miles of track laid, from Rochester to Leroy.

Rutland Railroad.—This Company and the Central Vermont have agreed to a modification of the lease of the latter, the terms proposed being given as follows in the Press dispatches:

On the first day of February, 1875, there was due the Rutland Railroad Company for rent from the Central Vermont $10,401 55, after making all the allowances that the Central Company claimed. By the terms of the modifications of the lease, as ratified by the stockholders, to-day, the Rutland Railroad surrendered this claim wholly to the Central, and is to receive from February 1, 1875, as rent for the Rutland and Addison roads, 25 per cent. of 36¼ per cent. of the gross earnings of the Central Vermont, the Canada and Rutland, and Addison roads added together, semi-annually, provided in the contract of 1870. The rents for the use of the Vermont Valley and the Vermont and Massachusetts roads, and all other stipulations, except in regard to the regular time of paying the rents, are to remain the same as by the contract of 1870. The inducements held out to the Rutland Company, by the Central Vermont, to accede to these proposals, have been the purchase by Governor Smith and party of all the stock of the Vermont Central Road, which was held by Governor Page and others for the Rutland Company, and which was guaranteed by said company, thus ending any interest which the Rutland Company have had in the Central Vermont stock, and ending the question---who is President of the Central Vermont Road, Page or Smith?

St. Joseph & Denver City.—Notice is given to the holders of the mortgage bonds of both Eastern and Western divisions that the time in which they will have the right to participate in the reorganization of the said Company, and the right to exchange bonds for lands belonging to the Western division, is, by order of the Circuit Court of the United States, limited until the 20th day of April, 1876, and that a motion for the confirmation of the sales under foreclosures will be made on the first Monday in May, 1876.

South Carolina State Bonds.—Messrs. G. T. Bonner & Co., of this city, recently addressed a letter to Governor Chamberlain, of South Carolina, in reference to the consolidated bonds of that State supposed to have been fraudulently issued by the late Treasurer, Niles G. Parker, and commonly supposed among dealers here to have been embraced within the numbers 1 to 400 of bonds signed by Governor Moses. Discrimination has been made against the bonds so numbered, among dealers, and Messrs. Bonner & Co. requested the Governor to make some authoritative statement in regard to them. The following is his reply:

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA,
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, Columbia, Feb. 29, 1876.

GENTLEMEN—Replying to your letter of the 26th inst., I have to say that the discrimination to which you refer has been made entirely by others than the officers of this State or its General Assembly. I know of no action on the part of any branch of the State government which can give any support to such a discrimination as you refer to

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
D. H. CHAMBERLAIN, Governor S. C.

G. T. BONNER & Co., New York.

Sunbury & Lewistown.—Pursuant to a vote of the bondholders, the parties who bought this road at foreclosure sale, May 5, 1874, for account of said bondholders, will offer it at public sale, at the Merchants' Exchange, in Philadelphia, March 9, at noon. The terms of sale are $150,000 cash on signing the bid, and balance on delivery of the deed.

Syracuse & Chenango.—Mr. Geo. T. Constable, as trustee under the first mortgage, has taken possession of this road, and has begun suit to foreclose the mortgage. It was formerly known as the Syracuse & Chenango Valley, and was sold under proceedings in bankruptcy, subject to the first mortgage, in 1873, and was then bought by the present company.

Texas State Finances.—Messrs. Forster, Ludlow & Co. say in their circular of March 1, the importance of the new constitution, as regards the future financial policy of Texas, is so great that we review it at length.

The State debt, always less than five million dollars, cannot be increased, except in extraordinary cases. Sec. 49 of article 3, new constitution of Texas, provides:

"No debt shall be created by or on behalf of the State, except to supply casual deficiencies in the revenue, repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or pay existing debt; and the debt created to supply deficiencies in the revenue shall never exceed in the aggregate, at any one time, two hundred thousand dollars."

This provision makes the bonds of the State of Texas now outstanding much more valuable, and investors are appreciating the fact by paying higher figures, as we shall show further on. But the State is also precluded from loaning or giving its credit to any corporation, individual, &c., for section 50 and 51, same article, provide:

"SEC. 50. The Legislature shall have no power to give or to lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State in aid of, or to any person, association or corporation, whether municipal or other; or to pledge the credit of the State, in any manner whatsoever, for the payment of the liabilities, present or prospective, of any individual, association of individuals, municipal, or other corporation whatsoever.

"SEC. 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant, or authorize the making of any grant, of public money to any individual, association of individuals, municipal, or other corporation whatsoever; provided, that this shall not be so construed as to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity."

These provisions make the State bonds still stronger.

Then followed a desire to realize by holders of the funding bonds of 1884, as it is evident that the State will not pay 10 per cent interest when she can sell a seven per cent bond at par and above.

The funding bond of 1884 can be redeemed at the option of the State after three years, from July 1, 1874; it therefore falls due next year, and at present figure does not pay much over six per cent interest. There is no doubt but that Texas 10 per cent funding bonds will be redeemed by the State, according to the provisions of the law.

How does the new constitution affect county, municipal and railroad bonds? Section 3, Article 11, reads:

"No county, city or other municipal corporation, shall hereafter become a subscriber to the capital of any private corporation or association, or make any appropriation or donation to the same, or in any wise loan its credit; but this shall not be construed to in any way affect any obligation heretofore undertaken pursuant to law."

This does away with a serious source of dishonor to county and city bonds issued in aid of railroads. For, disguise it as we may, Texas is no exception to the rule of default in railroad-aid bonds.

The new constitution, however, provides that, if the willingness exists to pay legal debts, the means to do so shall be ready at hand; and Section 6, Article 11, provides that:

"Counties, cities and towns are authorized, in such mode as may now or may hereafter be provided by law, to levy, assess and collect the taxes necessary to pay the interest and provide a sinking fund to satisfy any indebtedness heretofore legally made and undertaken; but all such taxes shall be assessed and collected separately from that levied, assessed and collected for current expenses of municipal government, and shall, when levied, specify in the act of levying the purpose therefor, and such taxes may be paid in the coupons, bonds, or other indebtedness for the payment of which such tax may have been levied."

We regret that the new constitution is not as liberal to railroads as the well-wishers of Texas could desire.

Sections 2 and 4, Article 10, Railroads, reads:

"SEC. 2. Railroads heretofore constructed, or that may hereafter be constructed in this State, are hereby declared public highways, and railroad companies common carriers. The Legislature shall pass laws to correct abuses and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rates of freight and passenger tariffs on the different railroads in this State; and shall, from time to time, pass laws establishing reasonable maximum rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight on said railroads, and enforce all such laws by adequate penalties.

"SEC. 4. The rolling stock and all other movable property belonging to any railroad company or corporation in this State, shall be considered personal property; and its real and personal property, or any part thereof, shall be liable to execution and sale in the same manner as the property of individuals; and the Legislature shall pass no laws exempting any such property from execution and sale."

Toledo Wabash & Western.—The foreclosure suit against this Company came up before the Circuit Court at Danville, Ill., on the 22d. The application for a decree of sale was opposed by holders of different securities, including holders of equipment bonds and of stock. In behalf of the equipment bonds, petitioners claimed that they have a right to the settlement of the question of conversion of the equipment bonds into bonds of the first consolidated mortgage, before a sale is decreed, and that the amount of mortgage lien upon the property must be established that the purchasers may know the incumbrances. The Court, on the 28th, sustained the proceedings of the foreclosure committee by which the decree of foreclosure was entered in an Ohio court, and refused the applications of stockholders and equipment bondholders to become parties to the suit.

Union Pacific.—The U. S. Supreme Court rendered decision Feb. 28, in the following case:

No. 534—Union Pacific Railroad Company vs. Hall and Morse, error to the Circuit Court for the District of Iowa.—In this cause the Court holds that Hall and Morse, residents of Council Bluffs, as citizens, bore sufficient interest to give them standing in Court to demand the performance of its obligations by the company, and that it is the duty of the latter under the acts of Congress to operate its whole road as one connected, continuous line, and that the bridge over the Missouri River, between Omaha and Council Bluffs, is a part of the road to be used in connection with, and as a part of their entire line. It is said that if Congress did not intend to require the construction of the road from the imaginary line in the middle of the river channel, which would be an impossibility, and which is the legal boundary of Iowa, the intention must have been that the initial point should be either on the Iowa or on the Nebraska shore, and if the Nebraska shore was intended why was it not designated? It is impossible to give a satisfactory answer to the question by the Court, or to the question why the Iowa boundary was designated if the eastern or the Iowa shore of the river was not intended to be the terminus of the road. The authority of the company to build the road to the Iowa shore was within itself power to build a bridge over the Missouri River. No express grant to bridge the river was needed, as whatever bridges were needed on the authorized line were as fully authorized as the line itself. All authority that was given to the company was as a railroad company, not as a bridge company. The bridge was to enable the road to connect with other roads, and it was to be built for no other's use. They were not allowed to charge rates of toll over it which they did not charge upon other portions of their line. The acts chartering the company manifest no intention to distinguish between the bridge over the Missouri River and other bridges on the line of the road, if it is not a part of their road; neither is any bridge between the Missouri and the western boundary of Nevada, for the power to build bridges was given in the same words. Affirmed.

Mr. Justice Bradley, dissenting, was of the opinion that the Missouri River is generally understood to be the western boundary of Iowa, and that the fair construction of the charter of the Union Pacific Company is that their road was to extend from that river westwardly.

Virginia State Finances.—In response to a resolution of the Virginia House of Delegates, Mr. Taylor, the Auditor of Public Accounts, has submitted a statement of the financial condition of that State, in which he states that the estimated receipts of revenue in currency from the 24th of February to the 1st of December, 1876, will be $897,735 73, while the disbursements for the same period will be $1,749,489 05, showing a deficit of $851,753 32. This large deficit results in a great measure from the item of $409,000 arrearages due the school fund. The Auditor says there are only two modes known to him by which this deficit can be provided for. First, by an increase of the rate of tax upon the value of land and property in the State; or, second, by a stamp tax and a tax upon the consumption of whiskey.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, March 3, 1876.

There is but little appearance, as yet, of any considerable volume of spring trade, though some efforts have been put forth to stimulate business. The weather has been wintry, and in fact we can hardly be said to have had much winter until towards the close of the winter months. An advance in gold has, for various reasons, had little effect upon prices of merchandise. Speculation in some leading staples has again turned in favor of operators for a rise; but, as a rule, our wholesale markets for merchandise have remained quiet, nothing appearing to induce a dealer to purchase beyond his immediate wants.

The following is a statement of the stocks of leading articles of domestic and foreign merchandise, at dates given:

Pork has been more active on the spot, with the speculation strongly towards higher prices. The business in new mess to day embraced lots on the spot at $23, April delivery at $23 10, and June delivery at $23 40. The same remark applies to lard, with sales of prime Western steam at $13 65@$13 70 on the spot, $13 75 for April, $13 95 for May, and $14 for June, but the close was rather tame. Bacon and cut meats are without change. Beef has met with a good demand, but northern beef hams have been offered at some decline for large lots. Tallow, butter and cheese have been without important variation. The market for hides has been quiet, but prices close steady; dry Central American sold at 18c., gold; dry salted Savanilla at 14½c., and city slaughter ox at 8½c., currency. Linseed oil has been in fair jobbing demand and steady at 59@60c.; other oils quiet and unchanged. Whiskey has been dull and closed at $1 09½. Clover seed is firmer at 14@14½c.

Kentucky tobacco has ruled a shade lower and fairly active at 5@7c. for lugs and 8½@16c. for leaf; the sales for the week embraced 500 hhds., of which 350 were for export and 150 for consumption. Seed leaf has been in fair demand and about steady; the sales embrace—crop of 1873, 40 cases New England, at 16c., 136 cases Wisconsin, on private terms; crop of 1873 and 1874, 200 cases Ohio, at 8@9½c.; crop of 1874, 150 cases New England, at 7½@10c., 105 cases Wisconsin, at 5½c., and 129 cases New York, at 7@8½c.; also 200 cases sundries at 7@25c. Spanish tobacco has remained steady, with a fair business; the sales were 500 bales Havana at 88c.@$1 15.

Coffee has been in fair request, but not so active as last week, and prices show no further advance. The visible supply of Rio for the United States is 334,000 bags; fair to prime cargoes quoted at 17½c.@18¾c., gold. Rice is in large stock and dull. Teas were fairly active, but at weakening prices. Foreign dried fruits have remained quiet. Molasses firmly held at 32c.@33c. for 50 test, new crop, but the demand is limited and stocks accumulate. Sugars have been moderately active, but prices of raws have ruled weak, except for the better grades; small stocks support prices of the latter; good to prime refining, 7¾c.@7¾c. Refined sugars in demand for export at 10¾c. for standard crushed.

Ocean freights have latterly been very quiet, not only in berth, but also in charter room; in the former some slight declines are noticeable, but, as a rule, the latter remains about steady and without changes of importance. Late engagements and charters include: Grain to Liverpool, by steam, 7½d.; cloverseed, 30s. per ton; rosin, by sail, 2s. 7½d.; grain to London, by steam, 8½d.; flour, by sail, 2s. 6d.; grain to Bristol, by sail, 8½d.; do. to Cork for orders, 6s. 10½d.; all bulk; do. from Philadelphia to do., 6s. 9d.; refined petroleum from do. and Baltimore to the Baltic, 5s. To-day there was a moderate business in both berth and charter room, though at slightly easier rates, the former especially. Grain to Liverpool, by steam, 7d. per 60 lbs.; do., by by sail, at 7d.; do. to direct port on the East coast of Ireland, at 6s. 6d.; do. to the Continent, 6s. 6d.; residuum to Liverpool, 5s.; refined petroleum or naphtha to Cork for orders, 5s. 3d.@5s. 6d.

The market for naval stores has improved since our last, spirits turpentine especially, which closes firm at 37½c., with fair sales; common to good strained rosin, $1 62½@$1 65; the advance is due to the higher Wilmington market. Petroleum, on the contrary, has been very dull, and under weak Creek advices a pretty easy tone prevails; crude, in bulk, 8½c @8¾c.; refined, in bbls., 14c. Ingot copper was a trifle easier, with 200,000 lbs. Lake at 22½c.@22¾c., cash.

FRIDAY, P. M., March 3, 1876.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE CROP, as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night, is given below. For the week ending this evening (March 3) the total receipts have reached 86,215 bales, against 109,676 bales last week, 110,576 bales the previous week, and 118,582 bales three weeks since, making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1875, 3,491,142 bales, against 2,991,527 bales for the same period of 1874–5, showing an increase since Sept. 1, 1875, of 499,615 bales. The details of the receipts for this week (as per telegraph) and for the corresponding weeks of five previous years are as follows:

These mail returns do not correspond precisely with the total of the telegraphic figures, because in preparing them it is always necessary to incorporate every correction made at the ports.

The market for cotton on the spot declined rapidly early in the week, and on Monday quotations were reduced ¼c., to 12¾c. for middling uplands, but in the course of Wednesday and Thursday more steadiness was developed, though the demand continued limited to small lots for home spinners. An advance in gold has been an influence which has operated in favor of holders, and some falling off in receipts at the ports was felt in the same direction. To-day, with Liverpool firmer, the market was stronger and more active, a considerable line in transit having been sold, but quotations were not advanced. For future delivery, prices continued to droop until the opening on Wednesday, when the smaller receipts at the ports, and the advance in gold, caused the withdrawal of sellers, and stimulated the demand to cover contracts, upon which prices advanced 3 32c.; and yesterday, a slight advance in futures at Liverpool, with a further advance in gold, and only moderate receipts at the ports, contributed to a further improvement, making fully ¼c. from the lowest point on Tuesday. The demand has not been active at the turn which prices have taken, and yesterday the tone of the market was somewhat unsettled. To-day, however, the opening was active and buoyant, an advance of ¼c. being at one time established; but it was not fully maintained at the close, owing to an easier turn to the Liverpool market, which was 1-16@⅛d. higher for arrivals.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 148,700 bales, including —— free on board. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 4,760 bales, including 91 for export, 2,796 for consumption, 889 for speculation, and 924 in transit. Of the above, —— bales were to arrive. These figures indicate an increase in the cotton in sight to-night of 97,638 bales as compared with the same date of 1875, a decrease of 5,802 bales as compared with the corresponding date of 1874, and an increase of 338,102 bales as compared with 1873.

AT THE INTERIOR PORTS the movement—that is the receipts and shipments for the week and stock to-night, and for the corresponding week of 1875—is set out in detail in the following statement:

* By actual count.

The above totals show that the old interior stocks have decreased during the week 2,077 bales, and are to-night 14,619 bales more than at the same period last year. The receipts at same towns have been 5,602 bales more than the same week last year.

BOMBAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable despatch received to-day, there have been 13,000 bales shipped from Bombay to Great Britain the past week, and 4,000 bales to the Continent; while the receipts at Bombay during this week have been 27,000 bales. The movement since the 1st of January is as follows. These are the figures of W. Nicol & Co., of Bombay, and are brought down to Thursday, March 3:

| 1876..... | 13,000 | 4,000 | 17,000 | 65,000 | 60 000 | 125,000 | 27,000 | 181,000 |
| 1875..... | 30,000 | 4,000 | 34,000 | 182,000 | 76,000 | 258,000 | 49,000 | 360,000 |
| 1874..... | 15,000 | 14,000 | 29,000 | 133,000 | 63,000 | 196,000 | 51,000 | 288,000 |

From the foregoing it would appear that, compared with last year, there is a decrease of 17,000 bales this year in the week's shipments from Bombay to Europe, and that the total movement since January 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 133,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1875.

Messrs. Nicol & Co. cable that their estimate of the total exports of cotton to Europe, from the ports of Bombay and Carwar, to the 30th of June, is 950,000 bales, against 1,128,000 bales last year.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—There appears to have been a very considerable improvement in the weather this week. Very much less rain has fallen, and in most sections the preparations for the next crop have made satisfactory progress. Of course, the low prices furnish much less inducement to planters to put in cotton, and the natural inclination now is almost everywhere towards a decreased acreage. Whether, however, later on, in view of the very small returns breadstuffs promise, they will not give to this staple about the same amount of land as last year, is a problem which the future alone can solve; still, in some portions of the Atlantic States, the poor yield, together with the low prices, have left the farmers in such a position financially that it would seem to be a necessity with them to shorten cultivation.

Galveston, Texas.—We have had one showery day this week. Farm operations are progressing. Corn has already been planted in the coast section and now is being planted in the up country. The weather generally has been favorable. The rainfall this week has been eleven hundredths of an inch, and the thermometer has averaged 64, the highest being 76 and the lowest 55. The rainfall for the month has been four inches and seventy-nine hundredths of an inch.

Indianola, Texas.—It has been dry and warm all the week, and planting is making good progress. The thermometer has averaged 66, the highest being 79 and the lowest 54. The rainfall for the month has reached two inches and sixteen hundredths of an inch.

Corsicana, Texas.—There has been rain here this week, and the weather has, been favorable for farm work. Corn is being planted now, but no cotton as yet. The thermometer has averaged 57, the highest being 74 and the lowest being 39. The rainfall for the month has reached one inch and ninety seven hundredths.

Dallas, Texas.—We have had good weather; no rain, and corn planting is making satisfactory progress. The supposition is that the cotton planting is likely to show a small increase upon last year, but the grain planting will show a large increase. The thermometer has averaged 56, the highest being 66 and the lowest being 34. The rainfall for the month has been three inches and five hundredths.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—There has been no rain here this week. The thermometer has averaged 60. The rainfall during the past month has aggregated ten inches and thirty-three hundredths.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—The weather the past week has been fine and there was no rainfall. The thermometer has ranged from 37 to 80, averaging 60. Receipts the past week were large. Planters are now busy plowing, and it is believed that they will raise more grain and less cotton this year than last.

Vicksburg, Mississippi.—There has been no rain here during the week, and plowing has been generally commenced. The thermometer has averaged 58, the highest being 68 and the lowest 47.

Columbus, Mississippi.—The weather here the past week has been cold and dry, the thermometer averaging 61, and ranging from 48 to 76.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—Three days were cloudy this week, with a slight shower Wednesday night, the rainfall reaching ten hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 54, highest 75 and lowest 34. Farmers are fast preparing for planting.

Nashville, Tennessee.—The weather the past week has been cold and dry, there having been two rainy days and a rainfall of fifty-three hundredths of an inch, while the thermometer has ranged from 42 to 62.

Memphis, Tennessee.—There was one rainy day here the past week, but the remaining six days were all pleasant. The rainfall was five hundredths of an inch. The average thermometer was 53, the highest 63, and the lowest 39.

Mobile, Alabama.—The early part of the week we had one rainy day, the rainfall reaching eleven hundredths of an inch, but the latter part has been clear and pleasant. The thermometer has averaged 60, the highest being 75, and the lowest 41. During the past month the rainfall has reached a total of four inches and thirty-two hundredths.

Montgomery, Alabama.—We have had two rainy days the past week, but the remaining five days have been pleasant. The thermometer has averaged 58, the extremes being 37 and 75. The rainfall during the week was twenty hundredths of an inch, and during the month, two inches.

Selma, Alabama.—With the exception of one rainy day, the weather the past week has been pleasant, the rainfall reaching nineteen hundredths of an inch and the thermometer averaging 57.

Madison, Florida.—We had one rainy day this week, the rainfall reaching eighty hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 59, the highest being 74 and the lowest 44.

Macon, Georgia.—There was rain at this place two days during the week. The thermometer during the same time has averaged 55, the highest being 76 and the lowest 32.

Atlanta, Georgia.—There were two showery days here during the week, the rainfall reaching sixty-six hundredths of an inch The thermometer has averaged 54, the highest being 70 and the lowest 40. Total rainfall during the month, five inches and thirty-seven hundredths.

Columbus, Georgia.—It was showery one day this week, the rainfall reaching thirty-five hundredths of an inch. Total rainfall for the month, three inches and two hundredths. Average thermometer during the week 57, highest 73 and lowest 30.

Savannah, Georgia.—We had rain on one day of the past week, the rest of the week being clear and pleasant. Average thermometer during the week 61, highest 79 and lowest '40. The rainfall for the week was seven hundredths of an inch. Total rainfall for the month, two inches and twenty-one hundredths.

Augusta, Georgia.—There has been light rain here on three days, the rainfall reaching thirteen hundredths of an inch, but the rest of the week was pleasant. Average thermometer, 57; highest, 77; lowest, 35. Total rainfall for the month, two inches and ninety-eight hundredths.

Charleston, South Carolina.—Our telegram from Charleston has not been received.

In the same connection, the following from the Memphis Avalanche will be of interest, showing the value of importations of cotton and general merchandise into Memphis, for the year ending Dec. 31:

VALUE OF IMPORTATIONS.

| | 1875. Bales. | $ | 1874. Bales. | $ |
| Cotton | 391,505 | 25,447,825 | 426,676 | 34,000,000 |

| Total | 391,505 | 69,702,119 | 426,676 | 73,016,867 |

According to this statement, there has been an increase in the value of merchandise imported during the year 1875 of $5,237,327, and a decrease in value of cotton (owing chiefly to the decreased price) of $8,552,175.

GUNNY BAGS, BAGGING, &c.—Bagging during the past week has ruled very quiet, and but few sales are making. Buyers and sellers, as a rule, are ¼ to ⅜c. apart in their views as to price, and, while holders are quoting 12¼@12½c., those in want will not offer more than 12c., and the market closes weak. Bales are quiet at 9@9¼c. for India and 12¼c. for Borneo. Bags continue dull, and, prices rule nominal at 13¼c. for 440s. The demand for butts for spot lots since our last has been light, and prices were quoted at 3⅜@3½c., as to quality. To arrive, fair sales have been made, in all, several thousand bales being disposed of, mostly for February and March shipment, at 2¼c., gold. At the close, the feeling among holders is firmer, and most parties are holding January and February shipments at 2⅜c., gold.

LIVERPOOL, March 3.—2:30 P. M.—BY CABLE FROM LIVERPOOL.—Estimated sales of the day were 10,000 bales, of which 2,000 bales were for export and speculation. Of to-day's sales 7,000 bales were American. The weekly movement is given as follows:

Included in the above totals are, from New York 40 bales to Hull, 50 bales to Hamburg and 741 bales to Rotterdam.

Below we give all news received to date of disasters, &c., to vessels carrying cotton from United States ports:

AUSTRALIAN, str. (Br.), from Mobile for Liverpool, before reported as having arrived below Norfolk with loss of rudder and rudder-post, will probably have to be towed to Philadelphia or New York for repairs, as the vessel is too long for the dry dock at the Gosport Navy Yard.

HERDER, str., (Ger.)—The boiler covering of one of the boilers of the steamship Herder, Brandt, for Hamburg, caught fire while the vessel lay alongside of her dock at Hoboken, Feb. 24, ready for sea. Water was at once poured on the external covering of the boilers; smoke being discovered in an adjoining compartment, water was also poured into it, damaging about 75 bags clover seed. The steamer was detained until the 25th, clearing the bar, Sandy Hook, at 7:40 P. M.

MONTANA, str., from New York, anchored in the Mersey Feb. 22, was run into by a ferryboat and slightly tojured.

PENNSYLVANIA, str., from Philadelphia for Liverpool, is reported to have grounded about 2:30 P. M., Feb. 24, in the Bight of Newcastle, Del., and remained until morning of Feb. 25. The tug North America was despatched from Philadelphia to her assistance. [Another dispatch says the Pennsylvania was detained by want of water near Bulkhead Shoal, but passed down at 11:05 A. M., 25th. She had no assistance. The P. passed out from the Breakwater at 2 P. M., same day.]

JUVENTA, ship (Br.), Frano, from New Orleans for Liverpool, remained at Key West, Feb. 24, reloading.

BELTISTE, bark (Br.), from Charleston, at Liverpool Feb. 17, had lower gudgeon carried away and started middle gudgeon, during a gale Feb. 6; she was making a little water on arrival.

JESSE GOODWIN, bark (Br.), Bell, now on her passage from Galveston to Fleetwood, took fire while lying in the outer roads at Galveston, just previous to her departure (Jan. 5). The lighters, Star and Matamoras, rendered valuable assistance, and the bark was saved from destruction. The officers and crews of the lighters instituted suit in the U. S. District Court for salvage, and the case was being tried Feb. 19.

MAYPO, bark (Sp.), Font, from New Orleans for Barcelona, put into Havana Feb. 19 for water.

RACHEL BLACKWOOD.—A fire occurred A. M Feb. 25 in cotton stored in the deck cabin of the bark Rachel Blackwood (Br.), for Liverpool, ready for sea at Charleston, S. C. Three bales were charred and four wet; they were landed, and will not be re-shipped. No further damage to vessel or cargo.

HARRY L. WHITTON, schr., Rich, from Mobile, Jan. 28, for Barcelona, which put into Norfolk, Va., Feb. 14, leaky, has been overhauled, part of her cargo discharged, the leak found in the centreboard box and stopped without the vessel going into dock. She will reload her cargo and proceed on her voyage at once.

LOTTIE, schr., Speed, from Mobile, 30 days out, for Bath, Me., put into Dutch Island, Feb. 29, badly iced up and crew frost-bitten. She struck bottom in entering, but got off without damage.

OSCEOLA, steamboat, from St. Francis River for Memphis, with 300 bales cotton, struck a snag at Peter's Landing, 40 miles below Memphis, on Sunday night, and sunk in eight feet of water. No lives were lost. The cotton will be saved in a damaged condition.

A fire at Vicksburg, Miss., 27th ult., 2:30 P. M., destroyed str. Mary Belle (owned by J. Frank Hicks and Alf Grissol), taking on cotton below the elevator, with over 5,000 bales of cotton. Steamer valued at $90,000; insured $30,000 in Western offices. Cargo uninsured.

BOTHNIA—SOUTHAMPTON, Thursday, March 2—The British steamer Bothnia, Capt. Scarlett, from New Orleans, Feb. 2, for Liverpool, was burned at sea on the 15th. The crew were saved, and have arrived at this port. (The Bothnia was an iron steamer, built at Newcastle-on-Tyne in 1871, and owned by Nelson & Co., of London. She measured 1,323 tons, and was 247 feet 6 inches long by 32 feet broad. Her engines were compound, and of considerable power. She was laden with cotton and an assorted cargo. It is stated that both the steamer and her cargo were insured altogether in Europe.

BREADSTUFFS.

The flour market has been generally inactive the past week and prices have declined, especially for the low and medium grades, of which the supply is more liberal, with receivers inclined to press sales from wharf. There has been a considerable advance in gold, but it has been fully offset by the depression in foreign markets. Supplies of flour are large for the season at all points, and holders are not very confident respecting the course of prices in the early future. To-day, the market was dull and heavy.

There has been a feverish, irregular, and, on the whole, a dull market for wheat the past week, with a moderate export demand. In the course of Saturday and Monday very full prices were paid; but in the past few days it has been difficult to fix quotations. Regular grades were almost wholly neglected. Speculation is a good deal discouraged by the large stocks which have been carried through the winter months. The growing crop of spring wheat is reported to be promising, and the weather has been very favorable in portions of the spring-wheat sections to the work of sowing. To-day, the market was dull and prices drooping.

Indian corn has changed but little. The close, however, is more active for export, shippers being favored by the advance which has taken place in the premium on gold. The better qualities of new corn are now in very fine condition, and yesterday the best brought 63c.@63½c., while the best old mixed was worth no more than 67½c.@68c. To-day the market was rather firmer and active at 61½c.@63c. for new, and 68c. for old mixed.

Rye has declined, and sold yesterday for export at 81c. Barley has been pressed on the market at lower and irregular prices. Canada peas have declined to 96@98c. in bulk in bond.

Oats have declined about 1c. per bushel, and have latterly been selling fairly at 44½@45c. for No. 3 and 47@47½c. for No. 2 mixed. To-day, the market was flat, with a load of No. 2 Chicago sold at 45c., in store.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

There has been, this week, a moderate movement in both staple and fancy goods from first hands, but transactions were in a measure retarded by unfavorable weather, which caused buyers from some sections of the country to defer their purchases of spring goods. A break in prints, however, somewhat unsettled the market, but this had been partly discounted by the trade, and confidence in the maintenance of other values was speedily restored. Western jobbers proceeded cautiously in their operations, but those from the South, Southwest and Northwest continued their purchases on a fairly liberal scale. The local and near-by trade bought lightly, and seemed determined to await the development of a consumptive demand before laying in their spring supplies. In foreign goods the movement continued slow, and, while the distribution from importers' hands was comparatively light, large quantities of silks, linen goods, Hamburg embroideries, &c., were disposed of through the auction rooms at low figures. The export trade in cotton goods progressed satisfactorily, and the leading commission houses received fair orders for future delivery. The shipments of cotton goods for the week amounted to 1,476 packages, of which 678 packages were shipped to Great Britain, 277 to Brazil, 281 to Smyrna, and the remainder to other countries. The jobbing trade was rather more active, and a fair number of buyers arrived in the market from remote parts of the South and Southwest.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The feature of the market was a reduction of ¼c. per yard on several leading makes of fancy prints, including American, Bristol, Washington, Eddystone, etc., and Simpson's, Gloucester, Union, and Albion mourning prints were reduced to 7c. Brown sheetings and drills moved steadily at unchanged prices, and a few makes of fine browns are closely sold up to receipts. Fine and medium bleached shirtings met with moderate sales, and brown drills were in demand by the home trade and for export. Tickings moved slowly and a reduction of ¼@1c. per yard was made on some makes. Denims and colored ducks were in limited demand, and there was a little more animation in good styles of plaid cheviots. Stripes, checks and osnaburgs moved slowly, but there was an improved demand for the best styles of cottonades. Corset jeans and satteens were in steady request and firm, and there was rather more doing in grain bags, carpet-warps and twines. Print cloths remained quiet, and prices were almost nominal at 4@4¼c. for extra 64x64 makes. Ginghams were a trifle more active, and there was a really good demand for plaid and striped cotton dress goods, many styles of which are sold ahead of production. Cotton hosiery was distributed in liberal amounts on account of former orders, and ruled firm in price.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—The distribution of merchandise woolens from first hands was less active than was generally expected by manufacturers' agents. The large clothing manufacturers bought very few spring goods, but placed additional orders for plain and fancy overcoatings for future delivery. There was a moderate demand by jobbers and the fine-clothing trade for small parcels of cassimeres, suitings, and worsted coatings of the newest styles, but low and medium grades of these goods were almost neglected. Cloths and doeskins were less active than when last reported upon, and selections were restricted to very small lots of each. Satinets for printing were in fair demand, and there was a moderate movement in mixtures, but blacks were almost neglected. Kentucky jeans were placed in fair quantities, and prices of the best makes have been steadily maintained. Tweeds were less active than last week, but sales were made to a fair aggregate amount. Flannels were taken in small lots for the renewal of assortments, but were not active. Carpets moved slowly, and a reduction of 10c. per yard was made on the Brussels and Wilton carpets manufactured by the Crompton Carpet Company. Worsted dress goods continued in steady demand, and there was more inquiry by the trade for worsted shawls, full lines of which have been opened by the agents.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—The market for imported goods has been quiet with importers and jobbers, but, owing to the light spring importations, and the high gold premium, prices of the most staple fabrics have been firmly maintained. Dress goods were in fair request, but less active than would have been the case with more spring-like weather. There was some pressure to sell fancy and colored silks, and large lines were offered at auction, where low prices were realized. Housekeeping and dress linens were in steady demand, but shirting and clothing makes and handkerchiefs ruled quiet. Hamburg embroideries, which are in large supply, were distributed in heavy amounts by the auctioneers at low prices. Black cloths and doeskins were a trifle more active, but other descriptions of woolen goods for men's wear continued sluggish. Ribbons and millinery silks were in improved request, and brought fair prices at auction. The best makes of kid gloves are firmly held, but inferior qualities have been pressed to sale at auction in considerable amounts with poor results.

These Bonds are commended to the attention of the MOST CONSERVATIVE INVESTORS, as they are believed to be as perfect a security as can be obtained. The issue of Bonds is limited to one-half the amount of the same class of Bonds ever issued under a like Guarantee.

The security of each Bond is not confined a to single Mortgage, but extends over all the Mortgages owned by the Company. This Company receives no deposits, guarantees no other securities, and has no other debts than its bonds. Its Mortgages are of like character to those which have been bought in the last twenty years by individuals, Life Insurance Companies and other Corporations, to the amount of more than Fifty Millions of Dollars, proving a most secure and satisfactory investment. The Loans are all upon improved Farms in some of the most fertile Western states, near the Railroads, with short and perfect titles, and average less than $650 each, upon property worth nearly four times their amount. Experience has proved that well-selected Mortgages upon this class of property are safer than those upon city property, either in the East or West. They are not affected by Fires, or by Business revulsions; Principal and Interest are more promptly paid; and upon the success of Agriculture depends that of almost every Industrial Investment.

THE RESUMPTION QUESTION IN CONGRESS.

In the Senate, at Washington, Mr. John Sherman on Monday delivered an elaborate and comprehensive refutation of the arguments by which certain members of Congress have attempted with some show of success to render probable the repeal and temporary overthrow of the Resumption act of January, 1875. Mr. Sherman's speech has produced a deep impression throughout the country. Its salutary influence is founded partly on the broad and statesmanlike views it gives of the monetary and financial situation, and partly on the absence of the weak arguments and unsound theories which some of the sound currency advocates have occasionally condescended to use. Mr. Sherman laid down the fundamental principle that the policy of the Resumption law is just what the credit and the best interests of the country demand. Hence this law should not be repealed or disturbed. It appears to be working well, though it is only just beginning to produce its incipient reforms and three years at least will have to pass away before so large and extensive a legislative change can develop its effects in their salutary and complete perfection. Every one knows that if we repeal the act, we shall destroy the sole existing legislation that promises to restore the specie standard, within a definite time, to the country. Or, as Mr. Sherman puts it: "The question mooted is, not as to the best means of securing the resumption of a specie standard, but solely whether the only measure that promises that result shall be repealed. The question now is whether we will repudiate the legislative declaration made in the act of 1875 to redeem the promise made and printed on the face of every United States note, a promise made in the midst of war, when the Nation was struggling for existence; a promise renewed in March, 1869, in the most unequivocal language, and actually made specific, as to time, by the act of 1875."

After offering some lucid illustrations of this point, Mr. Sherman raises three questions: First, ought the Nation to perform the promise to pay the greenbacks in gold? secondly, can the Nation perform this promise? and, thirdly, are the agencies and measures prescribed in the law adequate for the purpose? In regard to the first two points there is little difference of opinion. The Supreme Court has decided that the dollar promised on the face of the greenback is a gold coin weighing 25·8 grains of standard gold. That the Nation is bound to fulfil the contract, and will be able at some time in the future to fulfil it, there are very few persons at this day disposed to deny. The main difficulty in the public mind seems to be as to the interval of time which is necessary before resumption, and the preliminaries which should precede and pave the way for specie payments. It were to be wished that Mr. Sherman had been a little more full and precise in his discussion of this branch of the subject. We hope to hear from him a more complete and detailed exposition hereafter. On the third point we have referred to, he is sufficiently emphatic, as the subjoined extract shows:

"With the growing wealth and credit of our country, I do not believe the present volume of United States notes need be largely, if any, reduced to keep them at par in coin. We have now a gold balance in the Treasury of $37,120,772 78, and a currency balance of $9,529,304 over and above our currency and coin certificates. Suppose (what I regard as an extreme case) that we add to this reserve $100,000,000, $50,000,000 in coin certificates and $50,000,000 in coin, does anybody doubt but it will be ample to redeem any note that is presented? But, it is said, where is the gold to come from to enable us to resume. Not only is the gold of the world open to our competition, but we are the largest gold and silver producing country of the world. The product of our mines is about one hundred millions a year, and a single year's product would more than enable us to resume. Our facilities for accumulating gold are greater than any other nation. 'But the gold is exported.' So it is, because we will not use it as other nations do. Give it occupation here and it will remain here, and the products of our farms and workshops will be exported instead. It is said we can make a standard of something else that is not exportable. So we can by cutting ourselves off from the civilization of the human race. And now let us briefly examine the question: Are the agencies and measures prescribed by the act of 1875 sufficient for the purpose? This bill does not contain provisions that for years I have struggled to secure. Still I feel bound to say that it contains ample agencies and powers to carry it into a full execution without the addition of a single provision by Congress. * * I will cheerfully support any measure of wise economy proposed to strengthen the public Treasury; I will cheerfully vote for a moderate tax on tea and coffee, because this will increase our revenue without adding to the cost of the articles, and be the means of enabling us to repeal other taxes that are both a burden and an inconvenience; I will gladly vote for the voluntary conversion of a limited amount of United States notes into bonds, as each of those measures will tend to 'prepare' us for a specie standard. But each of these measures, and others that may be proper, are not, in my judgment, indispensable to the full and complete execution of the law of 1875 on or before the 1st day of January, 1879. I have a confident belief that if Congress will now hold fast to the law as it stands, the drift of events and the practical operation of the law will not only vindicate its wisdom, but will secure in due time every proper auxiliary legislation to carry it into full execution."

Next to the points mentioned above, the chief reason for the wholesome influence which has been produced throughout the financial and mercantile circles by this speech is the confirmation it supplies to the belief which generally prevails, that no new law of importance relative to the currency is likely to pass Congress this session. It is easy to see that Mr. Sherman does not anticipate any such legislation, and his opinion on questions of prospective legislation will be regarded as conclusive. The same acquiescence will not be accorded to Mr. Sherman's opinion that the resumption of specie payments will not cause any contraction in the volume of the currency. We think that the records of the past history of paper money, in this country and abroad, establish the theory that a wholesome contraction in the outstanding currency, both of greenbacks and of bank notes, will attend the restoration of the specie standard. This theory derives some corroboration from the active currency contraction which has been already developed by the Resumption act, and by those still more potent natural laws which control the currency movements of such commercial nations as are not enthralled by paper money. The Comptroller reports the whole currency contraction up to March 1, as follows:

CONTRACTION OF THE CURRENCY UNDER THE LAWS OF JUNE, 1874, AND JANUARY, 1875, DOWN TO MARCH 1, 1876.

| 1. National Bank notes outstanding when Act 20th June, 1874, was passed | | $349,894,182 |

| 11. Do. amount outstanding 1st March, 1876 | | $340,719,883 |
| 12. Greenbacks on deposit in the Treasury, 20th June, 1874, to retire notes of insolvent and liquidating banks | | $3,813,675 |
| 13. Do. deposited from 20th June, 1874, to 1st March, 1876, to retire National bank notes | | 43,539,670 |
| 14. Do. total deposits | | $47,353,345 |
| 15. Do. deposits used by Treasurer to retire bank notes between same dates, without re-issue | | 23,619,555 |
| 16. Do. balance of deposits, 1st March, 1876 | | $23,733,790 |
| 17. Greenbacks retired under act 14th January, 1875 | | $11,056,608 |
| 18. National bank notes retired from 20th June, 1874, to 1st March, 1876 | | 9,174,299 |
| 19. Greenbacks outstanding 31st Aug., and 30th Sept., 1873 | | 356,000,000 |
| 20. Do do 20th June, 1874 | | 382,000,000 |
| 21. Do do 29th February, 1876 | | 370,943,392 |

Among the points demonstrated by these figures there are several of great practical importance. First, the greenbacks have declined from 382 millions in June, 1874, to 370 millions at present. Here we have a contraction of 12 millions. Secondly, the National bank circulation has declined from 350 millions in June, 1874, to 341 millions at present. Here we have a contraction of 9 millions. These two items of currency contraction give us an aggregate of 21 millions, besides which there are, as we shall hereafter show, other contracting influences at work upon the currency in this salutary direction. What is more important for our present purpose is the ease of money. For many months past the inflationists have clamored against all contraction of the currency, however wholesome and necessary. They have affirmed that if we contract the volume of the active currency at any time we invariably make money tight. This error of the inflationist creed we have often demonstrated, and we need not here expose it further. It is conspicuously refuted by the fact that, although the United States is the only great commercial country which, at the present time, is rapidly contracting the volume of its currency, there is no stringency. We have no spasms in the loan market. On the contrary, money is easier among us and the rate of interest rules lower than anywhere else in Christendom.

THE NATIONAL BANKS AND THE CAUSES OF THEIR STRENGTH.

We have often directed attention to the fact that from well-known general causes affecting the whole financial world there is in the chief commercial nations of Europe more or less of agitation about reforms in the old banking systems. In Italy, Switzerland, and Russia, as well as in Germany, France, and England, there seem to be financial forces in process of development which are tending to create new safeguards and to produce practical reforms in the mechanism and the methods of commercial banking. As the system of our National banks is undergoing some important changes, not only from the same general causes which are operating on so great a scale throughout Europe, but also from the efforts of recent legislation, we have an increasing necessity for a fuller publicity in regard to the movements of our banks, and the interest of the popular mind in the statistical reports of the banks is augmenting. To meet this new want, as well as to refute some of the false statements made in disparagement of our National banking system, there has been a more full and frequent publication of some of the official statements of the National banks by the Treasury at Washington.

The Comptroller of the Currency has prepared for us tables showing the strength of the National banks and its chief causes. Among these statistics we find the following table, showing the bonds deposited at Washington as security for the circulating notes of the banks. These notes amount at present to $340,719,883. Adding the $2,099,190 of National gold bank circulation, the total sum of the bank notes will be $342,819,073. To withdraw and cancel bank notes under the law of June, 1874, and Jan., 1875, the Treasurer of the United States holds, of greenbacks $23,780,590, and of gold $671,990. This aggregate of $24,452,580 of lawful money is held for the retiring of that amount of bank notes. Deducting this sum, the bank note aggregate will be reduced to $318,366,493, which are secured by the bonds described in the Comptroller's table, which is as follows:

From these figures it will be seen that the present market value of the bonds greatly exceeds the value of the circulation to be secured. The excess is estimated by the Comptroller at $56,204,382 in gold value, and at $109,580,731 in currency value. Moreover, in the statement of the banks for December 17, 1875, the item of premiums paid is set down at no more than $9,442,801, so that the resources of the National banks, at a gold valuation, based on the present prices of their bonds, appear to be 46 millions more than is reported in the statement of December 17 last. This statement compares as follows with previous returns :

We have corrected this table from the latest returns prepared by the Comptroller, and it shows now, we believe, the accurate figures indicating the bank movement during the last three years.

A still more important question touches the adequacy of the reserves of the banks. The public interest in this question has always been very great, and since the recent legislation relieving the banks from the obligation of holding a cash reserve against their circulation the subject has attracted a larger share of attention than usual. The subjoined table shows that the banks hold a considerable excess over the present legal requirement. Instead of 25 per cent reserve, the New York banks hold 28·1 per cent, the San Francisco banks 26·6 per cent, and the other reserve cities 33·2 per cent. This satisfactory exhibit is equalled, if not surpassed, by the interior banks, which are required by law to hold 15 per cent reserve. Their actual reserve is 32·9 per cent, or more than double the proportion required in the law. Subjoined is the table:

It is gratifying to find from these and other statistics, that the general condition of the National banks is strong, whatever may be the exceptional state of a few individual banks. It is hoped that the Comptroller will employ all the means at his disposal for discovering and dealing with the causes of evil in the weaker institutions. The policy of frequent examinations in past years has been proved of the highest value. During the transition towards specie payments, our banking system will have to bear a severer strain than has ever yet been put upon its machinery. When the pressure comes we shall need all the help which a sound and vigorous banking system can give us to make resumption easy and safe.

HOW SHALL WE STOP IT?

The sad disclosures of fraud and bribery made public during the past ten days have alarmed the Nation. A member of the Cabinet, high in the esteem of those that knew him best, has miserably fallen. The details we do not propose to repeat, for all know them too well. But while mourning over the shame that has come upon us, may we not turn our mourning to best account if we can only be incited to cure some of the evils which are its cause? A diseased tree may have its life prolonged by cutting off the infected branches; so we, by exposing and removing the delinquents, may purify the atmosphere somewhat; but if there is a worm at the root, there is the spot for the pruner's knife.

As we look at it the story is no new one; we have tried to enforce its moral time and again. The results of the evil are seen not alone in the War Department but they are cropping out everywhere. The disease is national. One tells us it must be charged to the prevailing extravagance, first official and then private, and to the necessities which are fostered by extravagance. But these are simply results of causes back of them. Another charges it to the low state of morals among us. Sure enough this is so, but whence came this moral dry rot? Still another tells us that it is our civil-service system which has been defective. This, too, is true, and yet these are diseased branches of a tree that is dying at the root.

Notice also how widely the evils complained of prevail. They are not in Washington alone, or in one or two States; but they run through the whole system. Only think what a world of fraud and baseness, thoroughly organized, the whiskey prosecutions have uncovered; and still the indications are that the probing has been as yet only surface deep. Go back further, and recall the moiety frauds; or take the more recent instance of the Indian Bureau. The same features are common to them all. And even in the War Department case, the statements now are that the original charge has become many, showing apparently a principle running through the service, that everything in the gift of the Government was for sale. In our own State (not to speak of the corruption in this city), we have had a separate little ring fatting on our canal system until Governor Tilden shook them off; while every Southern State has been really the pasture ground of political cormorants. But we forbear to multiply illustrations. The truth is that the very atmosphere has become impure, through the wide-spread unfaithfulness developed.

From all this we become conscious of one fact: that is, an assumption on the part of officials everywhere that governments were made for the subsistence and enriching of the officers. Hence, when these men had fastened on any vital part, like a leech they engorged themselves regardless of everything except the capacity of their own stomachs, considering all they could get, by fair or foul means, "perquisites" of the office. Nor has this idea of the nature of government been restricted to the ruling class. During the war, almost as a natural consequence, the central head of the Nation grew stronger; assumed new powers; became the dispenser of all kinds of favors, giving out contracts and offices without number, until the entire country grew into the belief that not officers alone but everyone had the right to draw all it could out of the Government. And thence, through contracts or through official positions or through legislation, a large majority of the people became in one way or another Government beneficiaries. It would be a marvel, if the congressional acts of the past ten years could be analyzed, to show how considerable a portion of the Nation has thus attempted to be lifted upon its feet and then kept there, not by simple honest industry but by some of the thousand legislative expedients known to the initiated.

But while the Government has thus been working into this false position, it has also encouraged speculation and discouraged honest labor through a currency perpetually fluctuating in value. It is scarcely necessary to say that the uncertainty produced from this cause is a constant drag upon every real industry, and a constant stimulant to every demoralizing influence. Extravagance and low morals are the natural product of such surroundings. This requires no proof—we all admit it. While then we are intent on exposing and punishing the guilty (for this of course should be pursued relentlessly), let us not forget to strike at these nurseries of evil.

First, and above all, give us an honest, stable currency; so that wealth may be once more a reward to the producer and not the speculator. It is the spirit of industry that we need to revive and cultivate. Everything of late years has discouraged the slow, plodding mode of olden times. To acquire riches fast and spend them equally fast are the necessary characteristics of this age of greenbacks. Faithfulness, honesty and integrity can never grow out of such conditions.

And in the second place let us simplify our government; diminish largely the number of offices by taking away many of the duties now performed; and discourage the idea, which at present appears to prevail, that every man or congressional district has a right, either directly or indirectly, to an appropriation out of the Treasury. It may, in imagination, be very agreeable to have a half-dozen commissioners at four thousand dollars a year to hunt up the genealogy of the potato bug; to have a bureau to supply us with our pumpkin seeds and an annual volume for our library; to get a bulletin every day telling us whether it is going to rain, so that we may know when to carry our umbrella and overshoes; to have offices created for all our sons and daughters as they reach puberty; to have our interests looked after or protected in some way, so that we may gain what honest, personal effort would never bring us; all these, and a thousand other services we might mention, may appear to many minds desirable, but they are the things that are educating our people up to the idea that the Government is not for protection, but simply for the purpose of furnishing everything we need, and that it is honest for each citizen, city or village to draw out of the Treasury as many dollars as possible. This evil, in the interest of a pure administration, needs instant correction. The Nation should be at once disabused of the idea that the Eagle's wings are for us all to cuddle under.

Finally, official faithlessness seems to be almost a necessity of the expensiveness of obtaining, and retaining, office. A party's success now, depends upon the size of its election fund; and when any election is in prospect, office-seekers must respond largely, and office-holders are assessed and made to pay a percentum of their salaries into this corruption treasury. The result is that when an office has been obtained, these outgoes have to be made good in some way, so that official "perquisites" become a necessity. Would it not be well, in addition to enforcing strictly the provisions now existing against bribery, to pass a law that any officer who receives or pays any such assessment, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor? This would be stringent; but the system of assessing for election purposes those who occupy positions under the Government is, perhaps, fruitful of more evil than any other practice. Of course salaries must be just so much larger to admit of it and in that case it is a direct contribution from the Government; or if not large enough to admit of it, the official must make the assessment good in some way. As an illustration, we find in these whiskey developments the fraud practiced was justified by one participant because the money was appropriated to an election! If we wish to be rid of official corruption, we must remove the causes that are producing it.

RAILROAD EARNINGS IN FEBRUARY, AND FROM JANUARY 1 TO MARCH 1.

Railroad earnings in the month of February were exceptionally good as compared with the corresponding month of 1875. The increase on most of the Western roads is of large amount, and taken altogether, the reports received make the most favorable showing that we have had in many months. The reports from all companies furnishing definite returns are given in the tables below, and in addition to these the earnings of Chicago & Northwestern are stated on authority to show an increase of $183,000 for the month, and Rock Island an increase of $40,000.

As to the progress of business it appears from many of the reports that the largest improvement was shown in the fourth week of the month, when the increase as compared with the same week of 1875 was quite remarkable. This was partly accounted for by the fact that there were 29 days in February this year, and the earnings of the additional day were thrown into the reports of the last week. On the following roads the returns for the fourth week of the month compare thus with 1875:

FOURTH WEEK IN FEBRUARY.

|---|---|---|
| Canada Southern | $30,799 | $6,890 |
| Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul | 154,000 | 91,700 |
| Michigan Central | 163,513 | 99,244 |
| Missouri Kansas & Texas | 75,562 | 55,429 |
| Ohio & Mississippi | 61,147 | 35,350 |
| St Louis Iron Mountain & Southern | 56,500 | 36,795 |
| St. Louis Kansas City & Northern | 60,630 | 39,816 |

There was undoubtedly a large movement in February in the important articles of corn, wheat and cotton. It is hardly necessary to refer in detail to the large receipts of cotton, including a heavy overland movement, but as to corn and wheat the following figures showing the total receipts at Chicago, Milwaukee, Toledo Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis and Peoria, in each of the last four weeks, are of much interest:

| Week ending— | Wheat. 1876. | Wheat. 1875. | Corn. 1876. | Corn. 1875. |
| March 4.....bush. | 865,287 | 533,693 | 1,639,381 | 751,353 |
| February 26..... | 685,610 | 658,662 | 1,490,666 | 835,845 |
| " 19..... | 814,240 | 426,304 | 1,037,975 | 594,851 |
| " 12..... | 634,823 | 449,849 | 1,251,403 | 587,734 |
| Total four weeks..... | 2,799,960 | 2,068,513 | 5,419,425 | 2,772,784 |

These figures are significant, particularly as to the corn transportation, and they seem to indicate that the earnings in the first week in March will be fully maintained.

It will be observed in the table below that several roads have been obtained for February which have not heretofore been furnishing their returns, and it is to be hoped that the growing sentiment in favor of more information about railroads will result in inducing every prominent company to furnish reports.

[From our own correspondent.]

LONDON, Wednesday, Feb. 23, 1876.

The money market remains firm in tone, but without much activity. The payments on account of the revenue are considerable, and the supply of money seeking employment in the discount market is, in consequence, rather limited. In a few days, however, the Bank of England will be granting loans on the security of the forthcoming dividends, and an increase in the supply of floating capital is then expected. There is very little probability of any material improvement in the demand for money, and the expectation is, therefore, pretty general, that in the early spring the money market will assume an easy appearance. No doubt there will be some considerable purchases of gold on account of the German Mint, but in the present inactive condition of the money market, and with the diminished amount of capital required to carry on our trade, resulting from the heavy fall in prices of late years, the withdrawal of half a million sterling now and then ceases to have any material effect. There seems, however, to be every probability that during the next few years there will be a greater demand for gold for coinage purposes, the heavy and continuing fall in the price of silver having induced several other nations to advocate the necessity of employing gold as the single standard of value. A time may, therefore, come when the money market may assume a condition of considerable firmness, but this is not likely to be the case until trade revives, and there is a more general employment for capital. Trade, just now, remains quiet, and there seems to be no disposition to depart from the cautious policy hitherto pursued. Possibly, however, though profits may be small, business seems to be conducted on a sound basis, and this is a good sign.

The demand for money during the week has been fair, and the quotations are as follows:

The Bank return for the week is more favorable, and the proportion of reserve to liabilities is now 42¾ per cent. The Treasury balance has been increased by £1,371,727, making the total £7,928,105, against £6,196,080 last year. The supply of bullion held by the Bank also continues to increase, notwithstanding that there is still a moderate export inquiry. Coin, in fact, is still returning from provincial circulation, and the total stock of bullion is now £22,801,807, against £20,862,992 in 1875. The total reserve is £11,412,267, against £10,199,872.

Gold has been in moderate demand for export, and all our importations have been absorbed, in addition to which a few parcels have been withdrawn from the Bank. The silver market has been weak, notwithstanding that no tenders for bills on India have again been accepted. There appears, just now, to be but little demand for the means of remittance to the East, and the question arises how the government of India will procure funds to carry on the expenses of government here. A sum of £1,200,000 now remains unallotted. The proceeds of the sales of these bills has enabled the Indian government to furnish itself with the necessary supplies, but now that there is very little prospect of the price rising to a point lucrative or satisfactory to the Indian government, the opinion seems to be that a loan will have to be resorted to. The supply of silver shows every indication of increasing. The surplus German coinage, and the increased quantity being produced from the mines in Nevada, etc., hang heavily on the market, and there is an impression that the quotations will fall to a still lower point. The quotations for bullion are now as follows:

In the Stock Exchange a prominent feature has been a demand for the first mortgage bonds of American railroad companies, in the value of which a further improvement has taken place. For United States government securities the market has also been firm, but in other respects the stock markets have presented a dull appearance and the quotations have had a downward tendency. In the value of Egyptian government securities there have been repeated fluctuations.

The Board of Trade have issued this week their report on the several railway, tramway, gas and waterworks bills, which are to be investigated during the present session of Parliament. According to this document the number of bills which relate to railways is 132. The number of bills promoted by existing railway companies is 90, to construct 155 miles of new lines, the capital proposed to be raised for which is £21,487,265, £16,335,075 of which is by shares and £5,152,290 by loan. Of these bills, 69 are promoted on account of existing railways in England, 11 in Scotland, and 10 in Ireland. The number of bills promoted by new companies is 42, for the construction of 550 miles of railway, the proposed capital for which is £15,167,329, £11,343,000 of which is by shares and £3,824,329 by loan. Of these bills, 35 are for English lines, three for Scotch, and four for Irish, the total mileage of the lines promoted by existing and new companies being 705 miles, and the capital proposed to be raised for the works £36,654,694. The number of bills which relate to tramways amounts to five, for the construction of 25 miles, the proposed capital for which is £166,000, of which £125,000 is by shares and £41,600 by loan. Four of the bills are for tramways in England, and one for a line in Ireland. The number of bills for new gas works and other questions in connection with its supply is 40, the proposed capital for which is £4,932,972, of which £2,531,800 is by shares and £2,401,172 by loan. Of these bills 37 relate to works in England and one in Ireland. The bills relating to the supply of water amount to 29, and the capital proposed to be raised is £4,552,000, of which £1,490,800 is by shares and £3,061,200 by loan. The general total of the amount proposed for railways, tramways, gas and water projects is £46,306,266.

The adjourned debate upon the national purchase of the shares in the Suez Canal was resumed on Monday night, and the bill authorizing the payment of the £4,000,000 was agreed to without a division. The arguments of the opposition were very lame, and no doubt the Liberal party are glad that the question is finally settled. Some strange statements were made during the debate. One member stated that the purchase might have been effected for £2,000,000. Mr. Lowe labored hard to prove that Messrs. Rothschild had received two much, and compared the transaction with that of the payment of the Alabama claims, the commission on which was £5,000 less. He also made the extraordinary statement that the newspaper press supported the purchase, because it might lead to war, which the newspapers liked because it was profitable. Newspaper proprietors could, however, tell a very different tale. Mr. Gladstone asked why matters could not have remained where they were, as there had, so far, been but little trouble with the company. At one period, however, and not very long ago, a serious difficulty arose respecting the tolls, which led to somewhat protracted negotiations, and it is naturally to the interest of this country that all such difficulties should in future be avoided. Mr. Disraeli stated that the Government had not made the purchase in ignorance of the number of votes the shares would carry, and he maintained also that the possession of a large interest in the Canal must give this country considerable influence in its management. He ridiculed the fears of complications. The purchase had not been recommended as an investment or a commercial speculation, but as a political act calculated to strengthen the empire. As such, he observed that it had from the first been recognized by the people, who were really sick of the talk about the "silver streak." The people of this country, he observed, want the empire to be maintained, to be strengthened; they will not be alarmed even if it be increased. Because they think we are obtaining a great hold and interest in the important position of Africa—because they perceive that it secures to us a highway to our Indian empire and our other dependencies, the people of England have from the first recognized the propriety and wisdom of the step.

In spite of the fact that the quantity of wheat afloat has declined considerably and is now smaller than at any period during the current season, the wheat trade has remained in an inactive state, and where sales have been pressed, lower prices have had to be submitted to. The supplies of home-grown produce arriving at market are still below those of last year, and are also much inferior in quality. Any improvement, either as regards quantity or quality, is not to be expected during the current season, as neither is to be obtained. The better qualities of foreign wheat command, therefore, a steady sale at full prices; but all inferior qualities of produce are difficult to sell. Although, however, the quantity of wheat afloat has fallen off so considerably, yet it must be borne in mind that there are still large stocks of foreign wheat in granary, and it is this circumstance chiefly which induces millers to operate with so much caution. The weather is also mild, and as buyers believe in an early reopening of the navigation of ice-bound ports, they perceive no necessity for accumulating a stock. They naturally believe that as soon as spring has fairly returned, the supply of wheat afloat will increase, and that the visible supply will again exceed the probable demand. It may be observed that the weather for autumn sowing was not propitious, and that six weeks of dry weather is now very desirable, in order that spring sowing can be completed under favorable conditions. Neither has there been much encouragement to the farmers to produce wheat, and hence there is but little hope of the coming harvest being an abundant one. We may rest assured, therefore, that our dependence upon foreign countries for a large supply of wheat will not be mitigated for some time to come.

The following figures show the imports and exports of cereal produce into and from the United Kingdom since harvest—viz, from September 1 to the close of the week, compared with the corresponding periods in the three previous years:

Panama Railroad.—In the suit of Aaron Freeman against the Panama Railroad Company, the Supreme Court, General Term, reverses Judge Donohue's decision in the Court below. The plaintiff, as a stockholder of the company, sued to prevent the railroad company from running steamship lines on the ground that no such power was given in its charter, and Judge Donohue granted the injunction asked for. Judge Davis gives the opinion of the General Term, reversing Judge Donohue's order, and holds that the act incorporating the defendant company would have been constitutional if, in express words, it had said that the corporation was incorporated "for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a railroad, &c., &c., and of purchasing and navigating such steam and sailing vessels from the several termini of said railroad to and from the cities of New York and San Francisco as may be proper and convenient to be used in connection with such railroad." This leaves only the question whether the actual words of the act empowering the company "to purchase and navigate such steam and sailing vessels as may be proper to be used in connection with said railroad" include a power to run steamship lines, and Judge Davis concludes that in view of the geographical position of the road, and the possibility of the discontinuance of the Pacific Mail and other steamship lines to the Isthmus, such power was intended to be granted. Judge Brady, in an independent opinion, comes to the same conclusion.

Pekin Lincoln & Decatur.—Under the decree of foreclosure recently granted, John A. Jones, Master in Chancery, will sell this road at public auction in Springfield, Ill., April 21. The sale includes the entire road, 68 miles, and all the property of the company. Under the terms of the decree, bondholders who have deposited their bonds are allowed to bid for the property.

—Messrs. Butterick, Goddard & Elliman is the style of a new firm in the banking business at No. 2 Nassau street. The gentlemen who compose it are well known in financial circles from their previous connection with prominent banks and banking houses in this city. They propose to act both as bankers and brokers in the purchase and sale of securities, and the making of collections, receiving deposits and remittances, and will pay interest on daily balances.

—We call attention to the card, in to-day's issue of the CHRONICLE, of Messrs. A. H. Brown & Co., No. 22 Nassau street. Their house is well known, of some years' standing, and their specialties are given in the card published. The business of country banks receives particular attention at their hands, and we understand that their correspondents in this line are numerous.

—Attention is directed to the banking card of Messrs. Richardson, Hill & Co., of 40 Water street, Boston. The firm does a general banking business, dealing in commercial paper and investment securities, receiving deposits, advancing money on collaterals, and making collections.

FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1876—6 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Money is very easy on call and on commercial paper, with pretty sharp discrimination as to collaterals and names; government bonds have been influenced by the recent large sales of five-twenties in London for importation here; railroad bonds are generally strong; in speculative stocks, Pacific Mail and Western Union Telegraph have touched the lowest figures reached since 1873, while some other stocks are stronger on largely increased earnings of the companies; gold and exchange are firm.

In the money market there is a great abundance pressed for use on call at low rates of interest, but the notable feature of transactions at the present time is the very decided preference given to government bonds as collaterals; and even at a small margin between the amount loaned and the current price of the bonds, large amounts of money are offered at the lowest rates quotable—say 2½ per cent. On miscellaneous collaterals the range is 2½ to 4 per cent., according to standing of the borrower. For commercial paper there is a good demand for strictly prime grades at 4½ to 5½ per cent., but purchasers show more than ordinary disposition to examine names very closely. The following are the rates of exchange on New York to-day at the cities named:

Charleston unchanged; Cincinnati steady, par to 50c. premium; New Orleans commercial, 1-16 discount and par; bank, ¼ premium; Chicago, 50c. discount, and St. Louis, par.

On Thursday, the Bank of England showed a gain of £264,000, the discount rate remaining unchanged at 4 per cent. The Bank of France gained 27,708,000 francs in specie. The Imperial Bank of Germany gained 417,000 marks.

The weekly statement of the New York City Clearing-House Banks, issued March 4, showed a decrease of $594,750 in the excess above their 25 per cent legal reserve, the whole of such excess being $13,040,200, against $13,634,950, the previous week.

The following table shows the changes from the previous week and a comparison with 1875 and 1874:

United States Bonds.—There has been a considerable business in governments, the principal feature of the week being the large amount of five-twenties bought in London for this market during all the week up to Thursday. This movement seems to have been based on the idea that the bill pending in Congress would be passed, and on the report that Messrs. Rothschild had made a proposition for taking the whole or a large part of the new bonds. This was visionary, and the latest reports from Washington indicate the probability that the 4½ per cent bonds may be discarded altogether, and a 4 per cent. bond running 40 or 50 years be authorized. On this the market is stronger to-day at a fractional advance.

State and Railroad Bonds.—In Southern State bonds the Virginias, Tennessees, and South Carolinas have been weak, while Louisiana consols are rather stronger. As to the funding of Levee bonds and North Louisiana and Texas Railroad bonds by the Funding Board in New Orleans, it appears that there are still some questions of law pending, and the Board will do nothing before the 15th inst., when they meet again.

Railroad bonds have, as a general rule, been strong. Toledo Wabash & Western bonds were among the most conspicuous, and advanced largely on the decision of the Indiana Courts concurring in the decree of foreclosure rendered in Ohio and Illinois; to day the prices fell back 1@2 per cent. The Pacific and western railroad bonds are very firmly held in view of the prosperous outlook for those roads. The Stock Exchange Committee has admitted to the list the 6 per cent. gold bonds of the Southern Pacific Railroad in California, series A, of which the issue is $15,000,000; also, the $500,000 mortgage bonds of the Mariposa Land and Mining Company.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been variable and prices irregular. The prices of Pacific Mail and Western Union Telegraph have declined to the lowest figures made since the panic of 1873, the former under the continuance of the bear movement and the general lack of confidence in the company's affairs, and Western Union Telegraph on the passing of the April dividend and the accompanying statement of the President. Whatever the various opinions of the statement may be, there seems to be little difference as to the wisdom of passing the present dividend; in summing up the general position of this company, it would appear that its earnings and receipts from rents are sufficient to pay about 6½ to 7 per cent. on its stock, and leave a considerable surplus for contingent expenses and to fight opposition. Lake Shore has shown frequent and large fluctuations, which have apparently been occasioned by the varying influences on the market from the long and short interests. The Union Pacific annual meeting in Boston was without important results, the main figures of the report as to earnings and expenses of 1875 being already known. To-day Erie advanced to 20¼, at the close, on the report of successful negotiations with the Del. Lack. & West. and the Del. & Hudson Canal Companies for the laying of a third rail on part of the line, together with the report of a compromise with the bondholders. Apart from the operations in the four leading stocks above referred to, the most important point of general interest was the large increase in railroad earnings, which is shown in detail in the article on a subsequent page. At the close the tone was strong.

The Gold Market.—Gold has ranged between 114¼ and 114¾. The principal shipments of coin have been to Havana, for which market it is reported that $2,000,000 was recently purchased to be sent in instalments. The market supply was increased here, as appeared by last week's bank statement, by the Treasury disbursements. On gold loans the rates paid to-day for carrying ranged from 3½ to 2 per cent. Custom receipts for the week were $2,405,000.

Foreign Exchange.—The exchange market was pretty firm on a fair business. Some moderate shipments of specie have been made, but these were chiefly to Havana, where exchange is exceedingly depressed, and rates have hardly been firm enough to warrant shipments to Europe at a profit. If the estimates made of considerable recent purchases of United States bonds in London for this market are substantially correct, it is apparent that their import here will further tend to strengthen rates. On actual transactions the rates to-day were about 4.85¼ and 4.89¼ for prime sterling.

The transactions for the week at the Custom House and Sub Treasury have been as follows:

MAIN LINE AND BRANCHES, PHILADELPHIA TO PITTSBURGH.

The operations of the main line, Pittsburgh to Philadelphia, with branches and leased lines in Pennsylvania, except the Philadelphia & Erie, were as follows:

| | 1875. | Decrease from 1874. |
| Earnings from general freights | $16,651,711 | $1,575,763 |

| Net earnings of 1874, after deducting rentals | | 9,396,924 |
| Decrease in net earnings, 1875 | | $1,249,535 |
| The gross earnings in 1875 were | | 20,493,251 |
| And in 1874 were | | 22,642,371 |
| The gross expenses, including rentals and interest on equipments, in 1875, were | | $12,345,863 |
| Those of 1874, including rentals, were | | 13,245,447 |
| Showing a decrease in gross expenses | | $899,583 |
| The gross earnings of branch lines included in above statement in 1875 were | | $2,199,308 |
| The expenses of operating, including rentals, were | | 2,087,124 |
| Showing a direct net profit of | | $42,183 |

The actual cost of operating the main line in 1875, excluding branches, was 55 87–100 per cent of receipts, and including branch lines, 57 55–100 per cent. In 1874 the cost of operating your main line, excluding branches, was 54 25–100 per cent, and including branches, 58 49–100 per cent. The increased tonnage carried during the year will show that the actual cost of doing the work was relatively less in 1875 than in 1874.

THE UNITED RAILROADS OF NEW JERSEY.

The gross results of the New Jersey lines, embracing the Philadelphia & Trenton Railroad; the Connecting Railway; United Railroads of New Jersey and branches; Belvidere Delaware Railroad and Flemington branch, and the Delaware & Raritan Canal, are summed up as follows:

| Gross earnings | $10,504,955 17 |
| Gross expenses | 7,071,924 27 |
| Deduct interest on equipment Belvidere Del. | 28,179 60 |
| | $3,504,851 30 |
| Add cash received for investments | 197,579 82 |
| Total net revenue | $3,702,431 12 |
| Amount paid on account of dividends, interest, rentals, including lease of connecting road, taxes and transit duties, expenses of maintaining organizations, etc. | 4,350,096 81 |
| Loss in operating United Railroads and Canal of New Jersey for 1875 | $647,665 69 |

This loss is largely due to the great reduction in coal tonnage over the Belvidere Delaware Road, the Main Line and the Canal, the anthracite production having been practically suspended for seven months of the year, and also to the extremely low rates at which through freight was carried during the first half of the year.

The earnings of the United Railroads of New Jersey and branches, and of the Philadelphia & Trenton Railroad, were in 1875:

| From general freights | $3,764,990 | |
| From passengers, first-class | 4,370,929 | |
| From passengers, emigrant | 69,946 | |
| From express | 259,246 | |
| From mails | 69,745 | |
| From miscellaneous | 108 965 | |
| | | $8,643,924 |
| Expenses | | 5,894,741 |
| Net earnings, 1875 | | $2,749,182 |

The gross revenue shows a decrease from 1874 of $57,044, and the operating expenses a decrease of $435,291.

The actual cost of operating the United Railroads of New Jersey, including branches, deducting transit duty, rent of Connecting Railway and interest on property, and excluding Belvidere Division in 1875, was 68 19-100 per cent of the receipts.

BELVIDERE DELAWARE RAILROAD.

The earnings of the Belvidere Delaware Railroad and Flemington branch were in 1875:

| From general freights | $692,367 81 |
| From passengers | 185,261 59 |
| From express | 4,072 21 |
| From mails | 5,059 36 |
| From miscellaneous | 5,579 15 |
| Total | $893,370 12 |
| Expenses | 636,146 83 |
| | $257,223 29 |
| Deduct interest on equipment | 28,179 60 |
| Leaving net earnings, 1875 | $229,043 69 |
| The decrease of gross revenue as compared with 1874, was | $332,277 93 |
| There being a decrease in expenses of | 109,321 51 |

DELAWARE AND RARITAN CANAL.

The earnings of the Delaware and Raritan Canal in 1875 were:

| From tolls | $660,618 25 |
| From steam towing | 397,622 04 |
| From miscellaneous | 9,422 29 |
| Total | $1,067,660 58 |
| Expenses | 541,035 76 |
| Leaving net earnings, 1875 | $526,624 82 |

TONNAGE AND RATES.

On the main line and branches between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, the tons of freight carried amounted to 9,787,176; in 1874, to 9,118,419 tons, showing an increase of 7 3 10 per cent., or 668,757 tons over 1874. Embraced in this were 4,731,436 tons of bituminous coal, coke, and anthracite coal, being an increase in that traffic over the previous year of 522,099 tons.

The United Railroads of New Jersey show a slight increase in the number of passengers carried, being 7,846,239 as against 7,837,317 in 1874; the number of tons of freight moved being 3,469,786 tons as against 3,467,952 tons in 1874.

The following table shows the average earning from freight and passenger traffic, and the cost of moving it per net ton and per passenger per mile on each of the divisions worked by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company:

| | Av. earnings per passenger per mile. | Av. cost per passenger per mile. | Profit per passenger per mile. | Av. earnings on freight per ton per m. | Av. cost per ton per mile. | Average profit on freight pr ton per m. |

It may also be noted that the cost of moving traffic upon the main line of your railway and branches, with their crossings of the Allegheny Mountains, is much below the cost of moving similar traffic upon canals.

The company has moved over its main line during the year 7 3-10 per cent. more tonnage than in any previous year of its history, for a gross earning of $2,149,119 38 less than in 1874. Its expenses have been reduced $899,583 71, showing a decrease in net earnings of $1,249,535 67, which is attributable to the causes stated, namely, the great depression in the coal and iron interests and the general trade of the country, and to the unnecessary and unwise competition that existed on through traffic during the early part of the year. The relations between the several trunk lines are now satisfactory, and there is no good reason why they should not so continue.

| Amount received in settlement of open accounts that were adjusted during the year | | 1,251,665 |
| Total to credit of profit and loss | | $2,286,594 |

The President's report remarks that the preceding figures show that the company, after making all the payments above named, had a net balance, including the amount received in settlement of open accounts that were adjusted during the year, of $2,286,594 57 to be carried to the credit of profit and loss. Against this amount have been charged the discount on the two millions sterling mortgage bonds of the company sold May 7, 1874, which were delivered early in 1875, and the five millions of 6 per cent. currency dollar bonds sold in Philadelphia during the year, the premium on exchange remitted to redeem the second mortgage sterling bonds that matured March 31, 1875, and other items, amounting in the aggregate to $1,230,398 59. The balance, $1,056,195 58, has been transferred to profit and loss, so that the sum standing to the credit of that account at the end of the year was increased to $10,077,839 14.

Your board of directors have deemed it best to continue the policy referred to in the last annual report, of holding the amounts to the credit of the contingent fund $2,000,000, and profit and loss $10,077,839 14, as a margin to cover any depreciation in the value of the securities owned by the company, which remain on the books at their cost, and to meet requirements of the company.

In addition to this reserve, the stockholders will remember that during the history of the company it has from time to time reduced its actual cost of construction and equipment, so that the general account shows a charge for the main line, including new stations, wharves, shops and shop machinery, of $53,666,966 41, while the cash expenditure for those purposes to December 31, 1875, is $81,862,775, showing an excess of actual property in the possession of the company, not represented in its accounts, and which may be considered an additional reserve, of over $27,000,000.

The proceeds of the two million pounds of sterling bonds, sold May 7, 1874, as stated in the last report, were received during 1875, and appropriated to the payment of the $4,835,840 of second mortgage bonds, which matured March 31, 1875, and to the adjustment of construction and equipment expenditures, and other obligations of the company incurred prior to 1874.

In order to provide the means necessary to cover the cost of construction and equipment as estimated in the last report, and also to pay off other liabilities of the company previously incurred, it was deemed advisable to make a sale to Messrs. Drexel & Co., of Philadelphia, of five millions of 6 per cent. currency bonds, secured by the consolidated mortgage. The company has met all these expenditures and liabilities, and is now—for the first time in its history of twenty-nine years—without any floating debt, and had on deposit to its credit January 1, 1876, as follows:

| In the hands of its Treasurer | | $3,480,913 21 |
| In the hands of its London Agency | | 1,166,141 56 |
| In the hands of other parties | | 277,243 81 |

which is applicable to the payment of interest, dividends and expenditures.

It will be observed that the amount received from the investments of the company exceeded all the interest paid on its bonded and other interest obligations, leaving a surplus of $134,782 58, and showing that the average return from these investments on the amount at which they stand charged on the books of the company, being $70,759,012, was over 4 per cent. per annum.

LINES WEST OF PITTSBURGH.

The lines owned or otherwise controlled by your company west of Pittsburgh are all operated by the Pennsylvania Company, a corporation having its general office at Pittsburgh. Under this arrangement the liabilities of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company west of Pittsburgh are all met and provided for out of the earnings and revenues of the lines west of that point; and the revenues of the leased roads showing a surplus, are used by the Pennsylvania Company to meet, in proper form, such deficiencies as may occur upon any of the other lines under its control; this is now effected in a manner that relieves your company from providing for these responsibilities.

The total earnings of all the lines operated by the Pennsylvania Company or controlled through that organization in the interest of your company

| For 1875, were | | $23,632,761 |
| Expenses | | 15,479,679 |
| Leaving net earnings of | | $8,153,081 |
| Deduct rentals, interest, dividends, and liabilities of every kind chargeable thereto | | 7,473,789 |
| Net profit in 1875 on lines west of Pittsburgh | | $679,291 |
| The entire outlay for construction and equipment on all the lines west of Pittsburgh for 1875, was | | 376,486 |

All these lines, with their equipment and facilities, are in better condition than at the close of any previous year.

C. C. & I. C.

In the rentals of Western Lines, as above stated, are included the net earnings from the Columbus Chicago & Indiana Central Railway during the year. It is believed by the Pittsburgh Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway Company that by reason of the failure of the C. C. & I. C. Railway Co. to perform its covenants under the lease of its road to the former company, the lease itself has been practically terminated, and notice has been given and proceedings instituted by the Pittsburgh Cincinnati & St. Louis Company in accordance therewith. It is hoped that the litigation relating to this subject will be terminated during the year, and that, upon its conclusion, the two companies referred to will arrive at some adjustment for the future operation of the lines belonging to the C. C. & I. C. Company, west of Columbus, on a basis that will be equitable and fair to all interests, and give the owners of the property every possible earning and advantage that can be derived from it in the future. In connection with this subject, and to correct any misapprehension that may exist, it is but proper to state that no endorsement of any bond of the C. C. & I. C. Railway Company was ever made or authorized to be made by this Company.

Several committees representing the bondholding interest of that company have had interviews with the officers of your company during the past year, with the view of perfecting a basis under which the property of the Columbus Chicago & Indiana Central Company could be put in a reorganized form that would relieve it from many of its old complications, and preserve its representation in a decreased amount of bonds and an increased amount of stock; but as yet no definite plan has been decided upon. It is hoped one may be reached during the present year.

NEW CONSTRUCTION AND EQIPMENT.

The estimate in the annual report for 1874 of the amount that would be required for construction and equipment purposes in 1875 was $3,200,000. The sum actually expended was $3,265,565 57.

During 1876 there will be needed for similar purposes, according to the present estimates, about $3,500,000 to meet the requirements and additions for the New Jersey division and the main line.

The total amount expended and required to be expended in providing the passenger station, 100 by 300 feet, and other terminal facilities at the Centennial grounds, including the various buildings, railway tracks, and improvements connected therewith, as per estimate, is $119,241 51, which it is proposed to deduct from the earnings of the Centennial year.

Forty-three first-class locomotives were built, also 761 new stock, box and coal cars, in addition to the maintenance in good condition and the necessary renewals of our large equipment.

In order to meet the requirements of our increasing coal trade, arrangements were made, through car trusts, by which 2,000 eight-wheel coal cars, of fifteen tons capacity each, were placed upon the line during the year at very low prices.

During the year, 222 eight-wheeled coal cars were purchased from the Kittanning Coal Company at a valuation of $475 per car, or $105,450, which amount is now included in our equipment account.

An addition to the passenger car equipment to provide for Centennial travel is now being made, embracing one hundred and fifty new passenger cars, at a cost of $450,000. This amount will be charged to construction and equipment account.

LEASES AND CAPITAL ACCOUNT.

The aggregate length of the lines of railway operated by your company, under perpetual lease, is 288 6-10 miles. In each case the terms of the lease require your company to make all necessary improvements and additions to the railway, and to provide rolling stock for operating it. In pursuance of such requirements, and the demands of traffic resulting from the operations of the leased lines, your company has, during the last ten years, expended from the proceeds of its several issues of stock and bonds about $4,500,000. The Joliet & Chicago Railroad, and the St. Louis Jacksonville & Chicago Road have both been greatly improved by the expenditures referred to, and all of the leased lines are now worth to your company much more than an amount which would be fairly represented by the annual rent paid.

The stock and bonds issued by your company represent the cost of lines owned by it, and the expenditures made for improvements and rolling stock upon lines held under lease. The additional cost to your company is shown by the several sums of annual rent paid, which may be capitalized for the year 1875, as follows:

| | | |
| Rent paid Joliet & Chicago Railroad Co | $131,605 00 | |
| Capitalized at 7 per cent, represents | | $1,880,071 43 |
| Rent paid to St. Louis Jacksonville & Chic. RR. Co | 240,000 00 | |
| Rent paid Louisiana & Missouri River RR. Co | 41,801 24 | |
| Capitalized at 7 per cent, represents | | 597,160 57 |
| Total | | $5,905,803 43 |
| Add amount of stock and bonds issued and assumed by C. & A. RR. Co | | 20,506,400 00 |
| Total | | $26,412,203 43 |

Although the actual cost of each of the roads operated was, and, if constructed at any time during the last five years, would have been, much greater. The foregoing statement is assumed to fairly represent, for the purposes referred to, what is commonly called permanent investment.

The hostility of the grangers has been manifested for several years by an attempt to tax railway franchises, capital-stock indebtedness and property—in our opinion unjustly—and State and county taxes assessed against your company for the years 1873 and 1874, excepting the taxes on personal property, have not been paid. The act of the Legislature, under which these taxes were levied, was deemed unconstitutional, and the assessment, upon which the taxes were levied, to be in violation of the law. Suits were brought in the the Circuit Court of the United States, and the company was enjoined from paying these taxes. After a full hearing, the injunctions were made perpetual, and the State authorities appealed from the decision to the Supreme Court at Washington.

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT TRAFFIC.

The number of passengers transported during the year was 862,264, or 4 64-100 per cent less than during the preceding year. The proportion between through and local passengers being 4 89-100 per cent of the former to 95 11-100 per cent of the latter. The average rate paid per mile by all passengers, in 1874, was 3 267-1000 cents. Average rate in 1875, 3 126-1000 cents. Number of passengers carried one mile, 39,913,851.

The freight transported during the year amounted to 1,545,802 tons, an increase of 8 77-100 per cent over the amount transported in 1874. The amount of local and through freight being 88 35-100 per cent of the former to 11 65-100 per cent of the latter. The number of tons of freight transported one mile was, in 1874, 162,306,676 tons, and in 1875, 168,923,879 tons. Increase, 6,613,203 tons. Average rate per ton per mile was, in 1874, 2 123-1000 cents; in 1875, 1 878-1000 cents. Decrease, 245-1000 cents per mile.

IMPROVEMENTS.

There have been expended during the year for locomotives and additional cars purchased $85,004 30. For additional cost of steel used in track repairs, over cost of iron and for improvement of permanent way, $353,400 81, and sundry smaller amounts for improvements, making an aggregate of $523,710 20.

CHICAGO & ILLINOIS RIVER ROAD.

On the 27th of January, 1875, a circular was forwarded to each stockholder in relation to the proposed lease of the Chicago & Illinois River Railroad, which had been built from Joliet to the Mazon river, traversing the Wilmington coal-fields, upon a line nearly parallel with yours, at a distance of about four miles, threatening formidable competition with your railway. A majority of the stockholders having consented in writing to the leasing of the road between Joliet and the Mazon river, the board of directors directed a lease to be executed, and it was made on the 1st day of March last. The lease provides for operating the road by your company upon an agreed basis of 70 per cent, to be retained for operating expenses, and for a division of the net earnings from the coal traffic on the line of the Chicago & Illinois River Railroad Company, and that of your company between Joliet and the Mazon river, your company taking 2–3 and the Chicago & Illinois River Railroad Company taking 1–3; and for the payment to the Chicago & Illinois River Railroad Company of 30 per cent of the gross earnings from other traffic. In pursuance of the authority granted, the board directed the guarantee by your company of the coupons attached to 700 7 per cent currency thirty-year bonds for $1,000 each. The payment of the bonds and coupons was secured by a mortgage of the rental to be paid to that company, and certain coal lands. Afterwards, by agreement, the amount of coal lands embraced in the mortgage was reduced, and the Chicago & Illinois River Railroad Company retired and cancelled 226 of the bonds, above mentioned, and the coupons thereto attached, leaving 474 bonds outstanding. The road has been put in running order, and is now operated by your company; but sufficient time has not elapsed for the development of the coal fields on the new line to produce much additional coal traffic. We are, however, well satisfied that the increase of traffic and other advantages, resulting from the operation of that line by your company, will fully compensate you for all that is to be paid for its use. By an agreement entered into in November last between the Chicago Pekin & Southwestern Railroad Company, the Chicago & Illinois River Railroad Company, and your company, the first named company was granted the right to run its trains over the new line, upon payment of its proportionate share of the interest on the value of the road, and the expense of keeping the same in repair.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Continued experience in operating the leased lines confirms their estimated value to your company. The gross earnings upon your lines during the last year were less than for any year since 1868. If the reduced earnings had been due to the opening of new lines competing with yours, or to any cause of a permanent character, it would lead to serious apprehension as to the future value of your property, but to all who have been well advised as to the crops, during the last two years, in the country traversed by your lines, the cause of this large decrease in earnings is apparent. The large reduction in passenger receipts results, to a considerable degree, from the general prostration of business throughout the country. But the number of passengers, as well as the amount of freight transported, has been largely reduced by the successive short crops.

Illinois Central Railroad.

The annual report has the following:

"The revenue from traffic and the receipts from the Land Office have provided for the interest charge and for the usual dividends upon the shares, leaving a surplus of $109,023 56 at the credit of income account, which is $87,195 23 less than the surplus at the close of last year. The net traffic of the line was $2,670,081 92, and the income from land $223,297 42. The business suffered from the pressure of competition by lines adjacent to our own, that have been obliged to suspend interest payments upon their debts. The directors expect less interference from this source the present year. We have, besides, to report an exceptional harvest of corn, more abundant than any for several years. Several large claims upon the company, of many years standing, have been liquidated, leaving us at the present moment free from any, except such as arise from actual current business.

"Steel rails have declined to about half the prices paid three years since. We have 12,000 tons purchased at the present low rates, and have ordered 500 freight cars to be in readiness on the first of May, and shall, if the traffic develops as the managers of the line anticipate, increase this number. To meet these outlays, £200,000 sterling 5 per cent. bonds have been sold at a fair premium.

"The benefit of the Southern line has proved, the past year, about equal to the interest charge which the company has incurred in promoting its construction. But we have not derived the large traffic which would have been obtained, if the managers of that line had possessed the means thoroughly to equip and maintain their road. The directors are negotiating with the owners of this property, in the hope that measures may be concluded which will put this line in good working order from Cairo to New Orleans, and give the advantage which has hitherto failed to accrue to our interests.

"The present debt of the company is $9,765,000; the share capital $29,000,000. On the 31st of December the company owned 301,636 40–100 acres of land, and held $686,035 80 land notes."

Union Pacific Railroad.

(For the year ending December 31, 1875.)

The annual meeting of stockholders was held in Boston on the 8th inst., and the following board of directors was elected for the ensuing year: Oliver Ames, Elisha Atkins, Sidney Dillon, F. Gordon Dexter, Benjamin E. Bates, Oliver Ames 2d, James D. Smith, Charles J. Osborn, Samuel M. Mills, Jay Gould, Ezra H. Baker; S. H. H. Clark, of Omaha; Joseph Richardson, John Sharp, of Salt Lake; G. M. Dodge, of Council Bluffs. Of these gentlemen all were members of the board last year with the exception of Ezra H. Baker, who succeeds his deceased father, and S. H. H. Clark, general superintendent of the road, elected in place of George S. Scott.

The directors afterwards met and organized by the choice of Sidney Dillon as President, Elisha Atkins as Vice-President, and E. H. Rollins as Secretary and Treasurer.

Mr. Jay Gould brought up the Ames and Davis contracts in the following resolution, the indorsement or rejection of which he asked should be left to a written stock-vote, the list of the votes thus cast and the names of the persons voting to be recorded:

Resolved, That the draft of a contract between this corporation and the several parties named or described therein, who are beneficiaries or trustees under what is known as the Oakes Ames contract, and the J. W. Davis contract, and the assignment thereof, and who may execute the same, which contract is herewith submitted, be, and the same is hereby, assented to by this company, and the treasurer is hereby authorized to execute the same in behalf of this corporation and affix the corporate seal thereto.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a vote of 23,534.

Mr. Gould then offered the following resolutions, both of which were adopted:

Resolved, That the draft of a contract between the stockholders of the Credit Mobilier of America, who may execute the same, and this company, which is herewith submitted, be, and the same is hereby, assented to and approved, and the treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to execute the same and affix the corporation seal thereto.

Resolved, That the treasurer be authorized to sign and execute in behalf of this company the draft of a bill in equity against the Credit Mobilier of America, advised by counsel, for the purpose of asserting the rights and claims of this company against the said Credit Mobilier of America, and enjoining the prosecution of a suit by said last-named corporation against this company, now pending in the Supreme Court of Massachusetts.

The annual report of the President was read, and extracts from the important parts are quoted below. It is devoted to a general account of the earnings and transactions of the year. The ability of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads to make large gross earnings, on the basis of their present charges for transportation, has been pretty thoroughly demonstrated during the past two years. It has also been shown that they are able to work at a lower percentage of operating expenses than any other prominent roads. The information which the public most need about the Union Pacific, and which they have never yet had in its reports, is a general balance sheet, showing in detail the liabilities and assets of the company, and also a statement of its obligations for, or contracts with, other companies. It is to be hoped that such information will be furnished in the full pamphlet report when issued.

The President's report contains the following:

| Actual gross earnings for 1875 were | $11,993,832 09 |
| Operating expenses, including taxes | 4,932,047 95 |
| Leaving surplus earnings | $7,011,784 14 |

Operating expenses being 41 54–100 per cent of gross earnings.

Compared with the year previous, there has been an increase in the gross earnings of $1,433,951, an increase in expenses of $127,344, increase in surplus of $1,306,607. The commercial passenger-business gains, $467,614, being 12 63–100 per cent; commercial freight $938,818, being 19 48–100 per cent. Government business shows a decrease in passengers of $71,459, being 29 70–100 per cent, and in freight, $82,214, being 25 96–100 per cent. Mail earnings have not changed in amount since July 1, 1873, being $315 per mile per annum.

The rate of expenses to earnings last year was considered as very small; this year it has been decreased from 45 97–100 to 41 54–100 per cent, a decrease of 4 42–100 per cent; and this is accomplished in the face of the extraordinary expenses incurred during during the spring flood.

There has been expended for new construction during the year, $500,365; included in this are 12 new locomotives, 41 second-class passenger cars, 85 new freight cars, iron bridge for Dale Creek, new headquarters and depot at Omaha, &c. The sum of $182,589 has been expended in replacing wooden bridges with iron and steel, and repairing permanent structure, all of which has been charged to the operating expenses. The entire road-bed, together with equipment, depots, water supply and snow defence, has been brought to a high order of efficiency, as demonstrated by the winter's experience.

The consumption of fuel by motive power for 1875 was 148,876¼ tons of coal and 7,137 cords of wood, at a cost of $4 75 for coal and $6 50 per cord for wood. The increase of consumption over 1874 was 31,364¼ tons coal, and 806½ cords of wood.

The equipment of the road is now ample for present business, and consists of 164 locomotives, 167 passenger and baggage cars, and 3,060 freight cars.

The new rolling mill at Laramie has been completed, and has cost $212,503 33, and has a capacity to roll 20,000 tons per annum. It is now in full operation, turning out satisfactory work; and has re-rolled for the company during the year 6,378 tons of iron at the contract price of $18 50 per ton.

Arrangements have been made during the year with the Kansas Pacific Railroad, so that its system of railroads in Kansas and Colorado are working in harmony with the Union Pacific and its system, which is proving mutually beneficial to both.

* * * * The late decision of the United States Supreme Court, decreeing that the interest upon the government bonds is to be paid at the time and in the manner of the principal of the bonds (leaving half of the government transportation to be paid to the company), has lifted from the property the only clouds that rested upon it; by that decision there is due the company from the Government $1,054,547 02, which will undoubtedly be paid as soon as the remaining question now pending in the United States Court, being "what is due under the section of the act of 1862, known as the five per cent. clause," is decided. The company are satisfied that their construction of this clause is correct, and that under the decision of the Court there will be found at the present time nothing due the Government. The Government and company are using due diligence in bringing this question to a final decision, after which, we trust, there will be no delays in the company receiving promptly its half-earnings of all government business.

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

Cleveland Columbus Cincinnati & Indianapolis.—The following is a summary of earnings and operating expenses for the year 1875:

| | 1875. | 1874. | Decrease. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Earnings | $3,774,217 | $4,218,606 | $474,388 |
| Expenses | 2,726,876 | 3, 82,155 | 455,279 |

Delaware & Bound Brook.—The New York & Philadelphia New Line has been completed, so far as track laying is concerned, and a train with officers of the companies interested passed over the whole line March 6. Some work in the way of ballasting and finishing up still remains. There will then be two lines under different managements between New York and Philadelphia. The new line is made up of the North Pennsylvania main line, from Philadelphia to Jenkintown, 9 miles; the Delaware River Branch of the same road, from Jenkintown to Yardleyville, 20¼ miles; the Delaware & Bound Brook, from Yardleyville to Bound Brook, 27 miles, and the Central of New Jersey, from Bound Brook to New York, 31¼ miles, being 88 miles in all, or a mile less than the existing line.

Indianapolis Bloomington & Western.—Receiver Wright announces his inability to pay a further dividend on the back-pay rolls until April 1. Although the earnings of the road for some time past have been large, all surplus above current expenses will be needed to pay Receiver's certificates falling due March 15. The Receiver has contracted for 300 tons steel rails, to be delivered in March, for use in renewal of track.

Indianapolis Cincinnati & Lafayette.—This company and the Cincinnati Lafayette & Chicago, which extends the Cincinnati line from Lafayette to the Illinois Central at Kankakee, have agreed upon a substantial consolidation of business and interests, the separate organizations of both to be still maintained.

Macon & Brunswick.—The act authorizing the issue of Georgia State bonds, in exchange for the bonds of this company endorsed by the State, failed to pass the Legislature. A bill was passed authorizing the issue of new 7 per cent. State bonds, having twenty years to run, to an amount sufficient to pay the interest due and falling due on the endorsed bonds which are now recognized by the State. The act extends also to the endorsed bonds of the North & South Road. The State Board of Directors has finally rejected the bids made for the lease or sale of the road, and the matter is referred back to the Governor, who will decide what action is to be taken.

Northern Central.—The stockholders, at their annual meeting, on the 24th of February, having approved the new mortgage issue of $3,000,000 of five per cent. bonds, having fifty years to run, to be exchanged for $3,000,000 of income bonds, dated January 1, 1872, the holders thereof are requested to make the exchange at the Fidelity Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company, Philadelphia, the trustees of the new mortgage, with whom the new bonds have been deposited for exchange.

Pacific Mail.—A meeting of the Board of Directors was held early this week, of which the Times says: The meeting was called late on Saturday evening at the instance of Sidney Dillon, the President of the company, and Jay Gould. There were present Messrs. Dillon, Gould, George F. Deforest, C. J. Osborn, James B. Smith, and Rufus Hatch. Three of the Directors, Messrs. Scott, Ames, and Reilly were absent. A prominent stockholder of the company made the following statement to a Times reporter:

"The object of the meeting this morning was to consider the propriety of issuing bonds and offering them to the stockholders to pay off the loan falling due in August to the Panama Company, and the balance of the notes due on the steamers if it should become necessary. The company has already paid on the last three steamers built by John Roach, costing over $2,000,000, about $1,600,000, and the balance of this is running through a period of nearly twelve months. In paying down this large sum, $180,000 was used in taking up notes of Mr. Roach, which had nine months to run, instead of applying the money to the payment of the first notes falling due, which accounts for the financial straits of the company at the present time. No apprehension is expressed by the officers of the company as to their ability to meet their engagements and protect their property. It was a mere mistake in taking up long notes instead of the short ones, which it was supposed that the earnings of the steamers and about $500,000 due as subsidy and from the Government of Japan, would easily enable the company to meet. This amount should have been received by the company before this, and is a good asset, although not immediately available."

It is understood that an issue of $2,000,000 bonds was authorized.

—The following statement has been issued in a circular, but no name attached to it:

Sunbury & Lewistown.—In accordance with the resolution of first mortgage bondholders, the Sunbury & Lewistown Railroad was offered for sale; at auction, at the Philadelphia Exchange, March 9. The bidding was started by one of the bondholders for $150,000, and was raised to $160,000. As there seemed to be no disposition to go over this, the sale was postponed until Thursday, March 28, when the road will be sold without limit.

Western Union Telegraph Dividend.—The directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company met on Wednesday, when President Orton submitted the following report:

Dividends were resumed for the quarter commencing April 1, 1874, since when there have been paid seven quarterly dividends of two per cent each. On the 1st of April, 1874, there was a surplus on hand of $514,584 23. The net earnings from April 1, 1874, to December 31, 1875 (one year and nine months), were $5,730,577 53, making a total of $6,245,161 76. During the seven quarterly dividends amounted to $4,729,188. During the same time the interest on bonds paid and accrued amounts to $842,328 67, and the sinking fund is $87,500, making a total of $5,659,016 67, and leaving a balance of $586,145 09. To this balance should be added the proceeds of the sales of bonds issued in 1875, in excess of the amount required to redeem the bonds which matured November 1, 1875, amounting to $302,202, making a total of $888,347 09.

| During the periods covered by the above statement there has been expended in the completion and furnishing of the new building | $823,327 13 |
| Construction and purchase of new property | 614,407 89 |
| Total | $1,437,735 02 |
| Deduct from this the surplus as above | 888,347 09 |
| Leaving a deficit on the 31st of December last of | $549,387 93 |

The business of the current quarter, based upon the official returns for the month of January, nearly complete returns for the month of February, and carefully estimating the business of the month of March, will show substantially the following results:

| | | |
| Receipts | | $2,220,811 10 |
| Expenses | | 1,500,795 57 |
| Net profits | | $720,014 53 |
| The interest on the bond debt accruing in one quarter amounts to | $117,000 | |
| Sinking fund | 20,000 | |
| Deducting the amount from the net profits of the quarter, as stated above, would leave, applicable to dividends | | 583,014 53 |
| But, as already shown, there was a deficit on Jan. 1, 1876, of | | 549,387 93 |
| Which, deducted from above, leaves | | $33,626 60 |

All of which residue will be expended, during the quarter, upon construction which it has been deemed, advisable to authorize.

While, therefore, the business of the current quarter, in spite of the severe depression in all branches of trade, and the reduction of rates by our competitors, will be nearly up to that of the same period of last year, it will be seen from the foregoing exhibit that, after providing for the interest and sinking fund payable on the 1st of May next, there will be no funds on hand wherewith to pay a dividend. In view of these facts, the Executive Committee have adopted the following resolution for the consideration of the Board:

Whereas, This company has, during the last two years, expended in construction and new property a considerable sum, which it was intended to provide for by capitalization; and

Whereas, The policy of such capitalization is deemed inexpedient, and as the estimated earnings at the end of the current quarter will be sufficient to entirely liquidate the amount so expended and leave the company free from floating debt; therefore,

Resolved, That this committee recommend to the directors to postpone action upon the question of a dividend until the next quarterly meeting of the Board.

The report was adopted and the meeting adjourned.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, March 10, 1876.

There is some improvement in general trade. The weather has become spring-like and the prospect is good for an early re opening of inland navigation at the North and West. The coal miners of Pennsylvania will, it is announced, resume work on the 20th inst. But embarrassments arising from unsettled credits and uncertain values continue to be felt; and there is little promise that the volume of business for the spring of 1876 will equal, much less exceed, that of last spring.

The speculation in pork and lard has been variable, but latterly this tendency has, on the whole, been in favor of sellers. Statistics of pork packing at the six leading cities, during the season just ended, show a falling off in the aggregate, compared with the seasons 1874-5, of 300,811. The average net weight of hogs packed at these points last year was 209.47 lb. Upon the basis of the comparative weights here indicated for this season, the average would be about 219½ lb. net, or an increase of 10 lb., or about 5 per cent. There was yesterday some excitement in the lard market, especially with reference to spots and early futures. It was stated that stocks are well concentrated, but mostly sold for the later months, and of course not offered; hence there is a scarcity for other deliveries and something of a "corner" on spots and contracts for March. Bacon has been quiet, but pickled and smoked meats have been more active at full prices. Beef and beef hams have been steady, with a fair movement in butter and cheese. Tallow has declined to 9@9½c. for prime. To day the market was easier for pork at $22 75 for mess and $19 for extra prime. Lard also showed some depression with sales at $13 62½ for spot, $13 67½ for April and $13 85 for May; but other hog products were very firm.

Rio coffee has been less active, and prices have lost a portion of the recent advance, fair to prime cargoes going at 16½c.@18c., gold. The stock at this market yesterday was 199,400 bags, and the visible supply for the United States, 306,400 bags. Mild coffees have been dull and close lower; Java, 22c.@25c., and Maracaibo, 16½c.@18c., gold; stocks on hand, 150,800 mats Java, &c., and 38,200 bags of other growths. Rice has been in fair demand and steady. Teas have sold fairly, but at weakening prices. Foreign dried fruits are generally dull and unchanged. Molasses has been more active; four cargoes of Cuba have been sold for consumption and export on the basis of 33c. for 50 test. Domestic in large stock and lower. Sugars are rather firmer for raws at 7¼c.@7⅞c. for fair to prime refining, but under liberal supplies and some pressure to sell, the close is weaker. Refined active at 10⅝c. for standard crushed. The movement in raws has been:

| | Hhds. | Boxes. | Bags. | Melado. |
| Receipts since March 1 | 17,889 | 8,060 | 50,900 | 355 |
| Sales since March 1 | 7,441 | 3,220 | 1,268 | 486 |
| Stock March 9, 1876 | 26,232 | 11,204 | 105,111 | 1,606 |
| Stock March 11, 1875 | 28,361 | 34,368 | 108,663 | 1,396 |

Kentucky tobacco has again ruled lower at 5@6½c. for lugs and 8@14c. for leaf; the sales for the week embraced 350 hhds., of which 300 were for export and 50 were for consumption. Seed leaf has continued in fair demand, and prices have remained about steady; the sales embrace: crop of 1873, 54 cases New York at 6½c., 126 cases Ohio at 8½c., 93 cases Illinois at 7½c., 200 cases New England on private terms; crop of 1874, 68 cases Ohio, part at 4c., 100 cases Pennsylvania and 225 cases New England, on private terms; and, crop of 1875, 27 cases Florida at 12½c., and 22 cases Wisconsin, frosted, at 3c.; also, 150 cases sundry kinds at 7@25c. Spanish tobacco has been in moderate demand and unchanged; the sales were 400 bales Havana at 88c.@$1 15.

The business in ocean freights has been moderately fair in the aggregate, sufficient, under the light supply of tonnage, to hold rates in a steady position. The individual demands of any trade, however, are far from being large. Late engagements and charters include: Grain to Liverpool, by steam, 7d. per 60 lbs.; cotton, by steam, ¼d.; provisions, 30@35s. per ton; cotton, by sail, 7-32d.; grain to Bristol, by sail, 8d.; do., by steam to Antwerp and Bremen, 8½d.; do. by steam, to Rotterdam, 9½d.; grain to Cork for orders, 6s. 9d.; refined petroleum to the Continent, excluding Dutch ports, 4s. 3d. To-day, there was only a small business, but rates were steady, and if anything a trifle better. Grain to Liverpool, by steam, 7¼d. per 60 lbs.; bacon, 30s. per ton, grain to Glasgow, by steam, 9d.; do. to Cork for orders, 6s. 9d. flat, per quarter; naphtha from Baltimore to Havre or Antwerp, 6s.

The market for hides has continued very quiet, but prices are without essential change; dry Entre Rios sold at 20@20½c., gold, four months; dry Buenos Ayres quoted at 20@24c., gold, and dry Texas, 19@21c., currency. Linseed oil in fair jobbing demand and steady at 59@60c.; other oils quiet and unchanged. Whiskey has declined to $1 09½@$1 09½, tax paid. Clover seed has been active and closes at 14½@15c. for Western and State.

Naval stores have been fairly active, that is, in spirits turpentine, which has advanced, and closes firm at 39c.; rosins have latterly been dull; common to good strained, $1 60@$1 65. Petroleum at one time was fairly active and firm, but closes dull at 14@14½c. for refined, in bbls., and 8⅝c. for crude, in bulk. American pig iron is about steady, with sales latterly of 500 tons American at $23 for No. 1, and $21 for No. 2. Ingot copper is without change, with late sales of 200,000 lbs. Lake at 22½@22⅝c. cash.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE CROP, as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night, is given below. For the week ending this evening (March 10) the total receipts have reached 78,380 bales, against 86,215 bales last week, 109,676 bales the previous week, and 110,576 bales three weeks since, making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1875, 3,569,522 bales, against 3,052,782 bales for the same period of 1874–5, showing an increase since Sept. 1, 1875, of 516,740 bales. * New Orleans.—Our telegram to-night from New Orleans shows that (besides the above exports) the amount of cotton on shipboard and engaged for shipment at that port is as follows: For Liverpool, 74,000 bales; for Havre, 22,000 bales; for Continent, 37,000 bales; for coastwise ports, 2,500 bales; which, if deducted from the stock, would leave 193,000 bales representing the quantity at the landing and in presses unsold or awaiting orders.

† Galveston.—Our Galveston telegram shows (besides above exports) on shipboard at that port, not cleared: For Liverpool, 6,218 bales; for other foreign, 5,297 bales; for coastwise ports, 1,542 bales; which, if deducted from the stock, would leave remaining 35,038 bales.

‡ The exports this week under the head of "other ports" include from Baltimore 667 bales and 223 bags Sea Island to Liverpool, and 191 bales to Bremen; from Boston 907 bales to Liverpool; from Philadelphia 933 bales to Liverpool; from Wilmington 811 bales to Liverpool.

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that, compared with the corresponding week of last season, there is an increase in the exports this week of 42,238 bales, while the stocks to-night are 91 bales more than they were at this time a year ago. The market for cotton at this port has been excited and variable during the past week, closing, however, with some improvement. For export, as well as consumption, there was an active demand, and no inconsiderable business was done for speculation early in the week. Lines in transit for European markets and for arrival here were taken with some freedom; and the whole market showed that revival which had been so long expected and persistently delayed. On Monday, quotations for spots were advanced ¼c., with holders largely withdrawing their stocks from sale. This was followed by some inactivity and weakness; but to-day the market was very firm and fairly active, but without quotable advance. For future delivery, there has been much activity and excitement, prices, however, being subject to frequent and violent fluctuations. The tendency, on the whole, has been upward, and at the close last night prices bid were about ¼c. above the previous Friday. The speculation for a rise received a serious check on Monday, from the large receipts at New Orleans and Memphis, of which the "bear" party took advantage to make a strong effort to break down the market. But the "bulls" proved too strong; and on Tuesday the decline was fully recovered. The fluctuations that have taken place are largely due to speculative manipulation, and to the struggle between the two parties on our Cotton Exchange. Yesterday, Liverpool was lower for arrivals, but receipts at the ports pointed to a very small total; thus both parties had equal grounds for action, and after fluctuations of 1-16c. the close was at about the inside prices of the previous evening. To-day, the demand for futures was not active, but the market gradually strengthened, until the close showed an advance of 3-32@⅛c., owing to small receipts at the ports and steadier accounts from Liverpool.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 141,500 bales, including —— free on board. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 12,793 bales, including 4,041 for export, 6,420 for consumption, 1,229 for speculation, and 1,103 in transit. Of the above, 1,350 bales were to arrive. The following are the closing quotations:

The above totals show that the old interior stocks have increased during the week 1,239 bales, and are to-night 20,778 bales more than at the same period last year. The receipts at same towns have been 11,518 bales more than the same week last year.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—There has been some rainy weather in the South the past week, but, at most points, no more than usual and desirable at this season of the year. Crop preparations are making fair progress. The present indications are that there will be no falling off in Texas of the amount of land devoted to cotton.

Galveston, Texas.—Corn planting is now generally finished throughout the State, but as yet very little cotton seed has been put in the ground. Preparations are, however, progressing favorably. We had showers on two days in the early part of the week; since then it has been pleasant. The rainfall has reached sixty-two hundredths of an inch, and the thermometer has averaged 63, the highest being 76 and the lowest 50.

Indianola, Texas.—We had a shower on one day, the rainfall reaching fifteen hundredths of an inch. The weather has been warm, seasonable and pleasant. The thermometer has averaged 64, the highest being 78 and the lowest 49. Corn is growing finely. We are now bedding up for cotton.

Corsicana, Texas.—The weather has been variable this week, with two cold days. Two days in the early part of the week it rained hard; since then it has been clear and pleasant; the rainfall reached one inch and thirty-three hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 58, the highest being 80 and the lowest 34.

Dallas, Texas.—The past week has been mainly favorable for crop purposes. Corn is now all planted, and preparations are making for cotton. Last season's ready sale of grain will stimulate its culture this year; but the probability is that the cotton acreage will not be diminished. Immigration has been heavy. We had a shower on one day, with a rainfall of fifteen hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 66, the highest being 70 and the lowest 36.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—Rain fell on one day during the week to the extent of one inch and ten hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 59.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—We had rain on Saturday and Monday last, the rainfall reaching one inch and thirty-seven hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 59 during the week, the extremes being 79 and 37. Receipts show a falling off from last week, caused by low water in the upper river.

Vicksburg, Mississippi.—There was rain on one day this week to the extent of two and eighty-four hundredths inches. Average thermometer during the week 58, highest 74 and lowest 36.

Columbus, Mississippi.—We have had warm, sultry, wet weather this week. The thermometer has averaged 59, ranging from 45 to 73, and the rainfall has reached one inch and ninety three hundredths.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and Friday of the past week, have been cloudy, with a rainfall the first three days of one inch and twenty-two hundredths. The thermometer has averaged during the week 55, the highest being 72 and the lowest 37. Preparations for planting are progressing.

Nashville, Tennessee.—We had rain on one day during the week, the rainfall reaching fifty-six hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 50, highest 62 and lowest 38.

Memphis, Tennessee.—It has rained two days this week, and the rest of the week has been cloudy, the rainfall reaching one inch and fifty-nine hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 55, the highest being 64 and the lowest 45.

Mobile, Alabama.—It has been showery one day and cloudy two days the past week, the rainfall reaching fifty-two hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 58, the highest being 71 and the lowest 37.

Montgomery, Alabama.—The early part of the week we had rain on one day, the latter part being clear and pleasant. The rainfall was one inch and sixty-one hundredths. The average thermometer has been 56, the highest 73 and the lowest 32.

Selma, Alabama.—It rained one day this week, the rainfall reaching forty two hundredths of an inch, but the rest was pleasant. The thermometer has averaged 54.

Madison, Florida.—We have had one rainy day this week and a rainfall of thirty-three hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer, 58; highest, 72; and lowest, 44.

Macon, Georgia.—It has rained on one day this week. The thermometer has averaged 57, the highest being 80, and the lowest 32.

Atlanta, Georgia.—It rained heavily here one day, the rainfall reaching one inch and twelve hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 55, the highest being 68, and the lowest 24.

Columbus, Georgia.—There has been one rainy day here this week, the rainfall reaching one inch and thirty-three hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 57, the highest being 72, and the lowest 34.

Savannah, Georgia.—There were two rainy days here during the past week, but the remaining five days were pleasant. The rainfall was seventeen hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 57, the extremes being 47 and 67.

Augusta, Georgia.—It was showery here one day, but the rest of the week has been pleasant, the rainfall reaching thirty-one hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 58, the extreme range being 74 to 30.

Charleston, South Carolina.—There has been one rainy day this week, the rainfall reaching thirty-four hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 34 to 71, averaging 56.

The following statement we have also received by telegraph showing the height of the rivers at the points named at 3 o'clock March 9. We give last year's figures (March 12, 1875) for comparison.

It will be noticed that the figures for Great Britain are to February 3d, and therefore include five weeks, while the Continental figures are only for four weeks.

BOMBAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable despatch received to-day, there have been 17,000 bales shipped from Bombay to Great Britain the past week, and 5,000 bales to the Continent; while the receipts at Bombay during this week have been 35,000 bales. The movement since the 1st of January is as follows. These are the figures of W. Nicol & Co., of Bombay, and are brought down to Thursday, March 9:

| 1876 | 17,000 | 5,000 | 22,000 | 82,000 | 65,000 | 147,000 | 35,000 | 216,000 |
| 1875 | 26,000 | 32,000 | 58,000 | 208,000 | 108,000 | 316,000 | 56,000 | 416,000 |
| 1874 | 17,000 | 8,000 | 25,000 | 150,000 | 71,000 | 221,000 | 45,000 | 332,000 |

shipments from Bombay to Europe, and that the total movement since January 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 169,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1875.

GUNNY BAGS, BAGGING, &c.—Bagging has ruled very quiet during the past week, and no sales have been made that we hear of. Prices rule nominal at 12¼@12¾c., asked, with buyers offering about ¼c. under these figures. Bales continue dull at 9@9¼c. for India and 12¾c. for Borneo. Bags are quiet and prices nominal for 440s. Butts have been rather quiet, the late arrivals in Boston and at this port, about 16,000 bales, having supplied the wants of consumers for the present. Prices are still quoted at 3¼@3⅝c. in a small way, but round lots could hardly be placed except at a concession in price.

LIVERPOOL, March 10.—3 P. M.—BY CABLE FROM LIVERPOOL.—Estimated sales of the day were 12,000 bales, of which 2,000 bales were for export and speculation. Of to-day's sales 6,800 bales were American. The weekly movement is given as follows:

Below we give all news received to date of disasters, &c., to vessels carrying cotton from United States ports:

AUSTRALIAN, str. (Br.), Peters, from Mobile for Liverpool, before reported at anchor in Hampton Roads, with loss of rudder, &c., was towed to Norfolk, March 1, in order to discharge cargo, preparatory to being taken North for repairs. Steamer Haytien has been ordered from the West Indies to take the cargo of the Australian to destination. She is expected to arrive at Norfolk in about eight days.

JUVENTA, ship (Br.), France, from Mobile for Liverpool, had repaired and reloaded at Key West, and was ready for sea March 1st.

TUCKESTAN, ship (Br.)—The position of the ship Tuckestan, from New York for Liverpool, which went ashore at Port Madoc, was unchanged Mch. 2. All the cotton (1,010 bales) had been saved, as well as 4,070 bbls. of flour and 175 bags of seed, all in good, dry condition.

JOHN GEDDIE, ship (Br.), Jackson, at Charleston for Havre, took fire Mch. 5th. The cargo on board, consisting of 2,357 bales of upland cotton, was damaged mostly by water, with which the vessel had been filled. The insurance on the cargo is reported to be entirely in foreign offices. The freight money, £500, is insured at Charleston. The vessel is owned in Liverpool. She was pumped out on the 5th, and will discharge her cargo immediately, the fire having been extinguished.

BREADSTUFFS.

The flour market opened the week quite dull, with prices showing some depression in the common and medium grades, and the trade generally showing an unsettled and discouraged tone. But on Tuesday there was some revival of demand for export, and there have latterly been pretty free sales to shippers at $4 75@$5 for unsound extra from winter wheat; $5@5 05 for full lines of common extras from spring wheat; $5 50@7 25 for good to choice do.; $6 35 for St. Louis, and $5 85@6 for city brands. The demand was brisk on London account. Supplies have not proved excessive, but receivers are inclined to decrease rather than increase stocks in store at this stage of the season. Corn meal, at some decline, has been more active, but rye flour has remained quiet. To-day, there was an active export demand, and the sales embraced 5,000 bbls. common extras at $5@5 10.

The wheat market was dull early in the week, and prices were somewhat depressed for the poorer qualities of spring growths. The better grades were firmly held, however, and the demand has been more active since Tuesday, with some recovery of tone. Still, it is apparent that holders are more inclined to meet the views of buyers, and reduce stocks, than at any other time since the close of inland navigation. The stock here and the visible supply in the markets of the United States are much in excess of last year, and the weather much more favorable for spring sowing. The principal supports to prices continue to be the cheapness of money and the belief that Great Britain must be a large buyer later in the spring. To day, there was an active and rather firmer market, the demand being mainly for export.

Indian corn has varied but little, and yet some weakness in prices must be noted. There is a subsidence of speculative action at this point, and supplies of new have been ample. The business has been mainly at 62@63½c. for fair to prime new mixed and 68@69c. for choice old do. The supply of Southern corn has been small, but it has sold at barely the prices of Western. To-day, the market was dull and prices weak.

Rye has met with more inquiry, and is held stronger; but the views of buyers and sellers remain wide apart. Barley has been salable at pretty full prices. Canada peas have sold in car lots at 96@97½c., in bond.

Oats have been lower, but at the decline to 43½c. for No. 3 and 46c. for No. 2, the demand became very active, and yesterday there was a recovery of ½c. in prices, with a large business in the better qualities of mixed, including a load of choice State at 48c. To day the market was flat.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

The package trade in domestic cotton and woolen productions has been quiet the past week, and prices have not been so firm as could be desired. Some pressure to sell was exhibited on the part of manufacturers' agents, and more disposition to place goods "on memorandum" has been evinced. The jobbing trade has shown more activity, owing to the arrival of buyers from various parts of the interior, who have been induced to operate with a fair degree of freedom, because of exceptionally low quotations for many descriptions of domestic goods. Prints continued in a demoralized condition, and further price reductions were made openly, besides which heavy sales of certain styles were effected on private terms. It was a busy week in the auction rooms, and large quantities of imported merchandise were distributed through that medium, but transactions with importers lacked the spirit of former seasons, and were light in the aggregate amount. The export trade in domestic cotton goods has shown a gratifying increase, and shipments for the week reached 3,583 packages, of which 2,157 packages were sent to China in execution of orders placed some time ago. In print cloths the movement has become important, and about 15,000 pieces weekly are now being shipped from Fall River to England, which will be increased to 20,000 pieces weekly as soon as a sufficient number of looms can be changed to make the required widths.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—Heavy standard, fine brown and popular makes of four-yard brown sheetings were in fair demand, and prices ruled steady, with the exception of a few leading standards, on which an increased discount of 2¼ per cent was offered by agents. Fine and medium bleached shirtings were fairly active and firm with agents. Colored cottons continued sluggish, except denims and cheviots, in which there was a moderate movement. Cottonades were less active and outside makes were offered at prices which are signally unprofitable to manufacturers. Corset jeans and satteens were in steady request and firm. Marseilles, jacquard and honeycomb quilts and piques were more sought for and met with fair sales. Print cloths were dull and weak, with a decline to 3⅞c. cash for extra standard 64x64 clothe—the lowest price these goods have ever touched when reduced to a gold basis. So much for over-production. Prints remained in an unsettled condition, and Pacific, Cocheco, Manchester, Hamilton and all other leading standard makes were reduced to 7c., while Sprague's, Southbridge and Allen's declined to 6¼c for fancies and 6c. for shirtings. Old styles of fancy prints were offered in large quantities by the principal jobbers, at prices ranging from 4½c. upwards, and met with liberal sales. Wide prints, percales and cambrics were in good demand, and there was a satisfactory movement in ginghams and cotton dress fabrics. Cotton hosiery was less active than when last reported upon, but steady in price.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—There was not much, if any, improvement in the demand for men's-wear woolens by the clothing trade, but cloth and dry goods jobbers invested in a fair aggregate amount of cassimeres, suitings and worsteds of the finer grades. Goods of an inferior character are in over supply, and are found difficult to move even when offered at a marked concession from nominal holding rates; but fine makes are less plentiful, and as many mills have already discontinued the production of light weights, the supply of really desirable fabrics is in good shape, and there is a fair prospect for the distribution of stocks on hand at about current prices. Cloths and doeskins were taken in small lots for the renewal of assortments. Kentucky jeans were in moderate demand for medium and fine qualities, and low grades were fairly active. Satinets were in limited request for printing, and small lots of mixtures were disposed of but plain blacks ruled quiet. Tweeds and repellents moved slowly, and flannels were in strictly limited request. Worsted dress goods and shawls were in fair demand by jobbers from all parts of the country, and were steadily held by agents.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There was a fair movement in dress goods from the hands of importers and jobbers, and, as it has become apparent that the importation of British and Continental fabrics for the spring trade will be exceptionally light, prices of both staple and fancy goods are firm. Low and medium grade black and colored silks were in steady but moderate request. Linen goods were comparatively quiet in importers' hands, but were largely sold at auction. Plain and fancy white goods were rather more active, and very heavy lines of Hamburg embroideries and laces were distributed through the auction rooms at fair prices. Ribbons and millinery piece silks were in better demand from importers, and were duplicated in the auction rooms in considerable amounts. Woolen goods for men's wear continued quiet and depressed, aside from a few strictly desirable styles of cassimeres and worsted coatings which met with fair sales by importers and cloth jobbers.

SECURED BY

FIRST MORTGAGES OF IMPROVED REAL ESTATE.

GUARANTEED, PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST,

BY ITS

CAPITAL STOCK OF $500,000.

Interest Coupons payable semi-annually. Bonds registered to order, or payable to bearer at option. Accrued interest is not required to be paid by purchaser, the next-due Coupon being stamped so as to denote that interest begins at the date of purchase.

These Bonds are commended to the attention of the MOST CONSERVATIVE INVESTORS, as they are believed to be as perfect a security as can be obtained. The issue of Bonds is limited to one-half the amount of the same class of Bonds ever issued under a like Guarantee.

The security of each Bond is not confined a to single Mortgage, but extends over all the Mortgages owned by the Company. This Company receives no deposits, guarantees no other securities, and has no other debts than its bonds. Its Mortgages are of like character to those which have been bought in the last twenty years by Individuals, Life Insurance Companies and other Corporations, to the amount of more than Fifty Millions of Dollars, proving a most secure and satisfactory investment. The Loans are all upon improved Farms in some of the most fertile Western States, near the Railroads, with short and perfect titles, and average less than $650 each, upon property worth nearly four times their amount. Experience has proved that well-selected Mortgages upon this class of property are safer than those upon city property, either in the East or West. They are not affected by Fires, or by Business revulsions; Principal and interest are more promptly paid; and upon the success of Agriculture depends that of almost every industrial investment.

THE STATE BANK OF NEW YORK AND ITS TROUBLES.

Whatever differences of opinion may prevail as to other aspects of the trouble of Tuesday in the Bank of the State of New York, all parties must agree that it has afforded an opportunity for observing both the strength and the weakness of our National banking system. Here we have an institution of high standing, half a century old, enjoying a distinguished reputation and numbering among its stockholders several bankers of this city of great wealth and experience. This bank, which seemed to be so stable in other respects, had a capital of $2,000,000, with a sworn surplus, December 17, 1875, of $400,000. Tried by the ordinary tests of solvency and strength, the State Bank seemed one of the most trustworthy of our moneyed corporations. Its owners were known to be rich, its conservative habits of business were proverbial, its reserves of legal tenders were always ample. A week ago it would have seemed as ridiculous to have suspected the stability of this respectable old banking corporation as in London before 1866 to have doubted the solvency of Overend Gurney & Company. Even last Saturday the greenback reserve was reported at $1,095,500, with $325,000 of specie, giving a total of $1,420,500 of lawful money, against $2,855,200 of deposits, and $247,900 of circulation. With such a statement as this it cannot seem strange that the report that the bank had closed its doors, and had been suspended from the Clearing-House, was received at first with incredulity, and then with dismay. The masses of the people reason rapidly under the pressure of such a shock, and there was a general disposition to jump to the conclusion that if this bank had fallen others would also succumb, and scarcely any one was safe. The whole National system of banks, it was contended, must be weak, indeed, if this institution was so. Soon, however, the explanation came and quieted the incipient panic. The general alarm soon subsided when the substance of the report of the Bank Examiner was announced, that by bad banking the capital of $2,000,000 had been impaired to the extent of more than a million and a quarter, and that among the unavailable assets were overdrafts, protested paper, and loans to the Vice-President of the bank amounting to $230,000. The surprise and dismay which at first prevailed were turned into satisfaction that the mischief had been brought to light, mingled with complaints that the disclosure had not been made before. We shall not dwell now upon the details of this disaster, which will be found reported in another column. Our purpose is simply to glance at some of the lessons it is adapted to teach us.

The first of these suggestions is, as we have said, the weakness of our National banking system. Every financial man knows that in any banking system of modern times there are three general directions in which to look for the signs of weakness and danger. One is in the cash reserves. If any commercial country which pretends to regulate its banking machinery does not take care that its banks keep within instant reach an adequate supply of cash to meet demand obligations, that country will find sooner or later that its banking fabric is weak on the side which is unprotected, however strongly buttressed it may be on other sides. A second source of possible weakness in any banking system is in the note circulation. In England, Sir Robert Peel, in his legislation of 1819 and 1844, applied an effective remedy to this second cause of trouble, while the first is less perfectly provided for, and will hereafter, no doubt, give distinction to the name of some future legislator of Great Britain. In this country both these evils are provided with remedies. In regard to the bank reserves and to the safety of the bank circulation, our National system of banking is believed to be peculiarly strong.

But there is a third cause of weakness, namely, that of "bad business." All banks are liable to have their funds squandered in bad loans made by lazy, or corrupt, or incompetent officials. This is, perhaps, the most frequent cause of bank failures. It is the disease which most frequently proves fatal to individual banks, and therefore if financial science or banking experience can point us to any safeguards that can be used for the extirpation of this fatal malady, they ought to be put in force, and kept in force in all their wholesome and conservative vigor. How far this disease of "bad business" affects the National banks throughout the country it is not for us to say. We have no adequate information. What is proved is, that a single bank had held for some time a million dollars of unavailable assets, and no one suspected the fact except the inculpated officials. We have often insisted upon the duty of the Comptroller of the Currency and his examiners to keep up a vigilant search for such evils. The event we are discussing presents this duty in a new light, and enforces it with urgent sanctions.

But this leads us to consider, secondly, the strength of our National banking system. That system partakes of the elasticity and power of adapting itself to circumstances which is said to be characteristic of our other institutions. If the weakness of our National banking system were much greater and its exposure to danger more imminent, it is often said that the inherent force of the banking organism would develop some new feature to cope with the new evil. However this may be, the evil before us is fully provided for, as is proved by the swiftness and energy with which it was dealt with in the Bank of the State of New York. The process was equally simple and efficient. The official examiner, in the regular course of his investigations, discovered the misdoing. He summoned the officers of the Bank. They failed to put the bank assets in an available shape. The facts were reported to Washington. The Clearing House investigated the Bank and suspended it by an overwhelming vote. When suspended, the Bank, with a folly equal to its previous mismanagement, closed its doors, though it had in its vaults a million and a half of lawful money, with other assets, amply sufficient to pay all its debts and return a million of dollars or more to the stockholders. Of course, the appointment of a receiver for a bank in such a condition was not to be thought of. This is not, however, the advantage we chiefly insist upon. It is rather the promptitude with which the discovery of the trouble was made. Of course, if the evil had gone on unchecked, it would have soon grown to more disastrous dimensions. How, then, was it found out? Its disclosure was due to the fact that our National banking system is provided with a detective machinery for the express purpose of bringing to light this kind of banking abuses. Of this machinery the chief part is the appointment of bank examiners, who are accomplished experts in banking. Their duty is to go in turn into every National bank in the country, to examine its condition for the detection of just such evils as have here been brought to light. In this case the Examiner seems to have acted with commendable fidelity, and the only question is whether if this officer were not so overworked, and if he could have visited the bank oftener than once a year, he could not have stopped the mischief at an earlier stage. That the bank examiners should be sufficiently numerous to go their regular rounds among the banks, twice or thrice a year, is an opinion which has frequently been expressed in financial circles. From the facts of this case, it receives some confirmation

THE STATE LEGISLATURE AND THE SAVINGS BANKS.

"The state of the savings banks," it has been said, "is often the barometer of the financial situation." On this principle, and with a view to further action, the Legislature at Albany ordered, some time ago, the publication of the savings bank aggregates of this city. The figures have evoked considerable criticism. Surprise has in some quarters been expressed that the deposits this year compare unfavorably, in certain respects, with those of previous years. The aggregate deposits show a slight increase, but the amount deposited during the year, including the interest credited, was only $80,900,863. As the interest was $9,859,148, it appears that the total deposits of the year amounted to $71,041,715; but the deposits withdrawn amounted to $75,086,606. It thus appears that over four millions were drawn out of these banks in excess of the sum deposited during the year. Some of the stronger as well as of the weaker savings banks in the city show a balance against them, the sums withdrawn being greater than those deposited. This is seen by the following table, which shows the aggregate deposits held by the various banks, together with the amount received and withdrawn in 1875:

* Including interest.

It is scarcely necessary to say that the movement above indicated is the result of well known and obvious causes. Our savings bank system is the reservoir in which a multitude of families store up their reserve funds, for use in hard times. The operative classes of the community, to whom these reserves belong, are not earning as large wages as formerly. Some of these men are out of work, others are paid for their work at lower rates, while others again have as steady and as large wages as ever. With the utmost economy on the part of those who are wholly or partly without work, some drain is pretty sure to be made upon the accumulations of the past; and as to the other classes of depositors—those who earn less wages and those who earn full wages—some of them have left the city, and the public mind has been so violently agitated by the rumors of trouble among the savings institutions that we need not wonder that they withdrew their deposits, even if they replaced them in bank afterwards. On the contrary, if we take a candid survey of the circumstances, we shall find ground for surprise that the depletion of the savings bank deposits has not been more active. The follow ing table shows the principal aggregates for the last three years, with the deposits and chief investments:

AGGREGATES OF NEW YORK SAVINGS BANKS, 1873-1875.

These statistics throw considerable light on several points connected with our savings bank system. They illustrate the incipient effects of the general savings bank act which went into operation last year. This new law enforced a more full and complete statement of the condition of the banks. They now have to report all stocks and bonds at cost price, as well as at their estimated market value and their value at par. This single provision, if enforced by proper penalties for false statements, will prevent the repetition of such scandals as have recently disfigured the annals of some of our broken banks. Another important change in the law concerns the call loans. The available fund for such loans under the old charters ranged from one-tenth to one-third of the total deposits, and was sometimes lent on securities in which the bank trustees were personally interested. This fruitful source of evil has been remedied under the new law, which limits the available fund for call loans to ten per cent of the aggregate deposits, and prescribes the best securities as those which alone are to be taken as collaterals.

The full effect of this provision is not seen in the foregoing figures, for the simple reason that call loans have been unpopular with the savings banks as well as unremunerative during the last three years. When, however, the rates for money in Wall street rise once more to a high level, the old temptations which led astray some of our savings institutions in former years will be prevented from doing similar mischief by the salutary restrictions of the new law. It is to be regretted that this act does not enforce a more frequent publication of the statistics of the savings banks. The official publication ought to be made three or four times a year, instead of once, as is appointed at present. It would conduce to the establishment of the public confidence, if the statements of these institutions were published quarterly with the reports of the State banks.

Another point of interest in the foregoing table is in the proof it gives us that the investments of the savings institutions are preferring bonds and stocks, instead of mortgages on real estate. There is no doubt that this is a judicious innovation. We have always held that a mortgage on improved real estate, at a low valuation, is one of the best forms of security in which to invest a certain proportion of savings bank money. But our banks already hold the full amount to which the best authorities limit this class of investment. Moreover, a considerable aggregate of real estate appears to have fallen, during the year, by foreclosure or otherwise, into the hands of the savings institutions.

Taking the whole of the facts together there is abundant reason to regard the present position of the savings banks of this city with satisfaction, or at least with less of anxiety than appeared to be justified a short time ago. There are, it is true, a number of weak banks over which Mr. Superintendent Ellis will, of course, keep a strict watch. During the last ten years the rage for savings bank organization exhausted itself, and most of the superfluous institutions here and elsewhere have perished without inflicting so much loss upon the general community as was expected. To the inordinate multiplicity of savings institutions we must doubtless ascribe most of their failures which have taken place during the last four years. Another fruitful cause of trouble has been the incapacity or corruption of the officers whom the law in its present state appears incapable to reach and adequately to punish for breach of trust. Of course we must also attribute a part of the savings bank troubles to the perturbation of our finances and the approach of specie payments. But it is well known that an efficiently conducted savings institution is better provided than other monied institutions with safeguards against such general causes of financial perturbation. The State Legislature has done well to cause an early publication of the foregoing figures, and if they will pass a brief law requiring a quarterly report from every savings institution, the aggregates to be published like those of the State banks, they will confer a signal benefit, not only upon the savings banks and their depositors, but upon the general public.

SILVER RESUMPTION.

It is well known that the Treasury now has in its possession about $15,000,000 of silver coin ready for issue, having made this preparation in obedience to the act of 1875, and that the experiment of substituting silver for the fractional currency is likely soon to be tried. We say designedly "experiment," for, under the existing circumstances, we can regard it as nothing else.

By those who favor the plan, not a little has been published lately to prove that silver is a more economical currency than paper, and great prominence is given this consideration, as if it were of paramount importance. In support of the allegation of cheapness to the Government, figures are published as to the cost of the present fractional currency which, although official, we are compelled to question, because it is not shown whether the currency is made as cheaply as it could be; and whether the renewal of it is not unnecessarily rapid. We do not stop to discuss these points, however, as this portion of the inquiry is of very little significance. Were we to grant all that is claimed, we do not conceive that the problem of silver resumption, at the present time, would be one step nearer solution. All we care to say is that if silver is a cheaper currency than paper, the fact is remarkable, and is contradictory of all beliefs hitherto held, for there is no better confirmed principle about money than that the use of a nearly non-intrinsically valuable material for the great bulk of transactions is both convenient and economical, provided only that ready convertibility into gold is retained.

Turning, then, from this point, we come to the most emphasized argument of the silver resumptionists, and that is that silver payments will help us prepare for resumption, and we are bound to consider this idea to have been the reason of the silver clause in the Sherman act of 1875; Mr. Sherman has repeated it in his speech within the past week. But is this conclusion so unquestionably clear? The Government is not in default on the fractional currency, and never was; the bits of paper bear no formal promise, but are made, by a sentence on their backs, exchangeable for United States notes, and this understanding has always been fulfilled. The silver must be bought with gold direct, or by issuing bonds, or with notes; whatever is paid for it, the process weakens to the same extent the Government ability to pay its notes by exhausting, in the attempt to perform a contract never made, the strength that is needed in preparation for paying its long dishonored notes. Instead of helping resumption, the issue of silver will, therefore, it would seem, be so far a hindrance to it. The plea that the people will learn to desire resumption by becoming once more accustomed to the touch and sight of coin has plausibility, and so far there might be a good result; but we incline to think that the importance of this is exaggerated, and that whether the silver will be much sought, after curiosity is satisfied—except as the fractional currency, through use and not being renewed, becomes much defaced and on that account undesirable—is one of the uncertainties.

But a far more important inquiry than any we have noticed is whether the silver currency, even after it is issued, will stay out. We do not doubt that the early issues at least will be readily taken by the people. Curiosity alone will "float" a considerable amount, and the familiar principle that the worst currency always expels the better will help the substitution, for the fractional currency is now actually worth about four cents on the dollar more than the subsidiary coin. But to see what will follow we must examine the conditions as they exist at present. Supposing the real (gold) value of silver itself to remain stationary, the continuance of the silver will be necessarily dependent upon the gold premium, or, in other words, upon the value of the greenback. A decline in the gold premium will increase the difference in gold value between the silver and the paper, and will tend to render the former non-acceptable. How strong this tendency will be, depends upon the degree to which the paper appreciates, but how great its effect will be it is impossible to say. On the contrary, if the gold premium rises, the present difference between the subsidiary coin and the fractional currency will lessen, and if the rise should continue to 120 or above, the silver will become the more valuable; in that case it is indisputable that the silver will disappear again, as it disappeared in 1861. Whether its disappearance would follow as soon as the silver became any more valuable than the paper is not certain, but of the inevitable tendency there is no room for doubt. Should that result be experienced, the fractional currency having been meanwhile withdrawn, a resort to postage stamps and various shin-plasters would again be necessary.

These remarks are based upon the supposition that silver remains stationary in value, and they show what may follow in that case. But another cause of uncertainty must be named: silver may not remain stationary. If it should rise in value—which does not seem likely—the subsidiary coin would receive an impulse to go out of circulation; if it should decline further, the effect of such decline would be the same in kind as that of a decline in the gold premium. A decline in the gold value of silver and in the gold premium—or, to be exact, a decline in silver, together with a rise in paper—would bring two causes into operation to depreciate the silver and make it non-acceptable as a currency; a rise in the price of silver and in the gold premium would bring the causes into operation to so appreciate the silver in respect to paper as to sweep it out of circulation; a decline in silver with a rise in the gold premium, or a rise in silver with a fall in the gold premium, would set in operation two causes working against each other. What is silver likely to do, and what is gold? The latter question it would be pure conjecture to answer; as to the other, there are some very significant data. The production of silver has been, as we all know, enormously on the increase of late years, although it is but fair to cite, and admit as not unreasonable, the plea of Senator Jones that a moderate further decline in the price would stop or at least check production at some of the mines; with this increase of supply there has been and is now a diminution of demand, which seems likely to continue somewhat further. As proof and reason it is necessary only to mention that some of the European nations have demonetized it, and there does not appear to be any considerably increasing use for it in the arts. On the other hand, there is the possibility that the demonetizing process may in some one or more nations be reversed, such changes of policy not being altogether unprecedented; and there is also the Eastern outlet. The former of these will probably not be at all speedy; the other is one of the difficult financial questions of the day.

We throw out these suggestions, not as conclusive that silver, when once issued, is again to go out of sight, but simply to indicate the uncertainties of the problem, and to ask whether, with such uncertainties, it is wise for the Government to enter upon the plan. More especially does the expediency of the experiment seem doubtful when taken in connection with the further fact we have raised, that in making it we are using resources which might be applied for securing goldwith which to redeem our greenback circulation.

SUGGESTIONS FOR COTTON PLANTERS.

Messrs. Smith, Edwards & Co., in their circular of Feb. 29, give us their opinion of the probable cotton supply, consumption and course of prices for 1876, as follows:

Now let us look at this year's supply. Take the American crop at 4,600,000 bales, what will be the supply from other quarters? We allow an increase of 100,000 large bales from Egypt on the average of the last three years, possibly 150,000 bales; but we look for a very heavy decrease from India. This will arise, not so much from the shortness of the crop, as from the extremely low price and the paralysis of the machinery for moving the crops of that country. At this period of the year the greater proportion of the Bombay crop is usually contracted for up country, and every effort is being made to hurry it down as fast as possible to Bombay, and ship it off against arrival sales made on this side. This year the machinery of the trade is almost at a standstill. Hardly any cotton is being placed on this side; few contracts are being made at Bombay; the arrivals thus far are scarcely one-half what they were last year, and it is our impression that, if no recovery takes place before the month of May, one-fourth of the crop will not be shipped to Europe this year.

We therefore incline to think that 300,000 to 400,000 bales less cotton will arrive from India this year, and no doubt some deficiency from other sources as well. Therefore we should say that 2,400,000 is a full allowance for the supply from other quarters than America, against 2,700,000 the last three years, but owing to the preponderance of Egyptian cotton, in place of counting this as equal to 1,800,000 American, we shall reckon it 1,900,000 bales of American size, and the total supply for this season will be—

| | | |
| American crop | 4,600,000 | bales. |
| Other kinds equal to American | 1,900,000 | " |
| | 6,500,000 | " |
| Consumption of Europe and America | 6,400,000 | " |
| Surplus of supply over consumption | 100,000 | " |

and this, we think, will all go to increase the invisible stocks of spinners, which were very low last autumn, and are likely to be pretty large the coming one, especially on the Continent.

We therefore venture the opinion that the visible supply of cotton on the 1st October next will be no greater than last year, and people will then be arguing that if a crop of 4,600,000 has all disappeared, what supply shall we need for the following season?

Our impression is that a great rise of prices will take place if the opinion prevails that next crop is not likely to be more than four millions. If next season is an average one, we do not think more than this can be calculated on, especially as these low prices are likely to give a certain check to cotton cultivation in America. At present the prevailing opinion in that country seems to be that no check will be given; there is, of course, no certainty on this point, but we incline to think that cotton cultivation in the northern belt, where it is largely kept up by using fertilizers, will diminish; possibly this may be made up in the southwest, but we doubt it.

We feel sure that in most other countries cotton cultivation will decline at present prices. India only yielded half a million of bales annually for some years before the American war, with Fair Dhollerah at 5d. per lb. Of late years it has furnished 1½ million bales to Europe. We should think that at 4d. for Fair Dhollerah this may diminish to one million bales or so if these low prices continue long enough to fairly check cultivation. We think even Egypt, which is eminently adapted to cotton growing, will not keep up at the extraordinary low prices now ruling for Egyptian cotton, and there can be no doubt that Brazil, Turkey and the West Indies will fall back to a most insignificant position if present prices are to continue.

If we grant the above figures to be all correct, is it quite safe to rely upon the conclusion? We speak now to those who are preparing to plant cotton, for we do not wish them to be induced, by over sanguine expectations, to plant more than they can cultivate economically. The South is in no condition to venture money on shadows. This covering one's self all over with debt for the purpose of raising a few extra bales, on the expectation of a rise of a penny or more a pound, has become too monotonous to be even exciting. To return then to our question—is it quite safe to rely upon the above conclusion that there is likely to be a "great rise in prices?" We hope there will be, and there may be, but is it probable on the figures given?

First, it will be noticed that in the supply India is put down at a decrease of three to four hundred thousand bales, "not," they say, "so much from the shortness of "the crop, as from * * * the paralysis of the "machinery for moving the crop." Hence, this estimate is on the basis that there will be a surplus left over there for next year. This is not unlikely. We have heard of those "surplnses" in this country before, and sad experience has taught us that their influence on the market is about as decided as if stacked up in Liverpool. And any man who plants cotton on the supposition that the India surplus may be counted out in forecasting the future, will find his conclusion based on very feeble premises.

Nor can we have the utmost faith in an immediate large reduction of the cotton acreage in India. This was the idea we had when the war closed and prices declined. But when we looked at the railroad map and saw what an immense amount of land had been brought within the reach of the market since 1860, we found reason for changing our views. With ante-war prices (5d. for fair Dhollerah), and 435 miles of railroad (in 1860), India supplied the world with about 500,000 bales of cotton. Now the problem is, with 6,250 miles of railroad (this is the report for 1874, as we have not yet received the figures for 1875), and 4⅜d. for fair Dhollerah, how much can we expect as the permanent supply? Remember, in the same connection, that ever since the India planting season of last summer began, fair Dhollerah has ruled below 5d., and yet the acreage in some districts was increased this year; the present crop being less, simply because the weather has been unfavorable, as our reports have shown. Besides, if this "great rise in prices" is to be realized, it will come just at the time India is preparing to plant again, and hence would be a stimulant to increased acreage there. We cannot, therefore, feel that it is safe for the Southern planter to base his calculations on a largely decreased supply from India next year. Nor do we anticipate that there is to be an immediate reduction in the Egyptian cotton acreage. Brazil is more doubtful, but the bales are so small that the whole supply even now is less than 200,000 of our bales; cut it off one quarter and it is only equal to a loss of 50,000 bales American. As to other sources of supply, altogether they contributed in 1875 but 27,000,000 pounds, or (at 440 lbs. net) a little more than 60,000 American bales; deduct one-half, and an increase in our supply of 30,000 bales makes good the loss. We thus see that it will not do for us to run into debt much, for the purpose of planting cotton, on the belief that other countries will at once materially reduce their supply.

Then, again, would one be wise in risking his all on the venture that our next crop will be less than 4,000,000 bales? Of course it may be; but we must use our common sense in this matter, and does that tell us it is likely to be? Remember that the object in what we are writing is to determine whether it is well for the planter to shut his eyes to the fact that prices are very low, and act as if there was going to be "a great rise." What are the probabilities, then, as to acreage? In the Southwest there has been a considerable increase of labor; in fact, we believe that to be true of much of that section which has given such a good yield this year. Does that indicate a reduced acreage? Or do we hear as yet of any very material reduction in planting preparations in those States? The weather generally has also been very favorable for farm work. Then, again, would it not be well for us to bear in mind that the cotton secured in 1875 throughout that section was less than the amount raised, because of the unfavorable picking season? Consequently, we do not see the capabilities of the present acreage in the yield of this year. With regard to the Atlantic States, we think the chances are that there will be less planted; yet this is by no means certain. But granting such is to be the case, the yield of those States, with a favorable season, would even then be more than this year's yield. We are not saying what is to be, only what may be. Bringing all these possibilities and probabilities together, is there anything in the American prospect to encourage the running into debt to raise cotton?

These remarks do not cover the whole field by any means. More might be written to discourage the over-ambitious planter; and we may soon have something to say on the world's consumption and supply for 1876 which will throw further light on the same subject. But as the circular we have quoted from above is likely to be widely copied,—Mr. Smith's opinions being highly esteemed, and deservedly so,—we have felt that a few words of exception to the conclusion he reaches were desirable. We do not write with any foolish idea of restricting the planting, so that prices may be high. Such advice would be of no use if given, and would be every way weak and the object undesirable. But we think it is very important that the old plan, so many years followed, of doing everything on credit and going to the utmost limit of that credit in order that a few acres more may be cultivated, should be changed. Our motto would be, raise your own food and then raise as many bales of cotton as you can without becoming the slave of debt. And if some good Samaritan would have those words prominently posted on every plantation in the South, they might be heeded; and, if they were, it would take but few years to make that section the wealthiest portion of the country.

THE CENTENNIAL.

The progress of the buildings and other preparations for the Centennial has been so fully told by the newspaper correspondents that prior to the opening on the 10th of May there is little to be said concerning its merely visible aspects. The desired appropriation has been obtained, and the raising of funds is substantially accomplished; the buildings are so far advanced that it is safe to count upon perhaps less than the usual hurry and incompleteness at the opening; and although it is yet too early to know how the space will be filled, a successful exhibition is now assured. The first international exhibition, in 1851 in London, in the original "Crystal Palace," covered twenty acres, and cost $1,464,000; this prompted the New York exhibition of 1853, in the Crystal Palace building on Reservoir Square, afterwards destroyed by fire, covering but 5¾ acres, and costing $500,000. Then came successively the Paris exposition of 1855, covering 30 acres, and costing $4,000,000; the London one of 1862, covering 24 acres, and costing $2,300,000; the Paris one of 1867, covering 40½ acres, and costing $4,596,763; the Vienna one of 1873, covering 50 acres, and costing $9,850,000. The Centennial is to cover 60 acres, and to cost $6,724,350, occupying, therefore, the largest area, and at an apparent economy of cost. These figures, of course, represent the cost of construction only. The total inclosed space is 230 acres. The floor space of 60 acres is exclusive of the space occupied by the buildings erected by other nations, these buildings being 15 to 20 in number; also those erected by the several States, some 18 or more; and those for general purposes connected with the exhibition. Comparing these figures with those of previous exhibitions, it is easy to see that in its size, at least, the Centennial is already assured of being a decided success.

What it will be in respect to quality more than quantity of goods, in respect to representation of the nations and the completeness with which what is shown will indicate their industrial condition, in respect to suggestive processes and (what is not a minor consideration) the comfort of visitors, of course, is yet to be shown; still great confidence is felt that in all these particulars it will excel. There has been no lack of occupation of the spaces allotted, in the proprietary sense, by other nations, and several of the oldest nations are the first to arrive with their goods and representatives. The whole exhibit of Egypt reached the grounds in January. The Japanese embassy and exhibit were only a few days later, and they have erected their own buildings by their own workmen. The Emperor of Brazil is himself expected to be present, and this is a guaranty of the best that vast empire can produce. A full representation is expected from our ancient neighbor, Mexico. From the States of Europe there is no deficiency in interest apparent.

A gathering of material products, an exhibition of natural wealth and of processes, and a spectacular occasion in which all nations bear parts, may be and should be made of great educational value. We scarcely know yet the natural resources of even our own country. The sight of our iron in ore and in sheets thinner than writing paper and proving its wonderful tenacity; of gold quartz, sliced smooth and brimming over with gold, like honey in the comb; silver cubes direct from the Big Bonanza; copper blocks from Lake Superior; some of all these polished and some in the rough; our tall corn and cane in juxtaposition with cotton in the boll; sections of great trees; samples of our rich soils; and of other of the materials Nature has placed at our disposal, will be one to inspire confidence in, and impart instruction to even ourselves. Of course, the exhibition of processes of manufacture is limited by the necessities of the case, but if this is managed wisely it may be made, partly by showing processes themselves and partly by furnishing the hints to be found in specimens taken at the successive stages of manufacture, as instructive, if not as gratifying to the eye of the mere sight-seer, as the display of completed products. Of how many and how varied schools this Exhibition may be the scene, to those who possess a discerning eye, will never be written; but previous exhibitions have been followed by a noticeable industrial stimulus and a brisker market, and from that fact the inference about the Centennial is fair. It will be, as well, a school of humanity, in which the domestic and industrial life of other nations may be studied, shown in miniature. National characteristics may be read in a comparison of the tools used, without looking at their products. The difference is wide between the saw which the Italian or the Japanese holds, while he rubs the stick of wood upon it, and the American circular saw; but one has done its work as well as the other, when the stick is cut, and the real difference is in respect to speed. The Western is in a hurry; the Eastern has all the time there is, and makes no account of it in his operations. Steam would have built the Pyramids in far less time; but time was not an element of cost, for Egyptians were plenty and had nothing to do but haul. The peculiar American union of energy with impatience, which has conquered a continent and harnessed the forces of Nature, is keenly alive to the value of time; and the result is that our industrial activity has multiplied production, the aim having been not more perfection in the product than speed, and consequently economy, in its production. Accordingly, a comparative and analytical study of the Centennial cannot fail to furnish interesting evidence of the proposition that we surpass most other nations in respect to machinery and its uses, but that some of the others notably surpass us in ingenious uses of the bodily powers, and particularly in the training of the eye and the hand.

Finally, may we not express the hope that we may have a deliverance from all clap-trap. Let the Eagle rest. It is fair to expect a full representation of home products, because, in the first place, we are a show-loving people, running to the window and standing at the street corner at small provocation, and we believe thoroughly in "big things." In the second place, we are a nation of advertisers, keenly alive to blowing our individual trumpets, and just now, when trade is depressed and we have time to think of inviting it, there should be an unusual readiness to try the colossal advertising which the Exhibition offers. The same consideration should influence other nations, for Americans are large and desirable customers in the world's markets, and trade is nowhere so brisk that indifference to the prospect of wide markets is to be expected. We should therefore have a successful exhibition; but let us try on modesty and see how it befits us. To the extent that Nature has endowed us the praise is Nature's, and not ours; to the extent that we have used the dowry wisely we may take modest congratulations. The capable man is the quietest man, and there will be occasion enough for humility. We shall find that the Centennial will be in spots a sort of dramatization of Mr. Wendell Phillips' "Lost Arts." The barbarians will confound us with the craft of their fingers in textile stuffs, in depth of colors, in metal working, and in many things. Many of us may find that the world is larger than we had supposed, that some new things are very old, and that perhaps we are not so much the centre as we had supposed ourselves. Shall we lack humility in the school which presents it as the first lesson to the willing learner. We have not used the dowry of nature always wisely, as our useless railroads show. We have discounted and squandered, and have spent to-morrow before to-morrow came. Shall we exhibit our selling of offices and our management of savings banks to nations which punish crime without asking many questions? Shall we establish a branch of the Government Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Philadelphia and present fresh specimens of greenbacks to nations which will immediately test them by acid and scales? Shall we propose to the barbarians a new lesson, that paper and gold are one thing and that a promise accompanied by faith in the promisor is the same as fulfilment? If this is so here, it is so everywhere, and the world must learn the lesson. Shall we undertake to teach it, and shall we begin—if that is the lesson why not so begin—by repealing the Sherman promise of 1879? Shall we boast of our troubles as prosperities, or shall we put them behind us as shame to be covered, and then boast of what we have done in the century; or shall we show what we have, be thankful and yet humbled for what we are, and leave outspoken comparisons to our visitors?

LONDON, Saturday, Feb. 26, 1876

The money market has been in a quiet state during the week, but there has been no material alteration in the rates of discount. The tendency has, however, been downwards, the best bills being taken in the open market at 3⅛ per cent. The supply of money seeking employment is ample, and there has been no increase in the quantity of bills in circulation. The prospect is that the money market will assume an easier appearance, as notes and coin are still returning from provincial circulation, while our importations of the precious metals promise to be on a somewhat larger scale. We shall be, therefore, in a better position to meet any export inquiry for gold, and, consequently, there will be fewer apprehensions regarding the future course of the money market. The quotations for money are as follows:

The rates of interest allowed by the Joint-stock banks and discount houses for deposits remain as follows:

In the Stock Exchange a dull tone has prevailed and prices are, in most instances, lower. Speculators have evinced considerable disposition to sell, and most of the securities, the value of which has lately been forced up by speculative operations, have experienced a considerable decline in value.

It appears that the process of importing meat from the United States and Canada into this country has been attended with a considerable measure of success. It is well known that since the wages of the laboring classes have improved so much, there has been a large increase in the consumption of meat, and consequently the price has been considerably enhanced. On Christmas Eve last, a supply of 40 tons arrived in London, and was disposed of in the Metropolitan Market in perfectly sound condition. Since then a consignment has been made about once a fortnight, and the total delivery now amounts to about 360 tons. During the last twenty-five years, meat has, in this country, about doubled in price, and the consuming portion of the community are gratified that the means which are being adopted to increase the supply and diminish the price have been attended with success. During the winter the process does not appear to be a very difficult one; and some anxiety is therefore felt as to how far the process will be successful during the hot weather. It is contended, however, that as prime joints of meat are obtainable in Ottawa at 4d. per lb., there is a large margin of profit for transportation and the expenses of refrigeration. The modus operandi which has led to this success is very simple. The animals are brought alive from inland, and killed when the vessel is ready to receive their quarters. This transportation has at present been confined to the Gulon line of steam packets. A chamber is fitted up in the hold of the vessel; around the chamber, tanks for holding ice are placed. All being duly ready, the cattle are killed, and the quarters are sown tightly in coarse cotton sheets. These packages are then hung in the compartment of the vessel, just close enough together for a current of air to pass freely between them. If they touched, and there were no current of air, they would begin to decompose and turn mouldy in a very short time. An artificial current is produced by a fan which is driven by the steam power of the packet. Thus a cold dry air of about 35 to 38 degrees is preserved throughout the voyage. The meat is not frozen, but it is kept in just the required condition to make the lean firm and the fat hard, whereby decomposition is almost completely arrested. Of the greater portion of these consignments the only defect was a slight sopped redness on such prominent parts as the neck-ends and the sides of a few quarters. This discoloration we therefore attribute to the parts mentioned swinging against the sides of the compartment, and thereby getting wetted with the condensed vapor on the side of the tanks. Otherwise, it would have been difficult to tell this American beef from home-grown and home-dressed animals. If there was anything unusually striking about the best of the quarters, it was the extraordinary manner in which they were filled with suet and the lean was dappled with fat. Most of the carcasses have realized 5s. 4d. per stone of 8 lb., at which price one set of quarters, weighing 147 stones, and sold by Messrs. Bowyer & Son, made £39 and some odd shillings. This is practical evidence both of their size and quality.

Pensacola & Louisville.—This road was sold under execution in Pensacola, Fla., March 6, and was bought by J. W. Black, of New Orleans. The road is 44 miles long, from Pensacola northward to a junction with the Mobile & Montgomery near Pollard, Ala. The suit in which the sale was ordered arose out of a purchase of lands and bonds of the old Alabama & Florida company from the Forsyth estate.

Pittsfield & North Adams.—At the adjourned meeting the stockholders authorized the directors to sell the road to the Boston & Albany for a sum equal to 95 per cent of the capital stock, provided that sum is paid July 1, 1876, together with the 3 per cent rental dividend then due, and provided also that the Boston & Albany give up all claims for charges and offsets against the company. If it is found necessary to procure legislation to authorize the sale, the board is given power to extend the lease one year from July 1st on the same terms as the present lease. The road is 18.65 miles long and the capital stock $450,000, so that on these terms it will cost the Boston & Albany $427,500, or $22,922 per mile.—Railroad Gazette.

LIVERPOOL AND LONDON AND GLOBE INSURANCE CO.—The fortieth annual meeting of the Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company was held in Liverpool, on the 23d of Feb., when a report was presented congratulating the stockholders on the satisfactory state of the company's affairs. The report states that the net fire premium income of the past year amounted to $5,723,124, the losses to $2,869,542, and after paying all charges and exposes, the account shows a surplus from the fire business alone of $1,196,734, and that they had carried from the surplus of the year $825,000 to the general reserve and fire re-insurance fund, which now amounts to $4,675,000. After other details of the company's business, the report concludes by proposing to pay a dividend for the year of 30 per cent. The profit on the whole business of the company amounted to $1,817,678, and the invested funds now amount to $28,425,160; thus showing that the present financial position of the company is better, by a very considerable amount, than during the best period of its existence before the great American disasters (Chicago and Boston fires of 1871–1872.) The business of the United States branch contributed to the above results as follows: Fire premiums, $2,328,140. Losses, $841,870; expenses, $744,587; total, 1,586,457; net surplus, $741,683. Mr. James E. Pulsford is the resident secretary in the United States, with offices at 45 William street.

FRIDAY, MARCH 17, 1876—6 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The principal event of unusual importance this week was the suspension of the Bank of the State of New York, which closed its doors on Tuesday morning. As a number of brokers and other business men in the vicinity of Wall and William streets kept their accounts at this bank, the announcement of its failure at first created much excitement and caused a small panic in the stock market, followed by a recovery in the latter part of the day. The directory of the bank has since been reorganized, with an entirely new board, composed of exceptionally strong names, and with Mr. August Belmont as president, and it is intimated that it may continue in business. In regard to the general effects of the suspension two points are chiefly apparent.—First, that this is an isolated case, fortunately disconnected with the transactions of any other bank, and therefore indicates no general weakness; Secondly, that the failure occurred, so far as yet known, through the mismanagement of the Vice-President of the bank, and apparently with little knowledge on the part of the Board of Directors. This latter fact is calculated to shake confidence among bank customers and will naturally lead them to inquire more carefully into the business character and the operations of their bank officers.

The failure of Mr. Daniel Drew who has for a long time been in embarrassed circumstances, is entitled to be mentioned among the week's events. Mr. Drew has been among the most prominent speculators known in the history of Wall street, and has finally succumbed to the games with which he had been accustomed to "twist" his cotemporaries.

In our local money market there has really been little change to regular borrowers of good standing, although in the flurry on Tuesday a large bank injudiciously called in a good many of its loans, and this, with the temporary loss of confidence, caused loans on the street to be put up for the moment to sharp 7 per cent., with a commission added. To-day, also, there was an attempt to shake confidence and to quote loans at 1-32 commission, but this was hardly successful, and the real price of call loans is from 3 per cent. on government collaterals to 4@5 on stocks. Prime commercial paper is in demand at 5@6 per cent.

On Thursday the Bank of England showed a gain of £395,000 in bullion for the week, and the discount rate remained unchanged at 4 per cent. The Bank of France gained 14,932,000 francs in specie.

The weekly statement of the New York City Clearing-House Banks, issued March 11, showed an increase of $953,400 in the excess above their 25 per cent legal reserve, the whole of such excess being $13,993,600, against $13,040,200, the previous week.

The following table shows the changes from the previous week and a comparison with 1875 and 1874:

United States Bonds.—There has been a fair business in governments this week without any feature of special importance. The London market appears to have been pretty well drained of bonds, and we hardly look for any further considerable movement in this direction unless there should be another rise here, or some unfavorable influence to depress prices in that market. The prices given below show very little change from last week.

State and Railroad Bonds.—There have been quite a number of sales of Missouri State sixes at 103½@104 for the long bonds. Tennessee sixes, new, sold to-day at 41¾. Virginia bonds are dull without much change in prices, pending the discussion of the subject of an increase in taxation. Louisiana consols are firm, and as to the funding of Levee 8s and N. Louisiana and Texas bonds, the Funding Board has submitted the questions again to the courts, and will do nothing for the present.

Railroad bonds have been well maintained on a fair business. To-day there was some activity in the St. Paul bonds, owing to the declaration of the dividend of 14 per cent., payable in the consol. mortg. 7s—these declining to 88. Chic. & Northwest. coupon gold bonds sold to-day at 94. Toledo & Wabash St. Louis Div. bonds sold back to 70¼. There has been a large advance in railroad bonds since the first of the year, which bids fair to be sustained if railroad earnings keep up, and if there is a reasonably conservative management in the several companies.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The market this week has been somewhat variable and not characterized by a decided movement in one direction or the other. On Tuesday, there was a rush to sell stocks on the announcement of the bank failure, and prices declined sharply, with a recovery towards the close of the day. There was a further improvement on Wednesday, and since then prices have fluctuated with considerable irregularity. Pacific Mail, after selling down to 18½ on Monday, recovered yesterday to 24 and closes to-day at 21¼. In this stock and Western Union Telegraph, since the recent decline which has taken place, there is more liability of a fluctuation of 1@2 per cent at any time, by the contest between long and short interests. The question of a dividend on St. Paul preferred has been settled by the declaration of 14 per cent for 1874 and 1875, payable in the consolidated bonds of the company. It was rumored that an injunction would be applied for to prevent the payment of the dividend, on the ground that sinking fund provisions on one of the old mortgages had not been complied with. The President claimed that no such injunction could stand. To-day there was an attempt to advance the price of money and depress stocks by rumors arising from the sale of 2,200 shares of Bank of Commerce stock at the Board. Of this the Post says:

"The sale of 1,000 shares of Bank of Commerce stock at the first board and 1,250 shares this afternoon were used in the Stock Exchange for the purpose of creating alarming rumors. We are able now to say that this stock was sold by a leading foreign banker, who had a small amount of the stock of the Bank of the State, and who has gone into the new board of that bank for the purpose of reorganizing it. The stock was bought by a capitalist who is thoroughly acquainted with the Bank of Commerce affairs, and who is anxious to obtain 2,000 shares more at 115, the lowest price paid for the stock he bought to-day. The Bank of Commerce is the largest bank in the National system, and one of the soundest and most conservatively managed."

Total sales of the week in leading stocks were as follows:

The Gold Market.—Gold has been steady throughout. In the absence of any further large shipments, there has been nothing to disturb the price materially, and fluctuations have been limited to a small range. To-day, exchange was marked up to rates which warrant the export of coin, and some moderate engagements were reported to have been made for to-morrow's steamers. On gold loans to-day the rates paid for carrying were 3½, 4, 3, 2 and 1 per cent. Loans were also made flat. Customs receipts for the week were $2,350,000.

The following table will show the course of gold and operations of the Gold Exchange Bank each day of the past week:

Foreign Exchange.—Rates have been well maintained this week on quite a moderate demand. There appears to have been a smaller supply of commercial bills than had been expected, and although the mercantile demand was quite light, bankers have kept up their rates very firmly, and advanced this morning to $4 87 for 60 days sterling and $4 90 for demand, the rates on actual business being about ¼ point lower. As to domestic exchange, the following were the rates on New York to-day: At Savannah, 5-16 premium; Charleston, nominally unchanged, ⅛@¼ premium; Cincinnati, quiet and steady, par to 50 cent. premium; New Orleans, commercial par, bank ⅛ premium; Chicago, 25c. premium, and St. Louis, 50c. discount. The annual report for the year ending Dec. 31, 1875, has the following:

| REVENUE OF MAIN LINE AND LEASED AND CONTROLLED ROADS. | | OPERATING EXPENSES. | |
| From passengers | $816,003 | For conducting transportation | $1,070,244 |

| Total | $4,926,247 | Total | $3,362,123 |
| Leaving as net earnings | | | $1,564,124 |

In comparison with the year 1874 there was an increase in gross earnings of $249,747 27, equal to 5 34-100 per cent, and a decrease in the operating expenses of $21,430 27, equal to 63-100 of one per cent. The increase in the net earnings was $271,177 54, or 20 97-100 per cent.

The operating expenses were 68 25-100 per cent of the gross earnings, which, in comparison with 1874, shows a reduction of 4 15-100 per cent.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| In addition to the net earnings as above stated of | | $1,564,124 01 |
| There was received from dividends and interest | | 59,632 00 |
| And contribution for operating Elmira, Chemung & Canandaigua divisions (from Pennsylvania Railroad Company) | | 82,883 27 |
| Total | | $1,706,639 31 |
| Which was applied as follows: | | |
| Dividend Chemung Railroad | $1,659 00 | |
| Interest on funded debt | 609,120 00 | |

| Balance net income for 1875 | | $459,462 81 |

Equal to 7 86-100 per cent upon the capital stock of the company.

An additional expense of $173,950 was incurred in replacing locomotives and cars worn out and destroyed in previous years. The amount so expended is reported as an extraordinary expense, in a separate item. It was used to pay for the following new equipment:

|---|---|
| Five first-class freight locomotives of the consolidation class, 20 by 24 inch cylinders, at $11,000 | $55,000 00 |
| 105 eight-wheeled coal cars, 15 tons capacity, at $550 | 57,750 00 |
| 72 eight-wheeled box cars, at $600 | 43,200 00 |
| Four first-class passenger cars, at $4,500 | 18,000 00 |
| The net income for the year 1875, as above stated, was | $459,462 81 |
| From which deduct extraordinary expenses in replacing rolling stock | 173,950 00 |
| Total | $285,512 81 |
| Add balance to credit of net income January 1, 1875 | 82,704 80 |
| Balance to credit of net income December 31, 1875 | $368,217 61 |

Equal to 6 3-10 per cent for dividend purposes after payment of extraordinary renewals.

"Although the results of the operation of your lines during the year 1875 were very favorable, your board considered it best that no dividends should be declared until the financial condition of the company should be strengthened by a reduction of the bills payable, and until the means should be provided for the construction of the necessary facilities at Baltimore to accommodate the growing traffic of the road. Both these objects having been accomplished, and there being, in the judgment of your board, a reasonable certainty, under the proposed modification of your bonded debt, and the reduction of interest liability consequent thereupon, that the payment of regular semi-annual dividends can now be commenced and continued, it has been determined to pay in April next 3 per cent."

|---|---|
| The bills payable of the company January 1, 1875, were | $639,821 47 |
| On January 1, 1876, the bills payable were | 466,420 95 |
| Showing a decrease of | $173,400 52 |
| Assets on hand Jan. 1, 1876, in securities that may be sold | $641,802 82 |
| Real estate in the city of Baltimore, off the line of road, and not required for its purposes, which has been estimated, at current market rates, to be worth | 300,000 00 |
| Total | $941,802 82 |

These two items, at very low valuations, being more than equal to all bills payable.

The total number of passengers carried one mile was: 1875, 29,829,323; 1874, 29,858,571; decrease, 29,248.

|---|---|
| The amount received for the transportation of passengers in 1875 | $816,003 21 |
| Passengers in 1874 | 864,618 64 |
| Decrease in 1875 | $48,612 43 |

The number of tons of freight moved one mile was: 1875, 258,540,557; 1874, 216,980,532; increase, 41,560,025. Showing an increase in the tonnage mileage of 19 154-1000 per cent; a very encouraging statement when the continued depression of all manufacturing interests throughout the year is considered.

Of the large improvement in terminal facilities at Baltimore the report says of the expense: "It is gratifying to be able to report that although more real estate has been purchased than was at first contemplated, the estimated expenditures given in the last report, for this purpose, and for the work of construction required, will be exceeded but little, if at all. The entire amount of the estimate was $690,000, the outlay to this time has been $374,519 14, and the amount required to complete the improvements, basing the revised estimates upon contracts actually made, is placed at $312,071 45, making a total cost of $686,590 59."

Of the changes in bonded debt:

"The question of suspending the payment of interest on the 7 per cent income bonds of this company, as set forth in the treasurer's report, until the company should be entirely free from all floating debt, was considered; but it was proposed by holders that the conversion of these bonds into obligations secured by mortgage, bearing a lower rate of interest, would benefit the company and also the holders, by giving them a marketable security. With a view to thus reducing the annual interest account of the company, negotiations were opened by your general counsel, under direction of the board, during the past summer, with holders of a large majority of the $3,000,000 of 7 per cent income bonds due Jan. 1, 1922, resulting in their agreeing to accept in exchange for the income bonds at par, 5 per cent currency bonds at par, having fifty years to run, secured by mortgage. To provide for this exchange, and to redeem $1,000,000 other income convertible bonds, and to provide for future use of the company an additional million of bonds, if required for its other purposes, a mortgage for $5,000,000 was executed to the Fidelity Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company, of Philadelphia, as trustees, covering the entire property of the company, subject to all existing mortgages, and it has been duly recorded. It was also agreed that, to give additional security to the bonds, all the stock held by this company in the lines north of Elmira should be transferred to the trustees of the new mortgage—the voting power and operating facilities to remain with this company.

"The board also ask authority from the stockholders to use one million of these bonds in exchange for the present one million convertible incomes due in 1880, at a rate of interest not exceeding 6 per cent currency. This exchange, if effected, will reduce the mortgage liability for interest ten thousand dollars more per annum—the remaining $1,000,000 to be reserved, and not issued until required by the wants of the company, and under the approval and authority of its stockholders.

"Under the authority given at the general meeting of the stockholders, held Feb. 25, 1875, one million dollars of bonds, under the consolidated mortgage created and executed May 26, 1874, were sold through the house of Drexel & Co., realizing 87½ per cent net, clear of commissions. The proceeds are being used in expenditures for terminal facilities, real estate and construction in Baltimore, and to reduce the bills payable of the company."

Pittsburgh Titusville & Buffalo (formerly Oil Creek & Allegheny River).
(For the year ending December 31, 1875.)

The road was recently sold under foreclosure of the consolidated mortgage, and re-organized under the present name. The capital account is now as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Stock | | $5,000,000 |
| First mortgage bonds, 7 per cent | $2,580,000 | |
| Second mortgage bonds, 7 per cent | 1,150,000 | |
| Income bonds, 6 per cent | 340,000 | |
| Total bonded debt | | 4,070,000 |

The old first mortgage bonds were not affected by the foreclosure. The new second mortgage bonds were issued for the old consolidated bonds, the income bonds for accrued interest and other claims, and the stock chiefly to the old stockholders. The object of the foreclosure was mainly to shut out some large floating debt claims, some of which, it is charged, were fraudulent and all doubtful. The annual interest charge is now $281,500.

The earnings and expenses for the year were as follows:

| | 1875. | 1874. |
| Gross earnings | $809,796 | $846,851 |
| Net earnings | $238,920 | $284,732 |
| Gross earnings per mile | $7,042 | $7,364 |
| Net | 2,078 | 2,476 |
| Per cent. of expenses | 70.50 | 66.38 |

| | Gross. | Net. |
|---|---|---|
| 1871 | $1,675,009 | $651,502 |
| 1872 | 1,285,554 | 461,631 |
| 1873 | 1,067,734 | 312,788 |
| 1874 | 846,852 | 284,732 |
| 1875 | 809,796 | 238,920 |

The year 1875, therefore, shows a decrease from 1871 of 51.7 per cent. in gross and of 63 3 per cent. in net earnings.

| Balance to credit of dividend fund, Dec. 31, 1874 | | 715,265 |
| Balance to credit of dividend fund, Dec. 31, 1875 | | $650,073 |

The coal tonnage on the Lehigh & Susquehanna Railroad and Lehigh Canal, compared with that of 1874, was as follows, viz.: 1874, 3,071,487 tons; 1875, 2,725,819 tons.

The gross receipts of the company's railroad during 1875, as compared with 1874, were as follows:

| | 1875. | 1874. | Decrease. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Passengers | $163,078 | $183,158 | $20,080 |
| Freight | 329,918 | 359,167 | 29,249 |
| Coal | 2,685,649 | 2,842,975 | 157,325 |
| Totals | $3,178,646 | $3,385,301 | $206,655 |
| L. C. & N. Co's proportion | 1,059,548 | 1,128,433 | 68,885 |

The total revenue for the year was $83,235 78 less than that for 1874, and the disbursements for interest, rent, expenses, &c., other than for dividends and taxes thereon, were reduced, $70,184 88. We paid, in 1874, three dividends of 2 per cent. each, and, in 1875, four dividends of 2 per cent. each. The surplus in 1874 was $202,728 70, and the deficit in 1875, $65,191 17. The result of the business of the last two years shows $137,537 53 surplus earnings after the payment of 14 per cent. in dividends to the stockholders.

We have credited to the lessees (Central RR. of N. J.) $871,787 for construction work since the last report.

Our lessees, with our approval, commenced in August last the construction of a branch road from the mouth of Sandy Run, 4½ miles below White Haven, to Eckley and Drifton, a total distance of 10 2-3 miles. This branch si expected to bring a large amount of coal to the main line. As a part of the agreement with the Central Railroad Company, under which they commenced the work, we contracted to pay them $150,000 on account of their advances for construction work, and we made the payment during the fall.

The means for the payment referred to on construction account were provided by the sale of 3,000 shares of stock obtained by the conversion of part of the convertible loan of the company, referred to in the last annual report as available for this and for other purposes. The managers deemed it for the interest of the company to issue stock rather than to increase our bonded debt. They also sold 1,153 shares of stock to provide the means to make payments on 175 acres of land in Panther Creek Valley, the purchase of which was reported at the last annual meeting. There is still due on this purchase $63,528 12.

| | Shares. |
| By the company of $150,000 convertible loan | 3,000 |
| By the company of $57,650 convertible loan | 1,153 |
| By holders of convertible loan $91,000 | 1,820 |
| Total present issue | 201,971 |

The company still has the right to issue $986,970 82 of convertible loan due in 1882, which would yield, if converted, 19,739 shares of stock. It is not probable that the financial wants of the company will require the issue of any large part of this during 1876.

The lessees of our coal property paid the monthly rent of $41,666 67 promptly and regularly during the year. No coal was mined until about the 1st of July, and the six months' production amounted to 397,426 13-100 tons, of which 69,074 1-100 tons were pea and buckwheat. The royalty of 21 per cent on the price realized at Mauch Chunk amounted

|---|---|
| To 64 3-10 cents on 328,352 12 tons of lump and prepared sizes | $211,119 75 |
| To 21 cents on 69,074 01 tons of pea and buckwheat | 14,505 54 |
| To the difference between this amount | $225,625 29 |
| And the rent paid | 500,000 00 |
| | $274,374 71 |
| Must be added the royalty paid in advance to 1874 | 167,105 65 |
| Making a total of royalty paid in advance | $441,480 36 |

This overpayment, as was explained in our report of last year, will be reserved hereafter by the lessees from any amount then due us over and above the minimum rental.

In answer to the question, "How much property has the company not covered by its mortgages?" which was asked at the last annual meeting, we will state that the real estate unincumbered is worth at least $700,000, and the personal property, bonds, &c., at least $350,000.

The company has no floating debt whatever.

E. W. CLARK, President.

Consolidation Coal Company.

(For the year ending December 31, 1875).

|---|---|
| The gross receipts from mines, railroads, rents, &c., (including value of coal on hand), were | $2,648,178 36 |
| Total expenses of every kind (exclusive of interest and sinking fund), but including steel rails and other permanent improvements | 1,876,402 07 |
| Net earnings for year 1875, exclusive of interest and sinking fund | $771,776 29 |
| The interest on the funded debt for the year was | $192,410 52 |
| Sinking fund (retiring $78,000 of mortgage bonds) | 70,985 00 |
| Total interest and sinking fund for year 1875 | $263,395 52 |
| Net earnings for year 1875 | $508,380 77 |
| Semi-annual dividend, paid Sept. 15, 1875 | 256,250 00 |

FUNDED DEBT.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| The total mortgage debt of the company, was on the first day of January, 1875 | | $3,159,100 |
| Reduced by sinking fund in the year | $78,000 | |
| And still further reduced by taking up and cancelling the remaining outstanding bonds of the Georges Creek Coal and Iron Company | 98,600 | 176,600 |
| Total funded debt, Jan. 1, 1876 | | $2,982,500 |

The sum of $98,600 paid to the Georges Creek Coal and Iron Company was the last instalment due that company under the agreement made in 1863 for the purchase of their railroad between Frostburg and Piedmont, now constituting part of the Cumberland & Pennsylvania Railroad. This payment has been made out of the surplus and working capital of the company.

To secure its liquidation at or before maturity, $100,000 in the six per cent first mortgage bonds of the Cumberland & Pennsylvania Railroad were deposited with Messrs. Livermore and Mott, the trustees of said mortgage. These bonds have been delivered to the Treasurer of this company, and may be either sold or temporarily hypothecated, should additional working capital be required.

MINING AND TRANSPORTATION.

Mined and delivered from the Consolidation Companies' mines:

| | Tons. |
|---|---|
| In the year 1874 | 467,451 |
| Decrease | 18,528 |

The year 1875 has been one of almost unexampled depression in manufacturing and commercial interests. The Cumberland coal-field has suffered under the general stagnation to the extent of 56,000 tons reduction for the year, and the Consolidation Coal Co. has borne its full proportion (19,000 tons) of this decrease; notwithstanding which, the net profits of this company, as above reported, have increased—its debt has been reduced, and the scale of dividends advanced. These results, under the circumstances, furnish strong arguments—First, as to the great and growing value of the Cumberland coal-fields; second, as to the wisdom of the policy pursued by this company for the past few years.

—A law in the Maryland Legislature, to reduce the rates charged on the Cumberland & Pennsylvania Railroad, has been the cause of the recent depression in this company's stock.

Mobile & Montgomery Railroad.

(For the year ending November 30, 1875.)

The annual report has the following:

The fiscal year closed the 30th day of November, 1875, but as the property was passed by the trustees into the hands of the officers on the 26th of November, 1874, together with the cash balance, the earnings are included herein, and the balance of those four days, November 26–30, 1874, is brought forward.

| Net earnings for year ending Nov. 30, 1875 | | 168,496 |
| Total net earnings Nov. 26, 1874, to Dec. 1, 1875 | | $179,547 |

| Amount received from trustees first mortgage bonds, M. & M. R. R | | $17,612 |
| For payments on account of this fund | | 21,223 |
| Leaving due M. & M. Railway Co. on account of this fund | | $3,61 |

The receipts from Nov. 26, 1874, to Dec. 1, 1875, were divided as follows, viz:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Freight receipts from South & North Railroad | $57,779 | |
| Freight receipts from Western Railroad | 55,349 | |
| Freight receipts from New Orleans Railroad | 67,002 | |

The improvements suggested in the report of the 18th of Dec., 1874, have been carried on economically and energetically, and are as far complete as the application of the net earnings would permit. The track, which was in a very bad condition, is vastly improved, and by the 1st of April the Tensas extension will be up to grade, when it is proposed to close the construction account, so far as the track is concerned,

The new Constitution of Alabama, which went into effect on the 6th ultimo, in the opinion of counsel learned in the law, releases our shareholders from all personal liability.

The Louisville & Nashville road (the owners of the South & North road) have not proved as strong an ally as was expected, but our mutual business is increasing recently to an extent that will probably induce more harmony and satisfaction in the business relations of the two companies in the future.

The position of the Mobile & Montgomery road in the system of Southern roads is a peculiarly important one; and when the business of the Southern country increases to such an extent that each road will content itself with its legitimate business, and not try to rob its neighbor by "cutting rates," your road will then control the business that belongs to it as a trunk line.

Barlow, of New York, against the Atlantic Mississippi & Ohio Railroad, to foreclose the fifteen million dollar mortgage, of which they are the trustees, and for the appointment of a receiver, is accompanied by a circular letter issued by General William Mahone, dated London, December 15, 1875, and addressed "To the Consolidated Bondholders of the Atlantic Mississippi & Ohio Railroad Company," embracing the following statement of the company's liabilities and assets:

Boston & Maine.—The Massachusetts Supreme Court has just rendered a decision for the Boston & Maine Railroad against the Portland Saco & Portsmouth Railroad Company, in an action on contract brought to recover the sum of $566,194 84, alleged to be due from the defendant to the plaintiff. At a hearing before Judge Devenes it was agreed that the case should be sent to the full bench on the question whether the plaintiff could alone maintain an action for its share of any sum found to be due under the contract; and with an understanding that if the action could be maintained then it should stand for trial, after having been sent to an auditor. The rescript of the full Court has been sent down and is as follows: "Case referred to an auditor. The defendant having settled with the Eastern Railroad Company, this action may be maintained by the plaintiff alone."

California Pacific Extension Bonds.—The following is translated in substance from the German-Am. Economist of Frankfort: On the 24th of February, a meeting, called by the Extension Committee, was held in Frankfort-on-the-Main, to consider the proposition made by the Central Pacific Company. Dr. Levy gave a brief resume of the proceedings against the California Pacific Company. It is well known that the committee declared the proposition made by the Central Pacific Company in the summer of 1874, immediately after the default on interest, unacceptable, and decided to commence proceedings at law. The difficulties of the latter were considerably increased by a decision, given in October of the same year, allowing the claim of a certain Haggin (formerly construction contractor of the California Pacific) for $1,300,000. The committee now, not only directed its effort toward having the California Pacific declared bankrupt, but sought also to have the claim of Haggin annulled. On the 20th December, 1874, a decision favorable to the bondholders on both points was given. Haggin appealed from this decision, and the proceedings were carried through another half year. In July, of last year, as the second suit approached its close, and a decision was daily expected, the Central Pacific—which had until then remained passive—contrary to expectation, offered the present proposition. The Central Pacific offers two million 6 per cent. thirty year bonds secured by a mortgage on the lines of the California Pacific, and guaranteed by the Central Pacific, for the three and a half million of 7 per cent. extension bonds. Principal and interest of the new bonds are payable in gold in New York, interest to begin July 1, 1875. The claim of Haggin is to be withdrawn in favor of the bondholders. A further million of three per cent. bonds is to be issued to cover the one million income bonds. The Central Pacific attaches to this proposition the condition that, within twelve months from the date of the proposition, the owners of all but seventy—$3,430,000—of the bonds give their assent. Until then, the bonds are to be deposited in the Nevada Bank, and if, at the end of that time, the required number does not give its assent, the bonds are to be returned to their owners. The committee has from the beginning doubted its ability to accept the proposition, owing to the improbability of getting the required number to assent, but has thought it advisable to get the opinion of the bondholders.

The chairman of the meeting, Mr. Sonnemann, stated that the committee represented in round numbers $2,800,000 of the bonds. There is a likelihood, he said, that this sum may be considerably increased, though it was certainly doubtful whether the required amount could be obtained. As to the method of dividing the $2,000,000 of 6 per cent. bonds, Mr. S. said that if the bondholders accepted the agreement, every $1,000 of bonds will receive $500 in new bonds. The rest of the new bonds will be sold by the committee, and the proceeds, after payment of the expenses, which are quite large, will be divided among the bondholders. The proposition was not, therefore, to be regarded as giving four new bonds for every seven old bonds, but that more than $250,000 were to cover the expenses of the committee and the loss of three coupons. In response to a question as to the guarantee of the Central Pacific Company, Dr. Levy, who read the report of the committee, declared it merely a personal guarantee, not possessing the value of a real guarantee, but nevertheless nothing better could be obtained from the Central Pacific Company.

The meeting adopted, without a formal vote, the following resolution: "The meeting approves all the past steps of the committee and places all further action in its hands."

Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad.—Holders of a majority of both the 6 and 7 per cent mortgage bonds of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad having assented to the proposed plan of re-organization, an election for a "Committee of Purchase and Re organization" will be held. Votes can be received by mail; the polls to close April 10. The ticket presented consists of Messrs. A. A. Low, John Castree, C. P. Huntington and A. S. Hatch, of New York City, and Mr. Isaac Davenport, Jr., of Richmond, Va. The tellers of election are Messrs. Francis A. Fogg, Wm. G. Low and James J. Tracy. Address, Box 235, Post-Office, New York City.

Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul.—A meeting of the Board of Directors was held on Thursday, and the Board declared a dividend of 14 per cent on the preferred stock of the company, 7 per cent on the net earnings of 1874, and 7 per cent on the net earnings of the road in 1875. This dividend is payable on April 10, in the consolidated sinking-fund bonds of the company. The following was submitted:

Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton.—Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co., give notice that they are prepared to pay off the issue of $500,000 8 per cent. bonds due June 1, 1876, at par and accrued interest, or to exchange them for new 7 per cent. bonds at 101 and accrued interest.

The same firm is offering for sale first consolidated mortgage bonds of the company having thirty years to run and bearing 7 per cent. interest. The total amount secured by the consolidated mortgage is $3,000,000; the United States Trust Company is trustee.

By the last annual report the bonded debt of the company was $2,250,000; deducting the $500,000 due in June, $1,750,000. The company's road is 60 miles long, and it works 285 more under lease, being almost sole owner of 98 miles of the leased roads.

Davenport & St. Paul.—The foreclosure sale of this road, which was to have taken place March 2d, has been postponed to March 27th.

Detroit & Milwaukee.—A meeting of parties interested in the fate of the Detroit & Milwaukee road was held at Detroit on the 8th inst. The Detroit parties present were C. H. Buhl, James F. Joy, George H. Jerome, (Attorney of the road), Hon. H. N. Walker, Allen Sheldon, who represented Zach Chandler; Mr. Trowbridge, Receiver of the road, and engineers of the corporation. The Great Western road, which is a heavy creditor, was represented by Hon. Hugh Childers, of London, and other officers from London and Canada. Some discussion was had as to the proposed plans. Mr. Trowbridge, Receiver, announced that he had paid the running expenses of the road for the past year, paid interest on a debt of $1,000,000, which takes precedence of any bonds, and had $35,000 left. He was also in debt about $300,000 for steel rails laid last year, for which he was pressed, and would require more rails this year if the road is to run, which would cost $350,000. if they were of steel, and $250,000 if of iron. No proposal being made, the meeting adjourned.

Erie Railway.—Messrs. Miller and Fleming, the Erie Bondholders' Committee, had expected to finish their negotiations with the stockholders and directors and leave this city on March 21. The negotiations have been delayed by the pending arrangements for the laying of the third rail, and thus narrowing the gauge to the standard. The Lackawanna Iron and Coal Company and the Cambria Iron Company have consented to furnish a third steel rail for the Erie Railway from Waverly east to Jersey City. This will complete the narrowing of the gauge over the entire road from Buffalo and Suspension Bridge to Jersey City, the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company having already agreed to furnish the third steel rail from Waverly west to Buffalo. The Delaware & Hudson Canal and the Delaware Lackawanna & Western Railroad companies are to appropriate, by agreement with the Erie, one twenty-fourth part of their transportation earnings each month for two years, to pay for the cost of the third rail from Waverly east to Jersey City.

—An inventory of the real and personal property of the Erie Railway Company, as it stood on May 26, 1875, is nearly completed. The entire value of the property, which will be included in this document, in round numbers, is $100,000,000.

—ALBANY, March 16.—The bill facilitating the reorganization of railroads sold under mortgage came up in the Senate this morning on a third reading. Mr. Rogers, who has charge of the bill, said that it was simply an amendment to the general law of 1874, making it applicable to the present state of the railroad. There was nothing in the bill which contravenes public policy; it had been advocated before the committee by Dorman B. Eaton on behalf of the Erie Railroad. The bill passed the Senate with nine votes against it.

Indianapolis Bloomington & Western.—Another plan of reorganization has been presented by a committee, of which Mr. Sumner R. Stone is chairman, which is not widely different from that previously pending, except that it is more favorable to the Western-extension bondholders.

New Orleans St. Louis & Chicago.—In the United States Circuit Court at New Orleans, March 10, application was made for the appointment of a receiver for this company by counsel for the income bondholders and by counsel for the illinois Central, which holds nearly $5,000,000 of bonds issued under a special mortgage, in exchange for its own bonds, upon which the money for the completion of the Cairo Extension was raised. The Court denied a motion to put the trustees under the Illinois Central mortgage in possession, and then proceeded to grant the application for a receiver. With the consent of all parties, Mr. Junius B. Alexander, of New York, was appointed. The Court authorized him to settle all bills for wages and supplies incurred within three months past.

Concurrent suits have also been brought in the United States Circuit Court for Mississippi and in that for West Tennessee, for foreclosure of the mortgage of May 1, 1872, under which the $5,419,000 bonds issued to the Illinois Central were secured. The plaintiffs in all these suits are the Illinois Central Co., and John Newell and J. B. Alexander, surviving trustees under the mortgage.

Pacific Mail.—The Tribune money article, under date of March 13th, gives the following as facts in regard to the issue of bonds: "What the company really has done, as we learn from good authority, is that to-day it executed to Messrs. S. V. White and B. F. Ham, trustees, a bill of sale (that was duly recorded to-day at the Custom House in this city) of the following ten steamers, to wit: City of Peking, City of Tokio, City of San Francisco, City of Sydney, City of New York, City of Panama, Colon, Acapulco, Grenada and Colima, to secure the company's bond given to said trustees for $4,000,000. The indenture provides that the bond shall be surrendered when the company shall have duly signed, executed and delivered ten thousand registered or coupon bonds for $1,000 each, or two millions of dollars—such bonds having ten years to run, with interest at 7 per cent per annum, payable on the 13th of March and 13th of September in each year. It further provides for the application of a sinking fund, by requiring the company to pay to the trustees, on the 13th of March each year, $200,000 in cash, which the trustees are to invest by buying in the open market the bonds of the company, if at less than par, or if not to draw 200 ($200,000) bonds by lot. It also provides that the company shall keep the steamers in perfect order at all times, and in default of which, or of the payment of interest or the providing for the sinking fund for the space of ninety days, the whole debt shall be deemed due; and then it becomes the duty of the trustees to immediately proceed to sell the property for the benefit of the bondholders."

St. Paul & Pacific—First Division.—Notice is given by the trustees in New York in reference to the agreement of August, 1875, with bondholders, that "the aggregate amount of the outstanding bonds of the various issues named is about $11,500,000, of which more than $9,000,000 have already been deposited in pursuance of said agreement; and all holders of any of said bonds who desire to participate in the advantages of said agreement are required to deposit their bonds, and the past due coupons thereon, as above provided, within thirty days from March 9, 1876."

Southern Pacific Railroad (of California).—The Committee of the Stock Exchange has placed on the "Free List" the bonds of this company. The official statement contained the following:

The Company was originally organized December 2d, 1865, under the general railroad law of California, passed May 20, 1861, and its amendments. Its present organization was effected December 1st, 1874, and is the result of several successive consolidations.

The several succeeding series are to bear date as the Board of Directors may direct, and be payable thirty years from their respective dates.

The payment of the bonds is secured by a mortgage of the Company to D. O. Mills and Lloyd Tevis, dated April 1st, 1875, upon the following portions of its main line and branches, viz.: From San Francisco, by way of Carnadero Junction, Salinas Valley and Polonio Pass, to the Colorado River, at or near the Needles; from Los Gatos to Poso Junction; from Carnadero Junction to San Benito; from Tehachapi Junction to Fort Yuma and from Los Angeles to Wilmington, to the extent of 1,150 miles, of which upwards of 393 miles are completed; and also upon the lands granted to the Company by Congress.

The floating debt of the Company is $414,642 07.

Subsidies.—By certain acts of the Congress of the United States approved July 27th, 1856, and March 3d, 1871, there were granted to the Company a right of way two hundred feet in width over the public domain, and also 12,800 acres of public land a mile for 932 miles of the road.

The State of California granted to the Company thirty acres of land at Mission Bay in the City of San Francisco, for a terminus. These grants are very valuable.

The Counties of San Francisco, Santa Clara, and San Mateo, and the City and County of Los Angeles contributed to the building of the road an aggregate of $1,002,000.

Texas State Finances.—Hon. Stephen H. Darden, State Comptroller, has rendered a supplemental report covering the five months from Aug. 31, 1875, to Feb. 1, 1876. He says that the assessed valuations, being $250 853,759, fall short of his estimate of $275,000,000, owing to the large amount of land not assessed.

As to the debt he observes that there is now outstanding $1,573,757 ten per cent bonds, which are redeemable at the pleasure of the State—a part after 1877 and the remainder after 1880. It would be well for the State as these bonds are redeemable, to authorize the sale of six per cent gold bonds, at not less than par, and retire the ten per cent bonds, thus saving four per cent interest. Warrants drawn against the school fund for pay of teachers prior to July, 1873, amount to $331,493 28, which are drawing eight per cent interest. The Constitution provides that the Legislature, at its first session, shall either pay or fund them, as they deem best. I suggest that they be funded in long date six per cent gold bonds of the denomination of $500 and $1,000. Having a large interest to pay on the bonded debt, in addition to the current expenses of the Government, and the protection of the frontier, the present low rate of taxation may not be sufficient to meet all demands promptly, and some deficiency may occur. To guard against this, and to prevent the consequent depreciation of Treasury Warrants, I recommend that 6 per cent gold bonds of the denomination of $500 and $1,000 be authorized—not to exceed $200,000—which may be sold at not less than par, or exchanged for Treasury Warrants, to meet such deficiency should it occur.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, March 17, 1876.

Trade circles received something of a shock on Tuesday, from the failure of the Bank of the State of New York. It was reported, and widely credited, that the institution was largely involved in speculations in leading staples, and that some forced sales would probably become necessary. But such did not prove to be the fact, and the speculative markets quickly recovered. Regular trade has, however, continued dull, and it now seems to be conceded on all sides that the spring business will not prove satisfactory but a great disappointment. The proper committee has agreed to urge the new tariff upon Congress, but its passage is not now hardly looked for.

The speculation in pork has been more active the past few days, and prices are higher; mess sold on the spot to day at $23, and the closing bids for future delivery were at $22 85 for April, $23 15 for May, $23 20 for June and $23 25 for July. Lard has also been excited and buoyant. Very large sales were made on Wednesday at $13 60 per 100 lbs. for prime Western steam, spot and March delivery, and there was an advance to-day to $13 75, spot and April, $13 90 for May, $14 02½ for June, and $14 12½ for July. Bacon and cut meats have been fairly active at very full prices. Beef and beef hams are without essential change. Butter has been rather improving for the better grades, and cheese has ruled quiet at 12@14c. for good to choice factories. Tallow has been moderately salable at about 9c. for prime. Stearine is firmer at 14¾@14½c. for prime Western. The Cincinnati Price Current reports that, from incomplete returns, the number of hogs packed from November 1, 1875, to March 1, 1876, in the Western States is 4,865,000; net weight per hog, 217 97-100 lbs., against 209 77-100 lbs. in 1874–75; increase, 8 1-5 lbs.; yield of lard per hog, 35 53-100 lbs., against 34 20-100 lbs., in 1874–75; increase, 1 1-3 lbs. Assuming that the returns as above are approximately complete, the result as compared with 1874–75 will be about as follows:

| Season— | Hogs packed, number. | Net weight, lbs. | Yield of lard, lbs. |
| 1874–75 | 5,566,226 | 1,167,639,457 | 190,380,607 |

The foreign export from November 1, 1875, to March 11, 1876, was 33,087,454 lbs. more meats and 19,666,600 lbs. less lard than for the corresponding period in 1874–75.

Rio coffee has been more active, but closes quiet; fair to prime cargoes at 16½c.@18c., gold. Stocks at this point are reduced to 180,000 bags, and the visible supply for the United States is 281,000 bags. Mild grades have been slow; Java quoted at 22c. @25c., and Maracaibo, 16c.@18½c., gold, with stocks 150,000 mats Java, and 38,000 bags and mats of other growths. Rice has been quiet. Teas have been dull, and the auction sales have revealed slightly lower prices. Foreign dried fruits quiet, except prunes, which have sold freely at higher prices. Turkish, 5⅝c.@5¾c. Molasses is in excessive stock and dull, with lower prices necessary to effect sales. Sugars have been more freely offered and are lower at 7⅛c.@7¼c. for fair to prime refining, and 10⅜c. for standard crushed.

These mail returns do not correspond precisely with the total of this telegraphic figures, because in preparing them it is always necessary to incorporate every correction made at the ports.

The cotton market has been exceedingly variable in tone during the past week, while the actual changes in prices have been slight as compared with the previous fortnight. Spot quotations were marked up ½c. to 12¾c. for middling uplands, on Saturday last, and this has been maintained to the close last evening. The demand, however, has been quite limited at this advance, whether for export or home consumption. Actual shipments have also been small, and stocks at this point have been accumulating since Monday. To-day, the market was more active for export at a shade easier prices, but without quotable decline. For future delivery, the market opened with considerable buoyancy of tone, with a slight improvement in prices. The opening on Tuesday was especially active, and an advance of 3-32c. was at one time paid, but the bank failure (noted elsewhere in our columns) excited apprehensions of monetary disturbances, and caused a pressure to sell, under which the early advance was lost. On Wednesday the market recovered tone, but closed flat; and yesterday, under a weaker Liverpool market, a decline in gold, and the general weakening of speculative action, the close was flat, notwithstanding the comparatively small receipts at the ports. To-day, with a quiet report from Liverpool, prices were easier, and the early months 1-16c. lower.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 144,250 bales, including —— free on board. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 6,586 bales, including 3,436 for export, 1,748 for consumption, 1,102 for speculation, and 300 in transit. Of the above, —— bales were to arrive. The following are the closing quotations:

The above totals show that the old interior stocks have decreased during the week 10,293 bales, and are to-night 16,385 bales more than at the same period last year. The receipts at same towns have been 7,792 bales more than the same week last year.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—The past week has been a rainy one over a considerable portion of the South, and crop preparations have, therefore, been somewhat interfered with. Generally, however, farm work is, up to the present time, as well, if not better, advanced than usual at this period of the year. Still, favorable weather is much to be desired now.

Galveston, Texas.—We had two rainy days early in the week on which it rained hard, the rainfall being one inch and eighty-five hundredths. Since then it has been clear and pleasant. Planting is making good progress. The thermometer has averaged 61, the highest being 75 and the lowest 45.

Indianola, Texas.—It rained severely on one day this week, another day was showery, and two days were cold, but as the week closes there has been a favorable change. Farm work is progressing and cotton planting is being pushed forward satisfactorily. Rainfall this week has been one inch and twenty-two hundredths, and the thermometer has averaged 62, the highest being 79 and the lowest 42.

Corsicana, Texas.—There has been rain (sprinkles) on two days. The weather is too cold. We have had frost on two nights, but no serious damage was done beyond partlally injuring the fruit. Satisfactory progress is being made in cotton planting. The rainfall has reached three hundredths of an inch, and the thermometer has averaged 56, the highest being 81 and the lowest 30.

Dallas, Texas.—It has been showery on two days this week. We have had frosts, but the damage done was unimportant. Cotton planting is now making good progress. The rainfall has been twelve hundredths of an inch, and the thermometer has averaged 62, the highest being 82, and the lowest 32.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—It has rained two days this week, the rainfall reaching one inch and forty-five hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 61.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—There was a severe rain and hail storm here on Saturday last, and rain on Tuesday and Wednesday, the rainfall reaching three and sixty-eight hundredths inches. Average thermometer, 55; highest, 78, and lowest, 35. Bad roads interfere with receipts.

Vicksburg, Mississippi.—We are having too much rain. There have been three rainy days this week, the rainfall reaching four and forty-four hundredths inches. The thermometer has averaged 57, the highest being 80, and the lowest 35.

Columbus, Mississippi.—The rainfall at this place during the week has been forty-seven hundredths of an inch, and the thermometer has averaged 58, the extremes being 49 and 68.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—There have been but three clear days this week; consequently, farmers have had little opportunity for crop preparations. The rainfall has reached two inches and and seventy-two hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 50, the highest being 76 and the lowest 26.

Nashville, Tennessee.—We have had three rainy days during the week, the rainfall reaching two inches and thirty-eight hundredths; average thermometer 54; range, 43 to 64.

Memphis, Tennessee.—There have been four rainy days here during the week, the rainfall reaching three and eighty-three hundredths inches. The thermometer has ranged from 45 to 60, averaging 51.

Mobile, Alabama.—It was showery one day this week, and it rained constantly one day, but the remaining portion of the week has been pleasant. Total rainfall for the week one inch and eleven hundredths. Average thermometer 61, highest 76, lowest 38.

Montgomery, Alabama.—Three days this week were stormy, the rainfall reaching a total of two and seventy-five hundredths inches. The thermometer has averaged 59, the extremes being 34 and 77.

Selma, Alabama.—It rained heavily one day this week, the rainfall reaching three inches and fifteen hundredths, but the rest of the week has been pleasant, the thermometer averaging 58.

Madison, Florida.—Rain fell on one day during the week, the rainfall reaching ninety-four hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 74 to 52, averaging 63.

Macon, Georgia.—Telegram not received.

Atlanta, Georgia.—It rained constantly one day, the rainfall reaching two inches. The rest of the week has been pleasant. The thermometer has averaged 60, the highest being 75, and the lowest 34.

Columbus, Georgia.—There have been three rainy days this week, the rainfall reaching one inch and fifty-five hundredths. We have had a frost this week, but not a killing frost. The thermometer has averaged 57, the highest being 78, and the lowest 35.

Savannah, Georgia.—It has rained two days this week, the rainfall reaching forty-six hundredths of an inch. The weather the rest of the week has been pleasant. The thermometer has averaged 59, the highest being 76, and the lowest 42.

Augusta, Georgia.—We had a heavy rain one day this week, but the rest was pleasant. The rainfall reached a total of forty-four hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 67, the highest being 81 and the lowest 41.

Charleston, South Carolina.—There has been one rainy day here this week, the rainfall reaching twenty-three hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 45, the extremes being 31 and 76.

From the foregoing it would appear that, compared with last year, there is an increase of 13,000 bales this year in the week's shipments from Bombay to Europe, and that the total movement since January 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 114,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1875.

SHIPPING NEWS.—The exports of cotton from the United States the past week, as per latest mail returns, have reached 106,831 bales. So far as the Southern ports are concerned, these are the same exports reported by telegraph, and published in THE CHRONICLE last Friday. With regard to New York, we include the manifests of all vessels cleared up to Wednesday night of this week.

Below we give all news received to date of disasters, &c., to vessels carrying cotton from United States ports:

CITY OF LIMERICK, str. (Br.), from Philadelphia at Liverpool struck the pierhead, morning of 28th ult.; damage, if any, not known.

SEA GULL, str., Childs, from Charleston, 11th, for Baltimore, was towed back to C., 12th, having lost propeller.

LA LOUISIANE, ship (Fr.), Tonffet, at Havre from New Orleans, reports that on morning of Jan. 21 it was found that the vessel's cutwater was carried away, and it was supposed that she must have struck against a wreck. From this time she made water, and the pumps had to be attended to frequently. On the 27th, during a gale, she was thrown on her beam ends, and had to cut away foretopsail. The gale caused the vessel to make more water.

MAJESTIC, ship, Gibbons (owned by Thayer & Lincoln, of Boston, and her commander) at New Orleans, with 3,500 bales cotton on board for Liverpool, was struck by lightning and set on fire at 3 A. M. March 12. The vessel and cargo were considerably damaged by fire and water, the latter to the extent of $50,000, the former $3,500.

QUEEN OF THE EAST, ship (Br.), in leaving New York for Liverpool, grounded on Diamond Reef, A. M. March 14th; came off, proceeded and cleared the bar, Sandy Hook, at 11:30 A. M. same day.

SUCCESS, ship, from New Orleans for Havre, which put back to New Orleans, Feb. 3, damaged by collision, repaired, and resumed her voyage March 12.

ENTERPRISE II, bark (Dutch), from New Orleans for Havre, stranded on the Colorado Reef, had discharged, Jan. 24, 750 bales cotton.

J. B. DUFFUS, bark (Br.), Shaw, from New Orleans, Feb. 23, for Havre, was partially dismasted March 5, and put back to the Southwest Pass on the 13th.

JOHN GEDDIE—The fire in the bark John Geddie (Br.), at Charleston for Havre, before reported, broke out about 3 P. M. March 4, and it spread with great rapidity and soon extended quite across the bark in the vicinity of the mainmast, and the smoke came from the hold in dense volumes, threatening the destruction of the vessel and cargo. The timely arrival of the Fire Department and the forcing of a large body of water into the hold checked the rapid progress of the flames, which, with the prompt action of the captain in scuttling the vessel, brought the fire to a conclusion about 7 P. M. A steam fire engine was kept by the bark during the night, and on the 5th two of these powerful machines were engaged in pumping her out. The cotton will be all more or less damaged by salt water, but the amount of injury from the fire is as yet uncertain, the mainmast being badly charred, and perhaps other portions of the interior of the hold will be found to be more or less burnt. Their insurance in Charleston is $23,500, gold, on cotton, and £500 on the freight. The estimated value of the vessel and cargo is about as follows: Cargo, $140,000; vessel, $25,000; freight, £1,800; total value, about $174,000. About 500 bales cotton had been discharged on the 9th, probably less than 100 bales showing indications of burning; the rest more or less damaged by water. The fire was in the upper tier of cotton, and was entirely in the vicinity of the mainmast, where it has left its effect on the deck beams, deck and mainmast.

MARY LAWTON, bark (Br.), from Savannah, collided off Canada Dock, Liverpool, March 1, with steamer Bavarian, but sustained no damage.

VANGUARD, bark, from New Orleans for Queenstown, which put into Key West March 7, was leaking.

ERMINA P., brig (Ital.), Trucco, from New Orleans for Rotterdam, put into Ramegate, March 10, with loss of anchors.

J. M. WISWELL, brig, Glover, at New Bedford from New Orleans, broke mainboom and damaged sails.

HARRY L. WHITON, schr., Rich, from Mobile for Barcelona, which put into Norfolk, Feb. 14, leaky, made the necessary repairs, and sailed March 6, for destination.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, P. M., March 17, 1876.

The flour market has been more active, and prices have latterly been quite buoyant, especially for desirable lines of shipping extras, common and medium. The depression caused by the bank failure (noted on another page) was quite temporary; and on Wednesday and Thursday shippers had difficulty in filling their orders owing to the scarcity of desirable stock. The better grades were also higher, but the low grades appear to be in full supply. To-day, the market was stronger, with lines of shipping extras salable and not plenty at $5 10@$5 20, and Southern flours held for more money.

The wheat market was somewhat depressed early in the week, but recently the demand has been quite active for export. It would appear that weak holders have pretty well sold out, and that stocks are now, though large, in strong hands, with a disposition to compel the increasing export demand to pay such prices as will at least relieve owners from loss. Other influences have seemed to favor buyers, but prices have been advancing, especially for the regular grades. To-day, the market was active and higher, the sales aggregating about 200,000 bushels at $1 20@$1 23½ for No. 2 Chicago; $1 26@$1 27 for do. Milwaukee; $1 36@$1 38 for No. 1 Spring, and $1 35 for white Canada, in bond.

Indian corn has been fairly active for export, and, although prices have fluctuated somewhat from day to day, the change in the past week has been very slight. Such as has taken place has been the narrowing of the range of quotations; thus, new mixed was yesterday 58½@62½c., against 59@63c. the previous Friday—a demand for qualities suitable for shipment by steamer being the main cause of this. Old Western and new Southern have been quiet. To-day the market was firm, but quiet.

Rye has been quiet, but rather more firmly held. Canada peas have sold at 97½c. in bond, which is firmer. Barley and barley malt have sold to a moderate extent at lower prices.

Oats have been quite depressed; prices have declined to 42c for No. 3 and 45c. for No. 2, city inspection; but yesterday a better demand sprung up, and there was a recovery of ½c., with choice Milwaukee sold at 48½c. To day there was a further advance, closing at 43c. for No. 3 and 46c. for No. 2, city inspection.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

The past week has developed considerable improvement in the jobbing trade, but business has been slow with the domestic commission houses and importers. Values have been nominally unchanged in first hands, but increased discounts have been offered on certain descriptions of domestic cotton goods, and large buyers of woolens (if such could have been found) would have experienced no difficulty in obtaining price concessions on various makes of cassimeres, suitings, worsted coatings, etc. Jobbing quotations for brown and bleached cottons have presented many irregularities, and strong temptations have been held out to retail buyers in order to stimulate business, and it has not been uncommon to find these and other goods offered by the piece at less than agents' package prices. The event of the week was an auction sale of Philadelphia dress goods, of the manufacture of Messrs. Scheppers Bros., which was held on Thursday by Wilmerding, Hoguet & Co. The sale attracted a very large number of buyers and the entire balance of production was closed out at low prices. The exports of cotton goods from this port were 636 packages, of which the largest quantities were taken by Great Britain and Brazil. An interesting feature of the export trade was the shipment of a few cases of indigo blue and fancy prints to the East Indies, by way of an experiment, which may be attended with important results.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS have presented no new features of special interest. The package trade was comparatively light, but jobbing sales reached a fair aggregate amount. Brown and bleached cottons of the best corporation makes were in steady demand and nominally firm, but the supply of outside brands has increased, and a curtailment of production would be of vast benefit to the market. Corset jeans were in good demand and continue in light supply. Cheviots were more active when offered at a concession from previous holding rates. Denims, tickings, checks, stripes and osnaburgs were severally in moderate request. Grain bags were placed in fair amounts by jobbers, but were quiet in first hands. Fancy prints were dull, and the supply in agents' hands has become so unwieldy that steps have been taken for curtailing production. Prices of prints were generally unchanged, but Oriental fabrics and shirtings were reduced to 6¼c. and 6c. respectively. Wide prints and shirtings were in fair demand, and ginghams changed hands in moderate amounts. Cotton dress goods were less active. Print cloths were quiet until nearly the close of the week, when a fair demand was developed, and, after selling at 3¾c. standard 64x64 clothS, advanced to 3¾c. cash@4c. 30 days.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—Transactions in men's-wear woolens were chiefly restricted to the sale of small parcels of the finer grades of cassimeres, suitings and worsted coatings to local and interior jobbers. The clothing trade bought very few spring goods, but placed some orders for plain and fancy overcoatings for the fall trade, to be delivered hereafter. Black cloths and doeskins were very quiet but steady. Low and medium grade cassimeres were almost neglected, but the finer qualities were in fair request, as above stated. Low grade worsteds were dull and weak; but the best makes are firmly held. Satinets were in moderate request, and low qualities of Kentucky jeans were a little more active. Flannels were taken in small lots for keeping up assortments, and carpets were in better demand, both in Brussels and ingrain makes. Worsted dress goods met with fair sales, and plain fabrics are steadily held. Shawls were in limited request, and woolen hosiery remained inactive.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There was a sluggish demand for foreign goods from first hands, but increased animation was observed in some departments of the jobbing trade. Staple and fancy dress fabrics were in moderate request, and low and medium grade dress silks met with a fair distribution. Linen goods were rather quiet, and there was less than the usual demand for white goods. Fancy millinery silks were more active, and there was a steady traffic in gros-grain and taffeta ribbons. Woolen goods for men's wear were taken in small amounts by cloth jobbers, but sales were light in the aggregate amount, and prices are not satisfactory to importers. The auction rooms distributed a large quantity of foreign goods of various descriptions. Messrs. C. A. Anffmordt & Co. sold a line of Paris dress goods, through Townsend, Montant & Co., at low prices, and Messrs. E. Warburg & Co. made a large offering of dress silks, through the same firm, with fairly satisfactory results. Embroideries were largely sold at auction, but at considerably less than importation cost.

These Plans are indorsed by leading Actuaries and State Commissioners, and also by the "Society for the Promotion of Life Insurance among Clergymen," James Brown, President; Howard Potter, Treasurer.

THE SPRING MONEY MARKET AND ITS PROSPECTS.

We are now drawing near to that season of the year which has usually been regarded as critical to the money market. For some months our bankers and mercantile men have been looking forward to this period in anticipation that the usual elasticity of business would be developed; and that for a brief space, if not throughout the spring, the rate of interest would rule at six or seven per cent. This expectation accounts in part for the attempts to precipitate trouble last week in the money market, and for their complete failure. As we have often been reminded, two things are needful to make money tight: the demand must be urgent and large, and the supply of idle funds must be inferior to the effective demand. Unfortunately for the tight-money men, both of these conditions were absent. There was, in the loan market, an abundant supply of available funds seeking borrowers, and the demand ranged below the level of the supply. Among the very natural consequences that have resulted from these efforts to perturb the market, we observe that their failure has attracted general attention to the real condition of the monetary supply, and has given a conspicuous check to the anticipations built on the expected activity of business this spring; indeed, it might be plausibly argued that the disappointment extends far beyond the causes which have produced it. Waiving this point, however, we shall confine ourselves to the quietude which prevails, and endeavor to discover what it forebodes in the immediate future.

At the outset, we must remember that the present monetary depression is peculiar in its symptoms. Unlike some other instances of commercial stagnation, it is accompanied by large deposits of idle money in all the banks and moneyed corporations throughout the country. The savings institutions of the various States have a larger sum than ever before of the aggregated earnings of the wages classes, showing that the operatives throughout the country hold a vast amount of their past earnings as a reserve against future calamity and want. Turning from the men to their employers, we find that the banks and trust companies are all in a like condition. Both they and the savings banks are troubled with the same common embarras de richesses. Another symptom is that there is a great pressure upon the public mind of a spirit of economy and saving. A merchant or tradesman, who used to work with $10,000 balance in bank, is now anxious to double it, and does not feel safe to run the risks he formerly accepted without a moment's hesitation. To increase his reserve he saves on his outlay and cuts down his expenses. In almost every home in the land the new spirit of frugality is pinching our expenditure, contracting outlay below our income, and increasing our cash reserves. Now, what is the plain result of such a new line of policy on the part of our forty millions of people? Obviously, it tends to diminish consumption, especially the consumption of luxuries of various sorts. If ten dollars a head were the limit of this new movement, there would be a loss to some persons among us of 400 millions of consumption, with all the traffic which those 400 millions would create as they pass, through the various steps, from the producer to the ultimate consumer. Upon whom this loss of business would fall it is difficult for us to discover, at least in all its ramifications. But the loss would, of necessity, be perceived very early in the great distributing centres. The chief ports, such as New York, would suffer more or less heavily in proportion as the saving and economy of the population caused a diminished consumption of imported commodities and of domestic goods, which have been usually accumulated there for distribution. We need not, however, follow this argument further. It is enough to point it out and to indicate the conclusion to which it leads, namely, that the present stagnation or lassitude of finance and trade, though it has its dark side, has also a bright one; and that it contains in it the germ and the promise of future activity.

Another peculiarity to be noted is that this country is not alone in its experience of monetary and mercantile stagnation. Throughout Europe there prevails a depressed condition of business very like our own; though destitute, at many points, of some of the compensative advantages with which we are favored in this country. The material growth which has been going on with unprecedented activity in Christendom for the past ten years has been thus checked, and, though there is no immediate prospect of a general panic, still there is a considerable amount of languor and disquietude which is certainly no worse among us than in most countries of the Old World.

From this view of the forces at work in the monetary arena, what is the conclusion we should deduce as to the prospects for the future? The answer is, that, until trade revives, it is useless to fear, and vain to attempt, that the rates of money may be forced up by manipulation in Wall street. There is enough in the political horizon to operate adversely to trade and to check confidence in business, even were there not the general agitation caused by the cardinal fact that the country is approaching the penumbra of a Presidential election. Moreover, in attempting to forecast the future of the money market, we must not fail to give due weight to the circumstance that, from a multitude of well-known causes, our Western cities are suffering much less severely than those of the Atlantic seaboard; and the earnings of our railroads, with other obvious circumstances, tend to suggest reasons for a gradual reaction from the existing depression. Although, however, on the whole, we conclude that the monetary movements have their conservative and encouraging aspects, it does not follow that there is much prospect of the expected advance in the rate of interest, or of the monetary activity which the month of April usually brings us.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND THE FINANCIAL QUESTION.

Mr. Bagehot, in the Fortnightly Review for February, makes the suggestive though somewhat paradoxical remark that economic science, as applied to practical life, has made of late years so little advancement because, on the one side, the teachers and students of political economy do not verify their theories with sufficient care by comparing them with facts, and, on the other side, the practical men of business, who are familiarly conversant with facts, are not so familiar with principles. This explanation of the slow progress of sound economic knowledge during the age in which we live is as true in finance as in other parts of the great economic domain. The rule, however, has its exceptions. During the early days of the suspension of specie payments in 1797 in England, it was by the merchants and bankers of London, and not from the political economists, that the first decided action was devised and carried out to resuscitate the public credit. Similar instances from our own recent history will occur to every reader. To Mr. Bagehot's principle, then, we must add certain qualifications, one of which is, that while, in the smooth ordinary course of affairs, practical men of business cannot be expected to have leisure for the close study of scientific principles, or for the cultivation of the habits of abstract thought needful to apply those principles with success, still there are great crises in the history of nations when the truest wisdom, the expedients demanded by the exigency of the moment, are to be sought and found by the keen, shrewd, practiced skill of the men who are at the head of our banks, manufactories and mercantile establishments; or at least that an indispensable part of the search will be done for the community by such men. We are reminded of this principle by the recent vigorous action of the Chambers of Commerce in this city and in Boston for the restoration of specie payments. In addition to the efforts for the enlightenment of public opinion on this subject, referred to in the CHRONICLE some time ago, the Chamber have adopted the plan of employing the press. Among the currency pamphlets they are distributing, we observe a speech by Mr. A. A. Low, delivered before the Chamber at a recent meeting. The address is, at this critical period, well worthy of public attention, and we trust it will be extensively read.

Perhaps the most popular characteristic of this speech is its tone of confidence. The hopeful spirit is not too prevalent among a certain class of the friends of a sound currency. Mr. Chase is reported to have held for some years the opinion that it was impossible to resume on our paper currency without a financial explosion, one effect of which would be to demonetize the greenbacks altogether. Not a few people among us of reputation for sagacity agree on this point with Mr. Chase. They think that resumption will sweep the greenbacks out of the channels of the circulation and leave behind nothing but the redeemable bank notes and the specie in which they are to be redeemed. There are several classes of these prophets of evil. Some of them expect that the explosion which is to purify the currency from paper money, will be sudden, and others expect it to continue and extend itself over a longer or shorter period. But all alike argue that the greenback currency cannot long survive the shock which will convulse the financial barque when it strikes the solid ground of specie payments. As to the effects of this event on general business, our theorists, as might be expected, are by no means of one mind. What they are able to agree upon is a revulsion, of less or greater duration, as certain to attend the change from the paper money standard to the standard of coin. With these various classes of gloomy theorists Mr. Low has no sympathy. He thinks the work of resumption threatens the country with no violent shock of its commercial and financial interests. On the contrary, he suggests that if the way be judiciously prepared beforehand, and the transition be properly conducted, the mischiefs to be apprehended from resumption are not likely to be of so severe a nature as has been supposed even by the public generally.

There is another important quality in the speech before us, namely, its judicious, practical tendency. It not only declares that our currency may be restored to par with coin, but it points out the way. There are but two things to be done, according to Mr. Low. First, an ample supply of coin must be provided in the Treasury; and, secondly, as the greenback currency is redundant, its excessive issues must be gradually and carefully withdrawn from the channels of the circulation. They must be paid off, either from surplus revenue, derived from new taxes laid for that purpose; or, if that is impossible, from the proceeds of bonds; a competent amount of which could be sold at any time with ease, as there is a lively demand and the market will promptly absorb all that we are likely to need to negotiate, with a view to the gradual retirement and cancelling of such part of our greenbacks as need to be withdrawn to reduce the circulating current to its proper level. How many millions of greenbacks we shall require to pay off or to convert into bonds in this way, Mr. Low does not venture to predict. As a beginning, he suggests that we bring down the outstanding greenbacks to 300 millions of dollars. He also declines to say whether the goal of resumption can be fully won within the time prescribed in the law of June, 1875. These points he discusses as follows:

"The gold in the Treasury of the United States in 1873 has diminished to the extent of forty millions of dollars; falling from one hundred and ten millions to about seventy, in less than three years. And this reduction is due, in part at least, to the uncertainty which prevails abroad as to the decision of the question to which I have referred. Europeans have not only lost their money by bad investments in American securities, but, what is worse, they have, to some extent, lost faith in our rectitude of purpose. They withdraw moneys, now that gold is at a premium of 13 and 14 per cent, lest, by and by, they may not be able to do so, without losing more. Were there an equal hope of a decline in the value of gold, they would permit their funds to remain for the benefit of the expected change, if not for re-investment. I would not willingly think, that, while the minds of our people have become enlightened, their consciences have become blunted; but, from all quarters of the horizon, even from our own city, voices are heard which proclaim an unwillingness to sustain the right, a willingness to submit to what is wrong; and too many votes in Congress testify to the potency of the sound. So, too, there are honest differences of opinion, and they are widely entertained, as to the possibility of resuming specie payments within the time fixed by law, and there is a too general indisposition to such a measure of contraction as the emergency demands. The courage and constancy on the part of our soldiers, which secured us victory in the war of the rebellion, appears to be wanting in the present crisis. For the sake of the Union, men were willing to encounter death; but, to preserve the nation's plighted faith, how many shrink from the sacrifice it demands, from a present loss for the sake of a future and permanent good? On one point the common judgment has become measurably fixed, viz., upon the necessity of retiring a portion of the legal-tender notes now authorized by law—the excess of three hundred millions of dollars."

Finally, there is another point on which Mr. Low differs from many of our currency reformers in both the hostile camps of resumption and inflation. He does not seem to rely much on the necessity of further legislation. The expansionists favor new legislation, because they are sanguine of success in introducing some inflation elements into any bill which could be put on its passage; and the friends of a sound currency favor legislation, because they think, as we do, that the resumption law of 1875 was defective in some points, and that at some time prior to 1878 some supplementary laws will of necessity have to be passed. For the present, however, it would seem that, as Mr. Sherman said lately, there is nothing lost by deferring further legislation for a time, inasmuch as the Resumption law is executing itself, and our whole financial and mercantile movements are accommodating themselves to the approaching exigencies of the new situation. Such are some of the suggestions conveyed to us by this speech which the Chamber of Commerce have put in circulation. In the concluding part of his paper, Mr. Low gives some confirmatory passages from Macaulay, which will be found timely, luminous, and instructive.

A PETTY SCRAMBLE FOR THE GENEVA AWARD.

We must suppose that it was in rather a humorous vein that Mr. William K. Wait, member for Gloucester, gave notice in the House of Commons on Thursday of this week, as appears by the Cable despatches to the daily Press, that he would shortly ask Mr. Bourke, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, whether it is true that the Government of the United States, after paying the Alabama claims, has a surplus of from £1,000,000 to £2,000,000 sterling, for which it is unable to find legitimate claimants. The honorable member had probably received news of the bill given below, and introduced into Congress last week, cutting off all "legitimate" claimants, and hence his assumed anxiety lest we might not be able to discover any.

It is very surprising that our learned Congressmen should continue to find so much to confuse them in the consideration of these Alabama claims. Judging from the results now published, the committee having the matter in charge appear not only to be quite inharmonious but to have produced, after much labor, a majority report which seems to ignore every ruling of, and fact established by, the Geneva Council. We must be excused for not understanding the governing principle which has controlled the committee; we can discover none except it may be when any body of men attempt to prove that two and two do not make four, chaos is apt to follow. For the purpose of seeing how far off the scent these worthy gentlemen are, and how very just is the reproof which lies hid under the words of the member of Parliament referred to above, let us have before us the bill now introduced and turn a little light on its conclusions. It is called an act to provide for the distribution of the unappropriated moneys of the Geneva award, and is as follows:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it shall be the duty of the Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims, in the mode and subject to all the conditions, limitations and provisions of chapter 459 of the laws of the Forty-third Congress, except as changed or modified by this act, to receive and examine the claims mentioned in section 2 of this act, and to enter judgments for the amounts allowed therefore in three classes.

SEC. 2. That the first class shall be for claims directly resulting from damage done on the high seas by Confederate cruisers during the late rebellion, including vessels and cargoes attacked on the high seas, or pursued from the high seas, although destroyed within four miles of the shore, except as provided for in section 11 of chapter 459. The second class shall be for claims for the payment of premiums for war risks, whether paid to corporations, agents or individuals, after the sailing of any Confederate cruiser. The third class shall be for claims for sums actually paid for insured property, destroyed on the high seas by such Confederate cruisers, except sums for which judgments have been entered under section 12 of said chapter.

SEC. 3. That in examining claims in the second class, it shall be the duty of the Court to deduct any sum received by the claimant as an indemnity, so that the actual loss of the claimant only shall be allowed; and no claimant in the second class, who has been paid such loss, shall be entitled to receive from any insurance company recovering in the third class any further sum on account of such loss.

SEC. 4. That the judgments rendered by said Court under this act shall be paid by the Secretary of the Treasury, out of the sum of money paid to the United States, pursuant to article 7 of the treaty of Washington, and accruing therefrom, not appropriated to claims provable under the provisions of said chapter 459, and the act extending the time for the filing of claims thereunder.

SEC. 5. That judgments entered in the first class shall be paid before judgments of the second class are paid; and judgments of the second class shall be paid before judgments of the third class are paid. If the sum of money so unappropriated shall be insufficient to pay the judgments of the first class, they shall be paid according to the proportions which they severally bear to the whole amount of such unappropriated sum. If such sum shall be sufficient to pay the judgments of the first class, and not sufficient to pay the judgments of the second class, the latter judgments shall be paid according to the proportions which they severally bear to the residue of such unappropriated sum. If such sum shall be sufficient to pay the judgments of the first and second classes, and not sufficient to pay the judgments of the third class, they shall be paid according to the proportions which they severally bear to the residue of such unappropriated sum after the payment of the judgments of the first and second classes.

SEC. 6. That in other respects the said judgments shall be reported and paid in the mode provided for the payment of judgments by said chapter 459, and the act providing for the payment of judgments rendered, and to be rendered, thereunder.

SEC. 7. That all claims filed, or that may hereafter be filed, in said Court, in the name of one or more claimants, relating to a vessel in which other claimants are interested, shall be deemed and held to be legally filed, the same as if all the parties in interest had joined in the filing of the petition.

To understand correctly the questions raised, one should first study the position the Government holds in the controversy. If this money belongs to the United States, it has the right to distribute it as it pleases; if it does not belong to the United States, it would appear to be equally clear that its duty consists in simply passing it over to the lawful owners. Of course, the Government has the actual power to do as it sees fit, because it has possession and no one can sue it; and in these days, when might in some official circles seems to make right, this may be considered as the end of the argument. And yet we beg leave to object to such ruling. There exists a higher sense of honor among our people than the late developments at Washington and elsewhere would indicate, and it is becoming increasingly sensitive and pronounced. In this case, it demands that the question be met in the same spirit and manner as if the Government could be forced to give this money where it of right belongs.

Now we do not propose to enter with much detail into this portion of our inquiry, except as may be necessary to supplement the remarks we made upon the same point on a recent occasion (Feb. 5, 1876, page 123). We all know that our demands against Great Britain were classed under two general heads of "direct losses" and "indirect losses;" that the former were private claims, actual losses of citizens, and the other were the public loss and other indirect claims. These "indirect losses" were presented to and explained at length before the Geneva Council; the subject was fully discussed and considered with great deliberation; but it was determined and adjudicated that "indirect losses" did not constitute a possible ground of reclamation against a neutral. The point came up with perfect distinctness, and the Government as a claimant (except as it represented private claims for direct losses) was ruled out. After that decision it would seem as if there could be no question as to the position this Government held in relation to this award. Still, the subject was again pressed upon the attention of the Council, in the form of an estimate furnished by the Navy Department of the cost of the "ineffectual naval cruises to intercept the privateers;" these were also considered, and deliberately and absolutely rejected by the tribunal. In every way in which the United States presented itself as a claimant, it was repulsed. What basis, therefore, has any one for insisting that the Government possesses now any right or control over this money, except so far as may be necessary for its distribution among the rightful private claimants? The conclusiveness of this position will become increasingly evident as we proceed.

This brings us to a consideration of the present bill, which proposes to divide claimants into three classes. First, it opens the door to private losses by all "Confederate cruisers." This is liberal and generous on the part of the Government, but it is like much of the loudest liberality now-a-days, in that it is liberality with other people's money. The Geneva tribunal expressly held that Great Britain was not in any respect responsible for the losses by the "Georgia," or for any other vessel except the "Alabama," the "Florida," and for the "Shenandoah" after her recruitment at Melbourne; losses other than by those vessels were ruled out and disallowed. But now Congress proposes to admit them. Why should it not with equal right and propriety give the money away to any other war claimants? Or let the Congressmen divide the award up among themselves? This latter would be the better way; for between two things that are wrong, one always has a fancy for the bold and defiant, rather than the sneaking sinner, skulking under and flying the flag of justice. If the money does not belong to those claimants who are thus let in; if it does not belong to the Government to give away; but if it has been awarded to certain other parties, and therefore belongs to them; we insist that this proposed conversion of it is no better than the other thefts now being exposed in Congress.

But the proposed act makes as a second class of claimants those who paid war premiums. It would seem as if this Congressional committee never could have read any of the Geneva proceedings or any of the evidence with regard to them. These war premiums were another kind of claim which was presented by our Government, but was expressly ruled out. Now they are held by a few agents who have passed among our merchants and obtained them on condition of paying to the merchants fifty per cent of what they receive, and these agents are pressing them. It is a big Bonanza. One Massachusetts statesman is known to be in it largely. But, as we said, all these war premiums were disallowed at Geneva. Here is the evidence of Mr. Evarts before the Congressional Committee, last year, on that point:

Mr. Butler—May I ask were the war premiums, eo nomine, withdrawn in that original proceeding before adjournment?

Mr. Evarts—They were in terms. A reference to the transaction will show it.

Mr. Butler—Have you got the record here?

Mr. Evarts—I thought so, but find I have not the volume here which has the protocols in it; it is the second volume which contains that statement. But there is no doubt about it. I had a very distinct scrutiny of the papers at the time they had their birth, and there never was any doubt about it. The tribunal disposed of them finally at that stage of the proceedings.

Mr. Butler—I supposed they disposed of them afterwards?

Mr. Evarts—It disposed of them then, and they were never alluded to afterwards, and they form no part of the final award.

From that time forward not one word was said, or could be said, by our Government, its agents or its counsel, on the subject of the war premiums. It would have been a breach of the transaction thus completed; it would have been an argument on a point on which judgment had already been entered, and judgment had been entered at a stage when it was necessary to prevent an adjournment.

This would seem to be quite explicit, sufficient even for the dullest mind. But to make the thing perfectly clear we would refer the reader to vol. 4, page 21, of the proceedings at the Geneva Council where he will find the following in a communication to the tribunal by Mr. Davis:

"The declaration made by the tribunal individually and collectively, respecting the claims presented by the United States for the award of the tribunal, for, first, the losses in the transfer of the American commercial marine to the British flag; second, the enhanced payments of insurance; and third, the prolongation of the war, and the addition of a large sum to the cost of the war and the suppression of the rebellion; is accepted by the President of the United States as determinative of their judgment upon the important questions of public law involved. The agent of the United States is authorized to say, that consequently the above-mentioned claims will not be further insisted upon before the tribunal by the United States, and may be excluded from all consideration in any award that may be made."

"That the said several claims for indirect losses, mentioned in the statement by the agent of the United States, on the 25th inst., and referred to in the statement just made by the agent of Her Britannic Majesty, are and from henceforth wholly excluded from the consideration of the tribunal, and directed the secretary to embody the declaration in the protocol of this day's proceedings."

Could we have a more definite determination of the question of war premiums, and, in fact, of all indirect damages, and therefore of all Government interest in the award? After the tribunal had thus narrowed down the issue by eliminating many of the questions raised, it addressed itself to a determination of the direct claims and their amount. Now what were the direct claims? Mr. Evarts states that they "were a bundle of private claims—

"ships, owners, claimants, all named and measured, dol-"lar by dollar—insurers always named for the dollars they "were claimants for, the original insured losers not being "named at all, &c." These constituted from that moment onward the only claims the United States submitted to the tribunal for scrutiny and adjudication, except those on behalf of the Navy Department, above referred to, which were rejected. And, finally, the point in the proceedings was reached where the tribunal desired a tabular statement from each Government, by which comparison could be made of the conflicting views of the two Governments. And thereupon Mr. Davis, on behalf of the United States, made up a full detailed account (it will be found vol. 3 of the Proceedings, p. 579, &c.) stating "that these computations show the "entire extent of all private losses which the results "of the adjudication of this tribunal ought to enable "the United States to make compensation for," giving the name of each vessel, cargo, owner and insurer, making thus a complete list of the claimants. Those were the claims for which the award was given; and it was given "to enable the United States to make compensa-"tion" in those cases there expressed. If our readers wish to know who are the claimants thus named, and to pay whom all this money was given to the United States, they can look at the third class provided for in the above act! They to whom it all belongs are now graciously allowed the dregs and drainings, if any remain!!

We have not time to follow this question further today, but it certainly becomes Congress to prevent such gross wrong-doing. The man who inaugurated this policy in the last session of Congress no one expected anything better from, for he enjoys no very enviable reputation. Is the present legislator willing to walk in his footsteps?

OUR PROSPERITY HEREAFTER.

Nobody has questioned that, while the losses resulting from the panic and its causes must be endured to the full, prosperity will return. How and when? These questions have been anxiously and repeatedly put, with no authoritative answer possible, and such an answer is not more possible now than it was two years ago. The times are peculiarly full of uncertainties; it is useless to pretend that there is any general, or decided, improvement in business; propheey was never more venturesome; all we can safely say is that there is doubtless a slow and steady working out of recuperation; that the pendulum must swing back, and that—if there were no other reason perceivable—because the depression has lasted so long the recovery must be the nearer. The depression is an effect; it next becomes a cause, and when it has worked off the disease, will produce prosperity. It seems to us that there are good reasons for believing that this prosperity, when it does come, will be unusual, and some of these reasons we shall try to point out.

Not the least of them is the fact that the conditions are peculiarly in favor of industrial activity the world over, and it is no contradiction of this to admit the existence of general industrial depression at present; it is absurd to suppose that the earth is impoverished or the prosperity of nations and the problems of their social order worked out. The power of the soil to afford sustenance has not been strained yet, even in the few most densely populated districts; the mineral resources of the earth are not known yet, much less sensibly diminished; the Centennial will show all the nations, by sample, what they have and what they have not accomplished, and will therefore be at once an industrial school and an industrial stimulus; and to suppose that the wants of mankind are becoming satisfied is preposterous. On the contrary, they are just becoming known. The East, with its swarming millions, has only of late years been really opened to the progressive nations; the Pacific railroads, our Pacific States and the ocean cables are in our favor, and are invaluable, if we do not permit our commercial rivals to anticipate us in the East; our distinctive American productions and inventions are marketable among the old nations and those are well disposed towards us; they will come to the Centennial, and there is no reasonable doubt that the gates are down, so that wider markets not only in the East but throughout the world, are opening to our industrial activity.

Another reason is that the tendency is towards universal peace. Wars of conquest, at least, have nearly become impossible, unless civilization is to make a backward step. War was once a matter of personal prowess, in respect to which every generation stood by itself; it has become a matter of implements, which have progress similar to that of other inventions. A repeating rifle is a more effectual argument for peace than the printed ones of societies, and it is becoming foolish for ten thousand men to go out against twenty thousand; it is better to count numbers and measure armaments at first and let the weaker submit. The habit of arbitration must become fixed, or civilization must come to a stand. And the cost of war is so enormous, and nations are already under so heavy bonds of debt to keep the peace that the occasions which bring war must be extraordinary indeed. Our civil war was a very extraordinary one, clearly admitting no arbitration, because it was the conflict between two industrial systems which could not exist side by side, and that any such occasion can again arise seems inconceivable. To have gotten rid of slavery and have the inevitable struggle over is of itself a great point in favor of industrial activity. The field has been cleared; the cost was frightful, and enormously increased by the unnecessary mismanagement of Southern affairs since the war. This carpet-bag debt is a most serious obstacle to prosperity, but it is not insurmountable; the country is not yet whole; it is not homogeneous yet in population and interests, but it is ready to become so.

That we are far from out of our currency slough is the worst fact at present, and the only safe prediction is that we shall get out of it. To argue with those who hold that the present paper or some other statutory circulating medium can be permanently maintained is a waste of time; in some voluntary and less costly, or some involuntary and more costly, way and time, we shall certainly get back to gold, notwithstanding all theorists, politicians and campaign struggles. They may, and to the extent that they succeed they will, postpone the time and increase the cost of returning to gold, but they are powerless to prevent that return. We may continue to suffer because we lack courage to endure what suffering must be endured and dread what is imaginary, and may thereby increase our sufferings; we may go on in the lack of wisdom and prolong the uncertainty which is killing us; we may, if we do not become wiser, repeat the remaining chapters of the old history of irredeemable paper financiering. The end is the only thing certain, and that is certain. The paper will go its way and we shall get out of the slough; when we do we shall, without doubt, enter upon an era of unusual prosperity.

In the next place, when we do get out of our currency slough, we shall at the same time largely separate financial matters from politics. There is no prosperity possible without stability; but stability can never be had so long as the circulating medium may be varied in quantity and value by any caprice of legislation. Finance and commerce have their own natural laws and will arrange themselves healthfully if let alone; but while interfered with by governments their laws still operate, but only to injury. When we settle the currency, by returning to the gold basis, we shall take out of politics the most explosive subject it has ever taken up, and shall take a wide step in restricting government to its proper functions. To get this accomplished is the first thing requisite for general prosperity; and therefore when it is done the worst present obstacle to prosperity will be removed.

As to the recurrence of crises, history does go far to justify the belief that they obey laws of their own and are non-preventable disasters, and yet this is far from being proven. Mankind certainly grow somewhat in wisdom. One feature of old crises—the run on banks by note-holders—has been in great part removed by securing the notes in advance; is it unreasonable to suppose that the fear which makes panics may be prevented in other respects? To the extent that the currency is substantial, that general stability in the conditions of business and the maintenance of peace is assured, that credit is curbed, and that mankind learn to go slow in wealth-getting, the explosive elements will be gotten out of business. Nobody but the professional speculator likes or seeks risks, and even he likes to get them off his side and have "a sure thing;" so mankind take the risks as unavoidable, and will hardly object to changes which propose to make the business fabric firm. As the world grows wiser, it should gradually be able to prevent crises, as it prevents fires, shipwrecks and other disasters. From our present "set-back," significantly shared by other nations, we ought to build up a greater and a firmer prosperity than ever.

—We have received this week a copy of an address delivered by the Hon. William J. Bacon, of Utica, on the "Early Bar of Oneida County." Judge Bacon is especially fitted for performing well such a work. His experience, culture and position enable him to do it most acceptably. Very few of our readers probably know what a large place Oneida county holds in the history of the bar of this State. Politically its leading city, it has lately added to its celebrity in being the home of two United States Supreme Court judges (Hunt and Johnson) and two United States Senators (Conkling and Kernan), while it is by no means certain that it will not soon be the home of a President. It has always been, however, signally noted for possessing in itself and furnishing to other portions of the State, notably to this city, some of the ablest and worthiest members of the profession. We are therefore specially glad to see that Judge Bacon has so pleasantly and attractively brought together the earlier history of the Bar of that county.

LONDON, Saturday, March 11, 1876.

Heavy payments continue to be made into the Exchequer, and the result is that the supply of floating capital is still diminishing. The increase in the Treasury balance amounts this week to as much as £1,270,525, raising the total to £10,566,843, against £8,130,174 last year. In spite, therefore, of the diminished earnings of the country, and the losses which have been sustained by the default of Peru and Spain, and the partial default of Turkey, the taxes are coming in freely, and the financial position of the government is more satisfactory than it was at this period last year. The mercantile demand for money is very moderate, but, owing to apprehensions which have existed respecting mercantile credit, merchants have, in many cases, been providing themselves against contingencies, and this fact has enabled capitalists to obtain rather better terms. In a brief period, however, the money locked up in the Treasury will again become available, and as there is but little prospect of the commercial demand for money assuming any considerable proportions, a return to ease is regarded as certain. Scarcely any new schemes are introduced to public notice, and at the present moment nothing seems likely to transpire calculated to augment the value of money. The rates of discount are now as follows:

The position of the Bank has slightly improved, the proportion of reserve to liabilities having increased from 41⅛ to 41⅝ per cent. Coin and notes are still returning from provincial circulation, and the total reserve now amounts to £12,153,292, against £10,552,318 last year. Discounts reach a total of £21,429,203, against £21,143,578 last year.

The supply of bullion held by the Bank of France now amounts to the large sum of £73,250,000.

The steamer for the East has taken out £228,726, consisting chiefly of silver. The supply of silver offering is less extensive, and the price has advanced to 53½d. per ounce. There has been but little demand for gold for export. As there have been some large purchases of stock on Continental account, it is anticipated that the movement will, during the next few days, be in favor of this country. The prices of bullion are now as follows :

The stock markets have been much agitated during the week, and the value of British railway shares, chiefly Caledonian and North British, has experienced a heavy fall. In Egyptian securities there have been repeated fluctuations, and numerous contradictory rumors have been circulated with regard to Mr. Cave's report. United States Government securities are scarcely so firm, but no important change has taken place. Erie and Atlantic & Great Western securities attract but little attention, and the quotations have had a downward tendency. With regard to the latter undertaking, it is stated by the trustees of the revised official scheme of arrangement of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway that since the posting of a quotation for the trustees' certificates by the Stock Exchange Committee the deposit of bonds increased freely, the amount of first mortgage bonds alone being now nearly 6¼ millions of dollars, and the total of first, second, and third mortgages over 16¼ millions. In the value of other American railroad bonds there has been some irregularity, and there has been some sympathy with the depression existing in other departments. The settlement will be commenced on Monday and will terminate on Wednesday. Since the last account Caledonian Railway stock has fallen 10; North British, 16½; Great Northern A stock, 9; London and Northwestern, 6; Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire, 8; Midland, 5; North Eastern, 10; and other lines 2 to 3 per cent. Peruvian Government securities have also receded about 5 per cent., and nearly all other classes of securities are lower in value. There are naturally apprehensions that failures will take place, as the losses incurred of late have been very great. The closing prices of Consols and the principal American securities at to-day's market, compared with those of Saturday last, are subjoined :

The Hong Kong & Shanghae Banking Corporation are inviting subscriptions for the balance of the Chinese 8 per cent loan which was introduced at Hong Kong last year. The sum to be disposed of is £274,915. The price of issue is par, or, reckoning accrued interest, 99 per £100 bond.

The wheat trade has continued to be wanting in animation. Choice qualities of produce remain scarce and command full prices, but for medium and inferior wheat the demand is extremely quiet. The weather has, on the whole, been more favorable for agricultural work, but there are still complaints of the wet state of the soil in some localities.

The following figures show the imports and exports of cereal produce into and from the United Kingdom since harvest—viz., from September 1 to the close of the week, compared with the corresponding periods in the three previous years :

The deliveries of English wheat continue on a restricted scale, and the quality and condition of the produce was without improvement. During the week ending March 4, they amounted in the 150 principal markets of England to only 38,920 quarters against 53,167 quarters last year, while in the whole kingdom it is estimated that they were 155,680 quarters, against 212,700 quarters, showing therefore a deficiency of 56,020 quarters. Since harvest, the deliveries in the 150 principal markets have been 1,245,850 quarters, against 1,630,193 quarters, and in the whole kingdom 4,983,400 quarters, against 6,520,800 quarters, showing a falling off of 1,537,800 quarters. It is estimated that the following quantities of wheat and flour have been placed upon the British markets since harvest:

Eastern Shore.—A meeting of the directors was held at Princess Anne, Md., recently, to consider certain propositions made by the bondholders. These are: 1. To secure authority from the Legislature to make a transfer of the property to the bondholders; 2. To secure authority to issue second mortgage bonds, in which shall be funded the unpaid coupons on the outstanding first mortgage bonds; 3. That the company consent to a foreclosure of the mortgage and sale of the road. Those propositions will probably be referred to a meeting of the stockholders.

LANDS.—About 310,000 acres have been received. About 140,090 acres have been exchanged for bonds and coupons, leaving about 170,000 acres now on hand. Bonds will be exchanged for lands up to the 20th of April. The Trustee's receipts for bonds deposited will not be exchanged. Patents for 130,000 acres additional have been applied for. It is impossible, however, to say whether the application will be successful. Nearly $1,000,000 bonds have been exchanged for lands.

The cash assessment is 6 per cent on the par of Eastern Division bonds, and 2½ per cent on the par of those of the Western Division. The cash so received will be used for payment of overdue taxes, the legal and other expenses of foreclosure, and the payment to non-uniting bondholders of their pro rata of the proceeds of the sale. The expenses and taxes on each division have been about equal. The 6 per cent on the Eastern Division bonds will amount to a sum about equal to 2½ per cent on those of the Western Division.

They remark: "With the above facts before him, each bondholder can judge of the propriety of his paying the cash assessment called for by the Purchasing Committee."

Sunbury & Lewistown.—By order of the first mortgage bondholders, the Sunbury & Lewistown Railroad was sold at public auction, March 23, to John K. Valentine, attorney, for $161,000.

Syracuse Geneva & Corning Railway.—This road will run from Corning direct to Geneva, about sixty miles, and is almost an air line between those two cities. At Geneva it connects with the New York Central Railroad, to which it will furnish coal. It passes through a fertile and well settled portion of the State of New York. The road from Corning to the coal mines in Northern Pennsylvania, belonging to the Fall Brook and Morris Run Coal Companies, is already completed and running.

The Fall Brook and Morris Run Coal Companies have made a contract with the Geneva Corning & Syracuse Railway Company, by which the coal companies agree to ship not less than 400,000 tons of coal per annum over the entire line of this road, and, further, agree to pay a sufficient amount to meet the interest and sinking fund on the entire issue of mortgage bonds, even if the specified amount of coal should not be shipped during any six months. The coal companies retain this amount, namely, twenty cents per ton of coal, from the freight due the company, and pay it direct into the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, so that the amount required to meet the interest and sinking fund is provided by the coal companies.

The mortgage is for $1,000,000, which is at the rate of about $16,000 per mile of road. The New York Central Railroad Company has purchased $320,000 of these first mortgage bonds, and the Fall Brook and Morris Run Coal Companies $170,000 of them. $400,000 of the bonds have been taken by the contractors towards payment for the building of the road. The bonds are delivered to the contractors monthly, as the work of construction progresses, and is accepted by the company. The entire road is expected to be finished and running by the month of October next.

Messrs. Aug. J. Brown & Son, Bankers, 59 Liberty street, are now offering $400,000 of the first mortgage seven per cent bonds at ninety-five (95) and accrued interest. The subscriptions are to be payable in monthly instalments, commencing in April and ending in October, 1876.

It is hardly necessary to remark that Messrs. Brown & Son would not now offer a new railroad bond, unless they had entire confidence that its recommendations were so strong as to satisfy the most critical demands of investors.

Toledo Peoria & Warsaw.—In the United States Circuit Court in Chicago, March 17, the trustees of the first mortgages of the Eastern and Western Division filed an intervening petition in the suit for the foreclosure of the consolidated mortgage. The bill sets forth that the bondholders have a lien prior to that of any of the parties holding unsecured claims and bills against the road, and asks that the Court direct the Receiver to apply the net earnings of the road to the payment of their over-due coupons.

— Messrs. A. Iselin & Co., of 48 Wall street, give notice in this issue of the CHRONICLE, that they will purchase, at par, coupons of the following railroad bonds, due at the dates mentioned: Indiana Central 10 per cent., due Jan. 1, 1876; Union and Logansport First Mortgage, due Oct. 1, 1875; Columbus and Indianapolis Central Second Mortgage, due Nov. 1, 1875; Toledo, Logansport and Burlington First Mortgage, due Feb. 1, 1876; do. Income, due Feb. 1, 1876.

— The Board of Directors of the Producers' Consolidated Land and Petroleum Company have declared a quarterly dividend of six per cent. on the capital stock of the Company, payable at the Treasurer's office, No. 24 Pine street, New York, on and after April 20 next. The transfer books close on April 11, and re-open April 21.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

WE WOULD CALL THE ATTENTION OF INVESTORS TO THE FIRST MORTGAGE SEVEN PER CENT BONDS OF THE SYRACUSE GENEVA & CORNING RAILWAY COMPANY. These Bonds are a first mortgage upon the road, issued at the rate of $16,000 per mile. THE FALL BROOK and MORRIS RUN COAL COMPANIES of PENNSYLVANIA guarantee to ship not less than 400,000 tons of Coal per annum over the road, and to retain and deposit the amount required to meet the interest and sinking fund in the FARMERS' LOAN & TRUST COMPANY, whether the above amount of Coal has or has not been shipped during the year. The object of the road is to furnish coal direct to THE NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD and the various cities along its line. The above-named COAL COMPANIES have for several years furnished between four and five hundred thousand tons of Coal to the NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY for its own use. THE MAJORITY of the CAPITAL STOCK is owned by the NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY, which corporation controls the road. We offer a limited number of these BONDS at 95 and accrued interest, reserving the right to advance the price without further notice. Full information furnished on application, either personally or by letter.

AUG. J. BROWN & SON, BANKERS,
59 LIBERTY STREET, NEW YORK.

FRIDAY, MARCH 24, 1876—6 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—There has been little to disturb the quiet current of Wall street affairs since the bank failure of last week, and business during the past six days has been, upon the whole, decidedly dull.

The large money lenders have made use of the recent flurry, and of the early approach of April, as a basis on which to mark up the prices of time loans, but during the past two days there have been large amounts of money offering on government collaterals at easy rates, and we have heard of $1,000,000 so offered till January 1, 1877, at 4 per cent., and an abundance on call at 3 per cent. On miscellaneous stock collaterals the range of quotations is 3@5 per cent. The tone seems to show that the banks and other heavy lenders now anticipate with a good deal of confidence that money is likely to be abundant during the next six months. For commercial paper of the best sort there is an active demand at 5@6 per cent., with some exceptional transactions on very choice paper at 4½ per cent. There is a good deal of discrimination as to names, as might be expected.

On Thursday the Bank of England report showed a gain of £727,000 for the week, and its reserve stood at 46 per cent. of the liabilities. The discount rate was reduced to 3½ per cent. from 4, the previous figure. The Bank of France gained 28,998,000 francs in specie.

The weekly statement of the New York City Clearing-House Banks, issued March 18, showed a decrease of $1,162,325 in the excess above their 25 per cent legal reserve, the whole of such excess being $12,831,275, against $13,993,600, the previous week.

The following table shows the changes from the previous week and a comparison with 1875 and 1874:

United States Bonds.—In the early part of the week there was scarcely any business doing in governments, and dealers have hardly experienced so dull a time since the first of January. During the past day or two, however, there has been a marked improvement, and among the heaviest purchasers have been some of our large corporations. From the present outlook it appears as if there would probably be a renewed demand for governments after the first of April, as some parties undoubtedly wait for that period, in the hopes that a possible tightening of the money market may cause a slight decline in prices.

State and Railroad Bonds.—In State bonds, Tennessees remain about steady, the old bonds selling at 43, and new series at 41¼. South Carolina consols are firmer on positive assurances from the State officers that the interest will be paid April 1; Virginia bonds are stronger on the passage of the new tax bill, which, it is claimed, will materially increase the revenue. Alabama bonds are rather firmer, on the prospect that there will be a demand for the new State bonds at home. The Louisiana Supreme Court declines to re-open the questions pertaining to the Levee 8s, and Northern Louisiana & Texas Railroad bonds, and it is expected that the Board will commence to fund them at their next meeting. The Stock Exchange last week admitted as a good delivery the latest issue of District of Columbia 3-65s, authorized by Congress.

Railroad bonds have been reasonably active, and in some of the issues unusually large amounts changed hands at the Board. Prices are generally well maintained, and nearly all the really first-class mortgage bonds have advanced near to or above par. The second-class mortgage bonds, selling a few months ago at much lower prices, are also firmly held at the large advance recently made. Some of the Pacific issues have not been as firm, possibly on account of the lower prices of American railroad bonds in London, or because holders here are afraid of litigation or hostile legislation by Congress.

The directors of the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company, at a meeting on Thursday, decided to begin paying the 14 per cent bond dividend to-day, and a large part of it has already been paid.

Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son sold at auction the following:

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been more quiet than for some weeks previously, and the volume of business foots up a comparatively small total. There have been no events to disturb the equilibrium of affairs, and in the absence of "points" on which to operate, there has been little activity between the opposing interests.

In Pacific Mail there is no change of importance in the situation, except that the Panama Railroad claims $395,000 in addition to its $500,000 loan, and protests against the creation of the new bonds of Pacific Mail. Lake Shore has ranged lower than last week, but of its earnings, on which the value of the stock depends, the public has no information. Western Union Telegraph matters remain in statu quo, and nothing more is heard of the opposition except occasional threats of "further reductions." Erie, after frequent fluctuations of 1@2 per cent during the week, closes pretty strong at 21¼, on the report to-day that the English committee sails to-morrow, and that they will submit the proposal to fund alternate coupons on the first consolidated bonds for five years, the other coupons being paid in cash—the whole of the coupons on second consolidated bonds for the same time being funded. Clev. Col. Cin. & Indianapolis has been among the strongest stocks, and advanced to 60 on small sales; the annual report for 1875, just published, shows that the company earned a little over 3 per cent on its stock in 1875, and issued $1,500,000 new consol bonds. Pacific of Missouri, after selling up to 15¾ Wednesday, went back to 12¼ to day, and closed at 13, on rumors of a disagreement as to amicable reorganization. At the close the tone was generally firm.

The Gold Market.—Gold has shared in the prevailing quiet of the week, and the lack of animation culminated to day when there was only one price made on all the sales—viz., 114¼. The export movement has not been sufficient to affect the price materially, and there was no other influence to disturb the market. On gold loans the rates paid for carrying, to-day, were 2¼, 2, 1 and 1¼ per cent. Customs receipts of the week were $2,469,000.

The following table will show the course of gold and operations of the Gold Exchange Bank each day of the past week:

Exchange.—In foreign exchange the principal feature has been the unparalleled dulness of the market, and at times it appeared as if business was quite at a standstill. There has been only a moderate amount of specie shipped during the week, and some $300,000 is reported as engaged for to-morrow's steamers, which may be augmented, as the vessel sails at a later hour than usual. The following were the rates of exchange to day on New York at the cities named: Savannah and Charleston unchanged; Cincinnati firm, 50 to 100 premium; Chicago, 60 premium; New Orleans, commercial par, bank, ½, and St. Louis, 50 premium. On actual business to-day the price of prime sterling bills was 4.86¾ for 60 days and 4.89¾ for demand. Quotations are as follows:

The earnings of the year are $474,388 80 less than those of 1874, or 11 16 100 per cent. The operating expenses of the year are $455,278 57 less than those of 1874, or 14 3-10 per cent.

The decrease of earnings is largely due to the unprecedented low rates of freight prevailing throughout the greater portion of the year, arising from a struggle of extraordinary severity and long continuance between rival trunk lines, coupled with the unsettled and feverish condition of the business of the country.

The average freight rate obtained in 1874 was but 1 192-1000 cents per ton per mile, the through freight rate eastward being but 921-1000 cents per ton per mile. But in 1875 the through eastward rate was only 751-1000 cents per ton per mile, and the average rate of all freight having fallen to 1 5-1000 cents per ton per mile.

The date of the first sale of $1,000,000 consolidated mortgage bonds to Messrs. Drexel, Morgan & Co. was June 10, 1874, and the terms of the sale gave those gentlemen the option of purchasing on or before July 1, 1875, one and one-half millions additional of the same bonds at the price of ninety per cent, with accrued interest. This option was duly declared, and the additional one and one half million of bonds taken by Messrs. Drexel, Morgan & Co., previous to July 1 last, yielded to the company $1,350,000.

(The details of the present bonded debt appear in THE INVESTORS' SUPPLEMENT.)

During the year, under contract obligations, there has been advanced to the Indianapolis & St. Louis Railroad the sum of $235,432, and to the Cincinnati & Springfield Railway the sum of $167,553 58; on account of construction work there has been expended $188,794 63, and in the redemption of sundry notes given for the purchase of Contract Tract in the City of Cleveland, $203,185 94. These, with other items of expense, including cost of completion of the Union Depot at Columbus, appearing in full in the Auditor's report, constitute a total expenditure of $836,366 15; for all of which due preparation had been made in the disposal of the consolidated mortgage bonds.

The outlook of the affairs of the Indianapolis & St. Louis line, which, in its reconstruction and operating, has been uniformly attended with varying loss, is at the present time most encouraging. That road, with its equipment, is now in good order, and, under a consolidated working arrangement with the Terre Haute & Indianapolis Railroad, which has been recently agreed upon between the respective companies, satisfactory financial results in the joint operation of the lines may be reasonably expected.

Quicksilver Mining Company.

The report shows the following:

During the year there has been produced 13,048 flasks of quicksilver, as against 9,081 flasks during the year 1874, a gain of more than fifty per cent. over the production of last year. This large increase in production has involved but a small absolute increase in expenses. The increase in production is due both to the greater volume of ore developed in the mine and to its gradual increase in richness. The receipts of the company from quicksilver produced this year, including value of amount on hand at current prices, and other sources, were $726,160 02.

The stockholders are aware of the great and rapid fall in the price of quicksilver during the early part of the year, and that there has been no recovery from the lowest point. In view of this fact the President thinks the company can be fairly congratulated upon the result of the year's operations. The improvements during the past year have all been of the most substantial character; no deterioration whatever has been allowed to take place in any part. Of materials and supplies there are enough on hand to meet the requirements of the entire coming year.

During the year $300,000 of the $1,000,000 second mortgage bonds have been paid off and cancelled, while the cash on hand exceeds $260,000.

The net receipts for the period named were:

|---|---|
| From sales of *13,753 flasks of quicksilver | $661,657 77 |
| From advances on quicksilver consigned | 57,600 00 |
| From interest and discounts on deposits and purchases | 3,534 66 |
| From rents and privileges | 20,241 41 |
| From profit on materials sold | 1,229 73 |
| From wood lands, profit on wood cut | 2,106 71 |
| Total | $740,230 81 |
| From credits to New York office for materials and supplies purchased East | 2,846 50 |
| Total net receipts | $749,076 81 |
| Balance, cash in hands of the manager, to the company's credit, December 31, 1871 | 15,364 99 |
| Total | $764,441 80 |

* Includes 30 flasks lost by fire in Virginia, Nev.

The net expenditures, during the year, were:

|---|---|
| For materials and supplies | $134,689 24 |
| For mine pay-rolls | 324,577 21 |
| For Hacienda pay-rolls | 57,181 23 |
| For improvement pay-rolls | 25,051 76 |
| For miscellaneous expenses and taxes | 26,539 65 |
| For miscellaneous property | 4,700 84 |
| For wood lands | 1,569 14 |
| Total expenditures | $574,309 07 |
| For remittances to New York office, including premiums on exchange | 135,675 00 |
| Total disbursements | $709,984 07 |
| Balance, cash in hands of manager, to the company's credit, Dec. 31, 1875 | 54,457 73 |
| Total | $764,441 80 |

Compared with last year, the net receipts, $749,076 81, exhibit a decrease of $181,966 99; the net expenditures, including remittances to New York, an increase of $7,153 78, and the sales of quicksilver reported were 13,353 flasks, of 76½ pounds each, netting $661,657 77, against $815,320 72, for 9,475 flasks sold in 1874.

The general account shows that there were on hand December 31, 1875:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Quicksilver | $34,980 00 | |
| Ore | 179,410 09 | |
| Materials and supplies | 99,375 68— | $313,166 37 |
| Cash | | 54,457 73 |
| Total December 31, 1875 | | $367,624 10 |

| Total | | $555,949 66 |

The quicksilver on hand December 31, 1875, exhibits a decrease of $63,270; the ore, an increase of $20,098 60; materials and supplies, an increase of $14,374 81; cash, an increase of $39,092 74—a total net increase of assets to the amount of $10,296 15.

Portland & Ogdensburg.

(For the year ending Nov. 30, 1875.)

The equipment was increased during the year by 1 engine, 2 passenger, and 2 observation cars, and now consists of 8 engines, 13 passenger, 3 smoking, 3 observation, 1 combination, 3 baggage cars, and 2 brake vans; 45 box, 25 hay and 70 platform cars; 1 crane-car, and 3 snow-plows.

The credit side of the capital account at the close of the last fiscal year, Nov. 30, 1875, was as follows:

|---|---|
| Stock paid in ($11,248 per mile owned) | $1,051,728 27 |
| Bills payable | 244,677 88 |
| Income account | 211,641 97 |
| Sundry accounts | 242,372 75 |

The city of Portland has issued $1,350,000 bonds in aid of the road. Expenditures on capital account during the year were as follows:

|---|---|
| Land damages, grading, bridging, fencing and construction | $438,969 80 |
| Engineering and incidentals | 13,457 06 |
| Depots | 7,923 68 |
| Total | $482,335 01 |

| | 1874-75. | 1873-74. |
|---|---|---|
| Passenger traffic | $94,870 13 | $86,136 81 |
| Freight traffic | 106,997 17 | 78,733 78 |
| Other sources | 24,782 95 | 7,065 31 |
| Working expenses | 122,103 43 | 112,544 39 |
| Net earnings | $104,046 82 | $59,661 51 |

The road was completed to Fabyan August 7, and the connection from Scott's Mills to the Connecticut just after the close of the fiscal year. As the means for building the 17 miles from Fabyan to Scott's could not be had without a considerable sacrifice, a temporary arrangement has been made for the use of the Boston Concord & Montreal track.

Several new mills have been built on the line, and a narrow-gauge road will probably be built in the spring which will open up to the road the lumber region of Sawyer's River and Mount Carrigain. From these sources, and the connection with the Vermont Division, a large increase of traffic is expected for the current year. The line from Cambridge to Burlington, Vt., now under construction, will prove a valuable feeder.

In accordance with the vote of the stockholders, a contract has been executed with the companies forming the Vermont Division for a consolidation of management and the execution of a joint mortgage on the whole line. The affairs of the consolidated line will be conducted by a board of eleven managers, six of whom will be chosen from the board of directors of this company.

—The Portland City Council has ordered the City Treasurer to pay the March coupons on the city bonds, issued in aid of this road, which the company recently declared itself unable to pay. The issue of bonds amounts to $1,350,000.

Knox & Lincoln.

(For the year ending Dec. 31, 1875.)

|---|---|
| Stock | $364,580 |
| Total | $2,759,580 |

The bonds are all city and town bonds issued in aid of the road, the interest on which the company pays so far as possible, the municipalities which issued the bonds making up the deficiency.

The earnings for the year were as follows:

| | 1875. | 1874. |
|---|---|---|
| Gross earnings | $146,214 | $161,568 |
| Net earnings | $74,016 | $82,843 |

Included in the expenses is the loss of $4,000 worth of wood destroyed by fire; the stock of wood on hand at the close of the year was also $2,000 greater than the previous year. The directors think that the cities and towns interested will have to raise about $60,000 this year to make up deficiencies in interest.

Hartford Providence & Fishkill.

(For the year ending Dec. 31.)

This road has been for several years worked by the trustees for the bondholders, among whom are the cities of Providence and Hartford.

The annual report submitted to the Rhode Island Legislature gives the following figures:

|---|---|
| Bonded debt in Connecticut | $1,574,500 |
| " Rhode Island | 481,000 |

The annual interest charge is $143,385. The Hartford sinking-fund amounts to $189,333 33, and the Providence sinking fund to $94,654 03.

The earnings of the road for the year ending Dec. 31 were as follows:

|---|---|
| Passengers | $455,865 03 |
| Freight | 416,685 08 |
| Mails and express | 27,877 76 |
| Rents | 20,798 59 |
| Total earnings | $991,221 46 |
| Working expenses (81·03 per cent) | 803,778 22 |
| Taxes | 18,256 58 |
| Total expenses (82·93 per cent) | $822,029 80 |
| Net earnings | $169,191 66 |
| Interest paid | 166,321 51 |
| Surplus for the year | $2,870 15 |

Wilmington & Western (Del).

(For the year ending Oct. 31, 1875.)

The funded debt is $500,000, on which interest has been in default since 1873. Foreclosure proceedings were recently begun and a receiver appointed.

The earnings were as follows:

| | 1874-75. | 1873-74. |
|---|---|---|
| Gross earnings | $41,267 42 | $31,871 15 |
| Net earnings | $6,663 01 | $1,862 76 |

The road and stations have been kept in good repair, the bridges repaired after the freshets of last spring, and a depot erected at Landenberg. One locomotive was sold, being very much out of repair and not needed.

The income account was as follows:

|---|---|
| Net earnings, 1873-74 and 1874-75 | $8,525 78 |
| Insurance | 1,176 00 |
| Sales of locomotive | 2,000 00 |
| Stock subscriptions | 471 00 |
| Total | $12,172 78 |
| Back wages, accounts due, buildings, etc | 12,172 78 |

West Chester & Philadelphia.

(For the year ending October 31, 1875.)

|---|---|
| Stock | $821,300 |
| Bonds | 1,100,000 |
| Total | $1,921,300 |

The earnings for the year ending Oct. 31 were as follows:

| | 1874-75. | 1873-74. |
|---|---|---|
| Passengers | $226,224 | $225,406 |
| Freight | 112,783 | 112,714 |
| Mails, rents, &c | 8,451 | 7,262 |
| Total | $347,459 | $345,382 |
| Expenses | 194,851 | 197,433 |
| Net earnings | $152,657 | $147,949 |

The fact that there has been no decrease during the year is considered encouraging. The report says: The road and all the property have been kept in good repair, and with the improvements made as suggested by the superintendent, the condition of their property will doubtless be satisfactory to the stockholders.

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

Central of Georgia.—The earnings for the past six months were $1,825,412 30; expenses, $876,269 14; net, $949,143 16. During this time the liabilities of the company have been reduced $594,079 56.

Chicago Danville & Vincennes.—Mr. A. W. Spies, of this city, with other bondholders, has proposed a new plan for adjusting the affairs of this company, which embraces the following:

First. The company shall elect a Board of Directors, a majority of whom shall be nominated by the first-mortgage bondholders, and such nominating power shall continue until after three consecutive years of prompt interest payments on the first mortgage bonds. Voting power shall also be permanently given to all the bondholders, if it can be lawfully done; if not, then as soon as requisite legislation can be obtained.

Second. Holders of claims junior to our bonds, and stockholders, shall remove all liens, claims and litigations, leaving the property free from all incumbrance, excepting as provided in schedule hereto and the common stock.

Third. A sinking fund shall be established to be a lien on the net earnings (after payment of interest on bonds, and maintenance of road and its equipment), to retire the "Income Bonds" mentioned below.

|---|---|
| The Illinois Division Bonds to stand as now | $2,500,000 |
| Coupon of October next to be paid at maturity in gold, and regularly thereafter. | |
| New first mortgage to be issued on the Indiana division for | 1,500,000 |
| Of which $600,000 shall be reserved for completing the Raccoon Valley Section of the Indiana division, and for betterments on the entire road, and $900,000 issued to holders of first mortgage Indiana Division bonds for 60 per cent. of the principal of the $1,500,000 now outstanding. | |
| Issue income bonds, convertible into stock at the option of the holder, with mortgage upon the whole line, payable in thirty years, with sinking fund, bearing 7 per cent. interest semi-annually, from net earnings, after interest is provided for on all the first mortgage bonds, viz.: To the Illinois Division First Mortgage bonds, for 6 coupons to April 1, 1876 ($525,000), which shall be a first series, with interest preferred | 525,000 |
| To the Indiana Division first mortgage bondholders for 40 per cent. of their principal, $600,000; and for 8 coupons up to April 1, 1877, $420,000, which shall be a second series | 1,020,000 |
| A further issue of the second series Income Bonds to settle secured claims and remove second mortgage, chattel mortgage, and all other liens | 455,000 |
| Floating unsecured debt to be settled by common stock. | |
| Making a total of "Income Bonds" | $2,000,000 |

The funding of coupons, as heretofore arranged, to be annulled, and the coupons to be settled for in "Income Bonds," as above stated.

This gives $4,000,000 of bonds secured by first mortgages (of which $600,000 is available for completing and betterments), and on which the interest can and must be certainly paid; and $2,000,000 of Income Bonds secured by next liens, and which, taking the surplus earnings for their interest, after interest is paid on the first mortgage bonds, should be expected to be regular interest-paying securities almost immediately after the full completion of the line.

They object to the plan of Mr. F. W. Huidekoper's committee, as follows:

The propositions recently made by the committee, of which Mr. F. W. Huidekoper is Chairman, contemplate, in the event of a consolidation of the two divisions after foreclosure, a first mortgage of $4,300,000, and a second of $1,800,000, making in all a mortgage debt of $6,100,000. The Illinois Division secures its principal and 90 per cent. of the interest in this first mortgage, but this is made subject to the priority of $1,300,000, designated "first series;" so that, in fact, the holders of the Illinois Division first mortgage are asked to accept a secondary position.

The Indiana Division is offered par, and $300 of its interest in a second mortgage, subject to a first, larger than the entire amount of both the present Illinois and Indiana Division mortgages; and with no certainty of the payment of interest, being merely Income bonds. This seems inequitable to the latter, which now holds a first mortgage, although less secure than the Illinois Division.

— General Adna Anderson, Receiver of the Chicago Danville and Vincennes Railroad Company, has reported earnings and expenses of January and February, 1876, which may be summarized as follows:

| RECEIPTS. | |
|---|---|
| January 1, balance on hand | $43,711 08 |
| Receipts on account of Receiver | 142,967 55 |
| Receipts on account of Hammond & Brown, the former Receivers. | 162 03 |
| Total receipts | $186,873 66 |
| DISBURSEMENTS. | |
| Receiver's expenses | $108,735 92 |
| Hammond & Brown's expenses | 340 51 |
| On account of floating debt of C. D. and V. R. R. Co. | 38,626 70 |
| Total | $147,703 13 |
| Balance on hand March 1 | 39,170 56 |

Cincinnati City Bonds.—An election was held March 14 to decide whether the City of Cincinnati would issue $6,000,000 bonds, in addition to the $10,000,000 already issued, to construct the Cincinnati and Southern Railway. Returns from forty-nine out of fifty-one precincts gave a majority in favor of the measure of 11,126. The total vote was about 10,000 short of the full vote of the city, but is the largest ever cast at any special election.

Cooperstown & Susquehanna Valley.—The Utica (N. Y.) Herald says: "It has been thought best, by the directors of the Cooperstown & Susquehanna Valley Railroad, to issue second mortgage bonds to the amount of $40,000. That the directors have confidence in these bonds they demonstrate by subscribing the amount of $30,000."

Davenport & St. Paul.—This Railroad was sold, March 23, by Special Master in Chancery N. P. Dillon for $500,000. The sale was ordered by a decree of the United States Circuit Court, in the suit of the German bondholders against the company, for foreclosure of the $4,000,000 mortgage.

Detroit Eel River & Illinois.—In the Circuit Court at Logansport, Ind., March 20th, in the suit of James F. Joy and H. P. Baldwin, trustees, against this road, a decree of foreclosure of the first mortgage was granted and the sale of the road ordered. The amount of the bonds and accrued interest is $2,533,544 48. The company made no opposition.

Erie.—It was reported, this week, that the third rail negotiations had been terminated, but this does not seem yet to be finally settled. The directors of the Erie Railway met Thursday at 12 o'clock to receive the report of the committee appointed to conduct negotiations with the representatives of the English bond and shareholders, in regard to the general scheme of reorganization. The Erie Committee simply reported progress, and the Erie board authorized them to continue negotiations. It is stated by parties interested in Erie that the question of a third rail has been referred for consideration to the Directors' Committee, in conference with the English Committee.

—To-day (24th), the Express says: "The special committee, consisting of Messrs. Sloan, Morgan and Dickson, to whom was referred, with power, the plan of funding Erie coupons, have agreed with the foreign bondholders' committee to recommend the funding of first consolidated bond coupons for five years, paying in cash alternate coupons, and also funding the second consolidated bond coupons for five years without any cash payment. The English Committee return to England by to-morrow's steamer."

Lafayette Bloomington & Mississippi.—In the United States Circuit Court at Springfield, Ill., March 20th, a decree of foreclosure of the first mortgage on this road was granted and a sale ordered, on suit of A. B. Baylis, trustee. The outstanding bonds amount to $1,333,000.

Mariposa Land and Mining Company of California.—This company applied to have its mortgage bonds placed on the Stock Exchange list, and submitted the following statement:

This company has, under authority of its charter, acquired and now holds the absolute title to the "Las Mariposas" estate, containing seventy square miles, or 44,386.83 acres of mining land, situated in Mariposa County, California, subject only to a mortgage for $289,608 63 given to Joseph A. Donohue, of California (the partner of Eugene Kelly), upon settlement of all litigations in which the old company was engaged. This company paid for this property by issuing and delivering 150,000 shares of its stock (its entire capital), which were issued to the Mariposa Land and Mining Company of New York, and by the latter company appropriated to its stockholders, share for share, upon the surrender of their stock in the old company.

Article 5 of the By-Laws authorizes the trustees to levy assessments on the shares of the capital stock, but no assessment at any one time shall exceed the sum of $1 per share, but such assessment shall not be levied oftener than once in each sixty days.

The only liabilities of this company are the mortgage above referred to, upon the Mariposa estate, held by Joseph A. Donohue, of San Francisco, for $289,608 64; $73,000 of the unsecured bonds of the old company; and such unliquidated claims as existed against the old company, all of which were assumed by this company upon its re-organization. For the purpose of funding all its obligations, including the mortgage above referred to, held by Mr. Donohue, and seventy-three unsecured bonds of the old company, the trustees of this company, on the 18th of November, 1875, by a resolution, authorized the issue of 500 bonds of $1,000 each, secured by a mortgage upon the Mariposa estate, No. 1 to 500 inclusive, dated December 15, 1875, payable to the holder January 1, 1886, with interest at 7 per cent., payable January 1 and July 1, principal and interest payable in gold coin.

Said bonds to be offered in the first instance, for a limited time, to the stockholders of the company, pro rata, at par, and any not taken by the stockholders, within the time limited, will be disposed of to any other parties, as the purposes of the company may require, but not at less than par.

They are now on deposit with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, Trustee, together with thirty-five thousand shares of the common stock (part of the present capital stock of the company), required for the conversion of the same, according to the terms of the bonds, at the option of the holders thereof. The committee recommended that the bonds be placed on the free list; and that the common and preferred stocks be placed on the regular list in place of the present stocks.

Missouri Kansas & Texas.—The Union Trust Company, as trustee, now has ready for signatures the new agreement of March 1, 1876, for the adjustment of this company's affairs with bondholders and other creditors. Attention is called to the notice of Mr. Edward King, President, which will be found in our advertising columns. The following is a brief synopsis of the principal points of the new plan. The bondholders are to fund all the outstanding coupons up to Jan. 1, 1876, to accept 4 per cent. interest for 1876, 1877 and 1878, and 5 per cent. for the next three years, funding the difference between those sums and 7 per cent. The bonds known as the Fort Smith Branch bonds are to be recognized as valid. The floating debt creditors are to receive for the amount of their claims with interest up to Aug. 1, 1875, new second mortgage bonds at 80; to bear 6 per cent. interest, payable only after that on the first mortgage bonds. All suits now pending are to be withdrawn, the trustees under the agreement of 1874 are to turn over the money and coupons in their hands to the Union Trust Company, of New York. The present Receiver is to retire, and the Union Trust Company, as trustee, is to take possession of the road and manage it through its agents. To assist in the management there is to be an advisory board of five members, three nominated jointly by the New York and Amsterdam committees of bondholders, and two by the Union Trust Company.

Panama Railroad and Pacific Mail.—The Panama Railroad has sent the following notice through its attorneys:

NEW YORK, March 21, 1876.

SIDNEY DILLON, Esq., President P. M. S. S. Co.

DEAR SIR: The Panama Company directs me again to notify you that the default of your Company to pay the amounts due for current balances to it leaves them no alternative but to take such measures for the collection of the amount due as may be proper. I am also directed to say that the Panama Company most decidedly protest against the creation and use of the bonds of the P. M. S. S. Co., recently authorized to be issued, because such issue is an attempt to secure one class of creditors of the Steamship Company, to the exclusion of a large portion of the creditors whose debts are now due, a proceeding by an insolvent company in violation of the law; and in respect of any such bonds or of any lien attempted to be given to any creditor of the company, the Panama Company will take such proceedings to set the same aside as may be necessary for their protection.

The representatives of the Panama Company claim that the Pacific Mail Company is in debt to the railroad $395,000, apart from the loan of $500,000. Of this $395,000 the sum of $162,000 is in dispute.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, March 24, 1876.

A storm this week of extraordinary severity, attended with much damage to shipping, some interruption of telegraph and railway communication and loss of life, has been followed by more seasonable weather. Expressions of the temper of Congress and in other influential quarters have been adverse to the success of the schemes of the inflationists, and have contributed to the restoration of confidence in mercantile circles, and business prospects may be said to be better than for a long time past. We may, in fact, congratulate our readers upon the dawn of that revival of trade which has been so long delayed and so impatiently waited for. A point has been reached at which goods may be sold, rather than sacrificed, and when scarcely a circumstance exists that does not indicate that the worst has been passed.

The speculation in pork has been towards higher prices, but without much activity or decided advance. The supply is large at the West, but it is not allowed to come forward very freely. To-day, mess sold at $23 25 on the spot, and the following were the closing bids for future delivery: April, $23 20; May, $23 40; June, $23 55; July, $23 60. Bacon has been in brisk demand and closes higher at 13c.@13½c. for Western and city long clear. Cut meats are without important variation. The speculation in lard has been of the most excited character, and prices are again decidedly higher; prime qualities were taken yesterday very freely for export at 14¼c. The "shorts" have been forced to protect their contracts for the spring months, and the interest of the market has therefore centred chiefly in April and May options. To day, the market opened excited and buoyant, but closed tame, with the early improvement mostly lost; closing unsettled on the spot, with the following the latest bids for future delivery: April, $14 27½; May, $14 40; June, $14 50; July, $14 60. Beef and beef hams have been in fair demand and steady. Butter tends upward for fine grades. Cheese is spiritless at 12c.@14c. for good to choice factories. Tallow has been in moderate demand at 9c. for prime. Stearine is firmer at 15c.@15½c. for prime. The following is a statement of the exports of hog products from the principal ports, October 30 to March 18, 1875-6:

| | Pork, bbls. | Lard, lbs. | Bacon & Hams, lbs. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Total | 102,875 | 69,014,237 | 178,977,382 |
| Corresponding time 1874-5 | 97,273 | 88,296,890 | 142,051,836 |
| Increase | 5,602 | ..... | 36,925,546 |
| Decrease | ... | 19,282,653 | ..... |

Kentucky tobacco has ruled firm but quiet at 5@7c. for lugs and 7½@16c. for leaf; the sales for the week embraced 400 hhds., of which 300 were for export and 100 for consumption. Seed leaf has been in fair demand at about steady prices; the sales embrace: Crop of 1873, 258 cases Ohio at 7@11c., 129 cases New England at 17c., crop of 1874, 327 cases do. at 5½@28c., 245 cases Ohio at 5½@6c., 139 cases New York and 45 cases Wisconsin on private terms; also 200 cases sundry kinds at 7@25c. Spanish tobacco has been in moderate demand and unchanged; the sales were 500 bales Havana at 88@$1 15.

The market for hides has been dull and quotations more or less nominal; dry Montevideo sold at 19½c. gold, and city slaughter ox 8½c. currency. Codfish have been in demand at $4 50@4 75 for Grand Bank, and $5 75 for new Georges. Linseed oil has been in fair jobbing demand, at 59@60c.; other oils quiet and unchanged. Whiskey has advanced to $1 13, tax paid, and is generally held higher at the close. The business of the past week has been noted for the sale of 1,200 bbls. alcohol for export to the Mediterranean at 36c., in bond, the first transaction of any importance in this line for some three or four years.

During the past week ocean freights have been moderately active, sufficient to consume all the immediate offerings of room, and impart a firm and advanced tone to rates. Late engagements and charters include—Grain to Liverpool, by steam, 8@8½d; cotton, ½@9-32d; provisions, 32s. 6d @37s. 6d.; grain, by sail, 7½d. @8d. Nothing of importance either to London, Hull, Bristol or Glasgow, and very little room is being offered. Grain to Cork for orders, 6s. 9d.; do. to Rotterdam, 6s. 9d.; do. to Oporto, 18c. gold; refined petroleum from Philadelphia to Bremen, 4s. To-day, there was a very quiet market; nothing of importance was done, yet rates remained firm. Sugar to Liverpool, by steam, 32s. 6d. per ton; flour, by sail, 3s.; grain to Bristol, by sail, 9d.; naphtha to Havre, 4s. 10½d, per bbl.

Naval stores have much improved of late; the stocks are well concentrated, and the Southern advices show an advance and much firmness. Spirits turpentine closes at 41c., and common to good strained rosin $1 70@1 80.

Rio coffee has met with an active demand the past week, the sales aggregating about 23,000 bags, and quotations are ¼c. up, to 16¾@18¼c. gold, for fair to good cargoes. The stock at this point is reduced to 164,000 bags, and the visible supply for the United States to 274,000 bags. Mild coffees have also been active and firm; Java 22@25c., and Maracaibo 16@18½c., both gold; stocks, 171,600 mats and 34,700 bags. Rice has been steady with a fair demand. Foreign dried fruits have been quiet and unchanged. Teas have been slow of sale, but without further decline. Molasses has been more active and firm, the sales for the week embracing eight cargoes of Cuba Muscovado, at 32½@33c. for 50 test. Sugars have been more active, and the decline of last week has been recovered; fair to prime refining Cuba, 7½@7¾c.; standard crushed 10⅝c., but the close is weak.

* New Orleans.—Our telegram to-night from New Orleans shows that (besides above exports) the amount of cotton on shipboard and engaged for shipment at that port is as follows: For Liverpool, 65,000 bales; for Havre, 20,000 bales; for Continent, 21,000 bales; for coastwise ports, 3,000 bales; which, if deducted from the stock, would leave 156,500 bales representing the quantity at the landing and in presses unsold or awaiting orders.

† Galveston.—Our Galveston telegram shows (besides above exports) on ship board at that port, not cleared: For Liverpool, 5,986 bales; for other foreign, 5,832 bales; for coastwise ports, 1,850 bales; which, if deducted from the stock, would leave remaining 30,502 bales.

‡ The exports this week under the head of "other ports" include from Baltimore 219 bales to Liverpool and 140 bales to Bremen; from Boston 396 bales to Liverpool; from Philadelphia 200 bales to Liverpool.

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that, compared with the corresponding week of last season, there is an increase in the exports this week of 30,211 bales, while the stocks to-night are 3,620 bales more than they were at this time a year ago. These mail returns do not correspond precisely with the total of the telegraphic figures, because in preparing them it is always necessary to incorporate every correction made at the ports.

We have had a buoyant market the past week. Spots were marked up ¼c. Monday and Tuesday and 5-16c. Thursday, with a general demand. Shippers and spinners have had orders to a fair extent to fill, and there has been some demand for speculation. But the wants of buyers have not been sufficient, had they been met with any degree of freedom on the part of holders, to cause the advance above quoted. It has been due largely to the action of holders in withdrawing their stocks from the market, a course to which they are encouraged by the liberal export movement, and the considerable reduction which has been effected recently in stocks at the American ports. To-day, the market closed firm, with a good business for export. For future delivery the market has also been buoyant. On Wednesday, the bears made a strong effort to check the advance, favored by the return of better weather at the South and comparatively free receipts at the ports and at Memphis, but their anticipations of a weaker Liverpool market on Thursday were not fully realized, and they made haste to cover the contracts which they had put out. This caused some excitement, and the early months advanced 3-32@⅛c., while the later months were 1-16c. higher. The South was visited during Sunday and Monday by one of the most violent storms ever recorded, attended with unseasonably cold weather. Snow fell as far South as Vicksburg. At Memphis it was one foot deep. There was a partial interruption to railway transportation and local floods in Louisiana and Mississippi; and a heavy fall of snow in the Upper Mississippi River and its great tributaries caused fears of an overflow of the Lower Mississippi later in the season. To-day, the opening was weak and the later months lower, but the close was at a partial advance of 1-16c. The receipts at Memphis yesterday and to-day were considerably smaller than last year.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 151,400 bales, including —— free on board. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 12,716 bales, including 6,909 for export, 3,083 for consumption, 2,524 for speculation, and 200 in transit. Of the above, 400 bales were to arrive. The following are the closing quotations:

The above totals show that the old interior stocks have decreased during the week 10,050 bales, and are to-night 10,097 bales more than at the same period last year. The receipts at same towns have been 3,177 bales more than the same week last year.

BOMBAY SHIPMENTS.—According to our cable despatch received to-day, there have been 5,000 bales shipped from Bombay to Great Britain the past week, and 9,000 bales to the Continent; while the receipts at Bombay during this week have been 41,000 bales. The movement since the 1st of January is as follows. These are the figures of W. Nicol & Co., of Bombay, and are brought down to Thursday, March 23:

| | Shipments this week | | | Shipments since Jan. 1 | | | Receipts. | |

From the foregoing it would appear that, compared with last year, there is a decrease of 38,000 bales this year in the week's shipments from Bombay to Europe, and that the total movement since January 1 shows a decrease in shipments of 194,000 bales compared with the corresponding period of 1875.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—The weather the past week has been very unfavorable for crop preparations. During Sunday and Monday a very severe storm passed over a very large portion of the South, attended with a considerable fall of snow, the snow storm extending as far down as at least half of Texas. At Little Rock they had about 8 inches of snow, and at Memphis about the same, and at Columbus, Miss., six inches. Very little actual harm to cotton has been done, not much being up, but the fruit has been largely injured and in many districts the corn also.

Galveston, Texas.—We have had a hard and very severe storm during two days, Sunday and Monday, of this week, followed by severe cold. At this point there was no frost, but a killing frost is reported throughout the most of the State. What cotton was up is killed, but there was very little up. Corn, spring oats and vegetables were utterly destroyed, requiring replanting. Fruit generally is killed. Sugar cane was cut down to be unhurt. There will spring up anew. Wheat is supposed to be unhurt. There was ice and snow over three-quarters of the State. The maximum velocity of the north wind on Monday was 56 miles per hour. The rainfall here was two inches and twenty-four hundredths. Planting has been suspended by reason of the weather. The thermometer has averaged 56, the highest being 70 and the lowest 36.

Indianola, Texas.—We had a hard rain on one day of this week, with a high wind and subsequent cold. There was no frost here, but a killing frost northward. The thermometer, however, went too low in this neighborhood; little cotton was above ground, but corn and fruit were generally injured, perhaps destroyed. The rainfall was one inch and fifty-five hundredths, and the thermometer averaged 58, the highest being 76 and the lowest 37.

Corsicana, Texas.—It rained hard on three days of this week—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The last two days there were killing frosts, ice forming and snow falling to the depth of two inches. Corn, fruit and all tender vegetation were destroyed. No cotton was up, but the ground was frozen to a considerable depth, causing much apprehension as to the seed which has been planted. The rainfall was one inch and sixty eight hundredths, and the thermometer has averaged 46, the highest being 63 and the lowest 25.

Dallas, Texas.—We have had wretched weather this week. It rained on three days, part of the time snowing, and followed by frost and ice. The ground was frozen hard. Corn, fruit, and all tender stuff has been killed. No cotton was up, Wheat has been but little injured. The snow storm was of very wide extent, and was three inches deep here. Rainfall one inch and sixty hundredths, the thermometer averagiug 54, the highest being 61, and the lowest 26.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—We have had an unusually severe storm this week, and on one night a frost, but not a killing frost. The rainfall has reached four inches and ten hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 49.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—A severe wind and rain storm, followed by a slight snow, has prevailed here this week. Roads are almost impassable, and fruit has been killed. The rainfall has reached six and twenty seven hundredths inches. The thermometer has averaged 45, the extremes being 65 and 20.

Vicksburg, Mississippi.—It rained on three days this week, the rainfall reaching two and twelve hundredths inches. There was also sleet and snow, which have destroyed vegetation. Farmers have now been plowing for ten days. The thermometer has averaged 44, the highest being 64, and the lowest 40.

Columbus, Mississippi.—The weather here during the week has been too cold. We were visited by a snow storm on one day, which was of wide extent, and at this place the fall of snow was six inches deep. Total rainfall for the week, two and sixty-six hundredths inches. Average thermometer 49, highest 53 and lowest 37.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—The past week has been very disagreeable, there having been only two clear days. On Sunday we had a snowfall of eight inches, and on Monday it cleared and turned cold enough to kill our fruit. The thermometer has averaged during the week 40, the highest being 70 and the lowest 11. The rainfall for the week is four and sixty-one hundredths inches.

Nashville, Tennessee.—Rain fell on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching seventy-five hundredths of an inch. Snow fell to about the depth of seven inches. Average thermometer 32, highest 47 and lowest 14.

Memphis, Tennessee.—It has rained two days this week, and is now raining, the rainfall reaching two inches and twenty-three hundredths. We had eight inches of snow Sunday and Monday, and a hard freeze on two nights, which killed fruit and vegetables. The thermometer has averaged 33, the highest being 40, and the lowest 29.

Mobile, Alabama.—We are having too much rain. We had an unusually severe storm this week, with heavy rain, and it is raining steadily to day, the rainfall for the week reaching two inches and ninety-five hundredths. Ice formed in this vicinity Monday night, and snow fell in the middle and northern portions of the State. The frost we have had will make it necessary to replant corn in some districts. Average thermometer, 47; highest, 67; and lowest, 31.

Montgomery, Alabama.—There have been two rainy days here this week, the rainfall reaching one inch and fifty-nine hundredths. The weather has been too cold. Ice formed this week over almost the whole State, and there were killing frosts on three nights. Average thermometer, 44; range, 28 to 64.

Selma, Alabama.—There was rain here on three days this week, one day an unusually severe storm of rain and sleet, with a high wind, the rainfall reaching one inch and eighty-nine hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 42.

Madison, Florida.—The thermometer during the past week has averaged 53, ranging from 68 to 38. There has been one rainy day, and a rainfall of two and ninety hundredths inches. We had a killing frost Tuesday night, which will make replanting in some districts necessary; much damage has been done.

Macon, Georgia.—Telegram not received.

Atlanta, Georgia.—We had a severe snow storm one day this week, which was of wide extent, and here the snow was three inches deep. The weather has been too cold. The thermometer has averaged 30, the highest being 37 and the lowest 22. Total rainfall for the week one inch and sixty-nine hundredths.

Columbus, Georgia.—The weather during the week has been too cold, the thermometer averaging 44 and ranging from 26 to 64. There have been two rainy days, the rainfall reaching two inches and forty-four hundredths.

GUNNY BAGS, BAGGING, &c.—Bagging has continued quiet during the past week, buyers and sellers still being apart in their views as to price. There are some reports of a sale of 2,000 rolls for June delivery at 13c., but they are not confirmed as we go to press. We quote prices for spot lots at 12¼@12½c. Bales rule nominal at 9c. cash for Indias. Bags are quiet at 13⅛@13¼c. for 44os. The market for butts has ruled rather in buyers' favor, owing, no doubt, to the small number of orders in hand; holders who were anxious to dispose of their stock have been obliged to shade quotations to do business. Sales on spot of 400@500 bales at 2⅞@3⅛c., cash and time. To arrive about 1,500 bales distant arrival have been placed at 2½c. gold.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, P. M., March 24, 1876

In the market for flour there was a further advance early in the week, with sales of large lines of common shipping extras from spring wheat at $5 20@5 30, but these prices, with some disposition among holders to obtain more money, checked the demand, and finally caused some dulness in the course of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. There was, however, no decline, nor any pressure to sell. The choice family brands shared in the upward tendency. Rye flour was firm and there was a large business in corn meal at steady prices. Yesterday, after 'change, shippers again entered the flour market and, in the absence of lices immediately available, bought 15,000 bbls. Milwaukee common extra for April and May at $5 30@5 35. To-day, the market was quiet and weak, under quiet foreign advices.

The wheat market became dull on Tuesday, prices having advanced in the meantime to $1 26 for No. 2 Chicago, 1 30@$1 31 for No. 2 Milwaukee, and $1 40 for choice No. 1 spring, all in store; also free sales of No. 3 Milwaukee were made at $1 20 in store, and of rejected at $1 10. The advance in spring growths caused rather more attention to be given to winter wheat, but without important transactions being effected. A decline of 2@3c. followed the above advance, owing to the reduction of limits by shippers. Receipts have been moderate at all points, and a considerable reduction has been effected in stocks on hand. Last evening there was a considerable revival of demand and a partial recovery of prices. To day, there was a partial decline of 1c. and a quiet market.

Indian corn has met with an active demand for export. The advance in wheat compelled shippers to take corn in its place to fill freight engagements, and prices advanced 2c. per bushel, with large sales yesterday at 63½@64½c. for steamer and sail new mixed. The speculation for future delivery was also at higher prices, with a fair business for April at 64@64½c. Southern corn has been more plenty, and sells about as Western, though choice lots of the latter are preferred. Receipts and stocks are quite moderate. To-day, owing to scarcity, there was a further advance of 1c.

Rye has been more active at 82½c. for Western, and 86@88c. for State. There has been a great revival of demand for barley, the sales yesterday being at 82½c. for two-rowed State, and $1 15@$1 18 for No. 1 Canadian. To-day, the demand continued good.

Oats have been in brisk request in the past few days, prime mixed selling freely yesterday at 47@48c., showing an advance of fully one cent. To day, prices ruled very firm, with a slight upward tendency.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., March 24, 1876.

Operations in dry goods this week have been comparatively small in volume and unsatisfactory in character with the domestic commission houses. The Western trade, from which so much is expected at this time of the year, have bought very few goods, owing to unfavorable reports concerning business in their section of country, attributed to the still impassable condition of the roads, preventing the distribution of early purchases. The demoralized state of the print market, and incipient weakness in some descriptions of both cotton and woolen goods, also deterred jobbers from other sections of the country from operating with their customary freedom in domestic productions, and a mere hand-to-mouth demand was experienced. Foreign goods were also devoid of animation in private hands, but some very heavy sales were made at auction, including a line of gold medal dress fabrics and silks of the importation of Messrs. Passavant & Co., which realized the handsome sum of $203,000. The jobbing trade was stimulated to some extent by the exceptionally low figures at which some descriptions of domestic goods were offered, but on the whole was sluggish when compared with former seasons at a like period.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The export trade in domestic cottons has been fairly satisfactory, 1,374 packages having been shipped from this port in the course of the week. The largest shipment (550 bales) was made to China; 313 packages were sent to Liverpool, 198 to Brazil, 109 to Peru, and the remainder in smaller lots to other countries. Brown sheetings showed symptoms of weakness, and a large sale of Atlantics was made to a leading jobbing-house on private terms. Several makes of four-yard brown sheetings, which had been placed "on memorandum" some time since, were charged up at a reduction of ¼c. Bleached shirtings were also lower in some cases, and Hill's, Red Bank and Greene G. were marked down ¼c. Tickings were quiet, and Amoskeag makes showed a decline. Cheviots and cottonades were dull and lower in some instances. Denims, dyed ducks, checks, stripes and osnaburgs were nominally steady but quiet. Print cloths moved slowly, and the speculative demand having been supplied, prices for extra standard 64x64 cloths receded to 3⅞c. cash @ thirty days. Prints were dull in first hands, and although nominally unchanged in price, several styles were sold at a concession from holding rates. The leading jobbers offered various lines of fancy standard prints, in fair styles, at 5½@6c., and shirtings at 5¼c., which low figures induced large sales. Ginghams and cotton dress goods were in fair request.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—The main features of the traffic in men's-wear woolens—general quiet and unsatisfactory prices—remained unchanged. The few clothiers in the market commenced operations in heavy woolens for the early fall trade, but their transactions were generally small. For spring-weight cassimeres, suitings and worsteds, there was a limited, hand-to-mouth demand from cloth and dry goods jobbers. Cloths and doeskins of the most popular makes were in moderate request for small lots. Satinets in low grades for printing purposes were in fair request, and mixtures of the better qualities were taken in moderate amounts by clothiers. Kentucky jeans were quiet, with the exception of low grades which met with fair sales. Flannels were taken in small lots for keeping up assortments, and carpets were fairly active in jobbers' hands. There was a less active movement in worsted dress goods, and shawls were so quiet that manufacturers have begun to curtail production.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There has been a fair demand for black cashmeres and fancy British and Continental dress goods, but alpacas and pure mohairs have been quiet. Low and medium black dress silks were fairly active, but colors and fancies ruled quiet. Millinery silks and ribbons found an outlet through the auction rooms in liberal amounts. Linen goods were in moderate demand, with most inquiry for leading housekeeping makes. White goods and embroideries moved slowly, and laces were not very active. Woolen goods for mens' wear dragged, and efforts will be made to close out some important lines at auction next week. Hosiery and kid gloves were in steady demand.

We annex prices of a few articles of domestic manufacture:

Yet the Company paid these losses at sight without borrowing or selling a single dollar of permanent investments, continued regular dividends to their stockholders, and at the end of 1873 had entirely made up (not in this country, however), the losses of these two conflagrations and all others, commencing 1874 with a surplus over $100,000 larger than ever before.

Annual Income of Fire Department alone over $4,000,000.

Fire and Life Assets entirely distinct—the one not liable for the other.

The Company organized A. D. 1809. Commenced business in this country A. D. 1867.

Agencies in most of the principal cities and towns in the United States.

All mortgages securing the Bonds are formally approved by the following Executive Board:

A Pamphlet with full information will be sent on application to the Company's Office,

43 Milk Street, Boston.

These Bonds are commended to the attention of the MOST CONSERVATIVE INVESTORS, as they are believed to be as perfect a security as can be obtained. The issue of Bonds is limited to one-half the amount of the same class of Bonds ever issued under a like Guarantee.

The security of each Bond is not confined a to single Mortgage, but extends over all the Mortgages owned by the Company. This Company receives no deposits, guarantees no other securities, and has no other debts than its bonds. Its Mortgages are of like character to those which have been bought in the last twenty years by Individuals, Life Insurance Companies and other Corporations, to the amount of more than Fifty Millions of Dollars, proving a most secure and satisfactory investment. The Loans are all upon improved Farms in some of the most fertile Western states, near the Railroads, with short and perfect titles, and average less than $650 each, upon property worth nearly four times their amount. Experience has proved that well selected Mortgages upon this class of property are safer than those upon city property, either in the East or West. They are not affected by Fires, or by Business revulsions; Principal and Interest are more promptly paid; and upon the success of Agriculture depends that of almost every industrial investment.

[Entered according to act of Congress, in the year 1876, by Wm. B. Dana & Co., in the office of the Librarian of Congress, Washington, D.C.]

INVESTORS' SUPPLEMENT

OF THE

Commercial and Financial Chronicle.

The Supplement is issued on the last Saturday of each month, containing a complete exhibit of the Funded Debt of States and Cities, and of the Stocks and Bonds of Railroad and other Companies.

It is furnished without extra charge to all regular subscribers of The Chronicle; no single copies are sold at the office, as a sufficient supply is printed for subscribers only.

Transient advertisements are inserted at twenty-five cents per line; advertisements by the quarter, six months or year, at special rates.

INVESTMENTS IN MARCH.

There has been nothing in the month to put a material check on the demand for investment bonds, and the general tendency of the market has been towards firmer prices.

As to United States Government securities, the lessened prospect that the bill introduced into Congress, providing for the issue of 4½ per cent bonds, will become a law in its original shape, has had the effect of giving more confidence to the recent dealings in five-twenties. In discussing the question of the position which the credit of the United States ought fairly to occupy, there are two practical considerations which are uppermost—first, that a bond must be offered which complies with the usual requisites of an acceptable government security in the financial centres of Europe, London and Frankfort. It must be a long bond having a definite time to run and payable positively in gold. Hitherto there has really been no bond which furnished a true gauge of United States credit abroad, as the uncertain periods of the five-twenties and ten-forties make them an anomalous sort of government bond, while the currency sixes are not acceptable abroad, and the sixes of 1881 mature so soon that they can not command anything like the price of a thirty to fifty year bond. Assuming that the bonds offered are made in a form acceptable to capitalists, the next question which must be most seriously considered by foreign money lenders is in regard to the political influences likely to obtain control in this country. The question of the right of States to withdraw from the Union has been thoroughly settled by the late war; and as to the matter of our ability to pay the present outstanding debt, there is not even the opportunity for discussion, as the total amount is too insignificant when compared with the actual resources of the country; nor is there any probability of war here, as our interests are all against it. On these points our friends abroad can have little to make them hesitate; and if there is any shadow of uncertainty which would present the bonds of the United States to the mind of an English banker in a less favorable light than those of the best governments of continental Europe, it must be chiefly in consequence of his impression, whether correct or not, that political changes here might, at some time, place a party in control which would be less favorable to a strict fulfilment of the Government's obligation to its creditors. If this view is substantially correct, it indicates the importance of having political parties sound on the financial question.

State securities will not be likely to furnish a channel for conservative investments, as there seems to be a decided opposition to an increase in State debts, and, as we have frequently pointed out, the reduction of State debts has been in strong contrast to the large increase in city, county and town bonds in the past ten years.

The large growth in city debts and in the rates of taxation has at length developed a loud public sentiment against the further increase in city obligations. The experience of city bondholders, however, has thus far been good, and, except in some of the Southern and minor Western cities, the principal and interest have generally been paid at maturity. City bonds should always be a favorite investment for local purposes, but it is possible that an advantage might be gained by giving a priority to bonds according to the date of their issue. It seems to be manifestly unjust that the purchasers of the early issues of city bonds, when the debt was small and easily manageable, should be placed on a level with purchasers who came in at the eleventh hour and paid a low price for their bonds, in consequence of the heavy debt and the impaired credit of the municipality.

The stock and bonds of corporations, together with real estate mortgages, must continue to form a large part of the investments by private parties in this country, and it is desirable to throw around them every practicable safeguard, through the means of reasonable legislative enactments, and by careful requirements and customs of the several stock exchanges in our leading cities, as well as among dealers and private bankers. The bonds based on real estate mortgages are not a public and negotiable security, and do not, therefore, come within the scope of our present discussion, excepting those, perhaps, which are guaranteed by a mortgage company and which thus have a more definite market value attached to them. We have frequently referred to those of the Equitable Trust Company, thus negotiated, and it would seem that the demand for loans on real estate security will eventually lead to the organization of companies for the special purpose of lending on real estate, not at the West alone, where rates of interest are 2 per cent higher, but also in this city and vicinity. The expense of examining title, together with the positive endorsement of a substantial and conservative corporation, should easily enable the borrower to pay 1 per cent for the services rendered. One of the principal objections now to good real estate mortgages is that they are next to useless for sale, or as collaterals for loans on short notice; they have no ascertained market value, and it is only after a long and expensive examination of title that they can be disposed of.

Railroad bonds have grown in favor quite remarkably since the beginning of the year, and it is difficult now to find good 7 per cent first mortgages at or near par. The idea has prevailed that the weakness in railroads was pretty thoroughly tested by the years 1874 and 1875, and this has been encouraged by the considerable improvement in earnings exhibited in the past two months. Late experience must have suggested to bondholders the fact that a well secured business and a large annual surplus above interest charges have been the safest things to rely on for the payment of their interest. A list of prominent officers or directors (though important as a guarantee of effective and honest management), has not raised the money to pay interest in the day of small earnings. It may follow from this that since the first mortgages have so largely advanced, the second and third mortgages of some of the most substantial roads, earning a large surplus for dividends, offer a better chance for present investment than the firsts. Some of the Pacific railroad securities are still selling at prices which yield a good rate of interest on their cost, and, except for the unsettled questions with the Government, and the possibility of hostile legislation by Congress, the bonds would probably be higher.

NOTES.

These tables are expressly intended to be used in connection with the information concerning Investment matters, published from week week in the CHRONICLE—to which an index is furnished in the remarks at the foot of the tables. Annual reports are in black-faced figures.

A full description of U. S. Government Securities is published regularly in the CHRONICLE each month, as soon as the official "Debt Statement" is issued.

Prices of all Stocks and Bonds are quoted weekly in the CHRONICLE.

The following will give explanations of each column of the tables below:

Description.—Railroads leased to others will often be found under the lessee's name. The following abbreviations frequently occur, viz.: M. for "mortgage," s. f. for "sinking fund," l. gr. for "land grant," reg. for "registered," coup. for "coupon," Br. for "Branch," guar. for "guaranteed," end. for "endorsed."

Date of Bonds.—The date of issue on the face of the bond is referred to in this column.

Miles of Road.—Opposite Stocks, this means the miles of road operated, on which the earnings are based; opposite bonds, the miles covered by the mortgage.

Size or Par Value.—These figures are dollars, showing the denominations or par value. The figures "100, &c.," signify $100 and larger.

Rate Per Cent.—The interest per annum is given for bonds, but the per cent of last dividend for stocks; g means gold; x, extra; s, stock or scrip.

When Payable.—J. & J. stands for Jan. & July; F. & A., Feb. & Aug.; M. & S., March & Sept.; A. & O., April & Oct.; M. & N., May & Nov.; J. & D., June & Dec.; Q.—J., quarterly from January; Q.—F., quarterly from Feb.; Q.—M., quarterly from March.

Bonds, principal when due; Stocks, last dividend.—The date in this column shows the period when the principal falls due of bonds, but the time when the last dividend was paid on stocks.

Alabama.—The commissioners, under law of Dec. 1, 1874, to ascertain, liquidate and adjust the legal liabilities of the State on its bonds, propose substantially that 30 year bonds bearing 2 per cent for 5 years, 3 per cent for next 5 years, 4 per cent for next 10 years, and 5 per cent for last 10 years, be exchanged for old bonds, without any allowance for past due coupons. The State has been in default since January, 1874. The value of all taxable property is given at $160,000,000; tax rate, 7½ mills. The assessed valuation of real estate in 1875 was $83,851,252. (V. 20, p. 139, 534, 570, 581; V. 21, p. 276, 294, 322, 534, 612; V. 22, p. 110, 157, 205.)

Arkansas.—Rate of taxation, 5 mills. Unfunded debt is mostly held by U. S. The State is in default for interest. By the last assessment for 1872 and 1873 the total valuation of property was $104,972,329. Interest was paid Jan. 1, 1876, on secured sinking fund bonds, issued under the law of December, 1874, to pay expenses. A Board of Finance was appointed in January, 1875, to confer with bondholders of the State and they issued a notice as quoted in V 21, p. 161. See CHRONICLE, V. 19, p. 167, 189, 637; V. 20, p. 139, 161; V. 21, p. 465, 590.

California.—California finances appear to be in a particularly sound condition. The State holds in trust for School and University funds the $500,000 Capitol bonds and $2,063,000 of bonds 1873. Total valuation of property, 1874, over $600,000,000. Tax rate, 50 cents per $100. As the debt is now practically extinguished, the Governor advises the gradual cancellation of the bonds held in trust and the purchase of foreign securities in their place. (V. 19, p. 3 of advertisements; V. 19, p. 32.)

Connecticut.—The debt of Connecticut was all created for war purposes, and has been reduced since 1866 from $10,000,000 to the present figures by sinking fund purchases. The 1861 bonds are payable at pleasure since July, 1871, and those of 1864 after October, 1874. Assessed value of real and personal property, $355,491,451; rate of taxation, 1 mill.

District of Columbia.—The total assessed value of taxable real estate in 1875 was $93,452,684. United States Attorney-General Pierrepont rendered an opinion that the faith of the United States is pledged for the payment of interest on the 3.65 bonds, but conflicting legal opinions have been rendered as to the right of New York savings banks to invest in these, as government securities. The interest due February, 1876, was not paid till March, as no appropriation was made by Congress. The total amount of 3-65 bonds issued to February were as above. (V. 20, p. 88. See also V. 19, p. 15, 61, 142, 189, 477; V. 20, p. 239, 446; V. 21, p. 63, 417, 465; V. 22, p. 181.)

Florida.—Less the sinking fund of $49,900, and J. P. and M. loan, the total debt is $1,199,700. Real and personal property are valued about $35,000,000; tax rate, 7 mills. The loan to J. P. & M. RR. is secured by mortgage on road, and the question as to the State's obligation to the bondholders was before the United States Supreme Court, and decided in December, 1875, (V. 21, p. 591), in favor of the State; no interest has been paid on these bonds for some years past, and a late decision of the State Supreme Court holds them unconstitutional. (V. 21, p. 466; V. 22, p. 158, 233.)

Georgia.—This is one of the Southern States that has paid the interest on its acknowledged debt, but the State Legislature declared void all the semi-annual gold bonds of 1870 ($1,880,000), and $102,000 of the quarterly bonds held by H. Clews & Co.; the Brunswick & Albany bonds, $1,500,000; and all railroad endorsements, except, $1,950,000 Macon & Brunswick; $194,000 Ala. & Chatt.; $240,000 No. & So. Ga.; and $34,000 Memphis Branch. Assessed value of property in 1874, $273,000,000; in 1875, $261,755,884; rate of tax, four mills. Macon & Brunswick Railroad endorsement was declared valid by Legislature of 187', but the later issue of $600,000 was declared void by the Legislature in 1875. Governor's Message, V. 22, p. 87. (V. 20, p. 83. See also V. 19, p. 111, 350, 375; V. 20, p. 241, 336, 570.)

Illinois.—The debt has been rapidly reduced of late years, and, without the addition of new loans, will soon be extinguished. The Illinois Central Railroad charter tax on earnings contributes over $400,000 per year to the State revenue. The assessment of all property in 1875 was $1 065,529,856. Municipalities in Illinois are in some localities heavily incumbered with debt issued to railroads. (V. 19, p. 15, 38, 526.).

Indiana.—There are also $139,000 of war bonds. There is a question as to the State's obligation to pay the Wabash & Erie Canal debt. A reference to the origin of that debt, arising from the State's compromise with the bondholders in 1846, will be found in the CHRONICLE, V. 19, p. 493; see also p. 526. A suit on the question was brought and decree of sale obtained (V. 21, p. 85; V. 22, p. 104). Taxable valuation, 1875—real estate, $621,416,973; personal, $231,667,147; railroads, $18,436,919; corporations, $4,045,503; tax rate, 1¼ mills. A law permitting towns to issue bonds was passed in 1855, the main section being as follows:

"SECTION 1.—Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Indiana, That any corporated town in this State which shall have heretofore, by the action of its Board of Trustees, commenced the erection of any public buildings, to be used as a market house, engine house or other public purposes, and shall not have the necessary means with which to complete such building, on the passage of an ordinance authorizing the same by the Board of Trustees of said incorporated town, issue the bonds of such town to an amount not exceeding in the aggregate $10,000, in denominations of not less than $50 nor more than $500, and payable at any place that may be designated in the bonds; the principal in not less than one year nor more than ten years after the date of such bonds, and the interest, annually or semi-annually, as may be therein provided, to provide the means with which to complete such buildings; provided that such bonds shall not be sold at a price less than ninety-four cents on the dollar, nor bear a greater rate of interest than eight per centum per annum."

A similar law was passed for counties, which, referring to contracts that have been made for public buildings, &c., says that in counties where such contracts have been so made, the board of commissioners of such counties are authorized to issue bonds to an amount not exceeding one-half of one per centum on the assessed valuation of the property of such county, in addition to any loan for said purpose for which bonds may have been heretofore issued, negotiated and sold. (V. 22, p. 209.)

Kansas.—Kansas has but a small State debt, but the issues of municipal bonds have been large. An extract from the State Auditor's report is given in V. 20, p. 14. The valuation of real and personal property in 1875 was $121,514,341; tax rate, 6 mills for State purposes and an average of 3.78 per $100 for all purposes. State funds hold $759,250 of the bonds. (V. 20, p. 14.)

Louisiana.—A constitutional amendment, passed December 15, 1870, limited the total debt to $25,000,000, but it was decided that bonds authorized previous to the amendment might be issued. The funding bill passed January 24, 1874, scaled the debt down to 40 per cent of the face value. For coupons lacking on bonds funded, similar coupons are cut from the new bonds issued; interest on consol bonds is paid in New York, but no interest paid on bonds unfunded; the total consols issued to Jan. 1, 1876, were as above, and the old bonds outstanding are given as of that date according to the statement of the Auditor. The Governor's message, January, 1876, gave bonded debt as $18,47 ,443; bonded and floating debt, $19 061,645. The gross debt reported January 1, 1875, by the Auditor was—bonds, $21,872,920; warrants, $1,423,-95[illegible]. Nothing was said of the contingent debt, which was $5,488,602 in January, 1874. The same tax, of 14¼ mills, in 1875 as in 1874 (in 1873 the rate was 21⅛ mills.) The total assessed value of real estate in 1875 was $150,507,078; personal, $40,349,547; of which New Orleans had $98,463,269 of real and $26,118,833 of personal. The gross revenue in 1875 was $3,286,153 and expenses $3,185,[illegible]07. The $2,500,000 bonds to New Orleans & Chattanooga Railroad have been declared void. (V. 20, p. 78, 83, 476, 521, 546; V. 21, p. 15, 63, 110, 159, 231, 489, 535, 615; V. 22, p 62.)

Maine.—The sinking funds, January, 1876, reduce the total debt to a net amount of $5,272,688. Valuation of total taxables in 1875, $255,000,000; tax rate, 5 mills. Governor's message in V. 22, p. 62.

Maryland.—The assessed valuation of property in 1874 was $463,034,812 on which the rate of taxation was 20 5-16 cents per $100; income from dividends on railroad, canal and other stocks owned by the State was $139,469. The State has largely assisted canals and railroads, and holds $6,068,[illegible]09 of stocks and bonds of solvent companies, leaving only $5,304,167 of debt without any offset; the State also holds $22,855,188 in unproductive securities. On two investments only, the Comptroller says that the Stat has met no loss, viz., the Baltimore & Ohio and the Columbia & Port Deposit railroads.

Massachusetts.—Governor's message on finances, V. 22, p. 62. All interest on the funded debt of Massachusetts is paid in coin. The credit of the State stands high in London and at home. During 1874 the debt was increased $987,400, and in 1875, $4,500,000. The sinking funds in January, 1876, were $11,725,309. The Hoosac tunnel has cost the State over $14,500,000. Real estate assessed in 1875, $1,311,031,326; personal, including bank shares, $560,815,162; tax rate, 1·06 mills; deposits in savings banks, $237,848,963; corporation property (above real estate and machinery), $84,213,632. The loan to Boston Hartford & Erie Railroad was secured by deposit of $3,600,000 "Berdell" mortgage bonds. (V. 20, p. 336, 521; V. 21, p. 267; V. 22, p. 62.)

Michigan.—The debt has been largely diminished in the last few years. Assessed valuation of real and personal property, 1871-72, $630,000,000, and tax rate 2 ¼ mills. Surplus revenue is applied to purchase of bonds. (V. 20, p. 139.)

Minnesota.—All the State bonds are now held by the permanent school fund. Minnesota is usually classed among the States which have avoided their obligations, in consequence of her refusal to recognize the "State Railroad bonds" of 1858 to the amount of $2,275,000. There seems to be a growing feeling in the State that those bonds should be acknowledged. See Governor's Message, V. 22, p. 63. Property valuation, 1875, $218,855,743, of which $45,162,467 was personal; tax, 2 1-10 mills. (V. 19, p. 493.)

Missouri.—Valuation of real and personal property in 1875 was $549,503,471, upon which the tax is 4½ mills. Railroad property was assessed at $54,849,312, as returned to County Courts; but at only $19,881,141, as returned to the State Auditor in 1875. The State had $1 428,000 bonds maturing in 1875, and $3,907,000 in 1876. To provide for these, a law of 1875 authorizes the sale of new bonds. The Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad provides for its own debt. Bonds falling due are paid in currency, pursuant to a resolution of the Legislature, although some of these bonds are payable by their terms in "gold or silver." Some difficulty has arisen about the last six months' interest due on bonds maturing. (V. 20, p. 83, 161, 290, 313, 336, 383, 477; V. 21, p. 277; V. 22, p. 83.)

Nevada.—The debt of Nevada is hardly more than nominal.

New Hampshire.—The debt of New Hampshire was created for war purposes, and is being rapidly reduced. The Municipal loan of 1872 was issued to cities and towns, the proceeds to be used in reducing their several war debts, which the State thus assumed.

New Jersey.—The debt was created for war purposes. Of the first two classes of bonds the principal is payable, $100,000 per year. Valuation of real and personal property in 1875 $612,731,094, against $619,097,903; State tax, 3½ mills.

New York.—There is also $68,000 contingent debt to Long Island Railroad, and $7,361 per annum for Indian annuities. The debt of New York State has been created chiefly for canals and for war purposes. The lateral canals are a failure; but the Erie Canal, though expensive (partly through political fraud in its management), has been a great success as an internal improvement. An abstract of the Governor's Message was given in V. 22, p. 63, showing a net reduction of $2,744,505 in the debt for year ending Sept. 30, 1875. The following were valuations and tax rate for State purposes in the year 1859, and from 1870 to 1874:

| Year. | Real Estate. | Personal. | State tax. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1859..... | $1,097,564,524 | $307,349,155 | 2½ |
| 1870..... | 1,532,720,907 | 434,280,278 | 7 41-156 |
| 1871..... | 1,599,930,166 | 452,607,732 | 5 79-120 |
| 1872..... | 1,641,379,410 | 147,243,035 | 9¼ |
| 1873..... | 1,692,523,071 | 437,102,315 | 6 95-100 |
| 1874..... | 1,750,698,918 | 418,608,955 | 7½ |
| 1875..... | 2,367,780,102 | | 6 |

It appears that the assessed value of real estate by local assessors is $1,750,698,918, while the full value, as estimated by the State assessors, is $4,168,330,757. The Comptroller says the actual value should be adopted as the basis of taxation. The debt decreased in 1873-4 $3,649,570. The actual value of real estate in 1874 was estimated to be $4,168,330,757, and total amount raised by tax, State and local, was $57,811,381. The local debts of cities in New York State are $137,539,679; of counties, $46,683,264, and towns, $25,140,181. (V. 19, p. 350; V. 20, p. 28, 60, 615; V. 22, p. 63.)

North Carolina.—North Carolina is heavily burdened with debt, in proportion to her taxable property. A lengthy extract from the Treasurer's report was given in V. 20, p. 84. Total property was assessed in 1872 at $128,507,628, a low valuation. Interest is paid on bonds issued to North Carolina Railroad ($2,800,000), as the State holds $3,000,200 stock and receives dividends thereon. Other interest in default. A funding bill passed the Legislature March, 1875. (C[illegible] CHRONICLE, V. 20, p. 336.) In New York bo[illegible] are classified thus: "Old," being those issued p[illegible] to May 1, 1861, coupons on from Jan. '69; "N. C. R." issue of $2,800,000 to that road, coups. on si[illegible] Jan. & April, '69; same "coup. off" have ha[illegible] coups. paid; "funding act '66 carry coups. Ohio.—Ohio has a very small State debt, large local debts, amounting in 1875 to $25,957,[illegible] Valuations in 1874 were: Real estate in cities, [illegible] $366,031,721; other, $696,883,323; personalty, $5[illegible] 660,818. Tax rate in 1875, 3 2-10 mills for State, [illegible] an average of 25 9-10 mills for local purposes. [illegible] the 1875 loan above. $868,230 was paid Jan. 1, [illegible] and the balance April 1. Report on State and lo[illegible] debts, V. 22, p. 64.

Oregon.—The debt is provided for by sink[illegible] funds, payable from land sales. Taxable prop[illegible] in 1875 was assessed at $41,197,149; ½ mill [illegible] was laid for Relief bonds and 1 mill for Bou[illegible] bonds.

Pennsylvania.—Total debt Nov. 30, $23,233, [illegible] available assets. $9,466,572; net debt, $13,766. The financial system is remarkable in Pennsylva[illegible] in the fact that no tax is laid for State purpose[illegible] real estate. Revenue is raised from numer[illegible] sources, principally from corporations. Taxes [illegible] levied on personal property, which was assesse[illegible] $159,382,242, and the tax was $574,817 in 1875. Interest is paid in gold on al[illegible] State debt issued prior to 1867. Any coupon bo[illegible] may be changed to registered. The bonds du[illegible] 1877 are payable at any time till 1882; those of [illegible] till 1892. (V. 21, p. 137; V. 22, p. 64.)

Rhode Island.—The debt was all created for war purposes and is being steadily diminished. The valuation of real and personal property in 1873 was $247,798,580, and tax rate 20 cents on $100.

So. Carolina.—The Governor's message on finances in V. 21, p. 535. The funding law approved Dec. 22, 1873, provided for scaling down the old debt by giving new bonds to the extent of 50 per cent, and declared void the conversion bonds to the amount of $5,965,000. The January and July interest was paid on consolidated bonds, but a loss to the State of about $200,000 cash by failure of a trust company caused a suspension of payments afterwards. Total valuation of all property—in 1875, real estate, $88,171,218; personal, $46,791,006; rate of taxation in 1874, 12, mills. (V. 20, p. 81, 241, 291, 358, 547; V. 21, p. 489, 614.)

Tennessee.—On the first July, 1874, the payment of interest was resumed, and the interest due January 1, 1875, was paid by help of a loan of $300,000, but default again made July, 1875. The Governor's letter in December, 1875, on the finances, discouraged the expectation of further payments soon, and suggested funding. (See V. 21, p. 614.) The State Treasurer, February 25, 1875, gave the following estimates for the then current year:

ESTIMATED EXPENSES.

Subsequently laws were passed to tax railroads, which it was claimed would give an increase of revenue over 1874. The law passed in March, 1873, provided for funding all outstanding, legally issued bonds, due between July 1, 1874, and July 1, 1884, as well as all past due coupons, and coupons maturing on or before Jan. 1, 1874, in a 10-40 year 8 per cent bond. The total debt given above is substantially, according to the last report of the Comptroller, January, 1875. The Comptroller estimated debt of solvent railroads at $3,288,896; due from purchasers of railroads then sold, $372,000; value of Knoxville & Charleston road, $100,000. The State's endorsements for railroads are $1,802,000, of which $1,560,000 is taken care of by the roads. Total valuation of real estate, $289,000,000, and railroad property, $51,000,000. The rate of taxation is 40 cents on the $100. Tennessee bonds sold as "Old" are those issued before 1862, and having coupons of July, 1869; Old "ex coupon," have only the coupon of July, 1873; "New," issued since 1862 carrying coupon of July, 1869, "ex coupon" July, 1875, only; "New Series," the new funding bonds. (V. 18, p. 143, 217, 350, 497; V. 19, p. 167; V. 20, p. 14, 84, 161, 282, 491; V. 21, p. 87, 313, 614.)

Texas.—The State Comptroller, in February, 1876, reported total funded debt $4,249,757; floating debt, $543,137, and bonds of doubtful validity remaining in hands of State Treasurer, $842,210. The valuation of taxable property in 1875 was $250,853,759, against $241,841,860 in 1874. Tax rate, 50. (V. 19, p. 15, 117, 142; V. 20, p. 84; V. 22, p. 281.)

Vermont.—This State has a very small debt—all created for war purposes. Of the registered bonds $135,500 are held for Agricultural College. The sinking fund, Aug. 1, 1874, was $37,932.

Virginia.—The Funding act of 1871 provided that coupons of the funded bonds should be receivable for State taxes. For 2-3 of the old bonds a new bond was issued, and for the other ⅓ a deferred certificate given (as the proportion due by West Virginia). The act of 1872 amended that of 1871 by not allowing coupons to be received for taxes. All the amounts marked (*) may be funded under the amended act of 1872. The sinking fund holds $2,446,-983 of State bonds and certificates. Interest due Jan., 1874, was paid in part (2 per cent) in July, 1874. All interest over-due and unpaid to Sept. 30, 1875, (on the basis of 4 per cent,) was $1,199,864. Assessed value of property is $329,424,152; tax rate, 5 mills. Auditor's report, V. 21, p. 604. (V. 19, p. 295 502, 526, 582; V. 20, p. 14, 306, 356, 375, 547; V. 21, p. 527, 604.)

Albany.—There are sinking funds for municipal bonds and for water stock. The loan to Albany & Susquehanna is secured by 1st mort. The assessed valuation of property in 1874 by State authorities was: Real estate, $43,161,203; personal, $6,508,101; total, $49,669,304. Estimated true value of real estate, $102,764,770.

Augusta.—Bonds created chiefly for city improvements and other municipal purposes.

Baltimore.—The fiscal year of Baltimore ends with Oct. 31. The city credit has been loaned extensively to railroads, in exchange for their securities, which it holds to a large nominal amount. The sinking fund for Balt. & Ohio Railroad $5,000,000 loan is $1,746,973; West Maryland Railroad sinking fund, $149,165; and the total of the several other sinking funds, $6,457,861. The Balt. & Ohio RR. pays interest on $5,000,000 loan; Water loan is paid by income of water works, and Public Park by City Passenger Railway, and out of a total debt of $32,943,425 only $16,154,392 is dependent on the tax levy. The assessed value of property in 1875 is $231,242,513; tax rate, 1875, $1 80 on the $100 for city purposes, and .20¢ for State. Population in 1870 was 267,354, against 212,418 in 1860.

Bangor, Me.—The valuation of real and personal property is $10,510,694; rate of taxation, 2.90 per cent. The loans to European & North American Railroad and to Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad are secured by first mortgages on those roads.

Boston.—The population of Boston in 1870 was 292,497, against 177,840 in 1860. Valuation of real property in 1875, including the recent annexations, was $558,769,500, and personal, $234,998,400; upon which the rate of taxation is $13 70 per $1,000—$12 66 of this for city and $1 04 for State purposes against a total of $15 60 per $1,000 in 1874. The total debt, both funded and unfunded, at the close of the last fiscal year, April 30, 1875, was $43,512,611, and the sinking funds, bonds, mortgages, &c., $16,218,402. The sinking fund provisions are sufficient to meet the debt as it matures. In March, 1876, Mr. Turner, city auditor, gave his estimates for the revenue required for the coming financial year 1876-77, commencing May 1, 1876. This estimate is based on an assumption of meeting the actual wants of the municipality and avoiding the borrowing of money for other than the water works, and extensive and costly improvements; the tax per each $1,000 will be reduced from $13 70 last year to $13 45 per $1,000 this year. The following is a comparison of the appropriations asked for and income to be received, compared with the estimates for 1875-6:

| Appropriations | $12,302,305 | $11,331,387 |
| Income | 2,864,425 | 2,939,900 |
| | $9,437,880 | $8,391,487 |
| Per centage | 283,136 | 251,745 |
| | $9,721,016 | $8,643,232 |

Placing the tax to be paid to the State at the same as last year, the estimated tax warrants exhibit the following result:

| | 1875. | 1876 |
|---|---|---|
| City and County | $9,721,016 00 | $8,643,232 00 |
| State | 802,120 00 | 802,120 00 |
| | $10,523,136 00 | $9,445,352 00 |

During the last forty years, with a single exception, the taxable valuation has shown an annual increase. Mayor Cobb's message, January, 1876, gives a net decrease of debt in 1875, amounting to $305,579. (V. 22, p. 61.)

Brooklyn.—The statement of debt is from the Mayor's message dated January 1, 1876, which made the whole city debt as follows:

|---|---|
| Permanent loans | $26,063,000 |
| Sinking funds | 3,462,736 |
| Balance | $22,600,263 |
| Loans chargeable on specified property | 9,052,000 |
| Tax certificates | 2,379,000 |

—The Mayor, in his message, January, 1876, stated that the debt chargeable on taxation decreased in 1875 $5,2?, against an increase of $512,089 in 1874, $2,426,516 in 1873, $1,591,411 in 1872, and $3,590,581 in 1871. Population in 1870, 396,200, against 266,661 in 1860. Valuation of property in King's County in 1874, by the State Board of Equalization, $179,085,370 for real estate, and personal, $18,975,980; they estimated the true value of real estate to be $426,393,740. The Board of Supervisors value the total taxable property of Brooklyn in 1875 at $225,176,755, or about 65 per cent of true value. The debt of Kings County, separate from the debt of Brooklyn, is $3,936,000, of which the city is responsible for about $3,739,200. Average tax rate in 1875, $3 41 per $100, against $3 52 in 1874, and $3 46 in 1873. (V. 19, p. 142, 642; V. 20, p. 520.)

Buffalo.—The funded debt, January 1, 1876, was $6,743,199, and floating debt, $396,092. In 1875 real estate was assessed at $33,943,735, and personal at $6,024,370—total, $39,968,105. Buffalo also pays 7-10 (being $712,390) of Erie county debt. (V. 22, p. 233.)

Charleston, S. C.—The bonds of Charleston are mostly held within the State of South Carolina. The total assessed value of property in 1873 was $27,978,991; rate of tax, 2 per cent. Sinking funds reduce the total debt to $4,672,663.

Chicago.—The total funded debt at the close of the year 1875 was $13,457,000. Certificates of indebtedness, $4,641,096. Assessed value of real property, '74, $258,549,310; personal, $45,155,830—total, $303,705,140. Tax rate, 18 mills. The Illinois State valuation is $224,118,020, and the city debt is limited to 5 p. c. of that. The comptroller says: "Owing to the wise provision in the Constitution of the State our funded debt cannot be increased above the present amount for some years to come. Of our $13,478,000 of funded debt $4,581,000 is on account of the Water Works, which last year yielded an income of $730,141 21, and from the rapid extension of the mains and increase of population, will yield much more largely in future. Practically, therefore, the amount of our funded debt is $8,897,000, being the remainder after deducting the water debt. From other sources the following is compiled:

Population in 1870 was 306,605, and in October, 1874, 395,226, against 109,260 in 1860. Cook Co. debt is all 7 per cent, and interest is all payable in J. & J., or in M. & N. The So. Park, W. Chicago Park, and Lincoln Park loans are not debts of the city, but of distinct corporations. (V. 21, p. 207.)

Cincinnati.—In addition to the issues above named, there remain several small amounts, as follows: $25,000 (T.) 6s, due July, 1876; $108,000 5s, November, 1885; $56,600 (YY2, & O.) 6s, 1886-88; $17,000 6s (Q.), November, 1890; $27,000 6s, (A.), March, 1897. The debt of Cincinnati, exclusive of the new loan for the Cincinnati Southern Rlt., was small, being less than $5,500,000. The city will be the sole owner of the stock of this railroad, and thus not "old in building railroads," &c. (V. 18, p. 454, 526; V. 20, p. 14; V. 21, p. 511; V. 22, p. 209.)

The sewer, street improvement and street opening bonds are for special local improvements, and redeemed by assessments on the property benefitted.

Columbus, Ga.—The total debt is $582,500, and the annual interest required about $40,000. Bonds are all coupon, and were issued in small amounts as wanted; 25,000 fall due each year. City holds some stocks and other property. Valuation of real estate, 1875, $3,923,575.

Assessed valuation, including railroad property, is $88,496,885, on which the tax rate is $3 00 per $100 on $68,496,855, and 1 per cent on railroad property assessed at $11,000,000. Population by State census in 1875 was 116,883, against 85,000 by U. S. census of 1870. (V. 18, p. 190.)

Louisville.—The funded debt, January 1, 1876, exclusive of railroad loans, was $8,330,000, against $8,501,000 January 1, 1875. Of the $8,330,000 there is payable out of the sinking fund $3,705,000; payable by special tax, $4,625,000. Assets of the sinking fund, January 1, 1875, were $3,180,625. The revenue of the sinking fund in 1874 applicable to the payment of interest and principal of this debt was—From licenses, $227,844 46; from wharves, $2,871 54; from taxes, $251,567 45; from interest, $65,829 36; total, $557,612. Population by census of 1870 was 100,750, against 68,033 in 1860; now estimated upon the basis of 7 to a voter makes 120,000. Assessed value of property, about $79,000,000. Real value, $100,000,000. Rate of taxation for all city purposes in 1875 is—Eastern District, $2 27 on $100; Western District, $2 33; State tax, 45c. The following figures give the assessed property valuation for the past six years. For 1868, $59,425,974; for 1869, $63,284,091; for 1870, $70,806,712; for 1871, $76,845,995; for 1872, $77,156,642; for 1873, $77,225,372. In 1868 the taxation per $100 was $1 98; in 1873 it was $2 55 for the Eastern District and $2 47 for the Western District.

Memphis, Tenn.—The city has been in default for interest since Jan. 1, 1873. The total floating debt January 1, 1876, was $2,074,872, and there were nominal assets (unpaid taxes, &c.) to balance this of $1,927,608. In 1874 the policy was adopted of receiving proposals for the sale of past due coupons, so far as the funds in hand permitted. The City Council declared the funding and paving bonds issued by Mayors Leftwich and Lofland 1867-8-9 to have been issued illegally, but allowed the coupons to be received, pro rata, according to the amount realized by the city for the bonds; but a decision of Tenn. Supreme Court, December, 1875, was against the city on this point. Assessed valuation, $32,000,000. Tax rate, $2 per $100. Population in 1870, 40,230. (V. 21, p. 186, 570.)

Milwaukee.—The city cannot issue debt beyond 5 per cent of its average assessed value for five years, which is $43,515,000; in 1874 it was $35,157,000 of real, and $16,167,883 of personal; tax rate, 28½ mills. Sinking funds are provided for all the bonds. Old railroad bonds, $200,000, due 1876 and 1877 (with interest about $400,000), have been held valid against the city. Population by State census, 1875, 101,000. (V. 17, p. 187, 628, 691.)

Mobile.—The valuation of property in 1876 is $12,894,825 real estate and $5,877,716 personal property; tax rate, 1½ per cent. Interest has been in default since July, 1873. A settlement with bondholders was offered by Commissioners in New York, Sept., 1875, viz.: $510 in 6 per cent bond for $1,000 of the old 8 per cent. The 5 per cent bonds have a lien on city revenue, and exchange for these is offered at 75 per cent of their face in the new 6 per cents. This has been accepted to a considerable extent, but no report yet given. Population about 38,000. (V. 20, p. 302.)

Newark.—The bonds in the first line in the table are payable out of the sinking fund of 1869, which amounts to $385,368; those in second line out of sinking fund of 1864, $8 2,757; public school bonds out of public school fund, $89,034; Clinton Hill bonds by sinking fund, $22,221, against local improvement bonds the city holds $2,568,080 of assessments unpaid and a lien on the property. Temporary loan bonds, Jan. 1, 1876, were $767,750. Valuation of real estate, 1874, $79,538,293; personal, $24,880,800; tax rate for all purposes, 1875, $1 98 per $100. Population in 1870, 105,059.

New Orleans.—Interest was in default December, 1874, but coupons then due were paid May 15, 1875. In July it was decided to pay half the face of coupons on specified issues, on the strength of the financial statement then made. (See V. 21, p. 86.) The total funded debt, July, 1875, was $22,062,030; floating debt, $1,286,870. The assessed valuation of property is $98,976,449 real estate, and $20,322,055 personal. State tax, 14½ mills; city tax, 25 mills; total tax, 39½. The lease of city wharves July 1875, is considered by many to be advantageous. A scheme for settling the debt by a bond premium drawing plan has been started, and first drawing took place Nov. 3. Population in 1870, 191,418; in 1860, 168,670. (V. 21, p. 64, 86, 159, 278 511 613.)

Less sinking funds

—The true value of real estate is estimated at $1,935,021,540. By an act of 1874 the towns of West Farms, Morrisania and Kingsbridge, embracing about 12,000 acres, were annexed to New York. The debt of these towns was about $1,500,000.

From the termination of the Tweed regime in 1871 to January, 1875, the gross increase in debt was $33,252,049, and Comptroller Green claims that the old claims existing when he took office, with the bonds issued to pay deficiency in State sinking fund, and for up-town improvements, aggregate more than this whole increase. He condemns very strongly the law under which the Department of Public Works makes such heavy expenditures. All unadjusted claims against the city Jan. 1875, were nominally $6,971,149, a large part of which the Comptroller claims to be fraudulent and has determinedly opposed. The outstanding assessment bonds (payable out of local assessments on property benefitted) are represented by $5,712,739 advances to contractors; $7,531,147 advances on Boulevard work; and $7,606,500 uncollected local assessments. Great hostility has been shown to Comptroller Green on account of his opposition to claims against the city and chiefly on the charge of his placing many valid and reasonable claims on the same ground as those which are fraudulent or extravagant. Mayor Wickham objects to the present method of authorizing bonds; that the laws are mandatory on the Board of Estimate and leave them no discretion. He says: "The Common Council has no control over the proceedings required to be taken under several of them. But some officer or department of the City Government is by each of them authorized to prosecute a public work of some sort, and to incur obligations for it in the name of the city, and for the payment of such obligations city bonds must be issued." Extract from Mayor's Message of January, 1876, is given in V. 22, p. 63. (V. 20, p. 14, 29; V. 21, p. 86.)

Philadelphia.—The total funded debt, January 1, 1876, was $55,625,691; guaranteed debt, $5,399,400; floating debt, $3,691,432. Sinking funds, $10,030,300. The Comptroller's statement to form a basis for taxation in 1876, was issued Nov. 1, 1875, making total estimated liabilities, $26,206,252 64.

Of this amount $9,296,202 was estimated to come from other sources than taxes, leaving $17,000,080 to be raised by taxes, at a rate of $30 per $1,000 on full city property. These estimates, however, were materially reduced by the Councils, and the tax rate was kept at $2 15 for full city property. The following table exhibits the assessed valuation and tax rate in the city since 1870:

| 1870 | $470,851,800 | $8,188,873 | $18 00 |
| 1871 | 491,814,096 | 8,592,786 | 18 00 |
| 1872 | 502,415,863 | 8,608,819 | 20 80 |
| 1873 | 518,324,568 | 8,930,700 | 21 50 |
| 1874 | 539,008,602 | 9,239,933 | 22 00 |
| 1875 | 565,849,095 | 9,434,873 | 21 50 |
| 1876 | 585,408,705 | 10,004,673 | 21 50 |

There is no large amount of city debt maturing in the next five years. Assessed valuations for 1876 are: Full city property, $537,213,282; tax rate, $2 15; suburban property, $38,031,673; tax rate, $1 46; farm property, $20,168,423; tax rate, $1 12½. Population, 1870, 674,022, against 565,529 in 1860. (V. 18, p. 526.)

Alabama Central.—In default since January, 1872. Negotiations pending for a new adjustment.

Alabama & Chattanooga.—Road sold May 3, 1875, for $1,200,000, subject to lien of receiver's certificates. Time for bondholders to accept extended to June 15, 1876. (V. 21, p. 38, 62, 253, 302, 322, 511; V. 22, p. 61, 87, 135, 157.)

Albany & Susquehanna.—This road is leased for 150 years from 1870 to Delaware & Hudson Canal Co., at 7 per cent per annum, on stock and bonds—lessee assuming the payment on both.

Alleghany Valley.—This road was embarrassed in 1874, and compromised with creditors. Abstract of operations in 1874 in annual report, V. 21, p. 37. V. 19, p. 15, 117, 246, 582.)

Alexandria & Fredricksburg.—The Pennsylvania Railroad holds $512,000 of the bonds and controls the road. Loss on operation in 1873, $25,074.

Arkansas Central.—Most of the bonds were sold in London, where $600,000 of 2d mortgage bonds were also hypothecated. (V. 19, p. 365.)

Ashtabula, Youngstown & Pitts.—It is leased and operated by Pennsylvania Co. at cost. Net earnings paid to lessor, but lessee guarantees interest on 1st mortgage for five years. Common stock, $1,500,000; preferred, $500,000. Annual report V. 20, p. 426.

Atchison & Nebraska.—Interest was in default September, 1873, and coupons funded. Gross earnings, 1874, $353,204; net, $82,880; unpaid coupons, $150,000. Annual report V. 20, p. 403.

Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe.—Interest is paid on $976,000 of the 2d consol. mortgage bonds, but on the balance of that issue the coupons are funded to Oct. 1, 1876. (V. 20, p. 161 357 515; V. 21, p. 63, 136, 385, 591; V. 22, p. 232.)

Atlanta & Richmond Air Line.—Defaulted in 1873, and now in litigation. A decree of sale in foreclosure was made October, 1875. Report of earnings, &c., V. 22, p. 135. (V. 20, p. 14, 85; V. 21, p. 14, 85, 823, 418, 488, 612.)

Atlanta & West Point.—The road has paid 8 per cent dividends for some years; it has about $200,000 of bonds.

Atlantic & Great Western.—This road was leased to the Erie for 99 years from May 1, 1874, but the lease did not go into effect. Shortly after (in July, 1874) default was made on its bonds. The last annual report, to October 1, 1874, will be found in V. 19, p. 637. Proceedings looking to re-organization are in progress, and a considerable amount of securities has been deposited by holders with the London Committee. (V. 20, p. 85, 139, 289, 499, 592; V. 21, p. 136, 159, 230, 393, 410; V. 22, p. 181.)

Atlantic & Gulf.—Gross earnings in 1874 were $1,032,256; net earnings, $285,636. The Company also has $500,000 10 per cent coupon notes outstanding. Annual report in V. 21, p. 275, also p. 488.

Atlantic, Mississippi & Ohio.—Of the stock $5,815,700 is common, $800,000 preferred, and $276,200 guaranteed; the company, itself, holds $3,441,200 of the common, all the preferred, and $165,700 of the guaranteed stock. Gross earnings year ending September 30, 1875, $1,782,453; expenses, $1,108,947; net earnings, $673,505. There was a decrease of gross revenue by $42,890, and a decrease of net revenue of $54,114. Of the $15,000,000 loan enough is held to retire all the old debt. The company funded one coupon on old bonds, Jan., 1874, but paid subsequent coupons in part. Funding notes due 1875 and 1879 were issued. In October, 1875, in London, the company made a proposal to fund whole coupon then due, on consol. bonds, and four-sevenths of coupons due up to 1881, paying three per cent cash on coupons till 1881, and balance, if earned. This proposition is still before the bondholders for their assent. A bill to foreclose the consolidated mortgage was filed by the trustees thereof, at Richmond, Va., March, 1876. Extract from President Mahone's circular to bondholders, showing the financial condition, is given in the CHRONICLE, V. 22, p. 280. (V. 20, p. 380; V.21, p. 569, 591; V. 22, p. 110, 231, 280.)

Atlantic & Pacific.—This was a consolidation, in Oct., 1870, of the Atlantic & Pacific and So. Pacific. The land grant amounts to some 1,000,000 acres. Interest was passed Jan.,'74, on the land grant bonds, the 2d mortgage and the interest scrip, but coupons funded. A break in the company's affairs occurred in October, 1875; the Missouri Pacific lease was surrendered and complicated litigation against the Atlantic & Pacific Company; commenced on the ground of fraud in the Missouri Pacific management. Receivers were appointed. Interest of January, 1876, on land grant bonds was not paid, and interest on the 3d mortgage bonds of the Missouri Pacific is also unpaid. The latter were mostly held by the Atlantic & Pacific Company for improvements claimed to have been put on the Missouri Pacific road. (V. 19, p. 397; V. 20, p. 288; V. 21, p. 9, 418, 440, 466; V. 22, p. 61.)

Atlantic & St. Lawrence.—Leased for 999 years, from July, 1853, to Grand Trunk Railway of Canada. Annual rent, 6 per cent on bonds and stock.

Augusta & Savannah.—Leased to Central of Georgia for $73,000 per annum; has surplus fund of about $50,000.

Bald Eagle Valley.—Leased to Pennsylvania Railroad at 40 per cent of gross receipts. The Pennsylvania Railroad holds all the 2d mortgage bonds.

The issue of consol. bonds of 1875 was made to substitute for that of 1874; of these bonds $27,339,000 are reserved to take up old debt. The dividend on preferred stock March, 1874, was paid in consol. bonds, and the same April, 1876. See statement V. 22, p. 280. The sterling bonds of 1872 are convertible into dollar gold bonds of $1,000 each. Dividends have been paid since 1869—on preferred stock in 1874 7 in bonds, 1873 7, 1872 7, 1871 7, 1870 7 and 3 scrip; on common stock in 1871 7 scrip, 1870 3 cash and 7 scrip. (V. 20, p. 60, 163, 185, 474, 476, 593; V. 21, p. 38, 186, 253, 612; V. 22, p. 280.)

Chicago & Northwest.—The fiscal year ends with May. The last annual report will be found in the CHRONICLE, V. 21, p. 206. The net surplus of the year on the Chic. & Northwest. lines proper, after paying interest, was $1,366,167, and on the whole system, including proprietary roads, $518,266. The net earnings of proprietary roads were $282,004, and the interest on their bonds, $1,129,905. Lands of the company are 2,108,643 acres unsold, and were only recently placed in market. In 1874-5, 24,206 acres were sold at an average price of $4 78 per acre. The nominal surplus balance of the Company, May 31, 1875, was $2,637,612. Operations for the last six fiscal years compare as follows:

| 1874-75 .... | $12,707,726 | $7,984,694 | $4,723,031 |

The residue of the gold loan, viz., $12,651,000, represents all the additional indebtedness resulting from the mortgage. The total earnings for 1873 were $2,068,077.73; total for 1874, $2,094,080.55, showing an increase of $26,002.77. The operating expenses for 1873 were $1,330,501.44; net earnings for 1873, $737,576.34. The operating expenses for 1874 were $1,281,681.25; net earnings for 1874, $812,399.30; an increase for 1874 of $74,822.96. Receipts from passengers were $910,281.89; from freight, $1,028,965.41; from all other sources, $154,683.25. The report says that a general stagnation of business materially affected the road, so that its gross receipts have only been increased over those of 1873 some $26,000; but the practice of rigid economy in working the road has given an increase of net earnings over last year of $74,822.96. During the year the bonded debt of the company was reduced by the payment of the
